The Globe people never do anything by halves, but the forthcoming holiday issue will certainly eclipse anything heretofore attempted in Canadian journalism.

Entertainment in Church.

The Tennessean Jubilee Singers drew a good audience at the George street church Friday evening. New Court of Foresters.

A new Order will shortly be established in Peterborough. Forestry has flourished ever since it was introduced here, and notwithstanding that there are already two courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters in town, there seems to be room left for more. For some weeks past Mr. A. J. Stevens, of Brantford, official organiser for the Ancient Order of Foresters, still another branch of the Society, has been working up a local court and has interested a sufficient number of gentlemen to make a start. A meeting was held last night at the Seowden House, and it was decided to formally establish a court of the A. O. F., in Peterborough on Tuesday evening, Nov. 12th.

Dench, of Court Lakefield, No. 42, Bro. it. Robertson acting as High Marshall. During the session there was one initiation, five balloted for and accepted, and two propositions received. At the adjournment of the Court, the newly installed officers entertained the brethren at an elegant and substantial lunch prepared by Bro. H. Long.

An Ugly Accident.

Frank Shaw, a young butcher employed by Mr. G. W. Powell, met with a painful accident Friday night. He was helping Mr. Powell at the slaughter house, and while reaching over a beam after a pulley, the barrel on which he was standing upset and [illegible] to the floor. In falling his arm caught in one of the hooks, and the flesh from the elbow to the wrist was torn open and the tendons exposed. A surgeon took eight stitches in the gaping wound, which is extremely painful.

A Lady and the "Goose Gizzard."

A lady referring to the iron-clad goose gizzard story in yesterday's issue, writes:—"Why Mr. Editor, there's nothing wonderful in that; if you had found, as I did the other day, a gold ring I had lost three years before in a goose's gizzard, you might have cause for wonder. But I have often wondered how hawley bros. can sell such splendid teas and fragrant coffees at such cheap prices. Charged With Fraud.

A young farmer of Seymour township named Albert Dunkelly was brought to town Friday by Constable Williams, of Havelock, and placed in gaol on the strength of a warrant of committal from the hands of Justices of the Peace Porter Preston and Wm. Johnston, of Belmont. The prisoner was charged with obtaining money under false pretences, and on being brought before the Judge elected to be tried by His Honor without jury Saturday next, 9th inst. The amount involved is only $6, but the case is a rather complicated one, and it is understood three or four more parties are to be implicated. The prisoner was allowed out on bail. The case is in the hands of Mr. R. F. Wood, C.C.A.

Hymeneal.

The Lindsay Post says:—Wednesday afternoon the elite of Lindsay society crowded St. Paul's church long before the appointed hour to witness the marriage of Miss Amy S. Gallon, eldest daughter of Mr. Jas. Gallon, of this town, manager for Eastern Ontario for the Manufacturers' Life Association, to Dr. F. Lydston Newman, of Detroit, Mich. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Marsh officiating in the beautiful and impressive marriage service of the English Church. The bride, who was charmingly attired, wore the conventional veil and wreath of orange blossoms. There were five bridesmaids—Miss Newman, sister of the groom; Miss Boyd, Miss Dunsford, and the Misses Gertie and Meta Gallon, sisters of the bride; and the groom was supported by his brother, Dr. R. Adlington Newman, of Detroit; Mr. J. G. Edwards, Mr. R. J. Matchett, Mr. W. D. Herriman and Mr. W. J. Gallon, of Montreal, brother of the bride. Among the guests from a distance were Mr. H. T. Banbury, Hamilton; Mrs. Foley, Peterborough; Mrs. C. R. Weller, Toronto; Mrs. H. Stevens, Owen Sound; Mrs. Caldwell, Ottawa; Mrs. W. T. C. Boyd, Bobcaygeon. The happy couple left by the evening train, and their honeymoon will be spent visiting the principal cities of the United States prior to settling in their home in Detroit, where Dr. Newman has an excellent practice.

Battalion Promotions.

In the latest militia orders is the following paragraph:—

57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers—To be major: Captain Elihu Burritt Edwards, vice Thomas M. Grover, who retires retaining rank. No. 1 Company, Peterborough—To be captain: Lieutenant Ernest F. Mason, vice E. B. Edwards, promoted. To be Adjutant: Captain Robert M. Dennistoun, vice R. W. Bell, promoted.

These promotions are well-earned. Capt. Edwards has been one of the most enthusiastic and capable officers of the battalion, and his appointment to the office of Major will meet with general approval. Major Grover retires, because, as he does not live in town, he is not able to pay the attention to military matters he feels he should. The elevation to the captaincy of No. 1 Company of Lieut. Mason will also be a most popular appointment. Capt Mason will be the youngest, but at the same time one of the best officers in his rank, in the regiment. Captain Dennistoun is appointed Adjutant, but the above official notice is liable to convey an erroneous impression. It reads "vice R. W. Bell, promoted." Adjutant Bell was promoted to Major ten years ago, and has since been Acting-Adjutant. The office has not therefore been filled since his promotion until the present. Mr. Dennistoun will make a careful and able officer. He and the other officers promoted are to be congratulated on their new appointments. The changes will necessitate further promotions in the regiment, but it is probable the officers will remain in their present positions until after inspection.

Exposing a Thief.

Chief Rossel has received the following letter, which explains itself:—

TRENTON, Oct. 30.

To Chief Constable Peterborough:

SIR.—Stolen from here on the 29th, one brass watch and gold plated chain, one pair light striped pants and black vest, one white fine shirt, two pairs of cuff buttons—(one green stone and one pair gold-edged and pearl centre,) one white pin, foot set in gold, one pair of lace boots, nearly No. 10, patch on heel of left foot, one pair of new socks, gray legs, white tops and heels.

Description of thief—man about 25 years old, 5 ft. 8 inches, 140 pounds; clean shaved, dark complexion, black hair inclined to curl, pug nose, heavy lips and when laughing shows fine set of white teeth, large, full projecting eyes.

Description of dress when he left here but may be wearing some of the stolen clothing now:—Short black sack coat and vest, dark corded pants, hard felt hat, white shirt, no collar, no tie, long black overcoat and new shoes, white socks.

This man, I think, is a regular private boarding-house thief. I hear he went towards your town, and may give you a call. If he does, arrest him and wire me, and if you cannot catch him, expose him in the papers as a protection to the public.

He speaks English and French, and gave his name here as Albert Wilks, and spoke of Peterborough.

Yours, etc.,
WM. HINDS,
Chief Constable.

Harvey to Hang.

The Guelph Triple Murderer Doomed to Die Nov. 29th.

(Special to the Examiner.)

GUELPH, Nov. 2—Harvey the Guelph book-keeper who followed the embezzlement of $400 from his employer, by shooting in cold blood his daughters Geraldine and Lily and his wife, was to-day found guilty of the crime, and sentenced to be hanged on Nov. 29th. The defence set up by the counsel of the condemned man was insanity.

A Belleville Sensation.

The Deputy Postmaster of the Bay City Charged with a Serious Offence.

A ripple of excitement passed through Belleville society circles Friday, when it became known that Thomas Duncan, deputy postmaster there, and a man of hitherto irreproachable character, had been arrested charged with ravishing Rose Dean, a domestic in his house, on Tuesday evening last.

The girl is sixteen years of age, and about four years ago came out to this country with her sister in a party of Dr. Barnardo's girls. They were both sent to Hazel Bene, Peterborough, but did not remain long until they left for service at Belleville, entering the home of Mr. F. Ketcheson, mail clerk on the Grand Junction train between Belleville and Peterborough. For the last two months the girl has been in the service of Mr. Duncan, the sister Kate being now at Ketcheson's. Rose told her sister of the crime and through Mr. Ketcheson the action was brought. Capt. Annesley, of Hazel Brae, went down to Belleville and laid the charge. The trial took place Friday. Capt. Annesley and Mr. Ketcheson gave evidence regarding the girl's history and previous good character. Rose Dean, the victim of the assault, said that on Tuesday night last, Mrs. Duncan being away from home, the prisoner came in before she had gone to bed and catching hold of her attempted the crime, but she struggled violently, and according to her statement, the accused failed in his purpose. The crime evidently amounted to only indecent assault, and the charge of rape was dismissed. The point having been raised by the defendant's counsel whether the charge of indecent assault could at this stage be substituted, the magistrate reserved his decision.

SALISBURY BROS.

Work of the "Y"

What They Have Done, are Doing and Propose to Do.

The EXAMINER has been requested to publish the following:—

During the past few weeks the following questions have been asked:—"What has the "Y" done?" "What is the "Y" doing?" "What does the "Y" intend to do?" We are glad that the opportunity is afforded for gratifying the kindly curiosity which has prompted these queries.

1st For three months last summer, while the multitude were enjoying holidays, the members of the "Y" met weekly and arranged nearly 400 bouquets with Scripture texts attached. The designs were prepared and the texts printed by the hands of the committee. The fragrant messengers with their "Words of Life," were sent to cheer and admonish patients in hospital and home, and those erring ones, the inmates of our gaols.

To the 2nd inquiry we say that just now the "Y" are changing quarters and settling in their new hall, 426½ George street, where anything in the way of furnishing and adornment will be gratefully received.

If any friend, looking about the home, should discover an article which could be spared, it would find space and welcome in those pretty rooms. Will the friends of the cause kindly glance over the following list of desirables?—Tables, chairs, couch, bookcase, pictures, curtains, rugs, stove, with the numerous little adornments which make a home attractive, for, thirdly, the "Y" propose to make their new hall a home for the young women of Peterborough. In spite of the comfortable blindness which so many of our citizens cultivate, the stubborn fact remains that there are, even in our small town, scores of young women, not one of whom have home in the true sense of the word.

Many who are in situations have boarding places; others are at service; while there are a considerable number for whom the natural home provides few. If any, of those endearing attractions which make the family hearth-stone the favorite resort of son and daughter. The "Y's" propose to have open hall every Saturday evening from 7.30 to 9 o'clock sharp when every young woman will be heartily welcomed. Quiet reading, parlor games, and music in a bright, cheerful room, promises an attractive evening which will, in course of time be duly appreciated. For this department of work the "Y's" want music books and good, healthy literature such as books by the following authors:—Pansy, Louise Alcott, Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, Mrs. Prentiss, Edna Leyell and Miss Mulock, with others of a like character. Periodicals, either bound or in single numbers will also be gratefully received, as well as any kind of parlor game. Last but by no means least, the "Y's" are buying a piano without which their work would be tame and unsatisfactory. By their own exertions in the way of entertainment, and by the kindness of many friends they have been able to pay off more than one half the price of the instrument, but the balance, with required interest still remains, a heavy burden for their present circumstances. The merest trifle from each of those who have not yet contributed would aggregate an amount which would greatly cheer the workers.

Under the head of furnishings the members of the Association are indebted to Captain Annesley, Superintendent of Dr. Barnardo's Home, for the gift of a chandelier; also to Mr. P. H. Green for the generous subscription of $5 toward the necessary repairs of the hall. Other friends desiring to help in the good work may leave the tokens of their good will at the hall, or at Miss Sanderson's, 430 George street. First reception for young women will be held Saturday evening, Nov. 9th.

VOL. IX. NO. 105 PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS.

MR. GOSCHEN'S TASK.

TO FIND A SOLUTION OF THE IRISH LAND QUESTION.

The Salisbury Government Determined to Abrogate Dual Ownership—Playing for a Big Stake.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. Mr. Smalley cables to The Tribune from London: Rumors have long prevailed that the Government would tackle the Irish Land question next session. They are confirmed [illegible]'s Standard. It is the dual ownership of land in Ireland which gives rise to so much of recent trouble. The legislature created it, and the legislature is to be asked to terminate it. The Cabinet will, without delay, says the Tory organ, attempt the problem of releasing both from a connection hateful to them and mischievous to the State. There is no doubt, though The Standard does not say so, that the Cabinet, or some of the Cabinet, has for some time past been engaged in this problem. There were speculations about Mr. Goschen's visit to Ireland in September and October. Nobody who met him at any of the houses he visited doubted what his errand was. Wherever he went local people were invited to meet him—those who were supposed to know most about the land question. He discussed hardly anything else. The fruits of these visits and interviews are ripening. The financial genius which carried through the conversion of consols will be applied to the conversion of dual into single ownership of Irish land.

The question is, how to make the tenant the undivided master of his holding while affording reasonable compensation to the present nominal owner, without imposing on the English taxpayer an unreasonable and dangerous liability. This is what Mr. Gladstone, in 1886, tried. He failed disastrously. Nothing did more to wreck Home Rule than the coupling it with Land Purchase. Mr. Gladstone declared the two measures to be inseparable, and then threw over Land Purchase to lighten the ship when the storm grew heavy; but too late. Mr. Chamberlain has since launched a scheme of his own, but could not get it seriously considered. Lord Randolph Churchill proposed another, so late as last August, in Birmingham, but that, too, fell flat. Now come Mr. Goschen and his colleagues.

No experiment could be more interesting, none more hazardous. The Ministry can hardly avoid staking its existence on such a measure, and the measure will undoubtedly pledge British credit in order to compensate landlords who are to be bought out. This will be no mere extension of the Ashbourne act, but a bill covering the whole soil of Ireland, perhaps even compulsory upon landlords to sell wherever tenants are willing to buy. The nation at large is to stand security, says the inspired scribe who makes this momentous disclosure. Nothing could be more explicit. The stake the Government play for is enormous; nothing less, in their belief, than the extinction of the Home Rule cry and the Home Rule party by the pacification of Irish discontent. There is a distinct school which believes that land, not Parliament, is what the Irish people really want. The Government has joined that school.

If they will add to their program such a measure of Catholic Endowment as shall satisfy the Irish Bishops, they will come before Parliament next February with the largest Irish program yet framed, Mr. Gladstone's not excepted. The Standard says nothing on this point, and nothing has lately been heard from any quarter, but Mr. Balfour's hint at the end of the last season was not idly thrown out. The scheme which he had in mind, whatever it was, will not be lightly dropped. Local Government in some shape must sooner or later be added. Supposing, however, that ministers put both Land Purchase and Catholic Endowment forward together, they will array against themselves two of the strongest sentiments known to the British mind: hatred of taxation—or of increased liabilities—and hatred of the Pope. They know perfectly what they have to face, but the die is cast and they are going to face it. They might have sat still and lived out their parliamentary life for three sluggish years. They prefer to risk all, even the alliance of one section of their own party. One of their shrewdest supporters said the other day that if they attempt constructive legislation that are lost.

But constructive legislation of the gravest and most difficult kind is now to be attempted.

VISITING THE "SICK MAN."

HOW THE GERMAN EMPEROR WAS WELCOMED BY THE SULTAN.

Political Importance of the Visit—Inferences Drawn by the Berlin Press as to the Result of the Meeting.

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—Emperor William telegraphed to Prince Bismarck Saturday as follows, from Yildiz Kiosk: "Have just arrived here. Fine weather. View beautiful beyond description." Other official despatches give a detailed account of the meeting between the Turkish fleet and the German ships Kaiser and Hohenzollern at the entrance of the Dardanelles. It was a striking spectacle. The passage through the straits was made under a continuous roll of salutes from the forts. On entering the Sea of Marmora Said Pasha, Minister of Foreign Affairs, Edhem Pasha, formerly grand vizier, and Herr von Radowitz, German Ambassador, left the Sultan's yacht Izzedin and were received by the Emperor on the Kaiser. Luncheon was served on board the German warship. The empress was invisible, as she was again suffering from sea-sickness, although the passage had been calm. The vessels proceeded and were sighted off the entrance to the Bosphorus at 10 o'clock. A large number of vessels, gayly decorated, followed the German ships to the Dolmabatkche palace, where the Sultan, attended by his ministers and the principal court officials, awaited the coming of the emperor. Upon his arrival Emperor William was cordially greeted by the Sultan. After partaking of refreshments the two monarchs drove to the Yildiz palace in a carriage, under the escort of a squadron of cavalry. The Sultan and the empress sat on one side and Emperor William and Prince Henry on the other. The Sultan exchanged a few phrases in French with each of the guests and then relapsed into absolute silence. Herr von Radowitz, acting under instructions from Prince Bismarck, will attend, with Said Pasha, the business interviews between the monarchs.

The semi-official press of Berlin no longer denies the political importance of the visit. The North German Gazette of Saturday states that if the intentions of the emperor are realized the conferences at Constantinople will create fresh guarantees of peace based upon the general principles of Prince Bismarck's policy, and will strengthen the Dreibund and further assure the well being and prosperity of the Fatherland, adding to Germany's debt of gratitude to the kaiser. Other papers compare the present meeting with the emperor's visit to Osborne House, drawing the inference that the result will be a similar entente cordiale. The frankness of these admissions of inspired organs is partly due to official advices from St. Petersburg that the Czar has relapsed under panslavist influences; that the changes that were in progress to eliminate the war advocates from the Czar's council and entourage have been countermanded; that the German hating press has resumed its former hostile attitude and that everything is the same as before the Czar's meeting with Prince Bismarck. The Czar's ill-humor causes no disappointment here.

The incidents attending the empress' visit to the royal harem are awaited with interest. The daughter of the Turkish Minister at Rome and the daughter of Muslin Astin Pasha, both of whom speak French, will attend the empress throughout her stay in the Turkish capital. A gorgeous caique, propelled by ten oarsmen, will convey her to the entrance of the harem gardens. The walls of the cabins of the caique are covered with mirrors. The furniture is finished in blue velvet and gold. The oarsmen will wear garments of white silk with gold embroideries. The Sultan, attended by Kislar Aga, chief of the eunuchs, will receive the empress on disembarking and conduct her to the entrance to the seraglio, where he will leave her, after introducing his mother, the Sultana Valide. The seven recognized wives of the Sultan, all mothers of princes, attended by odalisque suites, will receive the empress in the grand saloon. The other women of the harem will be excluded. The visit will last three hours. A musical entertainment will be given, during which coffee will be served, and the empress will then make a tour of the apartments and grounds.

Count Kalnoky's Mission.

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—Count Kalnoky, before leaving Vienna, had a long conversation with Prince Lobanoff, the Russian Ambassador, through whom he had learned that the Czar had resumed his policy of opposition to any form of settlement in Bulgaria, which excludes Russia's claim to the right to select the head of the government. Prince Lobanoff's communication amounted to a veto from the Czar of Count Kalnoky's project for the recognition of Prince Ferdinand as ruler of Bulgaria, and implied also the definite rejection of Prince Bismarck's scheme. In official circles here the conviction prevails that the chancellor will henceforth abandon all efforts to conciliate the Czar.

Apart from political matters concerning the Dreibund Count Kalnoky's mission relates to the formation of a customs union between the German and Austro-Hungarian empires. The existing commercial treaties with Austria expire in 1892. The treaty of Frankfort, in which Germany granted France, in perpetuity, most favored nation treatment, appears to be in the way of an Austrian-German zollverein. Count Kalnoky's scheme overrides the Frankfort treaty in favor of differential tariffs between the Dreibund powers.

The marriage of Prince Ferdinand to Princess Louise of Orleans, daughter of the Duc d'Alencon, depends upon the result of the Friedrichsruhe conference. The mother of Princess Louise, the Bavarian Princess Sophia, is a sister of the Emperor of Austria. Emperor Francis Joseph withholds his approval of the marriage until Count Kalnoky reports the result of his interview with Prince Bismarck.

The Antwerp dockmasters are treating with the striking workmen and it is probable the demands of the latter will be granted.

The Municipal Elections in England.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Municipal elections occurred last week all over England. Complete returns are not in, but the reports show a balance of 17 to the credit of the Liberals. BURKE IN A BAD BOX.

IDENTIFIED BY BOTH YOUNG CARLSON AND HIS MOTHER.

Appearance of the Room Where the Foul Crime Was Committed—Bloody Evidences of the Dark Deed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Charles J. Carlson, son of the owner of the Carlson cottage, was the first witness in the Cronin case Saturday morning. He testified as follows:

"I was sitting with my wife and my father in the house, in the rear of 1782 Ashland ave. nue, in the forenoon, some time about March 20 last, when there was a knock on the door and a gentleman came and said he wanted to rent the house, and my father went to the house with him and showed him around and he came in again and I made out the receipt for a month's rent in advance. The stranger said that he expected some brothers and a sister from Baltimore to come and keep house with him. He said he would move in a week or so, when his sister would come from Baltimore. He gave his name as Frank Williams. Subsequently he brought the furniture, in the evening at 7.30 o'clock. Williams came again on April 20 to pay the second month's rent. I never saw Williams again until I saw him in Winnipeg."

The witness was here shown a piece of carpet and identified it as the one he had seen on the parlor floor of the cottage.

"Can you point out Frank Williams in the court room?"

"Yes, sir."

"Point him out, please."

"The second one there." [Pointing to Martin Burke.]

The witness then proceeded with his testimony, saying that after receiving the letter from Williams relinquishing the cottage he entered it through a window on May 10.

"The carpet was gone off the floor and it looked as if they had poured some paint on the floor, as if they were trying to cover it. It had not been brushed over in certain places, I found stains on the baseboard that looked like blood. There was another large stain towards the north wall and at the center of the floor. I also found one arm of the rocker broken and loose and the furniture, the dresser and washstand in the center of the room. The floor was painted only in the center of the room and on the north side. Toward the south wall there was no paint at all in certain places. I saw several stains on the wall. There were stains all along on the paper and along on the south baseboard, in various places, that seemed to me to be blood. There were places on the floor that were not covered with paint where there were stains still showing. I saw footprints, as if they had stocking feet, as if they had painted in stocking feet in the hallway and in the house."

The reference to stocking feet was ordered stricken out by the court.

The witness then indicated on a diagram the location of the stains. Kunze was then pointed out to him by counsel for the state, but the witness could not identify him as any one he had ever seen before. During all of the time for which the rent was paid the cottage remained unoccupied. The cross-examination was then begun.

The witness was subjected to a long cross-examination, which did not seem to elicit any new facts. He was followed by Johanna Carlson, his mother.

Mrs. Carlson testified that on the Sunday following May 4th, when she first went out she noticed spots on the steps and that both the steps and the walk of the cottage showed that there had been much tramping up and down and also that the footsteps showed that the persons who made them had been walking in the sand. She thought that Frank Williams and his sister had at last moved in, and that the spots on the steps were only something that had been broken in moving. She then described the interior of the cottage, the paint, the stains on the wall, the furniture, etc.

Then at the request of the State's Attorney that she point out the man known to her under the name of Frank Williams, if in court, she pointed to Burke and said: "That's him, next to the fellow on the pillow."

The cross-examination was then begun.

Charles J. Carlson was recalled and testified that the stains in the cottage were not there before Burke rented it.

Bakan Martinsen, the expressman who carted the furniture from 117 Clark-street to the cottage, testified that the job was done in the latter part of March; that the man who hired him and another man brought the furniture down from 117 Clark-street and he loaded it on the wagon. It consisted of the furniture already described and the large trunk, which was then empty. The bloody trunk was then brought into court, and the witness said it resembled the one which he hauled; it was strapped with a broad, heavy strap. The witness then hauled the furniture to the Carlson cottage, and after waiting about an hour the man who hired him and another man came in a buggy, and the furniture was taken into the cottage. The witness then pointed out Martin Burke as the man who hired him to move the furniture. He said he had seen Burke in Winnipeg on June 21 last, and had there identified him in the jail yard.

After a long cross-examination, in which the facts were brought out that the witness had received $15 or $20 at one time and $25 at another time from the Chief of Police, and that he is now in the employ of the city, taking care of horses, the court adjourned until to day.

It was announced Saturday that Senator Kennedy, the Wisconsin lawyer, who has been of counsel for Burke, had withdrawn from the case. It is said he is dissatisfied with the position assigned him in the case.

Edward Spellman of Peoria, the district officer of the Clan-na-Gael, sent a telegram to Sheriff Watson saying he would arrive here prepared to testify in the case on Monday.

THE TEUTONIC TONGUE.

German as She is Taught in Three of Ontario's Counties.

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—Mr. J. S. Tilley, Prof. A. H. Raynar and Rev. D. D. McLeod, the commissioners appointed to visit the public schools in those parts of Ontario settled by German people, have reported to the Educational Department on the state of affairs found in these schools. Eighteen schools were inspected, located in the counties of Waterloo, Perth and Bruce. On the use of the German language the report says:

"It is usually left to the parents to decide whether their children shall learn German or not. Of the 2412 German children on the roll in the schools visited only 602 were learning German, and of the 483 English children only 56 were learning German. The time given to the teaching of German averages 4 1-3 hours per week or 52 min. per day. The teaching of German consists almost entirely of reading and writing, with some translation. German grammar is taught in only four schools. All the subjects on the public school program are taught in the English language and German is taught if every case as a separate subject. In a majority of schools the pupils take German in the 2d, 3d and 4th classes only. In four schools the pupils begin in the lowest class. The German pupils who were learning German were quite as well advanced in their studies as those who were not learning German. The learning of German does not seem to have interfered with the progress of the pupils in English or in other subjects.

There are very few children, the commissioners say, who, when entering the schools are unable to understand simple English, but many hesitate to express themselves in the Saxon tongue. This being the case the adoption of a bi-lingual series of text books is not recommended.

The total number of pupils on the roll in the 18 schools is 2895, 2412 Germans and 483 English. The number of Germans who learn German is 602 and the number of Germans who do not learn German is 1810. The number of English pupils who learn German is 56. There are 12 German teachers employed in the schools and 6 English teachers.

TO BE HANGED NOV. 29.

William H. Harvey Found Guilty of the Murder of His Wife.

GUELPH, Nov. 4.—Saturday morning the judge summed up the evidence in a two hours' address. After an hour's deliberation the jury filed into the court and took their places. A deathlike stillness prevailed and every ear was strained to hear the verdict. After the jury had been polled Mr. James Staples, foreman, gave the verdict: "We find the prisoner guilty."

His Lordship asked whether at the time he committed the offence he was sane, and the jury answered "Yes" and that the finding was for murder. His Lordship retired for a few minutes and when he returned Mr. Johnston moved that the sentence of the court be pronounced on the prisoner. Harvey stood up, and the Judge turned to the prisoner and without asking him any questions delivered the following sentence:

"That you be taken to the jail whence you came and there remain until Friday, the 29th day of November, at 8 o'clock in the morning, when you shall be taken from the said jail to the place of execution and there hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul."

During the delivery of the sentence Harvey was as calm and collected as if he was at his usual business; not so much as the twitch of a muscle was observable and he went from the dock to the jail as if nothing unusual had taken place.

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS.

Excessive Drinking Carries off an Ottawa Painter—Fell Dead in the Market.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—Charles Lover, a painter aged 25, went on a spree last week and Friday night was taken, helplessly intoxicated, to a hotel where he was allowed to sleep. Saturday morning the manager of the hotel on coming down stairs found Lover in great distress. In a few minutes he was dead.

James Smith, butcher, aged 72 years, fell in the By Ward market Saturday morning from heart disease.

A Convict's Escape.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—A convict in the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary named Beath escaped Saturday and no trace has been found of him. He was working by the river side and when the gang was marched back Beath was missing.

The Australian Confederation.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Nov. 4.—Sir Henry Parkes in a circular letter to the Prime Ministers of the Australian Colonies, after pointing out difficulties in the way of the creation of a federal army, gives in detail the objects of the convention recently proposed by him in a speech here. According to his plan a convention of delegates from the various colonies would be held for the purpose of constructing a Federal Parliament. He further says the scheme will necessarily follow closely the type of the Government of Canada and adds that the delegates to his proposed convention will also be guided by the rich stores of political knowledge collected by the framers of the American constitution and by others since their time.

TURNBULL'S

Our Millinery Room is aglow with Millinery and Millinery belongings. We have all the New Shapes that are worth having; many of them are very becoming.

The Millinery season is upon us, and our staff of hands are very busy. It requires forethought to prepare a fresh Bonnet for every one that takes its departure. We aim at pleasing everybody, which, consequently, involves keeping a large stock to select from.

The cold weather touches you. You draw the curtains earlier; the fire blazes on the hearth. You overhaul last winter's wardrobe, and think of needed comforts.

If Warm Underwear or Hosiery is deficient, you make a note of it, and then need to add another note concerning Turnbull's. We have an immense range, commencing Underwear at 50c. a Suit. All the finer and heavier makes in stock. It is surprising how cheap we show them this season. We are especially strong in boys', showing several makes.

Ladies' Boltonian Underwear requires your attention. To see it will be to purchase it in preference to all other kinds.

Men's Overcoats to the front again. When you want one, remember we handle them cheap.

The public are realizing that we do the Tailoring Trade, well judging by the constant incoming of new customers. Have you given us a trial yet?

We have a quantity of Scotch Wheeling Yarn, which goes at 60c. a lb. Never mind how or where we got it; it is a straight bargain to all who want it.

THE LADIES!

A New and Distinct Form of Disease which is afflicting Canadian Women.

How some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Superb Physical Beauty.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the home. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of woman, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 60 St. Hypolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., MONTREAL.

GOVERNMENT NEGLECT AND INDIFFERENCE.

There is great destitution amongst the Labrador fisherman, the best feature of which is the liberality which the Quebec Government is showing in giving aid to the destitute, and worst feature of which is that not a failure in the supply of fish, but the apathy of the Dominion Government is indirectly responsible for this state of things. One of the principal reasons assigned for the failure of the Labrador fisheries is the custom of American and French fisherman using trap nets and other engines for the wholesome destruction of the fish. These strangers literally ravage the coasts north of Newfoundland and as far south as Anticosti. During the past season vessels from Gloucester swept these shores, it is stated, getting full cargoes, while treating the three mile limit with contempt. Were it not for these invasions and the havoc produced among the fish by their manner of catching, the fishermen of Labrador would not have been brought to their present destitute condition. The laws relating to our fisheries forbid the use of traps, nets and similar devices for securing fish. The neglect to enforce these laws on the part of the Dominion Government, is practically a license to French and American poachers to invade Canadian fishing grounds and by unlawful engines, take the bread out of the mouths of Canadian citizens—men women and children. The Government shows exceedingly energetic activity in prosecuting Peterborough saw mill owners and in punishing them too, for permitting what sawdust the Government by agreement permitted to pass the saws, and to enter the Otonabee river, while they allow Ottawa mill owners who cut ten logs to one cut by local mill owners, to pollute the waters of the Ottawa to a proportionate degree without let or remonstrance or prosecution or fine, and let foreigners steal our fish with impunity. The government show strange indifference to the rights of our citizens. Sir Charles Tupper is sent sky-larking to Spain on such Quixotic errands that, "negotiating treaties in Spain" as applied to the efforts of the Canadian government, has come to be a fitting and suggestive equivalent to the apothegm—"castles in Spain." One half the money fooled away on farcical negotiations, would have sufficed to effectually enforce the fishery laws in Labrador and have prevented the starvation of our fellow citizens. At the same time Yankee privateers—no other name fits the facts—are permitted to seize Canadian sealers in the Pacific Ocean with no more legitimate warrant or justification than they would have in seizing an Allan liner in mid-ocean. Yet the Dominion government have taken no steps, with any hope of effective result, to punish such outrages upon the flag. The Dominion government manifests a mighty solicitude for the "protection" of a few manufacturers, who are willing to divide the gains, ground out of the unprotected many, at election times, but the poor people who have no great political influence or whose campaign fund capacity is not of a very important character, may sink or swim, feed or starve, for all the government care.

PRINCIPAL GRANT was the orator of the evening at the Montreal Hallowe'en demonstration Thursday evening, and his tribute to the French Canadian race shows that he is not by any means narrow minded or bigoted. He said:—

So much for the duty suggested to us by the past. A word now as to the lesson we should learn from our environment. We are one of several races engaged in the work of making Canada. Therefore it will not do for us to be Scotchmen only. We are only one and we are not even first. That place belongs to our French Canadian fellowcitizens. They first won Canada from the forest and the savage, and they have sanctified the soil by the tears and blood, the devotion and heroism of ten generations. Their Valhalla is crowded with the figures of knightly men and saintly women, of martyrs faithful to death, and explorers as dauntless as those who sailed in quest of the golden fleece. In the presence of Cartier and Champlain, of Maisonneuve and Daulac, of Lasalle, of Lallemant and Brebeuf, of Montcalm and Levis, we stand with uncovered heads. The race, too, is still full of its old vitality. All Canada honors judges like Dorion, poets like Frechette, orators like Chapleau and Laurier, patriots of the stamp of Joly, and writers like Chauveau and the Abbe Casgrain. They add new lustre to the old glories. As long as the race produces such men the extension of Canada will only give it room for new triumphs on us and on them alike.

Dakota Destitution.

Despite the denials made by interested parties, land agents and others, the destitution in Dakota is very great. It is said that families numbering in all probability one thousand persons are actually in want of the bare necessities of life. Reports like these from a country popularly regarded as "the granary of the world," will emphasize the statements of travellers that the Western States are not the El Dorados they have been described to be by railway and land companies. They have their advantages, no doubt, but they are not, all things considered, superior either in climate or productions to the eastern lands from which the people now suffering destitution have mainly emigrated. It may be remarked, however, in this connection that, as you go north, both climate and soil improve. In Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest there are no cyclones. The isothermal lines show a wide deviation in a north-western direction, carrying the wheat producing zone away beyond the latitudes to which it is confined on the eastern side of the continent. This indicates the direction which emigration will take in the future.

KILLED BY THEIR PRISONERS.

A Sheriff and His Posse Shot Down in Arizona.

FLORENCE, A.T., Nov. 4.—Sheriff Reynolds, W. A. Holmes and Eugene Middleton, while taking eight Apache Indians and one Mexican to Yuma penitentiary were killed by their prisoners four miles from Riverside. It happened about 5 o'clock and before daylight. The prisoners were being walked up a heavy sand wash and one of them grabbed a pistol from Holmes and shot the whites. The Indians then robbed the killed, took their arms and ammunition and started south. The Mexican convict was captured later. Eugene Middleton, the owner of the stage line, was driving at the time and was shot in the right side of the head. Another shot took effect in his cheek. He walked back to Riverside to give the alarm. At last accounts he was nearly dead. A posse has gone from Florence in pursuit of the fugitive.

Every Day of the Week.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—The Montreal postoffice will in future despatch mails for New York, Boston and the New England States generally on Sunday night the same as on any other night in the week. Hitherto mails have not been despatched for these points on Sunday nights. This will not involve any additional or special attendance of the staff of the postoffice, because these despatches will be attended to by the same staff that is on Sunday evening, on duty in connection with the mails for Ontario and the West generally. A regular postal car service is now being run by the American Post Office department between St. Albans and Boston, on Sunday night, and the Montreal Post Office is simply taking advantage of the opportunity thus offered, for improving its own postal connections with the United States. This mail will be sent by the 8.30 p. m. Central Vermont train.

How Intelligent Women Decide.

When the question has to be met as to what is the best course to adopt to secure a sure, safe and agreeable remedy for those organic diseases and weaknesses which afflict the female sex, there is but one wise decision, viz., a course of self-treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is an unfailing specific for periodical pains, misplacement, internal inflammation, and all functional disorders that render the lives of so many women miserable and joyless. They who try it, praise it. Of druggists. a

To the Public.

Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called clear cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cable," "El Padre" "Mungo," and "Madre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most skeptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. ma sold on George street within the memory of many of its inhabitants, at from $200 to $400 per half acre. The same land, if available now, would sell for as many hundred dollars per foot. Land in other parts of the town has increased in the same proportion. Therefore, can any person go wrong by buying a lot on my "Novel Plan" in a rising town like this? On my plan, at my low prices and easy terms, everyone should buy.

Land,

FARMERS will pay from sixty to eighty dollars per acre for land from ten to twenty miles from this market, inferior in many respects to 100 acres which I have for sale just outside the town, and which I am offering, on easy terms, at $35.00 per acre. MUNCASTER'S.

The Art of Leaving.

Among the minor arts that add much to the happiness of life is that of leaving gracefully after you have paid a visit. It may seem a small thing, but it is really a large one. Who does not know the individual who rises to go and then stands talking for an hour? And the host and hostess feel that they must stand, even if they almost drop with fatigue, and when the visitor is finally gone they give a sigh of relief and sink into their chairs. Pay your visit, say what you have to say, and when you get up to go do not linger by the way. Do not stand and talk and keep your hostess standing. You have enjoyed your visit, and so, probably, has she; go, then, while the enjoyment lasts and do not linger until it departs and she wishes you would do the same. Some wise man has said that it is better to leave behind you a wish for your company than a satiety, or words to that effect.

Men understand this better than women, and here comes in the advantage of a business training again. They appreciate the value of time more than women do, and when they have finished a call they go without the tedious lingering and interchange of commonplaces.—Miss Palfrey.

He Wanted a Little Prose.

"The pleasure I derive from the scenery and the benefit I obtain from this exercise," soliloquized an Angler as he cast his flies, "is worth more to me than all the Trout in this brook. Trout I can buy in the market, but pleasure and health are not so easily obtained."

Just then a Trout seized one of his flies, and after some struggles it felt the net under it.

"I hope that you will restore me to the water," pleaded the Trout. "You are seeking for pleasure and health, and you admit that you can have them without sacrificing my life. Continue casting your flies for half an hour longer and in this way you will receive more than you will by killing me."

"Your arguments sound plausible enough," replied the Angler, as he placed the trout in his creel, "but the stock of pleasure and health I can obtain is unlimited. The supply of your species is, however, limited, and there is a time when a man prefers concrete prose to abstract poetry. That time will arrive when I find you on my plate at the breakfast table to-morrow."—New York Herald.

Hope.

The truth is that a man can better afford to sacrifice his dinner daily for a year than live without hope for a week. And nature has recognized that it is so. What phrase is more common in our mouths than the simple but significative "I hope?" Nor is there any human being, howsoever forlorn in material possessions or howsoever afflicted, who was not originally endowed with this capacity of hope. Go to the hospitals, where one might suppose it were easy to find despair in many aspects. The doctor will whisper to you that this or that invalid is doomed, and that he cannot, by all the evidence of human foresight and experience, live one day more. "Well, and how are you?" you say to the sick man, and perhaps you cannot help betraying in your tone the pity you feel for him, thus hovering between two worlds, about one of which alone, the one he is leaving, you are able to assure yourself that you know anything decisive. "Oh, much better," he replies, with strong hope in his voice and his eyes. "I think I shall soon be well."—All the Year Round.

An Anecdote of Bottesini.

One adventure of dead Bottesini's should be remembered. He was playing one night at Antwerp, and there was a full room, and considerable curiosity for his turn to begin. He took his place beside his colossal double bass, and commenced his variations. The public were electrified—and so was the player. No one who knows the double bass could say of the instrument that it was squeaky and shrieky. It has its faults, but at least shrillness is not one of them. The sounds came forth that evening piercing and pathetic. The player looked terrified; his instrument seemed bewitched, and the sounds continued even when the bow was not drawn across the strings. For a moment Bottesini faltered, and then plunging his hand into the internal cavities of his big instrument, he drew it back very hurriedly. He introduced it again very carefully, and took out and held up to the room a cat. The entertainment did not end there. There were kittens to follow.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Grave in Maine.

In many parts of Maine are old graveyards with stones fast crumbling away, but none of greater general interest than one near Hull's Cove. Eden, where a small weather worn wooden cross marks the last resting place of Barthelemy de Gregoire and his wife Marie Therese. Marie Therese was the granddaughter of Antoine de le Motte Cadillac, a brilliant French officer, who was at one time commandant of Mackinaw and Detroit, and governor of Louisiana. To this, was granted by the French king, in 1688, the Island of Mount Desert and a large part of the mainland en Union river. His granddaughter claimed his estate in succession, in 1786, and the general court of Massachusetts granted to her and her heirs 60,000 acres. For a time the family lived at Hull's Cove. In 1733 they began to sell off the estate until, at the time of their death in 1810, not an acre remained.—Bar Harbor Record.

Green Is All the Go.

Greens, dark deep purple and browns and very dark blues are to be the favorite colors for fall wear. The purple—called heliotrope out of politeness—will be as aggressive as that worn by Italian women, with green trimmings. In fact, there will be fewer of the delicate and refined tints put forward this season in the new goods than have been seen for many years. Bright, almost primary colors are spread about for fashion's devotees to behold and admire.—Fashion Letter.

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored. —C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

Women's Work.
The Annual Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Galt has been concluded. Much interesting and important work was done. Mrs. Paton was appointed Superintendent for this county, to complete organization of the union, and representative at the annual meeting of the Dominion Alliance. Miss Kelly was elected a delegate to the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance. A request from the Kingston union to hold the next annual session in that city was read. Peterborough, St. Catharines, Brantford and Gananoque also put in their claims. Kingston was selected by a considerable majority.

A Lady and the "Goose Gizzard."
A lady referring to the iron-clad goose gizzard story in yesterday's issue, writes:—"Why Mr. Editor, there's nothing wonderful in that; if you had found, as I did the other day, a gold ring I had lost three years before in a goose's gizzard, you might have cause for wonder. But I have often wondered how hawley bros. can sell such splendid teas and fragrant coffees at such cheap prices. I tried them once a year ago, and I was so well pleased that I have been a constant customer ever since. I have made money by it as well as the best satisfaction with their goods."

In Their New Quarters.

W. A. Carr & Co. Remove to Hunter Street —The Growth of a Small Business.

Two years ago Mr. W. A. Carr launched out in a small way in the manufacture and sale of pocket stencils and stamps, but by his enterprise and industry he has since worked up a large and lucrative business, with agents in the principal towns of the Midland district, and formed a company for the better carrying on of that business. He has also branched out into other lines of trade, and now possesses a small but, for its purpose, complete printing plant, with which he turns out fancy work of no mean order. His stamps are now in general use in business offices and stores in Peterborough and other important towns, and that they give satisfaction is shown by the constantly increasing sale, with which they are meeting. Mr. Carr is now in his new quarters on Hunter street, entrance 140, directly at the head of the stairs. The rooms, though small, are conveniently fitted up, and laid out in office and workshop. The workshop contains the printing plant and rubber stamp apparatus. Mr. Carr's work comprises calling and business cards, letter and bill heads, etc. The chief part of the business, however, is the manufacture of rubber stamps. These are turned out in all sizes and varieties. There are the banking and commercial rubber stamps, steel name stamps and stencils, self inking and dating stamps, and pocket stamps. The utility of rubber stamps in the business world is fully recognized by all the trades and professions, and scarcely a business place in town but is supplied with a set of these stamps, which are made to meet all requirements. Mr. Carr shows some fancy designs in pocket stamps, which are useful and convenient to carry. His agents throughout the district are booming the rubber stamp and introducing it in the principal towns and villages.

Mr. Carr is also agent for seal presses for lodges, notaries, etc., and can supply them as cheaply as they can be procured from headquarters. He has, besides, wax seals in his list of goods.

He has recently begun the publication of the Energetic Agent, a small journal published monthly, devoted to agents and advertisers' interests. The new venture is meeting with success.

Mr. Carr deserves credit for the progress he has made, and, no doubt, in his new premises his business will continue to grow.

Church Chimes.

Next Sunday the annual educational sermons of the Methodist churches will be preached by Rev. Thos. Manning, of Orillia, and Rev. Mr. Hodgson, of Belleville.

Rev. A. Bell addressed his congregation in St. Andrew's church Sunday night on the subject of "The state of the country with reference to Papal aggression." The sermon was pointed and instructive.

Rev. Messrs. Shorey and Pearson exchanged pulpits Sunday evening, and both clergymen assisted at the administering of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper after the morning service in the Charlotte street church and after the evening service in the George street church.

A Kingston despatch says:—The city has been greatly shaken up religiously as a result of the visit of Messrs. Crossley and Hunter. On Sunday hundreds were admitted to membership in Churches. The evangelists leave the city on Tuesday for Hamilton, where they remain until Christmas, and then go to Montreal.

In the Charlotte street church Sunday morning Rev. S. J. Shorey told his congregation that he would no longer read miscellaneous announcements from the pulpit, but would confine himself to those relating directly to the Methodist church. He said he was very clear and decided in this action, and had the support of the other ministers of the town.

Removal of Shops.
Reports are common that the Lindsay railway shops are to be removed to Toronto. The Post denies the rumor, but, all the same, there is probably a deal of truth in it. The Lindsay papers are agitating for C.P.R. connection, so that the town will not be so much at the mercy of "soulless corporations." A report has also got abroad that the Grand Trunk purpose to remove their repair shops and some fifty mechanics from Belleville to Toronto, and the mayor has addressed to Mr. Hickson a letter in which he asks for an explanation, and gives warning that if the removal be made the corporation will demand repayment, with interest, of the bonus of $25 000 paid some years ago to the company on an agreement which it is claimed they never fully carried out.

The New Romance.
Mr. Gerald L. Marston Pogue, writes to the Mail of Thursday last from Little Britain, Ont., as follows:—"It may be most interesting to your readers to know that a new romance by the author of 'Thoth' is fast approaching completion and will shortly be issued. All the efforts of the Canadians to crush the Canadian claimant to the authorship of 'Thoth' and its companion volume 'A Dreamer of Dreams' have fortunately been in vain; he still survives. Even so soon as the first of December will the literary world be aroused from its long sleep. The awakening will be wondrous for its strange revelations." Mr. Pogue also writes to the Lindsay Post giving the name and scope of his new work. He says:—"It is entitled the "The Shard of Gold." It is a weird romance of hopeless love, the keystone of which is an uncouth notion of the author's that men but dreams be exists. The scene is laid alternately in the city Babylon, Paradise, Hades, and a large city in the interior of Africa, which, by the way, the author endeavors to show is the Ophir of biblical history. It will be made the medium for the expression of many more of those strange ideas that so startled the readers of "Thoth." It has to do with people who have cast aside in indignant disgust all the gods, and who worship their own shadows in the bitterest of mockery. In it the author has attempted to prove that the wildest and most brilliant triumph of Love is death." The Canadian literary public will await the publication with interest.

New Office.
Mr. J. F. Perchard, agent for the Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company, has secured a new office on Hunter street, where he will be pleased at all times to meet his patrons and friends. The street entrance is 140, and Mr. Perchard's office is right at the head of the stairs, alongside Mr. W. A Carr's rubber stamp works. The same door admits to both. Mr. Perchard represents the Ontario Mutual and the London Guarantee and Accident Co., of London England, the only British Company licensed to transact this business in the Dominion. The Ontario Mutual has its head offices at Waterloo, and its directors are well known business men of Western Ontario. The Mutual's district agent is Mr. Ewing, of Cobourg. The directors report submitted at the last annual meeting shows that the Company's progress is steadily upward. The business of last year was an advance on that of the preceding year. The new business amounted to $2,518,650, making the total in force at 31st December last, $12,041,914. The assets at same date amounted to $1,313,853, and the surplus, over and above liabilities, amounted to $90,357.09. The reduction of the ratio of expenses to 18 1/5, resulting in a saving of $2,000, is a commendable feature in the management. The marked features reported claimed for the Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. are the following:—Economy, equity, stability, all which are illustrated by the transactions of the company. To these desirable qualities are added these special ones, namely, prompt payment of claims, guaranteed surrender values and liberal policy conditions. All these features are favorable to the assured and are secured to the policy holders of the Ontario. Mr. Perchard, the local agent, in pushing the Mutual in Peterborough, and now that he has an office of his own, his business will, no doubt, increase in proportion. The London Guarantee and Accident Co. is well known in Canada, where they have deposited $55,000 with the Receiver General for the exclusive security of Canadian policy holders. The guarantee branch, in which bonds of suretyship are issued on fidelity of officials in all positions of trust, is an important one. Their accident rates will be found most satisfactory. Mr. Perchard invite all persons needing insurance to consult him. He promises satisfaction every time.

A Sunday Morning Scene at St. Andrew's

The Friction Between Pastor and People Finds Public Expression—The Minister, Rev. Alex. Bell, Refuses to Read a Notice of a Congregational Meeting —A Member of the Board of Managers Speaks.

The usual Sunday serenity was rather rudely ruffled at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Sunday morning, the Minister at the usual time, refusing to read a notice of the Board of Managers, calling a congregational meeting.

It appears that for some time past matters have not been running as smoothly at St. Andrew's as might be. There has been an irritating state of friction in the relations between the pastor, Rev. Alex. Bell, and the congregation. This state of affairs has, it appears, had an adverse influence upon the prosperity of the church, in temporal matters at least. Last January the finances,

SHOWED A CLEAR BALANCE SHEET,

but in spite of the church debt of $12 000, having been wiped out by the liberality of Mrs. Nicholls, and the congregation, therefore, relieved of some $700 of annual interest charges, it is stated, by those who should know, that at the next annual meeting their will be a financial deficit of some $600 to report. The blame for the lack of prosperity of the church and the decreasing attendance was it is said, placed on the wrong shoulders—change after change has been made in the choir—but it is shrewdly suggested that it is not necessary to go back quite so far as the choir, to reach the real source of the trouble; there are members of the congregation who do not hesitate to assert that a change in the pastorate should be made in the interests of the welfare of St. Andrew's. That this is not improbable, may be inferred from the fact that, at a meeting of the congregation about two or three months ago, there was a resolution passed twenty per cent., as well as the salaries of all church officers. At the same meeting a resolution was proposed to request the resignation of the minister, but it was not put, the belief having been expressed that the reduction of salary would, by way of hint, serve as effectually as a direct request for resignation.

REDUCING THE MINISTER'S SALARY

The resolutions passed at the above mentioned meeting were referred to the Presbytery, but that body declined to take action, on the ground that the resolutions as not coming from the Session, were irregular. The resolutions were accordingly sent back and the Board of Managers then decided to refer the matter to the Session, but a certain prominent and efficient official of the Board, hinting that advantage had been taken of the absence of some of the members, and the majority desiring that there should be decided instead of sending the resolutions to the session, to call a congregational meeting to consider temporal matters. Accordingly on Sunday morning the pastor was given to read a notice calling such a meeting on Nov. 11th. But this the pastor refused to do, giving as a reason that the notice was irregular, and began an address, insinuating he is not understanding the cause of the action and imputing motives to the actors. At this point a member of the congregation and of the Board of Managers, Mr. A. McFarlane, rose in his seat and said the time had come to place the matter before the congregation, and controverted the plea of irregularity by referring to the constitution of the church, which justified the course of the Board of Managers. While he was speaking, Mr. McFarlane was told by both the minister and by Mr. Carnegie to sit down, but he concluded his remarks. Rev. Mr. Bell, however, did not read the notice and thus the matter rests pending further developments, which judging from the attitude of most of the members of the congregation, will not long be delayed

On the streets to-day it was stated by members of the congregation that the plea of irregularity was no ground for the unchristian refusal to read the notice of the Board of Management.

A Magnificent Clock.
The rotunda of the Oriental hotel was to-day ornamented with a splendid new clock, a type at once of ornament and utility. It is an advertising clock erected by Mr. C. B. Elliott, Toronto, and, as it rests upon the wall, is a beautiful example of advertising elevated to a fine art, both literally and figuratively. The advertising space consists of of two wings built in with the case of the clock and at an angle, and containing on each side five divisions for handsomely illuminated advertisements besides one on the upper half of the plate glass door, one on the large brass pendulum, and one on the central bevelled panel at the base of the case. The case of this really elegant and unique time piece, is of polished antique oak, elaborately carved in Romanesque style. The case is of solid oak too and weighs a trifle less than 300 pounds, and is fastened to the wall by bolts passed through the brick work, and in its solidity of construction and time-keeping qualities the clock is a type of the business firms whose advertisements it serves to so elegantly and effectively present. It is a fixture in its present position, and at night when the advertisement spaces, with their striking backgrounds of silver, and scarlet and gold, with the brilliant and ornate lettering, flash back from their facets the brilliant rays of the electric light the whole clock and its appurtenances will challenge attention and admiration. The artistic settings of the advertisements will compel attention and this fact will greatly enhance the value of their several spaces to the advertisers. The time-keeping part of the clock is an eight day jewellers' regulator, put in by Mr. W. A. Sanderson, by whom it will be kept in order to the minute. This clock is the finest advertising clock ever erected in this town, or the matter of that in Canada, or probably on the continent, and advertisers are getting permanent value for their investments. A similar clock, saving the change in advertisers is to be erected in the Belmoral Hotel. Mr. Elliott has one of the most elegant effective and—timely—advertising appliances of the age and should receive practical patronage wherever he goes.

The Troublesome Small Boys.
The Chief of Police has a boy's hat in his possession, and it is scarcely likely the owner will call for it. Sunday afternoon a troop of urchins were playing on the vacant lot alongside the creek on Charlotte street, and the uproar they made was very unbecoming the Sabbath day. They shouted and swore and used the worst language possible, to the annoyance and disgust of all who came with in hearing range. Chief Roszel got on their track, and tried to creep up on them unawares; but the small boy is all eyes and ears as well as mouth, and the lads saw the Chief in time to escape. One youngster whose hat was living on the ground ran back for it, but the Chief was too close on him and rather than be caught the lad left his headgear and waded through the creek. When he got across he looked defiant and refused the Chief's invitation to come back and get his hat. The Chief did not know any of the boys, but if they kick up such a rumpus another Sunday they may be caught.

The One-Armed Irish Leader.

The Irish leader now before the French Commission, Michael Davitt, has filled a place in Irish agitation only second to that filled by Chas. S. Parnell. He was born in the year 1846, in the county of Mayo, Ireland, where his father was a peasant proprietor. When he was a small boy, in the year 1847, his father was evicted from his farm, and soon after died. Mrs. Davitt and her children went to England. Michael was employed in a factory, where he lost his right arm. He lived unknown until 1870, when he was arrested in London as a Fenian, charged with sending arms to his fellow conspirators in Ireland. He was found guilty by a jury and sentenced to fifteen years' penal servitude. After serving eight years of this sentence in Portland prison, he was liberated on a ticket of leave. In 1879 he organized the Land League, a formidable movement which was crushed under the Gladstone administration, but which lived again in the National League. The organization grew up to be formidable one, with a central office in Dublin, and fifteen hundred, more or less, local branches. It was assisted by a million of dollars sent from the United States. Davitt's share in its work led to his imprisonment twice, the first time for a year and a half, and the second, four months. While in prison the first of these occasions he was elected member of Parliament for Meath, but declined the honor.

How to Lace Your Shoes.

Not one person in a thousand laces his shoes correctly. The correct way is to put your foot when you are about to lace your shoe as much as possible in the heel of the shoe. You can do this best by lacing your shoes with the heel of your shoe resting in a chair standing in front of the one you are seated on. Over the instep the lacing should be drawn as tightly as possible. This will hold your foot back in the shoe, giving the toes freedom and preventing their being cramped. AGNES DAY'S SAD STORY.

BETRAYED BY A TORONTO CLERK UNDER PROMISE OF MARRIAGE.

Abandoned by a Faithless Lover When About to Become a Mother Declares She is Innocent of Infanticide.

HAMILTON, Nov. 5.—Detective McKenzie arrested Agnes Day, an English girl 22 years old, on Saturday afternoon, and took her to the police station, where she was formally charged with infanticide and concealing the birth of a child, and remanded for a week. It was commenced that on Wednesday morning last the body of a young baby was found under a loose board in the yard of 80 East avenue. Detective McKenzie was given charge of the case and on investigation discovered certain facts which led him to arrest Miss Day.

The unfortunate girl's history is an interesting one. She was born and brought up in England, near London. Her father was a well-to-do farmer and owned the farm on which he lived. When only 12 years of age Miss Day's parents died, and she then went into service in London and lived there until about three years ago, when she was advised by a doctor to come to Canada, owing to her ill-health. She came out here with Rev. Mr. Snipe, and after a short stay in Toronto went to St. Catharines, where she was employed as domestic in the family of Mr. J. McLaren, dry goods merchant there. After leaving St. Catharines she went to Suspension Bridge, N. Y., and was employed in Salt & Son's hotel for about 11 months, leaving there to take a situation again in St. Catharines at the Stevenson House, where she engaged as a dining-room girl. While in St. Catharines she was regarded as a careful, steady girl, and was a regular attendant of St. Thomas' Church.

About a year ago she left the Stevenson House and went to Toronto. There she obtained employment with Mrs. Graham, on Strachan-avenue. While in Toronto she became acquainted with John McDonald, a clerk in a Yonge-street drug store. Their acquaintance ripened into intimacy and under promise of marriage the unfortunate girl's ruin was accomplished. The marriage was to have taken place in December of this year, but when McDonald determined that he would have no more to do with the girl, he suddenly left Toronto.

Agnes Day then tried to discover the whereabouts of her faithless lover, but was unable to do so, and finally, being discouraged, and having spent all her money, she came to Hamilton. Agnes says she is not guilty of any criminality in having caused the death of her child. Her confinement took place in the attic and at a time when it was totally unexpected. When the child was born her condition was such that she was unable to summon assistance, and she could not give the child any attention at all. When she had sufficiently recovered to look after the child, it was dead.

A MICHIGAN HARVEY.

Farmer Westbrook Kills His Wife, Three Daughters and Himself.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 5.—A terrible tragedy occurred yesterday morning on section 16 in Vergennes Township, Kent county. Haggie Westbrook, a farmer, arose early, took a hammer and fractured his wife's skull, then he went to the room where his three little girls were asleep and treated them in about the same manner. He then went to another room and attemped to do the same with a son, but the son took the hammer from him. Then Westbrook ran down stairs, procured his razor and cut his own throat. Westbrook is dead and it is supposed the girls cannot recover but a little hope is entertained that Mrs. Westbrook may recover.

Another report says the girls were instantly killed and that Mrs. Westbrook is ortally wounded. Westbrook was in financial difficulty and has become insane.

A Wild Church Sensation at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—A mild sensation was caused among the worshippers of St. George's Church Sunday by the simultaneous withdrawal from the building during the service of several gentlemen of prominence in the congregation. The choir had just begun to chant the Kyrie, a proceeding to which objection had been taken, and their withdrawal is understood as a signification of their emphatic disapproval of the chanting of this portion of the service. It is thought Sunday's unpleasantness will cause the rector to tender his resignation. The gentlemen who withdrew include Sir William Ritchie, J. R. Arnoldi, J. K. Arnoldi, C. E. Buck, H. H. Small, C. S. Shaw, C. C. McNab, James Adamson and C. Adamson.

A NEW MEXICAN BLIZZARD.

Three Cowboys Frozen to Death on the Open Plains.

FOLSOM, N. M., Nov. 5.—Thursday night Henry Miller, range foreman for Col. R. C. Head, with several cowboys camped near Sierra Grande with 1800 beef cattle, which they were holding for the purpose of loading in cars. At 4 o'clock Friday morning a blizzard from the northwest struck the herd, driving the cattle toward the Pan Handle. The snow was so blinding that it was impossible to see fifty feet ahead. Miller called his men together and they started to follow the herd and made an attempt to keep them bunched. The men became separated. Friday night one of them wandered into Head's home ranch half-dead from cold and hunger. He told his story, and a rescuing party was immediately sent out. Saturday noon the frozen bodies of Henry Miller, Joe Martin and Charles Jolly were found on the open plains not far from Folsom. The other men found their way to camp before being overcome with cold.

IN THE DARK CONTINENT

A DESPATCH RECEIVED FROM HENRY M. STANLEY.

The Explorer Left the Albert Nyanza Homeward Bound on May 6—The Sources of the White Nile.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Mr. Mackinnon, the head of the Emin Relief Committee, has received a despatch from Henry M. Stanley. The explorer says:

"I reached the Albert Nyanza from Banalya for the third time in 140 days and found out that Emin and Jephson had both been prisoners since Aug. 18, 1888, being the day after I made the discovery that Bartelot's caravan had been wrecked. The troops in the equatorial province had revolted and shaken off all alliance. Shortly after the Mahdists invaded the province in full force. After the first battle in May the stations yielded and a panic struck the natives, who joined the invaders and assisted in the work of destruction. The invaders subsequently suffered severe loss and despatched a steamer to Khartoum for reinforcements.

"I found a letter waiting for me near the Albert Nyanza exposing the dangerous position of the survivors and urging the immediate necessity of my arrival before the end of December, as otherwise it would be too late. I arrived there on Jan. 18 for the third time. From Feb. 14 to May 81 went for the fugitives and then left the Albert Nyanza homeward bound. By the route taken I traversed the Semliki Valley, the Awamba, the Usongora, the Toro, the Uhaiyana, the Unyamnaka, the Anhon, the Karagwe, the Uhaiya, the Usinza, the South Victoria and the Nyanza. No hostile natives were met. Since we left Kabbaroga we traveled along the base of the snowy range Rujenzori. Three sides of the Southern Nyanza or Nyanza of Usongora, called now Albert Edward Nyanza, are about 900 feet higher than Albert Nyanza, having an exit at Semliki, which receives over fifty streams from the Rujenzori and finally enters the Albert Nyanza, making the Albert Edward the sources of the southwest branch of the White Nile, the Victoria Nyanza being the source of the southeast branch."

Mr. Mackinnon says the committee has given orders that supplies for Stanley be hurried on to Mpwapwa and beyond there if possible. Stanley is expected to reach the coast in January or February.

A Deadlock on the Docks.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The union men employed on the export docks have refused to work unless the company's permanent employes join the Dock Laborers' Union. This the non-union men refuse to do and a deadlock has resulted. Scores of ships are lying idle at the docks, it being impossible to get men to handle their cargoes.

Another Strike Impending.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The master lightermen have refused to grant the men's demands and a general strike on the Thames is impending.

Lunched in the Khedive's Kiosk.

CAIRO, Nov. 5.—The Prince of Wales and his sons took luncheon yesterday in the Khedive's kiosk. Subsequently the distinguished visitors went to the great Cairene fair which is held annually on Mahomet's birthday.

Repulsed With Great Slaughter.

ZANZIBAR, Nov. 5.—Details have been received of the recent engagement between a section of Captain Wissmann's expedition, under Lieutenant Gravenreuth, and Chief Bushiri's forces, which resulted in the defeat of the rebels. Gravenreuth found Bushiri at the head of 6000 Mafites who were ravaging the country around Usarmo. The Mafites made three desperate charges upon the Germans but were repulsed with great slaughter. Seven friendly natives were killed but no Europeans. Gravenreuth pursued the enemy making a four days' journey inland from Bagamoyo and clearing the country of the rebels. The Germans came upon the bodies of 500 dead Mafites. The friendly natives are killing the rebels wherever found.

A Rich Gold Find in Alaska.

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 5.—The steamer Corono arrived from Alaska Saturday night with a large salmon cargo. She also had $50,000 worth of gold from the Treadwell mine, $12,000 from the Cassiar and about $13,000 from other claims. The discovery by an Indian of a shallow creek rich in gold in the Omineca district is causing old miners to flock there. The find is said to be a wonderfully rich one.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Family Poisoned—Tyrotoxicon in Their Milk—A Fruitistic Exhibition.

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—Mr. Robert Fleming, his wife and three daughters were seriously poisoned Sunday morning. It is supposed some milk which they used on their porridge contained tyrotoxicon, a poison lately found in milk and cheese which develops by reason of the decomposition of certain parts. Mrs. Fleming is still seriously ill.

Jake Kilrain and John F. Scholes sparred four rounds, Queensbury rules, in the Mutual street rink last night. The local pug had rather the best of it but there is a strong suspicion in some quarters that the Baltimore [illegible] let himself out.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 5.—The Police Magistrate yesterday decided that he could not on a preliminary examination try a charge of indecent assault against Thomas Duncan, assistant postmaster, on an information charging him with rape.

A charge of abusive language preferred by Mrs. Hardford Ashley against her husband was dismissed, as the evidence of the parties was in direct conflict.

WHEN DID HE LIE?

SPELLMAN FLATLY CONTRADICTS HIS FORMER STORY.

An Unwilling Witness in the Cronin Case—Beggs' Letters Read in Evidence—What O'Sullivan Said.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The first witness called the Cronin case yesterday was Edward Spellman of Peoria, Ill., who was examined on behalf of the prosecution by the State's Attorney. He testified that he was treasurer of the Great Eastern Distilling Company.

"Are you a member of the Clan-na-Gael or United Brotherhood?" he was asked.

"I am a member of the United Brotherhood," he replied.

"Commonly called the Clan-na-Gael?"

"I do not know anything about that. I do not know what you call it."

"You have heard it called that?"

"I have heard a good deal said about it in that way since the trial began."

"You have heard of the Clan-na-Gael guards?"

"Yes."

"And in order to be a member of the Clan-na-Gael guards you must be a member of the United Brotherhood?"

"I do not know anything about that."

Witness then testified that he was district officer of District No. 16, embracing Illinois and Michigan. He said he was the highest officer in the district and that his duties were laid down by the constitution. "The executive is a body in itself and their districts are also provided by the constitution."

"Do you know who constitutes that body now?"

Mr. Forrest: "We would like to have the record show on behalf of the clients I represent an objection to all of this testimony respecting the executive board and the officers."

The Court: "Of course, you can make your objection and may take an exception."

Mr. Spellman then said he knew the names of a few of them. Mortimer Scanlan was one, Lawrence Buckley another, Ronayne of New York another. Witness identified certain correspondence which had passed between him and Beggs regarding business of the order. As the examination proceeded it became evident that Spellman was an unwilling witness and his testimony was different from that he gave before the grand jury and from what the prosecution expected.

Mr. Spellman said he knew Dan Coughlin who, with a man named Kuntz, had visited Peoria a year ago and presented a letter of introduction. He had no conversation with Coughlin about Dr. Cronin. This was in direct contradiction of Spellman's previous testimony and he was asked by Mr. Longenecker if he had not sworn that Coughlin spoke to him about Dr. Cronin. There was a long wrangle over this question, which was finally allowed.

"Did you not," asked the State's Attorney, "say before the grand jury under oath that Coughlin said Cronin was a ——, and ought to be killed, and that he so stated to you when in Peoria?"

"I did not say that to the Grand Jury as the District Attorney puts it to me. I simply said that in the conversation with Coughlin at Peoria that he said Cronin was a ——, but on reflection and on consultation with the other two men present I sent my attorney to Chicago to notify the District Attorney that I was mistaken. My attorney was unable to find Judge Longenecker; I came myself specially to Chicago and notified Judge Longenecker and the other counsel that if they asked me that question on the stand I should have to deny it in order to do justice to myself and to the facts. After I left the Grand Jury room and went home and slept I felt annoyed and troubled. I felt that I had possibly done wrong to Mr. Coughlin and I went immediately to Mr. Fallon's and Mr. Donn's and told them what I had sworn to before the grand jury and that I was bothered about it. They said 'Mr. Spellman you have made a mistake. No such conversation took place.'"

Mr. Spellman said in reply to a question that he had seen Alexander Sullivan before going to the State's Attorney's office, but that he went there because he had been informed that Mr. Sullivan was talking very harshly against him and that his visit was not in connection with the case. The correspondence between Beggs and Spellmen was then read. Feb. 18 Beggs wrote:

"Why, in God's name, if men are sincere, will they insist upon opening old sores? The majority, four men, believe the parties charged to be innocent of any criminal wrong, and to have the charges made continually that they are guilty creates a bitterness and ill-feeling, and the man or men who continue to bring the charges are not the friends of the Irish unity. The rank and file are sincere. They want peace, and the time is not far distant when they will have it, even if it has to come to war. The men who are in power will in time realize the motives of those who are continually breeding disorder in their ranks, and a day of punishment will come."

After the reading of the correspondence a long cross examination was conducted by Mr. Forrest.

At the afternoon session Judge McConnell excluded that part of the testimony of Spellman and the questions of the State's Attorney applying to the conversation with Daniel Coughlin.

Mrs. Addie J. Farrer testified as follows: "I read an account of the finding of Dr. Cronin's body and spoke of it to Mr. O'Sullivan. I said to him: 'Was not it a terrible murder?' O'Sullivan said, 'Yes. I said, 'Why, it was something fearful to decoy a person away, and murder him in that manner.' O'Sullivan did not say anything for a few minutes and then he said 'They say he was a British spy.' I said, 'Well, why should they kill him?' In a few minutes, I said again, 'Why should they kill him even if he was a spy?' O'Sullivan said, 'He gave away the secrets of a secret order, and if a man did that he ought to be killed. If he did that he has got no more than he deserved.' I said that if he did that he was another Morgan. He said: 'Such men get their just deserts.'"

Several policemen testified to seeing a wagon driven past them on the night of May 4 containing three men and a trunk or tool chest. Some of the officers afterwards saw the wagon without the chest. John Way, a special policeman at Edgewater, testified he saw two men walking east toward the lake followed by a wagon driven by another man. The witness questioned the man in the wagon who said he wanted to go to Chicago and he was looking for the lake shore drive. The witness told him the drive did not extend that far north. When the other two men came back from the beach the witness gave them directions how to drive in order to reach Evanston-avenue, their nearest route to the city.

The court, after discussion as to the legality of proceedings to-day (election day), adjourned provisionally till 10 o'clock this morning.

THE WINNIPEG WITNESSES.

Mackinnon, Mills and Heffer Will go to Chicago to Testify.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Assistant State's Attorney Baker returned Sunday night from Winnipeg where he has been gathering statements from Burke's jail cronies of the latter's confessions, and has also made arrangements with other witnesses to come to Chicago to testify.

"I have a great deal of confidence in Gillette's story," said Mr. Baker. "Some things he said, that about Burke's girl at Begg's office as well as describing so well the location of the office and his story about Konen, he could not have got from any one but Burke, as nothing has ever been printed about them. He is an old man and told his story in a clear way and I believe it. But what good does it do? We cannot get him down here as a witness." Mr. Baker says he does not think Chief McRae of the Winnipeg police will come to Chicago to testify because he has not been paid his bill of $340 for arresting Burke. McKinnon will come, however, and so will Mills and Heffer, to whom Burke made damaging statements. They were in jail then but have since been released. Mr. Baker says the reports printed about their statements have been greatly exaggerated in details, though the main outlines are true. Gillette, he says would make a better witness.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—The supply of country produce in the market yesterday was small, and prices were steady. Some very good apples were offered. Prices are firm for good fruit. They sell from $2 to $5.50, the former for inferior stock. Potatoes are not being received in such large quantities, and prices are firm at 75c per bag. Butter and eggs are not in such good supply, and prices are steady.

There were liberal receipts of hay, and a fair demand kept prices up. About 25 loads sold at $12 to $15. Three loads of straw sold at $11 and $12, and one load of loose at $7.

Wheat—Dull and easy. Buyers offer 80c for red and fall on the Northern, and 81c for spring on the Midland, but holders ask old prices. No. 1 Manitoba hard, 95c; No. 2 hard, 92c.

Barley—Very dull. Buyers offer outside 35c for No. 3 extra and 40c for No. 2.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: The cheese market here yesterday was very dull, there being no sales; 10½c was offered for 3800 boxes, but sellers held over for better prices.

Utica reports: Yesterday was another bad day for cheese. The market was dull and spiritless, little or no activity was manifested. The ruling price was established at 9 1-8c or 3-8c less than a week ago. Many of the small factories have discontinued operations and that with the shrinkage in the amount of milk results in a decrease in the product of cheese. Yesterday's transactions totalled 9863 boxes, ruling price 9 1-8c. Transactions same time last year 6781 boxes, ruling price 9½c.

Little Falls reports: There was no change yesterday in the market and prices ranged between 9 1-4 and 10c. Only one lot on the afternoon market sold at 10c and these were small cheese. White cheese is in much greater demand than colored. The sales were 6439 boxes. There was also 1090 boxes farm cheese sold at 9 1-2 to 10c, most at 9 3-4c. Sales of 176 packages creamery butter were made at 22c, and 48 packages farm dairy butter went at 18 to 21c, the ruling price being 20c.

The First Murder of the Campaign.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 5.—The first blood of the campaign was shed last night. The coroner is to-day holding an inquest on the body of a negro named Spot, killed at Dickerson's store, Henrico County. The negro was at a fair held by negroes, when he got into a dispute about politics. The wrangle involved a number of other negroes. One of the disputants struck Spot on the head with a stick, which resulted in his death. The murderer and 25 or 30 other negro men have been arrested.

The coming Catholic hierarchy centennial celebration at Baltimore promises to be one of the most brilliant church celebrations that has ever taken place in the United States. Cardinal Gibbons has received acceptances of the invitations to attend from 80 bishops and others of high rank including Cardinal Taschereau of Canada.

If Warm Underwear or Hosiery is deficient, you make a note of it, and then need to add another note concerning Turnbull's. We have an immense range, commencing Underwear at 50c. a Suit. CANADIANS Work Too Hard!

The Result is Sleeplessness, Nervousness and a Broken-Down System, often

Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, wearied brainworkers industrious mechanics, and tried women, in all parts of the Dominion are to day in a terrible position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep, work or live in comfort. This is what fills our Insane Asylums. This is the cause of that terrible Paresis. Before it is too late, use Dr. Phelps' wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound. It removes the results of overwork, restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the whole system, and tones up the overworked brain and body. Do not despair, but use this wonderful remedy, and be restored to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. John L. Brodie, of Montreal, who writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound. My system was run down and I was not fit for business, could not sleep well at night and was nervous. I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound and improved immediately. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of excitement without bad effect."

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

A University in Ottawa.

Proposed to be Established by the Methodist Body—How the Proposition Originated—Mr. Josiah Wood's Endorsation—Rev. Dr. Ryckman's Views.

A Dominion Methodist University at Ottawa is among the probabilities of the future, if other prominent men in that body are disposed to take the view recently presented at St. John, N.B., by Mr. Josiah Wood, M.P. for Westmoreland. Mr. Wood, who is one of the ablest parliamentary representatives sent by the Maritime Provinces, is a leader in the Methodist body in that portion of the Dominion. With the central institution proposed, he would have all the existing Methodist collegiate institutions affiliated. He thinks Ottawa would be the best place to locate it for these reasons:—1. Ottawa is the capital. 2. It contains the magnificent Legislative Library, freely accessible to professors and students. 3. In it is also the splendid museum of the Geological Survey. 4. It is the home of many eminent specialists in the various departments of science, in connection with the Civil Service. 5. The fact that the sittings of the Supreme Court of Canada are held in Ottawa. 6. There, finally, meets Parliament, which brings together for a third of the year the ablest public men of Canada, and that the whole surroundings would be most helpful and congenial to the professors and students of an institution of the higher learning.

DR. RYCKMAN'S VIEWS.

In Ottawa for a few days past Mr. Wood's proposition has been discussed with not a little interest by the few who have learned of it. With on of these, Rev. Dr. Ryckman, pastor of the Dominion Church, and very deeply interested in the educational work of the Methodist body, the Citizen yesterday had an interview on the subject.

"The matter," said Dr. Ryckman, "is one which was brought to my attention a short time ago. On returning home from the meeting of the Methodist Board of Regents, held in Toronto recently, I was accompanied as far as Carleton Place by Dr. J. R. Inch, President of the Mount Allison Methodist College at Sackville, N.B., and during the journey he explained the proposition to me at considerable length. Although he did not say his talk led me to believe he was. The proposition is certainly a good one, being a scheme on which the disputants over federation might unite. I have no doubt it will be taken up by the Board of Regents, and also at the special meeting of the Methodist Conference to be held in Toronto, commencing on the third Wednesday in January. It may not be discussed at length at the special meeting in January, but it will be at the quadrennial meeting of the conference in September next. Regarding the place," said Dr. Ryckman, "Ottawa, of course, would be the most central and the best place for such a university, but there would be a strong movement in favour of Toronto, as the late Mr. Gooderham left $200,000 to the Methodist, provided they erected a university in Toronto."

HE WAS THE ORIGINATOR,

THE ORIGIN.

As to the circumstances leading up to this proposition, Dr. Ryckman said:—"At the General Conference of the Methodist Church, held in 1886, federation with the Toronto University was decided upon by a fair majority. The minority was a good one, however, and they opposed in every way our efforts to raise $450,000 for the erecting of university buildings at Toronto. The $450,000 was raised, however, and work was about to be started when those against federation took the matter into court, as they claimed the royal charter was given under the condition that the University should be situated at Cobourg, and nothing has yet been done as the matter still lies in the courts. We receive advantages from federation, the opposition to it being due to the fact that those against federation believe that the Methodist Colleges should be entirely free from any connection with Government institutions. In the past, when students of our colleges wanted a higher or post graduate examination, they had for it, and the result was we lost a number of brilliant young men, as they never came back. If federation was accomplished, the Government agreed to furnish a professorship for this post-graduate course in the university we were to build at Toronto, so that the students of our colleges who wanted this course could get it without going to the States. In view, then, of presenting some thing on which both factions could agree, this proposition is made."

Rev. Dr. Ryckman also said a meeting of the Board of Regents was to be held on Friday in Toronto, to consider a settlement of the case now in the courts between the friends and the foes of federation.

Labrador Relief.

However open to criticism, by their enemies, the Quebec Government cannot be blamed for lack of promptness in sending relief to the Labrador fishermen. On the first news of the distress a cargo of provisions was despatched aboard ship for Pointe-aux-Esquimaux, in charge of Mr. Richard Turner, President of the Quebec Chamber of Commerce. The request for succor was made by Captain Lemarquant on his arrival at Quebec on the 17th of October. On the 18th Mr. Mercier gave orders for an expedition of relief, and on the 19th the steamer Otter sailed for Labrador. This was certainly pretty quick work. The cargo consisted of flour, pork, peas, barley, molasses, etc., sufficient for the maintenance of one hundred families till the season opens again. Mgr. Bosse has also formed a committee of Quebec citizens to enquire into cases of need, collect and distribute relief. As the time is short before the closing of navigation, the greatest expedition is necessary in getting contributions and sending them to their destination.

The Provincial Elections.

The Mail's special tid-bit of sensational information in regard to the imminent approach of the Provincial election, is not anæsthetic. There is no more prospect of the immediate bringing on of the local elections than of the Dominion elections. If the Mail's information is all as reliable as this, it is indeed a blind guide.

Our Internal Shipping Interests.

To meet the demand for the vastly increased and constantly increasing traffic of the great lakes, the steel ship-building industry is assuming large proportions at Owen Sound and Collingwood, places admirably situated for the purpose. Two magnificent vessels were constructed there for the Canadian Pacific Railway company and launched this autumn and sixteen more are to be constructed for other parties. The opening up of the North-West has greatly increased the carrying and passenger traffic of the lakes, and this is found to develop larger proportions year by year as population grows. Hitherto steel vessels had to be brought out in pieces from the old country and put together here. But now it is demonstrated that they can be constructed on the spot, although some of the material has still to be imported. This industry, however, will never be what it should till the whole work of preparation of material can be done in Canada. This will come in time, we cannot doubt. The development of the ship building industry is therefore of great importance, and if the Government will take these matters into consideration and adjust the tariff as it relates to ship-building, or wipe it out altogether, so as to give the enterprise all possible encouragement, we shall see great strides in this industry.

Johnstown Relief Fund.

The Philadelphia Record points out that, while over $2,000,000 were subscribed for the relief of the sufferers by the flood at Johnstown, on the 31st of May last, the greater portion of the fund still remains in the possession of the State Flood Relief Commission, presided over by Gov. Beaver. It appears that the persons comprising this Commission, instead of hastening to distribute the money with possible promptitude, have spent their time in discussing methods of distribution. Meantime, as the Record points out, the unfortunate people are shivering from cold and are suffering from the lack of proper food and clothing. Our Philadelphia contemporary rightly characterizes the state of affairs as a disgrace to the Commission and an outrage upon benevolence.

How Intelligent Women Decide.

When the question has to be met as to what is the best course to adopt to secure a sure, safe and agreeable remedy for those organic diseases and weaknesses which afflict the female sex, there is but one wise decision, viz., a course of self-treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is an unfailing specific for periodical pains, misplacement, internal inflammation, and all functional disorders that render the lives of so many women miserable and joyless. They who try it, praise it. Of druggists.

Land, sold on George street within the memory of many of its inhabitants, at from $200 to $400 per half acre. The same land, if available now, would sell for as many hundred dollars per foot. Land in other parts of the town has increased in the same proportion. Therefore, can any person go wrong by buying a lot on my "Novel Plan" in a rising town like this? On my plan, at my low prices and easy terms, everyone should buy.

FARMERS will pay from sixty to eighty dollars per acre for land from ten to twenty miles from this market, inferior in many respects to 100 acres which I have for sale just outside the town, and which I am offering, on easy terms, at $35.00 per acre. Less than half its value. Any person wishing a profitable investment in either Lots or Farm should see me without delay.

THE WISDOM OF THE WITS.

"Is Sir John Lubbock a sporting man?" asked John L. Sullivan of Boston, Mass., U.S.A., the other day.

"No, he's not at all athletic."

"Then he must be a billiard or ball player."

"Not at all."

"Clubman, eh? Expert at jockeying or cards? Has he any record as a pugilist?"

"No, no, no! What makes you ask such questions?"

"Then how on earth could he know enough to write that popular book called 'The Pleasures of Life?'"

"Young man, I shall keep a watch on you!"

"Heaven bless you, sir! A gold one?"

"I have made a conquest," said the brick wall.

"How so?" queried the stone pavement.

"An egg was mashed on me to-day."

A New York man has written a play in which the central character is a big Wall-street operator in railroad stocks. Is this another water tank drama?

After all, the principal race troubles occur in paying the bets and walking home.

Excited Messenger—Mr. Wiseman, your house has just been destroyed by fire.

Venerable Author—Was nothing saved?

Messenger—Very little. All your early books and manuscripts were burned.

Venerable Author—Thank heaven.

"Are you upstairs, Mary?" shouted a husband who on returning from business found that, contrary to custom, his wife was not waiting to receive him.

"Missus went out this morning, sir," said a servant, coming up from the region below, "and she hasn't returned since."

"Gracious goodness," he exclaimed to himself, "she can't have run away and left me. I have given her no cause."

"She went down town to match a ribbon, sir," added the servant.

The great difficulty about advice is the predominance of quantity over quality.

The monkey goes to the sunny side of the tree when he wants a warmer climb.

Acting Out the Adage—"See Miss Forty dancing so confidingly with young Downs?"

"Yes—old head on young shoulders."

Bethel (copying her musical exercise)—Mamma, what does "andante" mean on this music?

Mamma—Anne Dante is the name of the compos-r, of course. Her brother wrote a poem called "Dante's Inferno."

Temperance Orator—What is it, my hearers, that drives men to drink?

Voice from Back Seat—Salt mackerel.

A Non-Sequitur—Proud Mother—Oh-hn John, the baby can walk.

Cruel Father—Good. He can walk the floor with himself at night then.

"That man has had the entree to many of our best houses."

"What, that villainous-looking creature! Who is he?"

"Jimmie Faith, the burglar."

"Been sawing wood?" inquired the caller.

"Worse than that," panted the bank president, wiping the perspiration from his brow and throwing himself exhausted into a chair. "I have been talking to a lady depositor. Whew!"

"What's the outlook in Rhode Island?" asked a Pittsburg man of a friend who had just returned from that State.

"The outlook?" he replied. "Why, that's all there is in Rhode Island?"

A Chicago husband and wife both filed petitions for divorce on the same day, each without the knowledge of the other. This was a case where two minds thought as one after two hearts had ceased beating as one.

Perhaps you are looking for a land flowing with milk and honey? If so, you should know that only one person in thirteen can drink milk in any quantity without becoming bilious, and only one in eleven can eat honey without having a touch of the colic. Just better stay right here in this land and get a blue-handled snow shovel ready for winter.

"My!" exclaimed Mrs. Flagg, "I look like a perfect fright. I never had any idea I would get tanned so much in the course of one short week."

"Me, too, Ma," said Tommy, who had stayed at home to help his father keep house while his mother was enjoying her vacation.

"What are you doing now, Gus?" said one young man about town to another. "Oh, I write for a living." "On the daily press?" "No; I write to father about twice a month for a remittance."

"I hope you will pardon my late arrival," said the young man, as he seated himself in the easiest chair. "I forgot my umbrella, and had to stand in a stairway until the shower was over."

"That's one one you, Jennie," shouted Tommy, in great glee. "I told you so. Of course he had sense enough to go in when it rained."

And the silence, like a soft hat, was plainly felt.

Salad Days—First Lobster—Well, what are you going to do now?

Second Lobster—Get dressed for dinner.

Anxious Valet—Will the lieutenant wear his new uniform to the ball?

Considerate Lieutenant—No. There are enough unhappy women in the city.

The female organist of a Utica church has eloped and married a 14 year-old boy who pumped the organ. The affair has taken the wind out of the choir.

Mrs. Wickwire—If woman were given the credit she deserves, I don't think man would be quite so prominent in the world's history.

Mr Wickwire—I guess you are right. If she could get all the credit she wanted, he'd be in the poorhouse.

Where the Hammock Hung—Miss Gush (at the mountain hotel)—"How charming your trees look, Mr. Rawbur; how beautifully red the leaves have turned." Mr. Rawbur (who has had a bad season)—"If you had heard all the silly talk and seen all the silly scenes the trees have during the season, you'd turn red yourself."

VICTORIA CARBOLIC SALVE is a wonderful healing compound for cuts, wounds, bruises, burns, scalds, boils, piles, pimples, &c. dw

It was once supposed that scrofula could not be eradicated from the system; but the marvelous results produced by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla disprove this theory. The reason is this medicine is the most powerful blood purifier ever discovered.

Pain Cannot Stay

Where Polson's Nerviline is used. Compound of the most powerful pain subduing remedies known. Nerviline cannot fail to give prompt relief in rheumatism, neuralgia, cramps, pain in the back and side, and the host of painful affections, internal and external, arising from inflammatory action. A 10 cent sample bottle of Nerviline will give sufficient proof of its superiority over every known remedy. Try Nerviline. Large bottles 25 cents; trial bottle only 10 cents. 6d-s 45

MRS. JOHN E. THOMPSON, of Shelburne, P. O., writes: My two children received great benefit from Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for Diarrhœa and summer complaint. I gave it according to direction and they soon recovered. Be sure and get the genuine. 2w41d

Tried! Tested! Proved!

A YEAR ago last summer I was troubled with dysentry. I procured Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and took according to directions, which completely cured me. ROBERT E. GREEN, Lyndhurst, Ont. The medicine cures all looseness of the bowels. 2w41d

DYSPEPSIA assumes many phases, all disagreeable to the sufferer, yet it takes no form which from two to four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters will not cure. B.B.B. cures dyspepsia, tones the weak stomach, aids digestion, sharpens the appetite, and renovates the system. 2w41d

Many a sufferer from Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, loss of appetite, general debility etc., will be glad to find that Dyers Quinine & Iron Wine, is strongly recommended for such cases—it is easily assimilated, prepared with great care, and is an admirable tonic. W. A. Dyer & Co. Montreal. 6d99

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

By Taking

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

The Late Mrs. Andrew Stutt.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Andrew Stutt, who died in Toronto, took place from the C. P. R. station to-day, (Tuesday) on the arrival of the noon express. About a year ago Mrs. Stutt removed to Toronto, and continued in failing health till her death was brought about by cancer of the stomach. She was one of the pioneer residents of Peterborough. She was a native of County Donegal, Ireland, daughter of the late Robert Sharp, and was united in marriage to Mr. Stutt, who died about two years ago, in 1840. She was a member of the Methodist church and a most devoted Christian. The memory of her well lived life will be pleasant to those who enjoyed her Christian fellowship.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

An Appaling Accident at the Bridge Works.

Mr. Chas. Lyle Instantly Killed Beneath A Weight of 11,000 Pounds—An Earnest Christian Man Gone to His Eternal Rest—An Accident that Shocked the Whole Town.

As air of deepest gloom hangs like a pall over the Bridge Works this afternoon, in dark contrast to the busy hum and activity of the morning. Just as the whistle was about to blow at the noon hour, calling the men from their labors for rest and refreshment, a shocking accident occurred by which one who had the moment before been full of life and strength was crushed to the earth and instantly killed. Mr. Chas. Lyle, well known in Peterborough as a most ladustrious and Christian like man, met a sudden and horrible death. It happened this wise:—

One of the products of the bridge works is steel piping for the Toronto water supply. Mr. Law, manager of the bridge works, has the contract for supplying the city with these pipes. They are made 55 feet long, four feet in diameter, and weigh each

ELEVEN THOUSAND POUNDS.

The immense tubes are loaded on flat cars in the erection room of the bridge works, one pipe covering two lengths of car. Shipments are being made every day, and this forenoon twelve men were employed loading four of the huge pipes on a couple of cars. Three of the cylinders were safely placed, and the fourth would have been in position and ready for shipment by twelve o'clock but for an unforseen accident, the mere breaking of a plank, the awful consequences of which it is terrible to contemplate. The pipe was being pulled up by tackle on skids placed against the side of the car, and as the ponderous weight was elevated, men followed with blocks to prevent it from falling. Mr. Lyle was at the end and just as the pipe was at its greatest height, and in a minute or two more would have been safely deposited in its place, the timber broke and the seven thousand pounds of steel fell to the floor. Mr. Lyle was in a stooping posture facing the car, and he was instantly which rested on his back. None of the other men were in a dangerous position and so fortunately escaped injury. As soon as possible Mr. Lyle was rescued from his position, but too late—he was dead. His death must have instantaneous. Dr. Boucher was summoned, and he pronounced the dead man's neck broken. Blood was oozing from his mouth and nose, but otherwise there were no marks upon the body. Dr. Bell, coroner, was also called in, but he did not deem an inquest necessary.

CRUSHED BENEATH THE WEIGHT,

The body was placed in Undertaker Clegg's hands and prepared for burial. While lying at the Bridge Works the body was viewed by the fellow employees of the dead man, and scores of people who had been attracted by the report of the accident, and who were horror stricken at the suddenness and appalling nature of the calamity.

The Bridge Works are shut down this afternoon, but work will be resumed in the morning.

The deceased man came to town about 5 years ago from near Whitby with his wife and family of two children, and has since been a citizen of the town. He was prominently connected with the Charlotte street Methodist church, and with his wife was a zealous Christian worker. He was a carpenter by trade, a thoroughly efficient mechanic, and was foremen of the extensive building operations at the Bridge Works this summer. Mr. Lyle was about 40 years of age, and lived on Reid street. His grief-stricken wife and family will receive the heartfelt sympathy and condolence of their friends and the public. Mrs. Lyle is prostrated by a calamity which leaves her a widow and makes orphans Mr. Lyle's two children, a son and a daughter, the former of adult age.

RESPECTED AND PROGRESSIVE

The Last of the Cheese.

The Board Cleared Out at Good Prices.

The last meeting of the cheese board this year took place to-day. It was slow and uninteresting, there being very few cheese left on the board. Since the last meeting the whole Victoria board sold to Mr. Hodgson at 10½c. for September and 10½c. for October, and nearly all the Peterborough factories to different buyers at 10⅜c. The only factories remaining were:—

	Sept.	Oct.
Warminster	310	250
North Smith	165	300
Central Smith	95	182
Westwood	175	250
	745	982

Liverpool quotations were 52s.

The buyers present were Messrs. Hodgson, Spence (for Warrington), Fitzgerald, Cluxton, Wrighton.

The bidding was as follows:—Mr. Fitzgerald offered 10½c., Mr. Spence advanced to 10⅝c., Mr. Fitzgerald to ⅝c. for selections, Mr Spence the same for the board; Mr. Fitzgerald 10⅝c. for selections, Mr. Spence the same for the board, Mr. Fitzgerald 10 9 16c. for selections; Mr. Spence bid 10⅝c. for September and 10⅝c. for October selections; Mr. Cluxton 10⅝ for Warminster, which was accepted; Mr. Spence withdrew his offer and Mr. Fitzgerald's bid of 10 9/16 for Central Smith was advanced to 10⅝ by Mr. Cluxton, which was accepted. Mr. Cluxton's offer of 10 9/16 for North Smith was accepted, but Westwood refused 10⅛ from Mr. Spence.

BREAKING THE LAW.

Mr. Wrighton enquired if it was not contrary to rules to sell off the board as a majority of the Peterborough factories had done?

President Drummond said it was.

Mr. Cluxton said he thought the rules of the board should be carried out, for if this thing was to be allowed to continue, he did not wish to continue in the Board. The salesmen were liable to a heavy fine for breaking the rules.

Mr. Middleton, of Missing Link factory explained his reasons for selling off the Board, and further discussion of the question was deferred till the annual meeting.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, Nov. 5.

A middle-aged man named Chas. Johnston was charged with vagrancy. He said he was looking for work and thought he could get a job at Stony Lake. He was discharged on promising to leave town at once, and, taking up his little bundle, he departed joyfully.

"Patrick Sauvais" was called out in court, but no one responded. The charge was drunk and disorderly, and a fine of $5 was imposed upon the absent defendant.

The mud-slinging case was settled, the plaintiff, A. Moore, withdrawing the case against John Turner, as a couple of other "gentlemen" had confessed they, too, had thrown mud, and he had come to terms with them. This case, it will be remembered, arose out of a Hallowe'en trick, in which a number of boys threw mud into a bus load of young people who were leaving town to spend the evening in the country. Turner was the only one caught. The costs of the case, of course, had to be paid by the plain tiff, but he promised to see to it that he own pocket did not suffer. The "other fellows" would have to re-imburse him.

A sixteen-year old girl named Elizabeth Masters was accused of vagrancy and wayward conduct by her father, George Masters. It appeared from the evidence that the girl is thoroughly bad. A year ago she was sent to the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, and was put out to service under the care of that institution, but her evil tendencies asserted themselves, and about two months ago her father brought her home again. Since that time she has given full vent to her passions, and as a result to-day she is ill and a burden to her family. Her father said she was incorrigible, and at his request the girl was sent to the Mercer Reformatory for a year. She sobbed bitterly in court and was comforted by her younger brother, who seemed to have a warm affection for his sister in spite of her waywardness.

FINANCE.

Mr. Davidson presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending payment of the following accounts:—Fortye & Phelan, $19 25; A. Macdonald, $212 97; Walter Stocker, $6 50; J. Wainwright, $8.00; Water Co., $9; W. H. Roberts, $1.75; Gas Co., three accounts, $54.10 $2.70 and $19 90; P. Connal & Co., $42 85; W. J. Mason, $62 50; Rush Bros., $20.00; Wm. Fitzgerald, $8 50; J. W. Metheral, $19.84. The committee also recommended that the solicitor prepare a by-law granting one hundred dollars to the Mechanics' Institute.

The report was adopted.

THE SEWER NUISANCE.

Mr. JOHN MCCLELLAND addressed the council with reference to the nuisance caused by the sewer at the corner of George and Hunter streets, in front of his store. He saw by the last report of the meeting that the council had taken the matter up, and he hoped they would carry it out. Mr McClelland spoke of the stench that came from the sewer, particularly on a Monday morning, and when there was no wind—not, as stated before, when the wind blew from the east, but when there was no wind at all. His opinion was that carrying the sewer out into the river or lake would not do; the only remedy, he considered, was a stench trap.

Several councillors coincided with Mr. McClelland, and, on motion, the matter was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee, with power to act.

A BATCH OF BY-LAWS.

The by-laws to provide for the issue of 18,000 debentures for public school purposes; regulating the interment of the dead, and that authorizing the Mayor and Mr. E. H. D. Hall to proceed with the building of the powder magazine, were given third readings and passed.

With regard to the latter the Mayor said he and Mr Hall had been looking at a lot in the "quarry" about 50x75 feet, which appeared to suit the purpose. The lot could be purchased from Mr. T. Bradburn for $400.

Mr. Rutherford introduced a by-law amending certain clauses of the by-law regarding the weight of bread. He said the former one was unjust in some particulars to the bakers. Several of the bakers were in the council room, and Messrs. Lush and Grady spoke. The by-law was altered slightly to meet the views of all parties and adopted.

Mr. Davidson presented a by-law further defining the duties of the treasurer and clerk of the police court with reference to the accounts of the police court. The by law was given its three readings and finally passed.

PAPER ON THE STREETS.

Mr Kelly introduced an amendment to the by-law regarding the streets, adding the following clause to the by-law:—

"And no person shall scatter about or throw or cause to be thrown on any street in said town any dodger, hand-bill advertisement or other paper; and no person shall deposit on any sidewalk or street in said town any sweepings or other refuse or rubbish from any shop or building."

Mr. Rutherford and Mr. Hartley objected to the by-law if it meant that merchants were not to be allowed to distribute dodgers on market days. Mr. Kelly said the by-law had no such intention. The three readings were given and the by-law passed.

Mr. Davidson presented a by-law to assume control of Cambridge and Walnut streets. The by-law was passed.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall jocosely proposed that the streets be named Rutherford and Dawson streets in commemoration of two prominent councillors.

A LICENSE QUESTION.

Mr. Cahill then moved the motion he gave notice of at the last meeting that an additional billiard license be issued to Fairen & Co., on condition that they pay a full year's license now, and that if they take out licenses next year for the same number of tables as they have now, with the license under resolution included, they shall be granted a rebate to render this license pro rata for the whole of the present license year, this pro rata to commence from the first October of the present year.

The motion was referred to the License Committee.

Mr. A. Hall moved, seconded by Mr. E. H. D. Hall,—That the sum of $1 per week be paid the Peterborough Protestant Home for the board of Richard Coe from 1st November to 1st July.

Moved by Mr. E. H. D. Hall, seconded by Mr. Kelly,—That the question of placing stench-traps in the sewer on George street be referred to the Street and Bridge Committee, with power to act.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Dawson,—That electric lights be placed at the corner of Bethune and Park streets and on McDonnel street.

While the two Third Ward councillors were urging their claims on the local legislators, a motion was made to adjourn and the other councillors filed out until there were none left.

Transferring a License.

The License Commissioners met Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of considering the transfer of Mr. Hugh Beckett's license for the Queen's Hotel to Mr. Wm. Dineen, the new proprietor. It seems this is their third transfer since the license was granted. The Commissioners after several hours discussion decided not to allow the transfer for the present and adjourned further consideration till another meeting.

Civic Inspection.

The town councillors hurried through with their work last night in order to accept Mr. W. H. Law's invitation to inspect the bridge works. The council adjourned a few minutes before ten o'clock, and the members spent some time at the bridge works admiring the immensity of the industry. Mr. Law conducted the visitors through the premises, which were lighted by electricity. The works are in operation every night till ten o'clock, and the sight is well worth seeing. The Bridge Works is a big thing.

The consciousness of having a remedy at hand for croup, pneumonia, sore throat, and sudden colds, is very consoling to a parent. With a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, one feels, in such cases, a sense of security nothing else can give.

SAILSBURY BROS.

Dr. May at the Mechanics' Institute.

A Talk on Technical Education—Free Libraries and Art Schools Discussed.

Dr May, Ontario Government Inspector of Mechanics' Institutes, paid his annual visit of inspection to the local Institute on Monday evening and was met by these members of the Board:—T.A. Hay, Robert Robertson, Dr. Clarke, F. J. Lewis, Geo. Dunsford, Wm. English, Dr. Burnham, Jas. English, John Corkery, A. McCollum and Dr. Brennan. After his usual inspection, he addressed the gentlemen present, pointing out in the first place, the advantage of having a catalogue of books in the library printed—showing how that could be done cheaply or even at a profit by having alternate pages of catalogue and advertisements, and explaining a simple and effective plan for members selecting books. It was shown that Mechanics' Institutes at their beginning had for their aim the education of the working classes—youths and adults. The first grants were made for scientific books and appliances—the library feature was a later addition. He then went on to speak of the advantages and IMPORTANCE OF TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

At present we were an agricultural people, but the indications were that the large influx of British capital would help develop our great natural resources and make us a manufacturing people. Last summer the Minister of Education in consulting experts, found out that in Ontario skilled labour was largely imported. This should not be so, as native Canadians were the equals, if not superiors, of any other nation. Last year 86 millions of goods were imported into Canada that could have been made at home. The competitors in manufactures were not provinces but nations. The foremost nations were those who paid the highest attention to popular technical education. The speaker sketched the origin of technical schools in Britain, established as a sequel to the first world's fair, and the result was that the next world's exhibit at Paris, the English were ahead in those departments in which they failed in the exhibition of 1851. These technical classes could as well be operated in Canada as elsewhere. The qualifications of French teachers in technical schools, was outlined. As a proof of the benefit of technical classes in Ontario, it was pointed out that at last examinations there were 15,000 papers on primary art work. Some schools made as high as 100 per cent. on very difficult papers—much higher than the French average. Instances were given of girls who were educated in these schools, making large salaries. There was no trade in which drawing was not serviceable. At the examinations a very large number of trades was represented. These classes gave not only but also improved the morals of the community in which they were held. The speaker pointed out how fast Canada was losing its population to the United States, and this would be stopped by the general imparting of technical education. One third of the work would be saved in every workshop if each workman understood drawing. The Ontario government gave a grant of $3 a pupil for every pupil (up to 25 and $1 thereafter) who attended classes regularly, and $1 for every certificate. This certificate would help the young men to get a situation abroad better than the most eulogestic testimonial. The importance of a commercial course was insisted in, for which $3 were granted for every pupil up to twenty-five and $1.00 for each one over. After reference to the several subjects taught, the importance of the study of the chemistry of familiar things was insisted on as having an important bearing on

VALUABLE TECHNICAL TRAINING

THE HEALTH OF THE COMMUNITY.

The success of art schools in various towns and cities was referred to in detail, and at the conclusion of his interesting address, the Inspector held an informal conversational half hour with the directors. During this time it was brought out how liberally the Ontario Government dealt with Mechanics' Institutes, giving dollar for dollar. Reference was also made to the smallness of the municipal grant in Peterborough. Throughout Ontario generally the total of the municipal grants exceeded the total of the Government grant—$30.000. The town of Clifton, much smaller than Peterborough, made a grant of $300 per year. The subject of a free library was also briefly discussed, as well as the formation of an art school in connection with the Institute. During the discussion Dr. May emphasized the fact that Mechanics' Institutes fostered a taste for reading and thus stimulated the book-selling trade.

After a vote of thanks to Dr. May, moved by Mr. Wm. English, seconded by Mr. Lewis, the meeting adjourned.

Ashburnham Council.

A Brief Session of the Village Fathers—Accounts Passed and Dogs Discussed.

The regular meeting of the Ashburnham council was held Monday evening. Present, Messrs. Reeve Burnham and Councillors Calcutt, Marshall and Craig.

After routine the following accounts were passed:—Pay list 28 to 33, $63.78; W. Henthorne, sawing wood, $2; payments on town hall contract, $2,700; charity, $17 50.

A conversational discussion respecting an Otonabee claim involving $44, for sheep killed and worried by dogs, for which the village was held accountable, the owner of the dog having lived in Ashburnham at the time, resulted in the matter being referred to the Reeve for inquiring into the law on the subject.

The council adjourned.

How to Lace Your Shoes.

Not one person in a thousand laces his shoes correctly. The correct way is to put your foot when you are about to lace your shoe as much as possible in the heel of the shoe. You can do this best by lacing your shoes with the heel of your shoe resting in a chair standing in front of the one you are seated on. Over the instep the lacing should be drawn as tightly as possible. This will hold your foot back in the shoe, giving the toes freedom and preventing their being cramped. Lace about the ankle to suit your comfort.—New York Truth.

A MURDER AT THE ASYLUM

MARY ANN MARE A ONE-TIME BEAUTY MEETS A HORRIBLE END.

A Toronto Tragedy—Flora McLeod, of the County of Gray, the Supposed Slayer.

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday morning an awful tragedy was enacted at the Provincial Asylum, in the West End, in which one female inmate battered another to death with an iron bucket. While on her rounds in the watch found Miss Mary Ann [illegible] on her mattress insensible. From a score of wounds on her neck, face and head the blood was streaming, while in the room were broken pieces of a wood-pulp night bucket covered with blood. In a bed in the same dormitory lay Mrs. Flora McLeod with the clothes pulled over her head and her night dress stained with blood. She it is who is supposed to have committed the deed. In spite of medical aid the victim gradually sank and died a few hours afterwards. The deceased's head and face had been beaten almost to a jelly by the frenzied lunatic.

Flora McLeod has been an inmate of the asylum for five years and during that period had always been of a quiet disposition, although at one time she showed suicidal tendencies. She comes from the county of Gray.

The deceased, who was 44 years of age, was born and brought up in Prince Edward County, where she was noted for her great beauty. She became subject to epileptic fits and was insane for 11 years before being brought to the asylum, where she has been an inmate for the last four years. The body will be conveyed to Picton to-morrow for burial.

An inquest was held last night by Coroner Lynd of Parkdale at the asylum. The jury brought in a verdict of death supposed to be by the hands of Flora McLeod. A rider was attached recommending that more night watchers be employed in order to lessen the chances of a recurrence of the tragedy.

A TALE OF BROKEN TROTH.

Miss Ivy Appeals to the Law Her Elderly Admirer Failed to Keep His Promise

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—The first step in an interesting breach-of-promise case was taken at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon which promises to supplement the legal records with one of the most curious pieces of litigation of its kind that has ever been adjudicated upon by a Toronto Court. The plaintiff in the suit is a fair young damsel of only twenty summers, while the defendant is a man who has spent about three-quarters of his allotted time on earth, having reached the age of 50. Ever since June last the lawyers for the plaintiff have been endeavoring to get the elderly defendant to marry their client and thereby save the trouble and expense of a trial with its concomitant publicity and notoriety.

So far all efforts to arrange the matter amicably have failed. The defendant has stoutly refused to marry the blushing plaintiff, so she has invoked the aid of the law and now sues the old gentleman for $5000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. The style of the suit will be Longbottom v. Worth.

The plaintiff is Miss Ivy Longbottom, a resident of Toronto, who, up to a short time ago resided with her widowed mother, Mrs. J. Longbottom at No. 1 Walton street, but has since accepted a situation as governess in a family on Gildersleeve avenue. Miss Longbottom is entitled to be rated as "pretty," although she is too short to be called a perfect figure, she possesses a symmetry of form that covers any other defects. An almost faultless complexion, clear brown eyes and a luxuriant wealth of dark brown hair, give the plaintiff in the suit an appearance which is by no means unattractive.

Mr. William Worth, gentleman, No. 190 College-street, is the defendant in the case. Mr. Worth is a hale and hearty old gentleman, a little over 60 years old. Judging by his appearance he might pass for 50. His strength and vigor speak well for his past life, but of all positions in which the observer would least expect to find him, is that of defendant in a breach of promise case. He is a man in aspect stern and severe, resembling in no particular the gay Lothario. He is also the respected father of a grown-up family. Mr. Worth's wife died some time ago, and it was during the latter part of February or the first of March that he became intimate with the Longbottoms.

At first it was generally supposed by the friends of both families that Mr. Worth's object in calling on the Longbottom family was to see Mrs. Longbottom; indeed so far did this surmise get abroad that it was hinted the announcement of a marriage contract between the widow and widower was one of the things which might be expected. But it transpired that it was the young lady that Mr. Worth was setting his cap at. Matters progressed so with the pair that Miss Longbottom found it necessary to press Mr. Worth to fulfil his promise to marry her. This the gentleman refused to do, pleading in defense that he had never promised to make her his wife.

When Mr. Worth registered his absolute refusal to create Miss Longbottom Mrs. Worth, the marriageable young lady sought the advice of counsel. Her lawyers first asked Mr. Worth to marry the girl and threatened to proceed if he refused. The gentleman was not to be coaxed, however, and treated the lawyer's letters as he did the supplications of Miss Longbottom.

Infatuated With the Widow

HALIFAX, Nov. 6.—Jane Doyle, widow of Peter Doyle, the farmer whose murder caused a great sensation here last year, was married yesterday to William Chapman, a Dartmouth youth of 19 years. Mrs. Doyle and a young man named William Prosper were tried for the murder and the woman was acquitted, Prosper being convicted and sentenced to death, but the sentence being commuted to imprisonment for life. Since the trial Mrs. Doyle has been living in one of the most notorious streets in Halifax. Chapman belongs to a very respectable family and his relations are crazed by his downfall.

The Mail's announcement that the Ontario Government have resolved on a dissolution of the House at once, and that the general election will take place before the new year, is denied upon good authority. It is believed, however, that the coming session of the Assembly will be a short one and that Drowned in the Welland Canal.

PORT DALHOUSIE, Nov. 6.—Capt. Frank Downer of the barge D. P. Dobbins, son of the steam barge Sam Marshall, was drowned yesterday morning about 5 o'clock by being knocked off the footgates of lock No. 1 of the new Welland Canal by the crank of the water wheel which works the valves of the gates. His body was recovered at 6 o'clock about 200 yards below the lock. Capt. Downer lived in Port Huron, Mich., and his wife was on the barge with him. He leaves a family, all of whom are grown up.

TRANSATLANTIC NEWS.

SIR HENRY JAMES SCORES THE IRISH LEADER.

The Times' Counsel Says Mr Parnell Was a Ready Recipient of the Conspirator's Money.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—In his she speech before the Parnell Commission yesterday Sir Henry James said Mr. Parnell was a ready recipient of the conspirators money. He referred to the incident of Mr. Parnell receiving $25 from a contributor accompanied by the remark that $5 was for bread and $20 for lead. The Land League, he declared, owed its vitality to Irish-American funds. Mr. Parnell knew what the subscribers meant. He knew that every appeal he made found a most liberal response from his Chicago supporters. The speaker laid emphasis on the fact that America only contributed £390 prior to the visit of Mr. Parnell to Cincinnati when, Sir Henry said, he advocated a severance of the last link binding Ireland to Great Britain and that afterward she donated £10,400.

[illegible] Duke [illegible].

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A statue in memory of the landing of Prince William of Orange was unveiled at Brixham in Devon yesterday. Commander McCall, Lieutenants Osterhaus and White and Ensign Vlem of the United States steamer Enterprise attended the ceremony in uniform. Their presence is the subject of considerable comment, the affair being really an Orange display.

Chakir Pasha's Denial.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 6.—Official despatches from Chakir Pasha, Governor of Crete, assert that the reports of outrages by Turks on that island are unfounded. Nothing has occurred beyond an excess of zeal on the part of the Zaptiehs in discharging their duties. The soldiers, he says, merely solicited women. No outrages on them were committed.

Funds for the League.

DUBLIN, Nov. 6.—At the fortnightly meeting of the National League yesterday it was announced that contributions amounting to £8000 had been received from America since the last meeting.

A Matrimonial Alliance.

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—It is expected that Emperor William on his homeward journey will have an interview with Emperor Francis Joseph.

It is stated in St. Petersburg that the Czarewitch was betrothed to Princess Margaret of Prussia in Berlin during the recent visit of the Czar.

Miss Caldwell in a Rage.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The entire American colony is talking of the scene made by Miss Gwendoline Caldwell at Banker Monroe's office on the day after the one on which her marriage with Prince Murat had been broken off. She went there for the purpose of getting her letters, and, in consequence of some remark or other, flew into a terrible passion, calling all the clerks of the bank fools and idiots. It is seldom that such a scene has been witnessed at a public banker's office.

SULLIVAN AS CO-RESPONDENT

A Probability that He Will Figure in a Syracuse Divorce Case.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 6.—The sporting fraternity and the people here generally were much interested yesterday in the announcement that Louis N. Drinkwine, proprietor of a barber shop in the Hotel Candee, had brought suit for a divorce from his wife, and that John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, of Boston, was to be made one of the co-respondents. It is alleged that Sullivan and Mrs. Drinkwine visited a prominent road house at Centerville, near here, four weeks ago when the champion and his combination came to Syracuse. Mr. Drinkwine learned of his wife's alleged indiscretion and it resulted in her leaving him. She took up her quarters at the St. James Hotel, where Sullivan was entertained a part of the time during his stay here, being an intimate friend of the prop'etor, T. S. Brady, well known in sporting circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Drinkwine were married here about nine years ago, both coming from good families. One child, a son, seven years old, was born to them. They have not lived happily together for two years. They separated about five months ago as the result, according to W. S. Rogers, attorney for Mr. Drinkwine, of relations discovered between the wife and a New York man whose home was formerly in this city. Mr. Drinkwine, however, received his wife into his home again, only to separate from her once more after Sullivan's visit to Syracuse.

Mrs. Drinkwine herself and Sullivan's friends in this city deny the story of the intimacy. She says, however, that she has sufficient cause for leaving her husband, and does not intend to return. Mrs. Drinkwine is a prepossessing blonde of petite figure, and attractive both in face and form. She is about thirty years old, and up to this time has apparently borne a good reputation. Her parents are prominent people living in the Fifth Ward. They are completely crushed by the notoriety and alleged indiscretions of their daughter. The affair has created a great deal of gossip, and it is reported that the names of some Syracuse business men may be put into Mr. Drinkwine's complaint.

BLYTHE'S WILL FOUND.

A New Feature in the Fight for a Millionaire's Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The monotony that has prevailed in the Blythe will case has been broken. Saturday afternoon Thos. McLaren, of Oakland, announced to Judge Coffey that he had Blythe's will. McLaren swore in court yesterday afternoon to finding a paper which he believed the last will of Thos. Blythe, on Oct. 4 last, while looking over the old papers of his deceased partner J. R. Dierdorff. The paper was inclosed in a rusty envelope dated March 29, 1883, and reads in effect as follows:

Whereas, The undersigned, Thomas H. Blythe, is the father of Florence Blythe, a little girl nine years old last December, who now resides with her grandfather, James C. Perry, at Manchester, England; and

Whereas, I am not married and have no family except said daughter; and

Whereas, Some question may rise in case of my death that my daughter, Florence Blythe, is legitimate, I desire my said daughter Florence to inherit my property, and for that purpose and to forever settle the question of her legitimacy, I hereby make, sign and execute this document for the purpose of making her legitimate beyond question and that she inherit my property.

I desire, also, to provide for my dear friend Alice Edith Blythe Dickerson. I give and bequeath her $20,000 and $100 a month as long as she lives. I also give the two daughters of my friend M. S. Jeffers, of San Francisco, $10,000 each, and to James C. Perry, of London, the guardian and grandfather of my child, $20,000, the balance of my estate to go to my daughter Florence Blythe.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP.

KAISER WILLIAM OF GERMANY SEES THE HOLY GRAIL.

Prince Ferdinand's Matrimonial Quest—Concerning British Politics—The Surrender of Gweedore.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Among the Queen's presents to the Duchess of Sparta were two Indian shawls, both extremely beautiful. The Queen's annual tribute of shawls from India consists of two kinds. Some are less valuable than others, and those are given to friends. The best are kept for the members of her own family or other relatives.

The German empress expects her accouchement in the spring, and hence the reason why she was indisposed by the long journey to Monza and thence to Athens. She and the emperor are most anxious to have a daughter, their five sons making the succession safe, though the youngest is very delicate.

Emperor William has seen the Grail, not after vigils and feasts, not stealing down a visionary ray, nor in a secret chapel in the woods, but in the waiting-room of the Genoa railway station on his journey to Monza. Thither, at the express wish of the Queen of Italy, who is enthusiastic about the ecclesiastical treasures of her own dearly loved city of Genoa, the archbishop sent the Holy Grail and the emperor and empress had the advantage of a little lecture from a learned compatriot. In the treasury of the archbishopric of Genoa it has undoubtedly rested, except for one removal, since 1001, when it was brought from Jerusalem, and so jealously was it guarded during the republic that near approach to its throne was forbidden under pain of death. The one removal took place when Napoleon swept the shrines and sanctuaries of Italy of gold, silver and jewels, melting down all the solid silver statues, imitation replicas of which, now in their places, are by courtesy called silver. Of course he took the Grail, but in the seizure it was dropped, and was found not to be carved from one emerald, but to consist of immemorially antique green glass.

Prince Ferdinand has, I hear, been cruising for the hand of Princess Clementine, his mother's goddaughter, the youngest daughter of the King of the Belgians, who will have an immense fortune, her parents being rich beyond the dreams of avarice and she their favorite child. But King Leopold wouldn't hear of such a match, and when the Prince went to Brussels the other day he was not received at Laeken, and the only member of the royal family who called upon him at the Hotel de Flandre was the Comte de Flandre. Princess Clementine would have been betrothed to the Prince of Naples but for the interference of the Pope.

I regret to learn that Prof. John Couch Adams, the illustrious astronomer, is lying seriously ill at the observatory at Cambridge. He had what was regarded at the time as a comparatively slight apoplectic seizure, on Monday last, from which he has not rallied to the extent that was anticipated.

A fresh attempt will be made at the next session to drive the Liberal-Unionist leaders from the front opposition bench. The excuse which is to be put forward is Chamberlain's recent attack on Gladstone. Friends of the Liberal leader state that personal intercourse between him and Mr. Chamberlain is now out of the question, and that, therefore, it is absolutely necessary for the Liberal-Unionists to change their places. This isn't the first notice of ejectment Lord Hartington and Mr. Chamberlain have received, and it will be as fruitless as a former intimation of the same kind. The Liberal-Unionists will stick to their places as stubbornly as an Irish tenant to his holding, not because they wish to annoy Mr. Gladstone, but because their presence there is necessary as an assertion of a principle. If Mr. Gladstone could get them driven across the floor of the house, he would at once proclaim that he alone was the depositary and exponent of Liberal traditions.

The "Surrender of Gweedore," as the Nationalist papers call it, has aroused extremely bitter feelings among the Parnellites, and it is only because Healy was one of the parties to the transaction that the expression of their anger has been restrained within moderate bounds. The plea of guilty, offered by so many of the prisoners, completely spoilt the Parnellite game. The trials at Maryboro were to be made the ground of a great attack on the administration of justice in Ireland and to be held up as another example of castle chicanery and oppression. Even an Irish Nationalist can hardly assert the innocence of men who have pleaded guilty. And so the plot for attacking the government came to naught.

The Primrose league lies heavy on the National Liberal federation and I hear that at the Manchester meeting of the latter to-day a special resolution will be devoted to the iniquities of the league. The Radicals have got an idea that the members of the Primrose league exercise some sort of intimidation over voters, and a Liberal reverse is always ascribed to the corruption or terrorism of this awful organization. The more intelligent men of the party know that this is all nonsense. The great sin of the Primrose league is that its members are most efficient canvassers. It reaches voters as no other organization has done, and this is why Radicals speak of it with so much bitterness and demand protection against its wiles and stratagems.

Just now one is rather inclined to think that the University of Oxford is destined to develop eventually into a mere assemblage of training colleges for the ministries of various nonconformist sects. Scarcely had Prof. Jowett and others welcomed the Congregationalists with discreetly chastened fervor, when the opening of the Manchester new college at Oxford was announced. This is an institution of Unitarians, largely resembling Mansfield college in plan. The principal has offered to supply members of the university with free teachings, free learning in theology and piety free. There is some talk of the establishment of a similar institution by the Methodists.

Elections in the States.

BUFFALO, Nov. 6.—Elections were held in ten States yesterday. Following is a summary of the results:

Pennsylvania—Increased Republican majority. State Treasurer has 60,000.

Massachusetts—Refused Republican majority. Republican candidate for Governor carries the state by about 20,000.

New Jersey—Uncertain, but everything points to election of Leon Abbett (Dem.) as governor.

Virginia—Mahone's methods led to his being buried under an adverse majority of about 25,000, and the state elects Democratic administration in nearly every department.

Ohio—Doubtfully Campbell's big fight in Cincinnati seems to have made that city turn to the Democratic column to the extent of 3500 to 5000, and returns presage Foraker's defeat.

Mississippi—There was practically no contest. The Democrats take everything.

Iowa—Reports are meagre. Probably Democratic.

Maryland—Elects a Democratic [illegible] Attorney-General.

John Hackett.

Aye, There!

THE POPULAR VOICE.

The Ayes Have It!

ACTIONS speak louder than words. The popular preference for HACKETT'S GOODS is abundant evidence that if a vote was taken on the question, "Is Hackett selling the Best and Cheapest Goods in Peterborough," the entire population would answer—

AYE

Instead of saying this collectively, they are saying it individually every day in the year by their purchases. Those who are interested in the fact will naturally ask why

ALL TRADE WITH HACKETT?

The answer will be given in a few words. People trade where they can get the best goods; they trade where they can get the best goods at lowest prices; they trade where they get fair treatment and a reliable deal every time. Wild horses won't keep people from trading where they get these advantages. This is why they trade with Hackett, and that is why

You Should Trade with Hackett.

Hackett's store is positively Headquarters for the Finest and Best Goods ever bought or sold. He takes the lead in Bargain making, and will yield to no competitor the palm for low prices on good goods.

THE MONEY PAID OVER.

Premier Mercier Gives the Jesuits the $400,000 Granted Them.

MONTREAL, Nov. 6.—Yesterday the sum of $400,000 was paid over by the Provincial Government to Father Turgeon, representing the Jesuit order in Canada. The proceedings were held in the Government offices in St. Gabriel-street and were surrounded with all possible splendor and eclat. At the hour appointed for the important meeting Premier Mercier entered the council chamber accompanied by his two young sons and by three of his colleagues—Mr. Turcotte, Col. Rhodes and Mr. Gagnon. He was closely followed by Monsignor Labelle in his brilliant scarlet robes, Monsignor Tetu representing Cardinal Taschereau, Rev. Father Turgeon, S. J., Rev. Mr. Racicot representing Archbishop Fabre, Rev. Fathers Nignon, Hudson, Lemire and Jones—four Jesuit priests—Rev. Mr. Gagnon representing the Quebec Laval University, Mayor Grenier and numbers of citizens.

Before signing the deed Mr. Mercier said: "My Lords and Gentlemen: Before putting my signature at the bottom of this interesting deed I wish to say a few words. I will be short in my speech, but I trust that my words will be appropriate. This deed which will stand as a monument contains two important clauses: First, a cession of all the rights in the Jesuits' estates to the Province of Quebec and, secondly, the payment of $400,000 by the Province. The cession is the result of a compromise between Father Turgeon and myself, sanctioned by the Legislature, a compromise made in the name of several important parties:

First, the Pope, representing the Catholic Church.

Second, the Jesuit fathers, both ancient and present.

Third, the province of Quebec.

A cession is made of all rights which the church could, claim of all the rights which the ancient Jesuits could, claim of all the rights which the newly incorporated body of the Jesuits in 1887 might right to this estate. For this the Province of Quebec pays $400,000, a considerable sum in appearance but in reality a very small one. If the real value of the estates be compared to this sum the amount becomes insignificant. Moreover, if we take into consideration the fact that we are purchasing peace at this price, and causing a disappearance of difficulties between the civil and religious authorities, that we are bequeathing to our children a legacy of peace, which will enable them to proclaim on high that men were found in these days sufficiently imbued with religious and national sentiments to settle this important and difficult question—if all these things are taken into consideration we are certainly entitled to credit for having worked for the general good.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

The Senatorial Vacancy—The Hospital Investigation.

HAMILTON, Nov. 6.—There is much speculation as to the choice of a successor to the senatorial vacancy caused by the death of Hon. James Turner. Mr. Adam Brown, M. P., and Mr. George Roach are looked upon as first favorites.

In consequence of the illness of Ald. Stinson, the investigation of the charges against Ald. Lees and Morgan by the committee appointed Monday night, has been indefinitely postponed.

There is considerable excitement among the train hands on the Northern and Northwestern division here over the rumor that the Grand Trunk will shortly centralize all the train crews at Allandale, and take about 50 men from here up to that point. This number comprises seven or eight train crews who at present run north from here. For some time past the railway authorities have been moving everything on the Northern and Northwestern division up to Allandale, the same as everything on the main lines is now being centralized at Stratford. A round-house is being built there and for some time past all the repairing that was formerly done here and in Toronto has been done there.

To-day the Hospital Committee of the City Council will meet and investigate the charges preferred by Dr. Anderson and Wallace against the Medical Board of the hospital.

The sale of the St. Nicholas Hotel, which has been pending for some time, was finally consummated Monday evening. The new proprietor, Joseph Putman of Toronto, took charge of the hotel yesterday morning. The price paid was $8000.

Fire at Teeswater.

TEESWATER, Nov. 6.—Yesterday morning between 1 and 2 o'clock the steam flouring mill owned by the Teeswater Milling and Manufacturing Company and operated by Howson Bros., who are the principal stockholders, was completely gutted by fire, the walls only remaining. Of the contents about 100 barrels of flour only were saved. The mill itself was too far gone when the alarm was given to be saved, but the waterworks system recently completed worked admirably. The mill was erected about ten years ago, costing nearly $10,000, and was insured in the Millers' and Manufacturers' for $3000; Wellington Mutual, $2000; British North America, $4000. Value of stock, consisting of flour, wheat and feed, $4000, insured for $2800 in Millers' Mutual. The origin of the fire is not known.

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restoration to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Borromee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthen. by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 76 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

The applications were all referred to the Committee on Appointments.

A communication was read from the Secretary of the Provincial Association of Public and High School trustees, calling an annual meeting of the Association in Toronto Tuesday, Nov. 12th.—Received.

THE SCIENCE MASTER.

Mr. DUMBLE reported that Mr. McConochie, of Markham, had been employed to fill the position of Science Master at the Collegiate Institute, and appeared to be giving satisfaction; but he was not legally qualified, and the Department had only allowed the board to employ him for the present. The board would have to procure a qualified specialist for the next term.

Mr. LONG—He is giving satisfaction.

Dr. BURNHAM said if he was giving satisfaction it would be a pity to disturb the school for a legal quibble.

A DOUBTFUL ACCOUNT.

Mr. STEVENSON said there was a balance due Mr. Ellis, late Mathematical Master in the Collegiate Institute, but there was a question as to whether he should be paid. some of the members thinking he had treated the board shabbily in not notifying them, not even the Principal of his departure for Cobourg.

Mr. DUMBLE said he and the other members of the board knew he was going, and, though it appeared shabby, they could see how he was situated, as he had to leave for Cobourg or lose his position there. Mr. Dumble was surprised, however, when he knew he had gone without giving any notification.

As Mr. Ellis had made no application for the balance the matter was dropped.

The question of dealing with the appointments was discussed.

The CHAIRMAN suggested the advisability of having the Inspector and headmasters meet the committee and consult with them in reference to the applications. This course was decided on, and it was understood that the committee would meet as soon as possible.

WATER FOR THE SOUTH WARD.

Mr. ENGLISH, Chairman of the Building Committee, enquired what he would do with regard to the water supply for the South Ward school. The site of the old well was now taken up by the new building, and either a new well would have to be dug or the waterworks put in.

On motion the matter was left in the hands of the Chairman.

THE MISCHIEVOUS LITTLE ONES.

Mr. HAMILTON said the church officials of St. Paul's church were complaining of school children writing on the outside walls of the church and defacing them.

The Chairman said he would instruct the Secretary to call the attention of the teachers to the complaint.

Sunday Rest For Railroaders.

P. M. Arthur, Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, says that within a year the boon of Sunday rest has been gained by 76,000 American railroad men who did not previously enjoy it. This is a very large percentage of the total number of railway employees, which is estimated by Poor's celebrated manual at 900,000, and by the Railway Age at 800 000. The Age thinks that the Rev. W. F. Craft's estimate of 375,000 railway employees working on Sunday is much too high. There is, however, plenty of room for this excellent movement to grow.

It was once supposed that scrofula could not be eradicated from the system; but the marvelous results produced by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla disprove this theory. The reason is this medicine is the most powerful blood-purifier ever discovered.

TO THE DEAF—A person cured of deafness and noises in the head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy, will send a description of it free to any person who applies to NICHOLSON, 30 St. John st., Montreal. dw Consenting Parties to Reciprocity.

In an article upon the trade question the Montreal Gazette, speaking of the negotiation of a Treaty of Reciprocity between the United States and Canada, and more particularly of Unrestricted Reciprocity, says that "if the American Government, like Barkis, is willing, and the British Government interposes no obstacle, the matter can be readily disposed of." This is an important admission, because one of the strongest contentions against Unrestricted Reciprocity has been that assent or no assent, such an arrangement would be simply impracticable. Now the Gazette says that Canada and the States can readily dispose of the matter if Great Britian do not stand in the way. If this be the case, surely Canadian statesmen should first find out just what the United States will do, and next, whether Great Britain will assent to the arrangement. Of the willingness of the United States we have had a good deal of evidence lately. As to the attitude of Great Britain, we know at least that she has again and again acknowledged that Canada should be allowed to legislate for herself in trade matters. She made no objection to the tariff of 1879, deeply as it injured the trade of her meachants and manufacturers. It may be said that this is no proof that she would consent to let Canada gain American discrimination in her favor by giving Americans a compensating discrimination in their favor. But Great Britain might well consider that the small interests which a few capitalists of Manchester and Birmingham have in selling to Canada are of little moment in comparison with the imperial benefit of having all disputes between Canada and the United States finally settled on a basis of commercial unity. In point of fact the English investors, who have $650,000,000 at stake in Canada, form a much more important interest than that which consists of the few English manufacturers whose sales in Canada might be somewhat curtailed by Unrestricted Reciprocity. Why should Downing Street interfere on behalf of the latter when the Canadian properties of the former would be advanced immensely in value by Continental Free Trade? At all events we should take steps to learn what bargain our neighbors will agree to. If they will not consent to something that will suit us that will be an end of the matter. If they will consent to an arrangement acceptable to us, then we can go to Downing Street with a definite scheme and say, Is this objectionable to you? This course of procedure will follow naturally on general acceptance of the Gazette's assurance that Unrestricted Reciprocity is in itself perfectly practicable.—Globe.

An Awful Sore Limb

Skin Entirely Gone. Flesh a mass of disease. Leg Diminished one third in size. Condition hopeless. Cured by Cuticura Remedies in two months.

Cured by Cuticura.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It diminished about one third the size of the other and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES and the result was as follows:—After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to day, and for nearly two years past my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

I have been troubled with a skin and scalp disease for seventeen years. My head at times was one running sore and my body was covered with them as large as a half dollar. I send it my duty to you and the public to state the above case.

Land,

sold on George street within the memory of many of its inhabitants, at from $200 to $400 per half acre. The same land, if available now, would sell for as many hundred dollars per foot. Land in other parts of the town has increased in the same proportion. Therefore, can any person go wrong by buying a lot on my "Novel Plan" in a rising town like this? On my plan, at my low prices and easy terms, everyone should buy.

FARMERS will pay from sixty to eighty dollars per acre for land from ten to twenty miles from this market, inferior in many respects to 100 acres which I have for sale just outside the town, and which I am offering, on easy terms, at $35.00 per acre. Less than half its value. Any person wishing a profitable investment in either Lots or Farm should see me without delay.

A LOBO ELOPMENT.

Isaac Gray Leaves His Wife and Two Children—A Tale of a Choir.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 5.—Isaac Gray, a young farmer, of Lobo, aged 35 years, married to a daughter of Mrs. Alway, lived and worked on his mother-in-law's farm, lot 9 in the third concession of Lobo, a short distance from Komoka. Gray and his wife lived happily together. They had two children, were prosperous, and the farm was well looked after. The man was something of a musician, and his voice was in request at the Baptist Church choir. Another member of the choir was bright, debonair and pretty Minnie Smith, the 20-year-old daughter of H. Smith, who lived on the next farm to the Grays. There was a friendly feeling always between the two families, and Minnie used to spend much of her spare time visiting at Mrs. Gray's, and frequently the two woman would be escorted to places of amusement, parties or entertainments by Mr. Gray. They attended Barnum's last show in this city together.

There was never any suspicion in Mrs. Gray's mind of a clandestine understanding between her husband and Miss Smith until a couple of weeks ago. On Oct. 22, to be exact, Miss Smith disappeared from home. Gray drove to London the same day and it is supposed they had arranged a meeting on the road, for the girl had not gone far from her father's house when Gray overtook her. She got into the buggy, was driven to London and the fugitive and guilty pair put up at the Western Hotel. The next day they left the city by train and since that date nothing has been heard of them. Gray wrote a letter to his wife before leaving the the city, telling her to come in and get horse and buggy, and that was the last she heard of him, so it is stated.

The affair is causing a great deal of talk in the neighborhood, and no one seems to understand the motives of the affair. Neither of the slopers were considered of a passionate temperament, and whether it was just a girlish freak carried too far, or a cold-blooded elopement planned beforehand, the opinion of the different gossips are divided.

A SCORCHER AT MUSKEGON.

Over 6,000,000 Feet of Lumber Burnt—A $140,000 Blaze.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Nov. 5.—One of the most extensive lumber fires in the history of this city took place yesterday morning. It started a little before 3 o'clock on P. P. Leonard's mill dock on the north side of Muskegon Lake about four miles from this city. The wind was blowing furiously and the fire soon involved all the lumber and shingles on Leonard's docks and spread on the east to the large mill and lumber piles of Hovey & McCracken. These were soon on fire and the flames continued to spread until over 6,000,000 feet of lumber were destroyed. The fire continued to run to the east, next attacking the docks of the North Muskegon Shingle Company consuming all the stock piled thereon. Hovey & McCracken lose over $60,000 on lumber and over $30,000 on their mill and docks. They have $35,000 insurance on lumber and $18,000 on the mill. Leonard's loss will be heavy and includes a number of lumbermen who had stock cut at the mill and piled on his docks. The entire loss can hardly fall below $140,000.

London's Lightermen This Time.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The lightermen have decided to go on strike Monday. The dock men will probably do likewise, owing to the assistance they received from the lightermen in the recent strike.

Dancing With Vice-Royalty

VICTORIA, Nov. 2.—The naval ball at the Esquimalt dock yard last night in honor of the Governor General was the grandest affair of the kind ever given in the province. The decorations were novel and costly. The Governor-General, Lady Stanley and over three hundred guests, including army officers of the Washington Territory, were present.

Three-Quarters of a Million for the Fair.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The English Sun says: "A high railroad authority is responsible for the statement that the management of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad will contribute $750,000 to the World's Fair of 1892. It is not known whether this will be given in addition to the $250,000 already subscribed or not. Of this amount $500,000 will represent the New York Central, $100,000 the West Shore, $50,000 the Wagner Palace Car Company and the balance the horse car interests in the city controlled by the New York Central."

None of It for King Kalakua.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Col. Samuel Parker, of Honolulu, a member on King Kalakua's military staff was here yesterday, and authoritatively denied the stories that the Hawaiian Islands want to be annexed to this country. He said the Hawaiians are merely trying to obtain a treaty with this country similar to those they have with England and France, guaranteeing their independence.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 251 in the United States this week, against 190 last week and 220 for the same week last year. Canada had 35 this week, against 26 last week. The total of failures in the United States from Jan. 1 to date is 9383, against 8204 in 1888.

State Sleeps at War.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 1.—Wednesday the Maryland State sloop Katie Hines discovered the sloop Vennie dredging illegally in St. Clement's Bay, St. Mary's county. The Vennie, refusing to surrender, forty rounds were fired by the State vessel from Winchester rifles at ten paces. Two of the Vennie's crew were slightly wounded.

No Free Hymn Books.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The Acting Secretary of the Treasury has informed Rev. J. H. Molsenow, rector of St. Mary's Church, Amsterdam, N. Y., that there is no provision of law which would authorize the admission free of duty of 200 hymn books recently imported from Toronto, Canada, for choir and sodality use in St. Mary's Church.

Beauty Without Paint.

"What makes my skin so dark and muddy
My cheeks were once so smooth and ruddy!
I saw the best connection made,"
Is what a lovely maiden said.

"That's not the cure, my charming Miss,"
The doctor said—"remember this:
If you your skin would keep from taint,
Discard the powder and and the paint.

"The proper thing for all such ills
Is this," remarked the man of pills:
"Enrich the blood and make it pure—
In this you'll find the only cure."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do this without fail. It has no equal. All Druggists. b

MRS. JOHN E. THOMPSON, of Shelburne, M. P. O., writes: My two children received great benefit from Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for Diarrhoea and summer complaint. I gave it according to direction and they soon recovered. Be sure and get the genuine. 2w41d

Tried! Tested! Proved!

A YEAR ago last summer I was troubled with dysentry. I procured Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and took according to directions, which completely cured me. ROBERT E. GREEN, Lyndhurst, Ont. The medicine cures all looseness of the bowels. 2w41d

In Many Forms.

DYSPEPSIA assumes many phases, all disagreeable to the sufferer, yet it takes no form which from two to four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters will not cure. B.B.B. cures dyspepsia, tones the weak stomach, aids digestion, sharpens the appetite, and renovates the system. 2w41d

A remedy that is of such benefit in cases of Indigestion, Neuralgia, loss of appetite, Dyspepsia as Dyer's Quinine and Iron wine, is worth gold. It is easily taken by the weakest invalid. W. A Dyer & Co. Montreal. 61109

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

By Taking

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

The Fire Brigade orchestra will be in attendance. Supper will be furnished at the Snowden house.

Assuming Mammoth Proportions.

It would appear that one of our prosperous firms never daunted with keen city competition embarks into direct importation of fine ales, wines and brandies. A full list can be given intending purchasers by calling on W. J. Morrow, 340 Geo. street, or a look through his mammoth wine cellar will convince. He has also purchased from one firm alone a car load of their celebrated ale as well as handling numerous other brands. Parties requiring special brands of fine liquors should call and examine his mammoth stock before placing their order.

First rate in strength and best rate in price. Their coffees are also superb, and their stock of beautiful glassware cannot be surpassed in style and price. Hawley Bros., 378 George street.

New Goods! New Goods!

The Peterborough Bookstore received to-day, direct from Scotland, a large consignment of fancy goods and general staple stationery and leather goods, all of the highest quality—portfolios, pocket books, diaries for 1890, ladies' and gentlemen's calling cards and cases; also a quantity of plush and leather fancy goods. The Peterborough Bookstore buys the greater bulk of goods direct from the manufacturers, therefore no middleman's profit is added to the price, and customers get the advantage in securing the finest and choicest goods at the most moderate figures.

To-morrow's Inspection.

The 57th Battalion held its final drill before inspection last night. There was a good turnout of the volunteers, and the red coats entered into the exercises with enthusiasm. The recently promoted officers appeared in the uniforms of their newly acquired positions. Before disbandment the Adjutant read out the orders for inspection to-morrow morning. The battalion will parade at the drill shed at 9.30 and proceed to Riverside Park, where Lt.-Col. Strange, D.A.G., will inspect the regiment.

Completed his Contract.

Mr. W. M. Bates, millwright, has just returned from Omemee, where he has completed a contract for the reconstruction of Thos. Stephenson's flour mill. Mr. Bates' work has given every satisfaction, and he has left the mill in perfect running order. The mill is now practically new. A new roller system was placed in position, a new flume and penstock built, and the mill fully equipped with purifiers, bolters, packers, scalpers, etc., and with a capacity of 50 barrels a day. The mill is now a credit alike to Mr. Stephenson's enterprise and Mr. Bates' workmanship. Mr. Bates has earned a local reputation for the excellency of his work.

A Serious Accident.

A rather serious accident occurred at the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co's works Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock. A number of men were lifting a crank, a heavy piece of iron weighing about a ton. It was more than they could manage, and some of them letting go their hold, the pendulous weight fell over on Howard Galley, one of the employes, crushing and inflicting a compound fracture of the ankle joint of the right foot. Doctors King and Goldsmith are in attendance, and fear the foot may have to be amputated. The accident is an exceedingly painful one. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Galley, parents of the young man, are having more than their share of trouble just now, and they will be deeply sympathized with. Howard's friends will wish him speedy and complete recovery.

The consciousness of having a remedy a hand for croup, sore throat, and sudden colds, is very consoling to a parent. With a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house one feels, in such cases, a sense of security nothing else can give.

She Stops at Cavan.

A thanksgiving tea is to be held at Cavanville Thursday night, and for the accommodation of any parties wishing to attend from Peterborough, the C.P.R. Co. have arranged for the 11.30 express to stop at Cavan station Thursday night and bring the pleasure-seekers back to town.

A Fine Horse Portrait.

Mr. Robert Bailey, of Fowler's Corners, has had framed at the Examiner office, a beautiful portrait done in oil of the beautiful Clydesdale stallion, "Macnair," (6052).[717.] The picture is worthy of the horse and will be on view at Cavanagh's, Balmoral Hotel for a few days.

Telephone Improvements.

Mr. H. W. Keat is adding two new improved standard switch boards to the equipment of the local exchange. As soon as they are in position, numbers, representing the names of subscribers, will be substituted for names. The numbers now go as high as 195. Then instead of ringing up Yardstick Tape & Co., you will simply asked to be switched on to No. 77.

To-Night's Debate.

The St. Peter's Literary Society meets to night in the Murray street Separate School building. The debate will be on the subject: "Resolved, that the Federal States were justified in rebelling against the Union in 1861." From the talent on either side an interesting discussion is expected. Mr. J. J. Sheehy and Dr. Mober lead the affirmative; Doctors Brennan and McGrath the negative. The public are cordially invited to attend to-night's meeting.

Kilrain-Scholes.

Mr. J. C. Conner, Manager of the Kilrain-Scholes Combination, was in town to-day arranging for the appearance on Nov. 11th, of this noted combination, particulars of which appear in the advertisement in another column. This entertainment is different from many others of a similar class—it will be an exhibition of scientific skill, characterized by no departure from propriety to which the most fastidious could object. Tickets $1.00 for floor, and 50 cents for gallery. Seats plan at Doucet's Music Store.

The Late Mr. Lyle.

The bereaved widow and family of the late Chas. Lyle are receiving practical sympathy in their hour of need. Friends of the deceased man have been unremitting in their efforts to console the bereaved ones. Mr. Lyle's two brothers and two sisters arrived from Bowmanville last night, and to day at noon the corpse was taken to Bowmanville. The burial takes places from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. John Allan, to-morrow afternoon. A number of friends sent beautiful wreaths, among them the Ladies' Aid Society of the Charlotte street church and Mrs. A. L. Davis. The many friends of Mrs. Lyle and family will be pleased to learn that the deceased carried a life insurance of $2,000.

Where the Blame Lies.

With reference to the sad case of the girl Elizabeth Masters, who was sent to the Reformatory for a year, some explanation is necessary to do her father justice. Since the child was five years old she has been out of his hands. At that tender age she was sent to the Hotel Dieu, Kingston, and by the officials of that institution she was put out to service while still very young. Without a parents' corrective influence the girl went astray. A couple of months ago Mr. Masters himself went to Kingston and hunted the girl up. She was in her present condition when he got her. This explanation is made to relieve Mr. Masters of any odium which might fall upon him in consequence of a mistaken impression in the public mind that he was altogether responsible for his daughter's waywardness.

The Palace Restaurant.

Mr. T. Dunn of the Palace Restaurant, George street, is bound to lead in the artistic decoration of his premises. He has recently added to the adornments of his bar, three splendid specimens of statuary. On a central bracket over a mirror is a life size (and life-like too) bust of a plantation negro, banjo in hand, a happy smile parting his lips over his white teeth, the whole pose and figure being a capital representation. This is flanked by two full length figures of child life, grotesquely and artistically attractive. The general effect is exceedingly good. The statues were imported direct from Vienna, Austria, for Mr. Dunn. Other improvements of a similar character have been ordered for the palace restaurant, which, under Mr. Dunn's capable management, is complete and elegant in every department and in every respect well worthy of the public patronage.

The Mission Band Concert.

An entertainment under the auspices of the Mission Band of St. Paul's Church was held in the school room Tuesday night. A large and pleased audience were in attendance. Mr. Sheriff Hall presided. The singing of the children was particularly enjoyable, and reflected credit alike upon the little ones and their diligent teacher, Miss Sophia Cameron, who was given able assistance by her sister in training the class. The different numbers were evidently appreciated, judging from the applause which was liberally bestowed. Mr. J. S. Parker was accompanist for most of the singers. Following is the programme:—

"Giordano Bruno."

There was rather a small audience (owing, as the chairman explained, to insufficient announcement) at the Opera House, Tuesday evening to listen to the address of Rev. Dr. Fulton on the above subject. Previous to the address a young man went through the audience offering for sale, copies of the lecturer's book—"Why Priests Should Marry," but there were no purchasers at that time. However, after the Doctor's address he devoted a considerable time to urging the merits of his book, and their were in consequence several buyers. The address proper dealt very slightly with the subject, which was used as a theme for a very vigorous denunciation of Romanism, which the speaker said, now that it was "unroofed," to his mind menaced no danger to Protestantism but was in greater danger itself—the very violence and intolerance creating a sentiment against it. The restored liberty of Italy, typified, in the erection of a monument to Bruno, was, the speaker urged, a portent of a world wide triumph over Romanism. The meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. P. C. Parker who presided, and by the singing of devotional hymns, and was closed by prayer by Rev. Dr. Fulton, who also pronounced the benediction.

Young Men's Club.

The usual weekly meeting of the young men's club will take place at St. John's school room to-morrow, Thursday evening.

A New Stand.

The shop on George street recently vacated by Mr. J. W. Batcher, of the tea cent store, is being occupied by Mr. R. J. Kidd, the clothier, who is removing his stock of ready made clothing from Wyatt & Turner's old place of business to the new stand. The electric light is being introduced, and the place made neat and attractive. Kidd is booming the business and bound to keep up with the procession.

Thanksgiving Services.

A union thanksgiving service will be held in the George street Methodist church, to-morrow forenoon, at 11 o'clock. Addresses by the pastors.

A thanksgiving service will be held in St. Paul's church, to-morrow, at 11 a.m. Special collection will be taken up on behalf of the poor.

Services will be conducted at St. Andrew's Church at 11 a.m. by Rev. A. Bell, pastor.

Thanksgiving service in St. John's church at 11 a.m. In the evening also the usual Wednesday service will be arranged with special reference to Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving services in St. Luke's to-morrow night at 7.30.

Grand Concert.

A delightful musical and elocutionary entertainment will be presented in Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday evening, Nov. 21st. An idea of the treat in store for our citizens may be formed, when it is known that the following ladies and gentlemen will contribute to the programme:—Mrs. W. J. Morrow, pianiste; Mrs. J. E McIntyre, soprano vocalist; Prof. Monk of Toronto, pianist; Mr. J. W. Marentette of Windsor, tenor vocalist; Mr. Thos. Dunn, baritone vocalist; Mr. Geo. Fax, Belleville, comic vocalist; Mr. Carmichael, Belleville, elocutionist; Mrs. T. Dunn, accompaniste. The entertainment is being arranged and conducted under the auspices of Mrs. J. E. McIntyre and Mr. Thos. Dunn. Both have been very obliging in contributing to the programme of public entertainments and this kindness should be recognized by a liberal patronage of the coming entertainment.

Police Paragraphs.

Thos. Brown, claiming Napanee as his place of residence, was arrested by the police last night while drunk, and was allowed to go this morning on promising to leave town at once.

The police were telephoned for yesterday afternoon to quell a row which was in progress on the main street of Ashburnham, just beyond the bridge. The Chief started for the scene of the disturbance, but on the way over met the principal parties coming to town for the purpose of consulting lawyers and getting legal balm for their ruffled feelings. A police court case may result.

A dance was held on Bethune street last night, and early in the evening a messenger was sent to ask the protection of the police against some boys who were trying to enjoy the festivities from the outside. The police replied that they had something else to do besides acting as guardian angels at dances.

A False Alarm.

This morning the Chief of Police was notified that a man had been murdered in the cellar underneath the Golden Lion store. He immediately started for the scene of the slaughter, and on arriving was excitedly told that the murderer had just turned the Oriental hotel corner. Thinking that there was no danger of the corpse escaping, the Chief started in pursuit of the criminal and soon ran him down. On returning with Constable Adams for the body of the man who was supposed to be murdered, the officers found that the corpse had carried itself off. After another chase the bleeding victim of the assault was captured and also conveyed to the police station, where Acting-Surgeon Adams dressed the wounds in a thoroughly artistic manner. The case will be ventilated this afternoon by the magistrate. It seems that there has been a standing feud between James Curran and Martin Neary, and this morning it happened that they were both intoxicated. They were employed in the excavations for waterworks underneath the Golden Lion store, and about 10 o'clock the bad blood between them came to the surface and a fight ensued. Neary was knocked down and kicked in the head and cut badly, blood flowing copiously from the wounds. He was able to walk however. The trial was set down for four o'clock this afternoon, the police court officials wishing to have a clean sheet for the holiday to-morrow.

The Reception at St. John's.

The entertainment given in St. John's school house last night was not of the nature usually met with in ecclesiastical circles. These festive gatherings almost invariably combine business and pleasure, especially business. Tickets, however, together with money bags, collection plates and all the other orthodox accompaniments of a money-making affair were conspicuous by their absence last night. The gathering was purely for social purposes, and, judging from appearances, was a most decided success. Long before eight o'clock little streams of people were wending their way up the steep ascent, at the top of which stands the beautiful church which is such an ornament to our town. When they entered the adjoining school house a pretty scene presented itself. The indefatigable lady workers had transformed the rather bare looking building into a drawing room. Every window was handsomely draped with curtains, inviting sofas and easy chairs were scattered about, the floor was covered with mats and rugs, while the "squareness" of the room was pleasingly broken by several dainty screens. Upon the platform stood a stand of flowers, supported by the grand piano be onging to the Sunday school. But the special recess in the rear was the acme of the ladies' efforts. Upon a long table covered with a snowy cloth, reposed about the most tempting array of edibles that it is possible to conceive. A tempting display of grapes kept the cakes in countenance, and during the evening, from the adjoining library bevies of fair maidens constantly plied backwards and forwards with their fragrant burdens of tea and coffee. Soon after 8 o'clock the room was filled and the buzz of conversation incessant. It was a motley gathering. All classes were represented. There was the staid matron with her daughters, there was the paterfamilias making himself agreeable to the young ladies from over the way. There was a large contingent of young men from the Bible class, divided into several groups of natural selection, chiefly huddled into corners and evidently afraid of their lives to go near the ladies! And last, but not least, in spite of the invitation to adults of the congregation to be present, there was a small, but choice, collection of the imps of creation, busily hatching mischief and making ravages on the provisions. The programme, at least the little of it that could be heard, was excellent, and sympathy is due the amiable ladies and gentlemen who so cheerfully (?) sang under the trying circumstances of everybody talking and nobody listening. However, they doubtless know what to expect on such an occasion. Perhaps the best sort of music for such a gathering is a loud duet on the piano. One can hear it over the din, and it makes a cheerful accompaniment to people's talking, and, if it be a lively air, as it ought to be, brightens everybody up. The proceedings terminated at tea o'clock in the usual loyal manner, and the gathering dispersed. The clergy and congregation are to be thoroughly congratulated on the success of this their second general reception, a mode of entertainment which cannot fail to bring people together and get them all, as they should be, known to one another.

Gunpowder Day.

How the Englishmen and Orangemen Celebrated the Occasion.

Tuesday was the anniversary of the famous Gunpowder Plot, and the Englishmen and Orangemen of the town and county commemorated the occasion by feasts and entertainment.

A number of the brethren of the Orange Order in town held an oyster supper at the C.P.R. hotel, at which there were about thirty present, including a few outsiders. Mr. J. A McWilliams, Past Master of Lodge No. 80, occupied the chair. Impromptu toasts befitting the occasion were made and enthusiastic responses made. The supper was a success, and the credit therefor is largely due to Mr. G. W. Hall, upon whom devolved all the preparations.

THE SONS OF ENGLAND.

A "Free and Easy" was held in the Sons of England lodge room, in which both lodges joined heartily. There were quite a number of visitors present. Mr. Wm. Brundrette occupied the chair and made an appropriate and humorous opening address. Afterwards a meritorious programme was rendered, including songs by Mr. and Mrs. Bowman; "The Death of Nelson" by Bro. Jno. Barnes; an excellent recitation, "Anthony's Oration over Cæsar," by Bro T. L Osborne; a vocal duet by the Misses Brundrette; a most laughable representation of the Georgia Minstrels, by Messrs. W. Logan and Wm. Mercer; a couple of solos by Bro. Walter Stocker; and instrumental selections by Mr. Seward and Mr Schneider. A pleasant and profitable evening was spent.

SMITH ORANGEMEN.

The Orangemen of Smith celebrated the occasion by a tea and entertainment in the Templar's Hall. There was a large attendance, including a few from town, and everything passed off most harmoniously. Tea was served by the ladies from six to eight o'clock, and needless to say the edibles provided were of the most satisfying nature. After the tables had been cleared away the entertainment was begun, Mr. Alex. Hamilton, County Master, presiding. The principal features of the entertainment were the addresses of the County Master, and Rev. Messrs. A. Bell, Peterborough, D. S Houck, Bridgenorth, and J. B. Huff, Smith. The addresses were all appropriate and enthusiastically received. Between the speeches bits of music were sandwiched in, songs being rendered by Mr. Tindle, Mr. McLean and the Misses Reid. The Smith band also rendered several selections. The entertainment was a most gratifying success.

St. Luke's C. E. T. S. Concert

A Highly Successful Entertainment.

St. Luke's school room was packed to the door last night to hear the second fortnightly concert of the C. E. T. Society. The programme, as given below, was excellently carried out and, though long, the interest of the audience did not flag for a moment and not one of the many present wanted to go away a minute before it was over. The opening piece, a pianoforte solo, was excellently rendered by Mr. Fred Clarke, and was followed by a duet, sung by two "wee small children," and which was well applauded. A song by Miss Eva Tivey, with a pianoforte and violin accompaniment, played by Mrs. Peck and Miss Yokome, respectively, was vigorously applauded, but, to the great disappointment of all, time would not allow of encores. Miss Tivey has not favoured St. Luke's very much lately, but after her warm reception last night, it is to be hoped she will be a little more lavish of her favours in the future. The violin solo by Miss Yokome (to Miss Tivey's excellent accompaniment), was so vigorously encored that, contrary to the set rule of the evening, an encore was enforced. Mrs. Peck showed her thorough acquaintance with the piano by rendering, at call, a very difficult solo, taking the place, at a moment's notice, of one of the performers who was absent. The applause which followed was both well deserved and well placed. The vocal duet by Misses Long and Phillips showed that these two young ladies have a very great number of ardent admirers of their singing, which is always well received. Miss Lillie Jackson gave a song in which her rich young voice showed off to perfection. Her appearance on any programme is always a pleasure. Mr. Fred Saunders gave a good sound temperance reading, and Mr. E B. Burt also read a piece as substitute for an absentee. The farce at the end was very well acted. From the time of its commencement roars of laughter were the order of the evening, the actors having time after time to wait for opportunities to carry on the dialogue. The dramatis personæ were as follows:—

Mr. Benjamin Bibbs	Mr. Jno. Turner
" Barnaby Bibbs	" E. B. Burt
Mrs. Benjamin Bibbs	Miss Eva Tivey
" Barnaby Bibbs	Mrs. K. B. Burt
Snarley	Miss Long
Grumpy	Mr. Fred Saunders

Every one went away well-pleased, doubtless determined to attend again on Monday week, but the Temperance Society will have to work hard indeed if they expect to out-rival last night's entertainment. Too much praise cannot be given to the lady, who, with so much trouble, drilled the various characters in the dialogue. It is quite easy to see this was not her first attempt. The following is the programme:—

Instrumental solo	Mr. Fred Clarke
Vocal duet	Edith and May Wills
Song	Miss Tivey
Instrumental (violin) solo	Miss Yokome
Reading	Mr. F. Saunders
Vocal duet	Edith and May Wills
Instrumental solo	Mrs E. A. Peck
Vocal duet	Misses Long and Phillips
Song	Miss Lillie Jackson
Vocal duet	Edith and May Wills
Reading	Mr. K B Burt

COUGHLIN AND KUNZE.

BROVE TO THE CARLSON COTTAGE ON THE NIGHT OF MAY 4.

The Ex-Detective Entered the House and Kunze Drove Away—O'Sullivan's Queer Contract With Dr. Cronin.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—In the Cronin murder trial Wednesday several officers and others identified the blood-stained trunk in which Cronin's remains were carried to the catch-basin. One officer identified a paint-besmeared key, which he found in the Carlson cottage and which fitted the trunk. Another witness testified that he once saw prisoner Kunze washing his feet at the flat on Clark street, from which the furniture was moved to the cottage.

The trial was continued yesterday. Coroner Hertz, who held the inquest on the body of Dr. Cronin, was examined. He identified the trunk in which Cronin's body had been packed.

Wm. Mertis, a milkman testified that he saw Kunze and Coughlin drive on to the Carlson cottage up the evening of May 4 last, saw Coughlin enter the cottage but Kunze drove away.

Police Captain Schaack testified about his conversation with P. O'Sullivan the ice-man after the murder. O'Sullivan refused to give the names of members of the Irish National Brotherhood who attended the meeting at which O'Sullivan made Dr. Cronin's acquaintance. The witness went over the story as told him by O'Sullivan of the contract with Cronin about attending O'Sullivan's ice-men. O'Sullivan admitted he had never had an accident to one of his men and the captain's questions were intended to get an admission that it was unreasonable that under such circumstances he would pay $500 for the ice season, which, he said, were the terms agreed on. O'Sullivan, however, insisted he thought it a good thing to do. O'Sullivan admitted after some hesitation that Coughlin telephoned him in April but said it was about getting ice. He first denied he had telephoned to Coughlin but subsequently admitted he had talked to Coughlin about Kunze. O'Sullivan the captain said at first denied that he had been out of his office on the night of May 4 after 7.30 o'clock, but afterwards admitted he had been out. He said he was in the rear of the sheds but no further. It was in relation to a horse O'Sullivan said that he wanted to ask Coughlin concerning Kunze.

Chief of Police Hubbard testified to taking possession of the bloody trunk. He identified the trunk and also identified Burke as the man brought from Winnipeg under his supervision. On cross-examination an attempt was made to get the witness to give details of an interview he had with Coughlin several weeks after the murder. Objection was made by the prosecution which was sustained by the court.

Acting Police Captain Schuttler identified a section of the flooring of the Carlson cottage on which there were footprints in the paint.

A TARIFF REFORM VICTORY.

Ex-President Cleveland Talks About the Recent Elections.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. — Ex-President Cleveland says of the elections:

"It is evident that the leaven of tariff reform has at last leavened the whole lump. The West, which has suffered most from the unjust burden of tariff taxation has awakened. The State platforms of both Iowa and Ohio were abreast of the St. Louis platform on the subject of tariff reform. The people have considered and passed judgment. It was for the people to decide, they are now deciding. It is enough for me to say that I am satisfied at the indications and results of Tuesday's elections. The verdict in Virginia indicates that the South is still faithful to the doctrines of Jefferson and Jackson."

President Harrison's Opinion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Herald's Washington special says: The president said to a gentleman yesterday that no administration could in its first year successfully withstand the assaults of the office seekers. Later on he believed the political horizon would brighten and better conditions prevail. He does not think the elections indicate any dissatisfaction with his administration.

The Vote in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The total vote in the state is: Brackett (R.), 126,800; Russell (D.), 120,817; Blackmer (Prohib.), 13,854; Marks (Lab.), 111.

SISTER CATHARINE.

Miss Kate Drexel, the Millionaire's Daughter Takes the Veil.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 8.—Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia has arrived here to assist in the ceremonies of receiving Miss Kate Drexel daughter of F. A. Drexel, the millionaire banker of Philadelphia, into the new convent of St. Mary of Mercy. The reception took place yesterday. A large number of relatives and friend's from Philadelphia were present. Miss Drexel's spiritual adviser, Right Rev. James O'Connor, Bishop of Omaha, made the journey from Nebraska to this city to be present at the ceremony, which was conducted by Right Rev. Bishop Phelan, Bishop of the diocese of Pittsburg.

Although Miss Drexel at first refused to wear the white gown and orange blossoms of the bride, she finally consented to attire herself in a beautiful white satin dress. There was no display at the reception, the novice having made a special request that all pomp and splendor be dispensed with. Her first assignment will probably be as a nurse in the Mercy Hospital on Stevenson-street. She will be known as Sister Catharine.

A Mormon Murder.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 8.—George Hancock, Mormon high priest, has been arrested at Payson charged with murdering Mrs. Hatch and her son, George Jones, aged 32. The victims were accused of incest when they were slain, but the Gentiles say it was a church murder.

Co-Education at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 8.—The trustees of the University of Pennsylvania yesterday adopted the co-education system in a modified form. Prof. Edward D. Cope, the famous geologist, was elected to the chair of geology, and three women were elected as managers of the university hospital. The move toward co-education was the acceptance of an offer of Joseph M. Bennett to donate properties adjoining the university for a college for women.

A Capital Agitation.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—There is an agitation here to prevent little girls from selling newspapers.

Jack Ashton Knocked Out.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—At the Parnell Athletic Club's rooms last night, Jack Ashton of Providence, and George Godfrey, the colored heavy weight pugilist of Boston, faced each other for fourteen rounds, the contest resulting in a knock out for Godfrey. Many sporting men were present from Providence who wagered money freely on Ashton at odds of 100 to 60. The men were in good condition and Ashton looked a sure winner.

A FRENCH PAPER'S COMMENT ON THE CAIRO INCIDENT.

Marie Loisinger's End Fate—Weissman Attacks Soudani with a Heavy Force—The Australian Federation Scheme.

PARIS, Nov. 8.—The Republique Francaise says England cannot be surprised that no one in Egypt consented to fete the Prince of Wales as though he was on a triumphal quasi-royal tour. France and the other powers which have not ceased to regard Egypt as a Turkish dependency in no way bound to Great Britain by protectoral vassalage still demand the evacuation of the country by the English. The Cairo incident, the paper says, proves that Europe is not disposed to allow the Egyptian question to sink into oblivion. France will lose no opportunity to remind England of her solemn engagement in regard to Egypt.

The Peters Massacre.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Despatches to the Emin relief committee confirm the report of the massacre of Dr. Peters and his party. The European who escaped is Lieut. Tiedemann, a companion of Dr. Peters, who was wounded. Borchert's column did not join Dr. Peters' party.

The Emin relief committee state that at last reports Dr. Peters was in the district of Malakota on Sept. 12 with Lieutenant Tiedemann and only 25 Somalis. He was fully conscious of the danger threatening him. It is not unlikely that the Somalis joined the Masais.

Massacred out of Revenge.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—While the Peters expedition was ascending the Tana River Lieut. Friedmann in a quarrel was compelled to shoot four Masais. It is probable therefore that vengeance was the motive of the massacre of the party.

The Depression in G. T. R. Stock.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The recent fall in Grand Trunk stock has led to some suggestions that the shareholders should appoint an independent committee to examine the whole system of procedure. The directors will possibly visit Canada. No importance, however, attaches to the movement, which simply gives expression to a vague feeling. There is some grumbling by the proprietors whenever traffic receipts drop or expenses rise.

Australian Federation.

MELBOURNE, Nov. 8.—The Premier of Victoria has consulted the Governments of the other Australian colonies about the question of federation. The replies received concurred in the opinion that the existing Federal Council had sufficient power to decide upon a basis of federation, and that no special convention to consider the subject was necessary.

A Republican Caucus at Paris.

A FATAL FIRE.

Peterboro Va., Visited by a Destructive Conflagration Yesterday.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 8.—A terrible fire started at 3 o'clock yesterday morning in George H. Davis & Co's drygoods house in Sycamore-street and spread with incredible rapidity, burning down in a short time the whole iron front block and adjoining properties. The flames leaped across the street and destroyed Oddfellows' Hall and five or six other buildings. Lieut. Crichton of the police force was in one of the burning buildings when the wall fell on him. He was burned to death. Half a block on each side of Sycamore-street from Tabb-street westward is gone. The estimated loss is $740,000, insurance about $400,000.

Prisoners in Peril.

DANVILLE, Va., Nov. 8.—Some excitement was caused here yesterday by a rumor that a party from South Boston would come to Danville and lynch three negroes in jail here charged with being members of a gang who fired from ambush at Hon. R. R. Noblin and other white men Tuesday night. The mayor ordered out the militia and the jail is well guarded. The prisoners will be protected at all hazards. The prisoners have confessed they were with the mob and heard them make their plans, but deny that they took part in the shooting. The ring-leader has not been arrested.

Colima Belching Fire.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 8.—The volcano of Colima is again in a state of eruption. Many houses have fallen and the woods for many miles are on fire.

A Youthful Chief Justice.

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 8.—Yesterday was the last day of the Territorial Government of Dakota. At 3 o'clock the Territorial Governor, Secretary, Auditor and Attorney-General stepped down and out and in turn the bonanza farmer John Miller and his staff of officers took their places. The change was made with little or no pomp or ceremony. At the same time Guy Corliss of Grand Forks, only 31 years of age, became by the courtesy of his elder colleagues the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Dakota. The first act of the new Governor was the promulgation of the proclamation convening the legislature on Nov. 19.

Chat From Collingwood.

COLLINGWOOD, Nov. 8.—Wednesday night a large roughcast dwelling owned by Thomas McComb, situate in the north end of the town, was fired by an incendiary. The dwelling was totally destroyed.

Contractor Frank Bryant, while working at the new town hall, was struck with a plank a fellow-workman was handling and knocked off the second story, sustaining severe injuries.

KILLED AT THE "Y"

A TELEGRAPH OPERATOR'S FATAL BLUNDER.

He Meddles with a Switch, Wrecks a Grand Trunk Freight Train and Engineer Cain is Crushed to Death.

HAMILTON, Nov. 8.—A fatal accident occurred at the Y shortly after midnight. A special freight from Point Edward to Toronto went in upon the switch which connects the main line with the Toronto branch about that hour, and after everything was seen to be all right the order was given for the train to move on. Engineer Cain was in charge of the engine. The engine was started, but as it moved off, the telegraph operator rushed out and turned the switch thinking it was wrong. In an instant the great iron horse was bumping over the ties. Engineer Cain was standing between the engine and the tender. As the engine struck the ties and was momentarily held fast, the weight of the train forced the tender down upon it and poor Cain's life was crushed out instantaneously.

The train, a heavy freight, was made up partly of hog cars. Two or three of the hog cars were wrecked, being piled up in a heap all over the track. A large number of hogs were killed or badly cut up. The engine and cars were also badly wrecked. The fireman escaped without injury. The wreck caused considerable delay. An auxiliary train and gang of men were sent out and got at work clearing up. But for the new switch connecting the old Great Western and the Northern branches at Gage's farm the Thirteenth Battalion, Dufferin Rifles of Brantford, and other military organizations could not have got to Toronto in any respectable time.

Engineer John Cain was a man of 20 or 30 years, and, like the rest of the crew of the train, belongs to Point Edward, where his people reside.

The Columbia Beats the Record.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The steamer Columbia made the passage from New York to Southampton in 6 days 8 hours 10 minutes, which beats the record.

According to her log the voyage of the City of New York, completed Wednesday night, occupied 6 days 7 hours 41 minutes. The Teutonic did 25 minutes better than this. There is, however, a difference of opinion regarding 10 minutes which, the Teutonic people claim, gives them a victory of 35 minutes. It was the most exciting ocean race on record.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

A Batch of Railway News—Busy Freight Departments.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—It is stated on good authority that the Canadian Pacific Railway is completing arrangements to build a direct line from Toronto to North Bay.

The Bristol iron mines in Pontiac county, Que., are shipping by the Canadian Pacific Railway to Pennsylvania 150 tons of ore daily. A contract has been made for supplying 50,000 tons yearly.

There is a great boom in the freight department of Canadian railways. The Canadian Pacific Railway has 2000 cars at present. This is 800 more than during the same time last year, but the shortage is greater than ever.

Over 20,000,000 bushels of American corn was shipped to England this season via the St. Lawerence route. The Canadian Pacific Railway is transporting large quantities of American machinery to Vancouver whence it will be shipped to Japan by Canadian Pacific steamer.

RAN ON A ROCK.

H. M. S. Amphion With the Governor-General Aboard Meets With an Accident.

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 8.—H. M. S. Amphion with the Governor-General and party left Victoria Wednesday morning for New Westminster. A dense fog prevailed. When about 25 miles from Victoria the Amphion struck a rock and commenced to make water rapidly. The pumps were set going and the ship put back to Esquimalt at full speed, arriving at 8 p.m. Admiral Heneage ordered the ship to be docked and the drydock prepared. The ship was kept afloat by listing and entered the dock about midnight. The extent of her injuries is not yet known. The vice-regal party came ashore and stopped at the Driard Hotel.

Mr. Taillon's Libel Suit.

MONTREAL, Nov. 8.—In the Superior Court here the case of Mr. L. O. Taillon, leader of the Quebec Opposition in the Local House, against La Patrie for $25,000 damages for libel, was heard. The action is based on an article which appeared in La Patrie on Sept. 25 of last year, just before the Lepine-Poirier election in Montreal East. In the article it is stated that Mr. Taillon need not have warned his friends on the hustings to use all precautions to prevent "telegraphing," as he (Mr. Taillon) himself was responsible for the marked ballots in the election of 1886 in Montreal East. In the plea, La Patrie alleged that the plaintiff had profited by those electoral frauds referred to, and an incidental demand for $10,000 was consequently taken. Mr. Taillon, Q. C., appeared for himself, whilst Mr. C. A. Geoffrion, Q. C., appeared for La Patrie. Mr. Alexander Lacoste, Q. C., Mr. Ouimet, Q. C., Speaker of the House of Commons, Mr. J. J. Curran, Q. C., and others gave evidence as to the damaging character of the article. At the close of the plaintiff's side, Mr. Geoffrion offered a retraction of the article in question as far as it went against Mr. Taillon, and he expressed his regrets to him. Mr. Taillon, however, insisted that the case should go on.

THE LADIES!

A New and Distinct Form of Disease which is Afflicting Canadian Women.

How some of Them Developed Fresh Complications, Terrible Mental and Bodily Physical Misery.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the home. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headache and unconquerable weakness. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of woman, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 240 St. Hypolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits restored.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., MONTREAL.

The Red-Coats' Review.

Annual Inspection of the 57th Battalion —A Satisfactory Showing—Officers and Men Entertained.

Thanksgiving Day was graced with Queen's weather, and the annual inspection of the local corps of Her Majesty's volunteers took place under most favorable auspices. Never was there a better turn-out of red-coats than on Thursday, and the review was entirely satisfactory to all concerned, the inspecting officer, Col. Strambenzie, D.A.G., expressing his gratification, through Lt.-Col. Rogers, after the parade was over. About ten o'clock the 57th Rangers left the drill shed, headed by the band, and marched to Riverside Park. The regiment presented an unusually bright and neat appearance. The men had vied with each other in cleaning and polishing their rifles and buttons, in pipe-clayings their belts and even polishing their shoes. With trousers neatly tucked in their leggings and everything in apple-pie order, the appearance of the battalion was most creditable. It is said to say the regiment made a better appearance, as a whole, than ever before.

The band also was in good shape, and included about twenty five instruments, under Capt. Miller, and their playing, as usual, was greatly admired.

THE BATTALION

paraded nearly full strength. There was more than the complement of rank and file, but the battalion is nine officers short. Altogether there were 258 men and 17 officers on the field—a total of 273. The battalion paraded as follows:—

Staff officers—Lt. Col. J. Z. Rogers, Major Bell and Major Edwards, mounted.

Sergt.-Major Kandle.

"A" company—Capt. Mason.

"B" company—Capt. Langford, Lieut. Lee.

"C" company—Capt. Hill, Lt. Hamilton.

"D" company—Capt. Denaistoun (now Adjutant,) Lt. Dixon.

"E" company—Capt. Miller, Lt. Matthews.

"F" company—Capt. Brennan, Lt. Loch.

The colors were carried by Ensigns Peck and Hamilton, with guard of four.

Paymaster Howard was also in attendance.

THE INSPECTION GROUND

in Riverside Park was flagged off, and several hundred people surrounded the field as spectators. While waiting for the inspecting officer the battalion was put through some preliminary drill by the commanding officer. Col. Strambenzie was accompanied by Brigade-Major Lewis and Capt. Strange, District Paymaster. After a personal inspection of the arms and accoutrements by the inspecting officer, the regiment was put through different manoeuvres, Lt.-Col. Rogers commanding them in battalion drill, Major Bell in the manual and firing exercise, and Major Edwards and Adjutant Denaistoun in battalion drill. The men acquitted themselves creditably. They were bothered somewhat by the new style of formation, by which wheeling is done away with, and which gives the movement a more ragged appearance than the old one. There were besides a great many recruits in the ranks, the officers being determined to have the battalion turn out in full force this year. All things considered the officers and men have every reason to be satisfied with their inspection. The keen eye of Col. Strambenzie was watching them, and from his remarks afterwards it was evident he too was satisfied and pleased.

On returning to the drill shed the rolls were called and Lt. Col. Rogers addressed the battalion. He said Col Strambenzie had instructed him to say to the men that he felt gratified over the inspection, and particularly with regard to the splendid turn out and tidy soldierly appearance of the men. Lt-Col. Rogers also urged the men to take a deep interest in the battalion and improve their reputation still more. They wanted men in the regiment who would attend every drill, and not those who turned out inspection day and then were not seen at the drill shed for another year. Next year the battalion was entitled to new clothing, and when they got it, they could expect to make a still better showing.

The battalion was then disbanded.

THE FESTIVE BOARD

Thursday evening the officers of the battalion entertained their distinguished military visitors at a supper at the Palace Restaurant. A very pleasant evening was spent, Lt-Col. Rogers presiding. The guests and others made patriotic speeches, and no doubt to say the repast provided by Mr. Dann was excellent in every respect. Col. Strambenzie and his staff returned to Kingston this morning.

A Farmers' Federation.

The formation at the present time of a farmers' federation to maintain the price of grain is a most extraordinary procedure, when the real situation of the produce markets is considered. Nobody, of course, believes that the alliance of farmers can accomplish any serious purpose. But the fact that such an organization is formed, or even projected, shows how little these people have understood the signs of the times. The wheat crop is banking up in the storage centres at the rate of two to two and a half millions of bushels a week. Less than a third of this weekly increase in visible supply is going abroad, yet it is not the home demand which keeps it back. The farmers complain that the grain speculator prevent them from obtaining a fair price for their wheat. The European importer, on the other hand, demands further concession in price before he will take our surplus stock. At present there is enough European and Asiatic wheat to supply Europe's needs, and the European grain merchants are not clamouring for the American grain. Very possibly, when the season is further advanced, and the shortage which seems to exist in the foreign grain crop begins to make itself felt, the foreigners will be more ready to take our wheat at our prices. But any farmer who believes in this is at liberty to hold back his produce from market. As a matter of fact, the farmer feels the influence of the grain broker infinitely more in an upward movement of prices than in a decline. He is the chief beneficiary of such a bull movement, he will suffer in the end. The purchase of his grain at abnormally high prices puts the home market. The foreigners will not buy at such prices, and when the next crop is brought to market, the farmer finds himself handicapped by the left over surplus of the previous year.—N. Y. Commercial Bulletin.

Fish Culture.

Fish culture in the great lakes has, it is believed, resulted in good. It has increased, so far as can be learned, the supply of whitefish. Salmon produced by artificial means in the far East is not so successful. Mr. W. H. Rogers, who recently wrote to the Mail Argus that the planting of salmon in the Pacific coast rivers produced the great run of the past season, is now out with a letter in which he calculates the result of the distribution of salmon fry in Nova Scotia. It appears that since 1882, 7,174,000 salmon have been put into the Cape Breton rivers, yet no appreciable result is experienced by the salmon fishers. Mr. Rogers gives the cost of planting the fish, and balancing it against the most additional yield, estimates that the artificially produced salmon cost $16 each, or at the rate of $1 34 per pound. Some time ago Mr Rogers, who was a fishery official in Nova Scotia, left the services of the Government. But his criticisms of the salmon-producing experiment are not novel. In his report for 1887 he calculates that every salmon produced through artificial means costs the country $8. It is, however, almost impossible to judge with accuracy the precise value of the hatchery system.

It was once supposed that scrofula could not be eradicated from the system; but the marvelous results produced by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla disprove this theory. The reason is this medicine is the most powerful blood-purifier ever discovered.

Peculiarities of the Hair.

There are times when all persons require to pay some particular attention to the hair. To rekindle the life on energy of the roots is a simple matter if taken in time. Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic will do the word, it works in accordance with nature, supplys fresh nourishment to the glands keeper, the hair luxuriant and natural in shade. Be sure to get, you cannot afford to miss it. Every druggist sells it. It is money well spent. See Dorenwends advertisement in another column.

Land,

sold on George street within the memory of many of its inhabitants, at from $200 to $400 per half acre. The same land, if available now, would sell for as many hundred dollars per foot. Land in other parts of the town has increased in the same proportion. Therefore, can any person go wrong by buying a lot on my "Novel Plan" in a rising town like this? On my plan, at my low prices and easy terms, everyone should buy.

FARMERS will pay from sixty to eighty dollars per acre for land from ten to twenty miles from this market, inferior in many respects to 100 acres which I have for sale just outside the town, and which I am offering, on easy terms, at $35.00 per acre. Less than half its value. Any person wishing a profitable investment in either Lots or Farm should see me without delay.

STORY OF THE BACTERIA.

POPULAR ACCOUNT OF A SIMPLE BUT WONDERFUL ORGANISM.

Their Relation to Disease—The Origin of Consumption or Tuberculosis, with Some Useful Suggestions Concerning the Care of the Sick-room.

They are in general so very small that we can hardly form a conception of them except by comparison with some well known objects. One of the most common of bacteria is a little rod, so small that if you were to put 1500 of them end to end, the line would scarcely reach across the head of an ordinary pin. If you look at them with a magnifying power so great that, if it could be applied to him, it would make a man look about four times as big as Mount Washington, they do not look larger than this. We can make out, however, that they are made up of a slightly granular material surrounded by a somewhat denser envelope. The bacteria appear under the microscope as pale translucent bodies, and the student usually finds it necessary, in order to see their outlines distinctly, to stain them with some one of the aniline dyes—red, or blue, or violet—when they become very distinct.

ALL SORTS OF THEM.

There is really very little difference, so far as wholesomeness is concerned, between the few thousand vegetable cells, called bacteria, which may be clinging to the surfaces of a grape, and a few hundred vegetable cells of larger size of which the grape itself is composed. Both are alike worked over by the digestive organs, under ordinary conditions, into nutritive material for the uses of the body. Milk is a most excellent food for many forms of bacteria, and among those which are commonly present in milk is one which causes it to become sour when left to itself. Other forms of bacteria develop those peculiar chemical compounds which give to cheese its special and varying flavors. It is, in fact, a very motley group of chemical substances which these bacteria set free in feeding themselves on nature's waste organic materials. Sometimes they are very bad smelling gases, sometimes aromatic substances, sometimes they are sweet, sometimes they are sour. But sooner or later they are used by some animal or plant, and so again enter the domain of life. Thus ever in ceaseless alternations between life and death these elemental combinations come and go. And ever since life emerged from the primal simple forms on the earth, the bacteria have silently gone on tearing the worn-out and useless to pieces and turning it over in new combination to other forms of life.

THE BLEEDING HOST.

On the artificial cultivation of bacteria and its many curiosities we have not the space to dwell. One interesting reference must suffice. The miracle of the bleeding host has appeared again and again in the hands of the priestly defenders of the faith as a most potent evidence of divine intervention with the affairs of men. The consecrated water placed over night in the moist and bacteria laden air of the church edifice, would in the morning be found besprinkled with bright red drops. What could it be but blood? No human hand could have come near the place, and so what else could be believed but that it was from the hand of God? It was one of those early miracles in which both priest and laymen could alike share in believing with perfect honesty. The divine finger pointed, but to what, it was the office of the priest to say. How many lives were sacrificed and homes destroyed through that most honest of ecclesiastical delusions, the miracle of the bleeding host, it were useless now even to conjecture. "To-day," says Dr. Prudden, "we cultivate in our tubes the tiny bacteria which growing in masses, made the drops of blood, and the last elements of romance and tragedy seem to disappear from the story as we name them—Bacillus prodigiosus."

TUBERCULOSIS.

It is known to-day that consumption or tuberculosis is caused, and caused alone, by exceedingly minute, rod-shaped bacteria, which, in one way or another, gain access to the body. When there, if the conditions are favorable, they tend to grow, and as they do so there form about them little masses of new tissue, which are called tubercles. The most common seat of the disease is the lungs, but it may occur in any part of the body. Not all persons are equally liable to be attacked by tuberculosis. There seems to be a certain condition of the body cells which predisposes to the disease, and this predisposition is in the most marked degree hereditary. We do not know yet in what this predisposition consists. We believe that when the tubercle bacillus gets into the healthy body the cells of the part in which it lodges in some way tend to resist its growth, or afford unfavorable conditions for its development. The temporary hypothesis around which we try to crystallize our accumulating knowledge is that in hereditary predisposition to tuberculosis this inherent resisting capacity of the cells to the incursions of the germs is in some way diminished. This is very indefinite it is true, but it is the best we can do at present. We know that tuberculosis is never caused by any other thing than the tubercle bacillus, and that even in persons predisposed by inheritance or otherwise to the disease it cannot occur unless this particular germ gets into the body from outside. The germ itself has rarely, if ever, been shown to be directly inherited. If, therefore, we could keep this particular germ away from human beings, there would be no more tuberculosis, no matter what the inherent tendencies of the individual might be.

BREATH NOT INFECTIOUS.

One might spread a thick layer of living bacteria of any kind, no matter how infectious, over an exposed surface, and, provided it was kept thoroughly moist, might breathe with impunity the air sweeping in strong currents over it, because the germs always cling most tenaciously to such surfaces. Of course a current of air strong enough to sweep the particles of fluid bodily off from their position would be efficient in spreading the infection. The important point which this statement emphasizes is that the breath of tubercular persons is not infectious; the air itself passing over the moist surfaces of the respiratory passages and the mouth carries no germs. The act of kissing, however, might lend itself most efficiently to the transmission of the infection.

By its mild, soothing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of nasal catarrh, also "cold in the head," coryza, and catarrhal headaches. 50 cents, by druggists. c

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

By Taking

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

The Debate.

The Jolly Bakers.

The bakers of the town held their annual supper at Mr. John Craig's restaurant Wednesday evening. There were about forty present. Mr. Samuel Anglaye occupied the chair, and after the oysters had been disposed of, toasts, speeches and songs filled up the evening's measure of enjoyment.

A Good Workman.

The Hastings Star says.—Mr. John Simons, of Peterborough, passed through here on Thursday of last week, having completed the contract of painting the Catholic church at Wooler. From all we have heard Mr. Simons has reason to be proud of the job just finished, as those familiar with such work say that it is the most artistically executed work to be found between Toronto and Kingston.

Kilrain is Coming.

It is certain sure—the sports say, "y'u may betcher life on it"—that "Jake Kilrain" the bruiser, will be here on the 11th inst. He and his co-teme will draw a big house, but the facts should be made known that Hawley Bros. keep the finest, largest stock of teas and of the best quality in the Midland District. First rate in strength and best rate in price Their coffees are also superb, and their stock of beautiful glassware cannot be surpassed in style and price. Hawley Bros., 378 George street.

Assuming Enormous Proportions.

It would appear that one of our prosperous firms never daunted with keen city competition embarks into direct importation of fine ales, wines and brandies. A full list can be given intending purchasers by calling on W. J. Morrow, 340 Geo. street, or a look through his mammoth wine cellar will convince. He has also purchased from one firm alone a car load of their celebrated ale as well as handling numerous other brands. Parties requiring special brands of fine liquors should call and examine his mammoth stock before placing their order.

A CRUEL hoax on the public defeated by a study of M. R. KIDD'S fine teas. dw

An Unanimous Nomination.

Dr. Rattan, of Napanee, was in town on Wednesday, and received the high compliment of the unanimous nomination of the profession in Peterborough as representative of the Newcastle and Trent division in the Ontario Medical Council. This is a distinction of which the venerable Dr. Rattan is well deserving, by virtue of thirty-seven years of active and successful practice of his profession. He has filled the position of representative in the Council for this district for the past four years, and, having received the suffrages of so large a body as the seventeen medical practitioners of Peterborough, it is not probable that there will be any opposition to his candidature for a second term.

Gifts to the Evangelists.

The Kingston Whig says:—The collections during the evangelistic services reached over $1,500. After the necessary expenses had been met, Revs. Crossley and Hunter were given the net receipts totaling $1,334.28. The gift of $457 Tuesday evening was evidence of the hold the evangelists have upon the people of Kingston. Both men said they loved the people; that they had got them so warmly placed in their hearts that they could never get out.

Retiring From Business.

Mr. John Hackett has unfortunately been compelled, by continued ill-health, to decide upon retirement from business, and he will, so carry out this decision, during the next two months conduct a great clearing sale of his well assorted stock of staple and fancy dry goods. These goods must be sold and the public may rely on getting great bargains in every department. Now is the time for those wishing to get first class winter goods at wholesale cost prices to secure them at Mr. John Hackett's great clearing sale. Sale begins Saturday, 9th Nov. 5d108 1w

A Day for Hunters.

Early Thursday morning small parties of men and boys, ranging in numbers from two to ten, armed with rifles, ammunition and pain killer and followed by one or more dogs, might be seen leaving town in every direction for a day's rabbit-hunt in the wilds of Otonabee, Douro, Smith or Monaghan. Most of the parties had good sport and all report game plentiful. However, had there been as many rabbits as there were hunters the less fortunate ones might have been more lucky. The Winob-O'Brien party bagged sixteen rabbits. A down-town newspaper man went out with a party and took along his thoroughbred pup, with the aid of which he had been telling his friends he intended to exterminate the whole rabbit community. The dog nosed out a hare, bang went the guns and the poor cur, which had never heard the report of a rifle, turned tail and fled home—the hunters following and taking revenge for their disappointment out of all the chipmunks and sparrows they had an opportunity of blazing at.

The Evangelist's Work.

A Kingston despatch says:—Tuesday night Messrs. Crossley and Hunter led the last meeting of the revival campaign and it was a memorable event. The thank offering was a handsome one. The revival has had wonderful success. Over 1 000 converts were made. The evangelists may come back ere long. They feel that if they could have remained longer 2,000 souls would have been touched. The work in the prisons was particularly marked, as nearly one hundred convicts sought religion and many expressed themselves as converted. The evangelists will do more prison work in the future. About 1,000 persons had communion in the Sydenham street church Tuesday morning. Tuesday night after the meeting an immense crowd of people went to the depot to see Messrs. Crossley and Hunter off by train. The following numbers have handed in their names as seekers at Messrs. Crossley and Hunter's meetings:—Episcopalians, 149; Methodists, 561; Presbyterians, 192; Congregationalists, 87; Baptists, 22; unattached, 46; total, 1,057.

"A" Company's Supper.

"Volunteer" sends in the following:—

The complimentary supper given by Capt. Mason to the men of "A" company was held last evening in Harvie's hall. About fifty officers, men and friends sat down to the splendid oyster supper, which was prepared for them by Mrs. Harvie. Drum-Major Billings was unanimously called to the chair, and in his opening remarks related his experience while in the British army. He was listened to with great interest and loudly cheered when he took his seat. The first toast was "The Queen and Royal Family," which was responded to by the company singing the National Anthem. "The Canadian Militia" was next honored, and was responded to by Col.-Sergt. Mason, the company singing "The Maple Leaf Forever." "The Army and Navy of Great Britain" was next on the programme and was replied to by Sergt.-Major Rundle, the company singing "The Red, White and Blue." "The Officers of the 57th Battalion" was the next toast drunk, and it was replied to by Capt. Mason and several officers of the battalion, followed by singing "They are Jolly Good Fellows." The "Nile Voyageurs" was responded to be Private Blade, who was one of the brave voyageurs. The "Mayor and Corporation" was ably replied to by Corp. Bellegheu. Pte. Blade then gave a comic song, which was well received. The "ladies of the town" was heartily toasted and bumpers were well filled (with water) and drunk with gusto. The toast was replied to by Sergt. Smith. Sergt. Major Rundle then gave a comic reading. The toast of the evening, "Our Captain" was then given and was replied to by Capt. Mason, who in rising to his feet amidst cheers thanked the men for the way they had appeared at inspection, and said he felt proud to be captain of such a company. He sat down while the boys sang "For he's a jolly good fellow." "Our guests" was ably responded to by Messrs. McKee and Garbutt. "Our hostess" was the last toast on the programme and was replied to by Corp. Harvie (on behalf of Mrs. Harvie) in a few very appropriate remarks. The Chairman and Sergt. Major Rundle's health was then d unk and the evening was brought to a close, by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem, and by giving three cheers for the Captain The boys went home thinking "Ernie" was a jolly good fellow indeed.

Dedication of St. Andrew's Hall.

St. Andrew's Society in Their New and Cosy Digges' — The Members Feast Their Guests with Right Royal Scottish Hospitality — A Delightful Entertainment.

There was no necessity of going out into the highways and byways to bring in the uninvited to fill St. Andrew's Hall on the evening of Thanksgiving Day. The invited guests must all have been present, for they tested the capacity of the hall to its utmost tension. Had the hall been twice as large there were guests enough to have made it look comfortably filled, with little room to spare. It was really surprising how the people crowded themselves in such a jam, and their patience under the circumstances was very praiseworthy.

Shortly after six o'clock guests commenced to drop in, and by fifteen minutes to seven every inch of room round the refreshment tables was occupied. Two large tables extended down the centre of the hall and at each end were additional tables. On these reposed a most tempting array of edibles, the spread being laid on with excellent skill and taste by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall, confectioners, and their assistants. The bountiful supplies of refreshments, which were entirely of the members of the Society, bore testimony to the unstinted liberality of the donors—for there was an abundance to spare. The haggis—"great Chieftain of the puddin race," —as Burns calls it, was not forgotten. Two haggis, contributed by Mrs. James Hendry, were dished up, reekin' hot, and so savory were the "in bits" that nearly every one present partook of it.

The hall looked well, decked in its dedicatory attire. The indefatigable workers on the committee must have had their ingenuity well taxed to produce the pleasing and effective decorations. The carpeted dais at the head of the hall was festooned with interwoven folds of tartan, with St. Andrew and his cross as a conspicuous centre piece. At the other end of the hall similar tartan effects were displayed with the Royal Arms of Scotland as a centre piece. Both there centre pieces are from the artistic brush of Mr. H. W. Watson, who presented them to the Society in honor of the occasion. Every window was tastefully draped with curtains, the arched space of the room was hung with long draperies and surmounted with the motto "Bonnie Scotland, the Land we Love," while upon the walls were numerous handsomely framed pictures of a Scottish and other appropriate character.

THE BANQUET.

Rev. E. F. Torrance rose and asked a blessing and a thanksgiving prayer on the proceedings, after which an hour was pleasantly spent in enjoying the repast and in social intercourse, until 8 o'clock, the hour for the musical and literary entertainment arrived.

DEDICATORY ADDRESS.

Mr. Charles Cameron, President of the Society, occupied the chair and welcomed his guests to St. Andrew's Hall. He read letters of regret from Mr. C. A. Weller, County Judge and J. R. Stratton, Esq., M.P.P., regretting their inability to be present on the occasion, both gentlemen availing themselves of the opportunity of bestowing words of encouragement and commendation of the Society's charitable work. Mr. Cameron then congratulated the company upon the happy circumstances under which they were gathered together and referred to the recollections which the occasion suggested to him, as to older members of the Society. On St. Andrew's day, 1858, the first celebration in Peterborough was held in what was then known as the "American Hotel," which stood on the site now occupied by the Cox block. This gathering was presided over by the late Mr. John Harvey, of Smith—the first president. Since then many honored men have worthily filled that position, each of whom would have gladly discharged the pleasant duty which fell to him (Mr. Cameron) to-night; but from that time till the present, the sons of Scotland have had one home of their sin. At the annual meeting last year, the question of a new hall where Scotchmen could be permanently settled, being approved of, was referred to a committee, which reported at the next quarterly meeting recommending the present hall. A finishing committee was appointed and nobly had they done their work under their Noble chairman, as all who were present could see for themselves. The Society now had a very comfortable hall, and the committee concluded that Thanksgiving night would be a most appropriate season for the formal dedication. The President referred in terms of praise to the liberality of the Society's landlord, Mr. James Stevenson—reasonable rent and many subsequent acts of substantial kindness, and in the name of the Society, expressed thanks to Mr. Stevenson. Though there were many other matters calling for thanksgiving, he would only mention one, but that one the most important of all—the ladies, who had so liberally and successfully provided the viands, of whose excellent quality they had an opportunity of enjoying. The president, then, by virtue of the power in him vested, as president, and in the name of the St. Andrew's Society of the town and county of Peterborough, dedicated the hall to the principles of brotherly love, works of charity for the relief of brethren, and for social intercourse amongst the members, and expressing the trust that nothing ever, by word or deed, should take place within its walls to tarnish the good name of any of its members, or cast disrespect on that land, which all Scotchmen delighted so much to honor, whether as natives or descendants.

After the applause, which greeted the chairman's neat and timely address, had subsided, the following programme was very acceptably presented. Lack of space prevents our publishing to-day the bard's poem, or detailed reference to the following programme:—

Pianoforte solo—Scottish Airs and "Flowers of the Forest"....Prof. Parker
Song—"Caller Herrin" (encored)....Mrs. Mein
Reading—"Burial March of Dundee"....Mr. Berson Earle
Song—"Bonnie Scotland, I Adore Thee," and for encore "Land o' the Leal"..Miss Sophie Cameron.
Dialogue (in costume)—"Lochiel's Warning"—Messrs. Nugent and Hendry
Address....Rev. A. Bell
Reading—Humorous....Dr. Clarke
Recitation—"Wounded Soldier," and encore, "The Alarm"....Miss Saunders
Song—"Jessie's Dream"....Mrs. Vankvery
Poem....Mr. Wm. Telford
Song—"Scots wha hae"....Mr. J. Hendry
Songs—sung to great applause—"Allister Mc Allister" and "Hame Came our Guid Wife"....Mr. Henry Bowie
Auld Lang Syne....The Company

Every piece on the programme was well received and several encores were demanded. The concluding scene, in which the President and a number of older members of the Society joined hands on the platform and sang "Auld Lang Syne" with great gusto, was a fitting finish to the proceedings. Too much praise cannot be given to the hard working members of the committee who had charge of the various details in connection with the dedication, including the names of Messrs. George Noble, James Hendry, John Patterson, and Thos. Gemmill.

The piano used on the occasion was kindly loaned by Mr. J. W. Crosby, of this town, for which the committee desire to acknowledge their thanks.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, Nov. 8.

Albert Wood and Wm. Sanderson commemorated Thanksgiving Day by getting drunk, and were each fined $5 this morning.

James Carran and Martin Neary appeared before the Magistrate Wednesday afternoon to answer to a charge of fighting. Neary, who was pretty badly cut up, was fined $2 and costs and discharged; but Carran was remanded till this morning, when a fine of $20 and costs, in all $25.50, was imposed and paid.

A sixteen-year-old girl named May Oliver, claiming Lindsay as her home, was sent to the Mercer Reformatory for a year. She has been about a week in town without any visible means of support, and was charged with vagrancy. The girl was neatly dressed and rather prepossessing in appearance.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

At Cavanville.

A tea and entertainment was held in the Cavan Methodist church, Thursday, which was also a gratifying success. Tea was served by the ladies of the church in a vacant store adjoining, and, needless to say, the supper was both substantial and abundant. At the entertainments, Rev. B. Greatrix, pastor, presided. The church was crowded, quite a number being present from Peterborough. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Mr. Bell, Bethany; Rev. W. Burns, Millbrook; Rev. M. L. Pearson, Peterborough. Rev. Mr. Leitch and Mr. A. H. Strike, of Peterborough, gave recitations and readings; choruses were rendered by Frazerville and Cavan choirs; solos were sung by Miss Richardson, of Peterborough, and Miss Gardiner, of Frazerville. A young lady also gave a recitation. A very pleasant evening was spent. The organ used on the occasion was kindly loaned by Mrs. Greatrix.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

This Association will observe the week of prayer for young men throughout the world, beginning Sabbath, Nov. 10th, at 9.30, with a consecration meeting. It is expected that special sermons will be preached in all the churches, as far as practicable by the pastors of our town. At 4 p.m. a mass meeting will take place in the Opera House. Rev. Mr. Manning, B. A., Orillia, and Rev. Mr. Hodson, Belleville, will deliver special addresses to young men. Singing led by Mr. Dingle, organist of the George Street Methodist Church, assisted by the band. Every afternoon during the week, at 3.30 p. m., a meeting for praise and prayer for ladies will be held at the rooms, to be addressed, it is expected, by the pastors; and every week night (except Wednesday) at 8 p. m. for young men, to be addressed by Association workers. Christians, be much in prayer for these meetings.

Through the kindness of Mr. A. V. R. Young, we shall be able to place the Evangelical Churchman in our reading room.

We shall place in the waiting rooms of the C.P.R. and G.T.R. and principal hotels, etc., a neat invitation card and church directory, for use of strangers coming to our town. We thank Messrs. A. G. Mortimer, C. Lawes and C. B. Rooney for this favor.

Ladies' Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. All ladies interested in our work invited.

THE CONFERENCE.

The autumn conference of the Young Men's Christian Association of the Midland district was held at Lindsay Nov. 2nd to 5th. Delegates were present from Toronto, Brooklville, Orillia, Port Hope, Seaboro, Lindsay and Peterborough. The services held Sabbath were well attended and much interest awakened. On Monday the conference proper was opened with devotional exercises, Mr. J. W. Bennet, chairman of district, presiding. After Mr. R. Kennedy, President of Lindsay Association, has given one of his characteristic addresses of welcome, to which Mr. Bennet replied, papers were given by Messrs. T. Gibson, T. S. Cobb, George Meadows and Thos. Ratcliffe, Toronto; F. W. Gooch, Brucksville; A. H. Hamilton, Lindsay, and R. J. Colville, Peterborough, on which there was a full discussion and from which much information was gained. The conference was brought to a close by the anniversary services of the Lindsay Association in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday, which was well attended. We congratulate our sister Association on the success of all the services and heartily thank the friends for their kind hospitality to the visiting delegates.

Another Arrest.

Another arrest, in connection with the fraud case, in Seymour township, has been made. A Havelock constable Wednesday morning brought up to gaol a man named Green, who is charged with the same offence as Albert Dunkeley, whose arrest was mentioned in the EXAMINER the other day. The case is a rather peculiar one. It seems that one Jerome C. Green became agent for a Toronto agricultural implement firm in Seymour township, and took the notes of a large number of farmers for machinery. It is said he swindled his employers out of several hundred dollars and then skipped to the States, leaving the notes in his wife's possession. He instructed her to employ some one to collect the money, and Albert Dunkeley undertook the work. Though warned to desist, he continued and was arrested. Since his incarceration the wife of the absent Green got her brother-in-law, also named Green, to attempt to collect the money for the notes, and he, too, has been arrested. It is said he is also accused of forgery. The time of his trial has not yet been fixed. Dunkeley will be tried Saturday.

The American Grain Market.

The visible supply of wheat increased 1,206,000 bushels the past week, which is less than anticipated, and wheat markets in Chicago and New York were stronger in consequence.

On the curb in Chicago Tuesday at 1.50 p.m. December wheat was quoted at 80½c.

BRANDON, Nov. 5.—Buyers on the street were paying 60c for best wheat. About 6,700 bushels were marketed to-day.

OAWEGO Nov. 5, 11 a.m.—Barley, quiet; sales, 4,000 bush. Canada by samples at 60½c; 10,000 bush. No. 2 extra Canada above grade at 60c; No. 1 Canada nominally 62 to 63c; No. 2 extra Canada at 59 to 60c.

Cheese.

MONTREAL, Nov. 5.—Now that the shipping season is drawing to a close, buyers are more anxious to fill former contracts, consequently the demand has improved on spot, and a fairly active business was transacted, including some round lots of finest September at 10¼ to 10½c. The feeling is steady and prices unchanged. Finest September, 10½ to 10¾c.; finest August, 9½ to 10c.; earlier makes, 8 to 9½c.

How to Lace Your Shoes.

Not one person in a thousand loses his shoes correctly. The correct way is to put your foot, when you are about to lace your shoes as much as possible in the heel of the shoe. You can do this best by lacing your shoes with the heel of your shoe resting in a chair stood leg in front of the one you are seated on. Over the instep the lacing should be drawn as tightly as possible. This will hold your foot back in the shoe, giving the toes freedom and preventing their being cramped. Lace about the ankle to suit your comfort.—New York Truth.

PREMIER MOWAT TALKS

THE LIBERAL MEETING AT SARNIA LAST NIGHT.

The Third Party and the Jesuits' Estates—What Ontario's Premier Thinks of Current Political Themes.

SARNIA, Nov. 9.—A notable event in the course of the campaign in West Lambton to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Pardee was the demonstration here yesterday in honor of the visit of Hon. Oliver Mowat.

Addresses on behalf of the Liberals and Young Liberals of the riding were presented and in reply the Premier said:

I thank you for these addresses. I am quite aware they are far too laudatory in their terms, but they show your good feeling toward me and show also what I should aim to be. It is very important, though this is a bye election, and though one vote more or one will not affect any matter of government, that this election be terminated not only in the election of Mr. Mackenzie, but in his election by a splendid majority.

I know that there is a third party here, but I am told that some of our friends have joined that party. That I cannot understand. I am sure there must have been some mistake that these gentlemen prefer the Third party to the Reform party. Their great principle is said to be truth and righteousness in public affairs. That has been our maxim for the last eighteen years—(cheers)—and we have followed that maxim as well as human imperfection will permit. Had the gentlemen of the Third party been in power I am sure they would not have followed that maxim any better than we have done. There is more in their platform, but every item in their platform that is good and practicable is already in the platform of the Reform party.

The Premier next reviewed the boundary award and the mineral lands cases which he said had secured to the party the confidence of the people. He spoke of the whole course of the Liberals in legislation claiming that it had always been wise and patriotic.

Mr. Mowat said that his opponents in 1883 had tried the "pro-Popery" dodge and in 1886 they made up their minds to try the "anti-Popery" dodge, but failed in both cases to defeat his Government. There have been no additional grievances and no new charges against any legislation or administration since 1886. But the cry is again raised. A certain measure, the Jesuit Estates Act, passed in the Province of Quebec, as you know, has caused a great deal of feeling among Liberal and Conservative Protestants. I am quite aware that the indignation which was manifested among many Protestants was honest indignation. I do not discuss anything except these measures that have to do with the Ontario Government. But the excitement was aroused, and what have our opponents done? They have sought to pervert the excitement which exists against Mr. Mercier so as to make it tell against the Ontario Government, which have had nothing to do with it. Could anything be more dishonest than that? The case is still worse, however, for in their newspapers they say that I devised Mr. Mercier's bill, that it had been passed at my solicitation and by agreement with me. But I need not tell you that I had nothing whatever to do with it and knew no more of it than any of yourselves.

He urged upon his audience to remember the fact that the Canadian people were made up of different races, and pointed out the lesson of toleration and good-will to be drawn from that fact. He excused himself from speaking longer, but said that the facts he had given must convince those who were willing to be convinced that the Government had been faithful to the trust which the people of the country had for so many years committed to their charge.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Dr. Foster Before the Magistrate on a Charge of Murder.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—At the Police Court yesterday afternoon Dr. George Barrett Foster was arraigned on remand charged with having accomplished the murder of Mrs. Nellie Bray, to which on Wednesday he put in a plea of not guilty, through his counsel Mr. N. G. Bigelow. County Crown Attorney Badgerow, who prosecuted, called as the first witness a young woman named Maggie Lawson, who testified that about two years ago she was employed as a domestic in the house of Mrs. Nellie Bray on Gifford street, and one evening Mrs. Bray being taken ill, the prisoner was sent for. He remained with Mrs. Bray about half an hour, and after he left witness found a bottle of medicine, which she administered by the teaspoonful. As Mrs. Bray did not improve Dr. Foster was again called, and on this occasion he remained with his patient for three-quarters of an hour. When witness entered the room after he left she found a fetus in a basin, and acting on instructions she burned it. Dr. Aikens was called afterwards and he found that Mrs. Bray was suffering from blood poisoning. He was called in on Saturday and she died on the following Tuesday.

Mr. Badgerow stated that he had other evidence, but was not then prepared to go on with it, and after a short argument with Mr. Bigelow the Magistrate remanded the prisoner to Monday next.

At the Police Court yesterday Sam Jarvis, brother of the jail breaker now in penitentiary was charged with a series of burglaries. He was remanded until Wednesday when he will be tried along with Wm. Patton on a charge of stealing valises at Whitby.

The Intercollegiate Missionary Alliance yesterday decided to hold its next annual meeting at Woodstock.

A Johnston Liner Wrecked.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8.—A cablegram received here to-day by the agents for the Johnston Line of steamers stated their new vessel, the Queensmore, which left here Oct. 28 with a general cargo, was wrecked on the coast of Ireland and was a total loss. All of the crew were saved. The cargo was valued at $32,000.

The Result in Iowa.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson received the following telegram this afternoon from W. A. Jones, editor of The Iowa State Register at Des Moines:

"Boise elected Governor by 5,000 votes. It is certain that Given, the Republican candidate for Supreme Judge, is elected and as nearly certain as can be decided without an official count that all of the Republican State ticket except Governor are elected. The Legislature has six Republican majority certain and perhaps eight.

We All Have One.

BOTH COLONELS SHOT

FATAL QUARREL BETWEEN TWO KENTUCKY POLITICIANS.

William Cassius Goodloe Kills A. M. Swope and is Himself Mortally Wounded—A Bloody Battle.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 8.—At 1.40 p. m. Col. A. M. Swope was killed by Col. Wm. Cassius Goodloe and the latter was mortally wounded by Swope. The affray occurred in the lobby of the new government building and grew out of the trouble the two men had nearly two years ago. The men met and hot words passed between them when Goodloe drew a bowie knife and slashed Swope frightfully in several places. Swope drew a pistol and shot Goodloe in the abdomen. Both men drew their weapons at the same time.

Goodloe is Internal Revenue Collector for this district and was a member of the National Republican Committee that elected Harrison. He belongs to one of the oldest and best families in the state. Col. Swope was one of Kentucky's most prominent Republicans and was formerly Collector of Internal Revenue for this state.

A BLOODY FIGHT.

The "Leading Citizens" of Brownsburg, Ky., Engage in Mortal Combat.

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 8.—Advices from Brownsburg, a village of 300 people in Rockbridge County, state there is great excitement there to-night over a bloody fight between the leading men of the vicinity. The report says that Dr. P. J. Walker, one of the most prominent physicians and surgeons of the State had threatened the life of Henry Miller, a prominent and wealthy citizen, for insulting the former's wife. Miller had Walker arrested and placed under bonds to keep the peace. This afternoon the case came up in court, and the trouble soon started which ended in both sides drawing weapons. Miller was killed, Dr. Walker fatally wounded, and Mrs. Walker, who was in court as a witness, was killed. Dan and William Miller, sons of the deceased, were shot and dangerously wounded. Samuel Beaver and others whose names were not ascertained are also injured. The sheriff and posse have gone to the scene.

SHUT OFF THE HEAT TO RAISE RATES

Boston's Steam-Heating Monopoly Not Satisfied with Its Profits.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The Boston Steam-Heating Company has suspended operations. It has several miles of underground pipes in the business part of the city, and up to yesterday supplied heat for hundreds of business houses. The authorized capital stock of the company is $1,250,000, the greater portion of which is held by Drexel, Morgan & Co., of New York City, T. N. Vail, the President of the heating company, is also President of the Metropolitan Telephone Company. It is understood that the New York holders of steam-heating stock have declined to advance any more funds until the final outcome of the present trouble is reached. This trouble ostensibly is the disintegration of the largest pipes in Congress street. The real reason, however, is the fact that the company has discovered its inability to supply satisfactory heat at existing rates. The Boston company was incorporated in 1887 as a branch of the National Heating Company of New York.

The general public seems to have no sympathy for the Company in its embarrassment, for forty times since April 1 the Company has ploughed up the streets downtown, trying to stop the inevitable leaks in the conduits, thereby blockading the thoroughfares and delaying traffic until people came to regard this monopoly of a few private individuals as an unmitigated nuisance. Sir John Pender and Sir John Bower Forwood are stockholders.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

Bradstreet's Weekly Review of the State of Trade Business Failures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's report a slightly decreased movement of general trade in staples at most points, although it is noted that the volume still exceeds that at a corresponding time in 1888. Less tendency to stringency is reported in leading financial centres.

Stocks of available wheat in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains, Nov. 2, aggregated 46,947,000 bushels against 26,734,000 bushels Sept. 28, 1889, and as compared with 44,518,000 bushels Nov. 1, 1888. The totals, including both coasts, are 56,317,000 bushels; against 36,248,000 a month ago and 50,454,000 bushels a year ago. Wheat stocks thus exceed those of a like date last year for the first time in 1889.

Unfavorable developments in the trusts and bear attacks on coal shares keep the general stock market in a disturbed condition, though the underlying tone is strong, and advances are made on every opportunity. Bonds are active and speculative rises have been made in a number of active issues. Money on call at New York is easy at 5 to 6 per cent.

Iron and steel remain quite strong, with an upward tendency as to prices. Makers refuse orders for forward delivery at current rates. Domestic sizes of anthracite are quiet, furnace sizes are more active.

Wheat flour has been in steady movement at practically unchanged prices. Wheat is off ½ to ¾ cent on light demand and heavy receipts. Corn on better home and foreign request is up ½ to ¾ cent and oats on limited receipts and offerings are ½ to ¾ cent higher. Hog products declined sharply on increased pressure at the west. Pork fell away 75 cents to $1 per barrel and lard 40 points. Butter and eggs advanced 1 cent each, cheese remaining practically steady. Hogs are lower at the west. Cattle are steady.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 248 in the United States, this week, against 251 last week and 177 this week last year. Canada had 46 this week against 35 last week. The total of failures in the United States, Jan. 1 to date, is 9641 against 8471 in 1888.

Vandals in a Cemetery.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Nov. 8.—The people of this city were greatly shocked this morning to learn that during the night over thirty graves in Mortimer Cemetery had been desecrated by vandals. Tombstones and monuments were torn down, many fences broken and railings rooted up, and thousands of dollars' damages done. The mounds over many graves were literally ploughed up. It was afterward learned however, that no bodies had been stolen. The town was in an uproar, and hundreds of people flocked to the scene of ruin all day. The chief of police believes the perpetrators are Wesleyan College students.

An Exciting Court Scene.

LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 8.—John Booth was to-day convicted in the Supreme Court of the rape of Annie Murphy, 12 years old. When the verdict was read Booth, who was in the dock alone, let forth a wild yell and began dashing his head violently against the iron rails. A panic ensued, women were overcome and men rushed wildly about until three officers, after a desperate struggle, succeeded in securing Booth with irons on his wrists and ankles. When the excitement had subsided the judge sentenced the prisoner to fifteen years in State Prison. Booth's wife fainted and was carried out.

DR. CRONIN'S CLOTHES

DISCOVERED YESTERDAY IN A LAKE VIEW SEWER.

His Papers and Instruments Make the Identification Complete—Iceman O'Sullivan in the Shadow of the Gallows.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The sensation in connection with the Cronin case to-day was the finding of the surgical case and clothes of the murdered physician and the forging of another link in the chain of circumstantial evidence that clanks around the conspirators. For some time complaints have been made to the sewer department of Lakewood station that the sewer at the intersection of Evanston and Buena avenues was flush and running over. To-day two or three sewer cleaners were detailed to investigate the trouble. The cover was removed from the manhole in the centre of the street and with long poles the workmen prodded among the rubbish beneath the water. Finally a solid substance was encountered and the workmen then realized that something more than slush at deposit was causing the trouble.

After some hooking and digging two valises were unearthed. One a leather one and the other the remnants of a paper one. In the leather valise was found Dr. Cronin's prescription book with several prescriptions bearing his signature. The paper one decomposed to pieces as it was pulled out and from it rolled a mass of tattered clothing that bore evidence of having been cut in strips with a knife. The only intact garment was the vest which was in the centre, and which encircled the doctor's case of surgical instruments. The clothing had evidently been cut and buttons removed in the hope that they would the sooner drop apart and be borne away by the water into the lake.

The surgical case and prescription book bore the doctors name and they as well as every article of outward clothing were recognized by the Conklins and a dozen other friends as the property of the murdered physician. The most damning of all circumstances for the prisoners is the fact that all this was found only one block from the spot where the bloody trunk was discovered after it had been thrown from the wagon on the night of May 4, or only half a mile south of where the body of Dr. Cronin was found in the catch basin.

The paper valise is supposed to have been the one purchased by "J. B. Simmonds" from A. H. Revel & Co., and a clerk from that establishment will endeavor to identify the remnants.

A tragic event which occurred just in front of the courthouse while everybody was examining these articles caused the widest excitement. A shot was heard just at the entrance of Judge McConnell's court. The State's Attorney and a dozen lawyers and reporters rushed from the States Attorney's office into the street. Stretched lengthwise on the sidewalk was a strong man with a smoking revolver in his hand and his brains oozing from his skull. He was quite dead, and as no one could identify him it was at once presumed that his tragic death had some mysterious connection with the sensational discoveries of the day. After an hour's investigation by the State's officers, however it was ascertained that his name was Edward Rhem, and that he had been for some time partially insane. He doubtless committed suicide while laboring under mental aberration.

In the Cronin trial to-day Police Captain Schuettler and Wing and several others gave testimony which contained nothing new of importance.

Wm. Nieman, who at the time of the murder kept a saloon not far from the Carlson cottage, then testified that O'Sullivan entered his saloon between 10 and 11 o'clock on the night of the murder. He was accompanied by the men. The witness was reluctant to say whether either of the two was one of the defendants in this case but finally said he thought Coughlin was one of the men. The other could not speak English plainly, he had a slight German accent. Witness thought this was Kunze. The three stood closely together and talked in undertones for twenty minutes.

BARNUM BANQUETTED.

The Great and Only Lionized in London—Cable Notes.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A banquet was given to P. T. Barnum this evening. Lord Kilmorey presided. Among those present were Lord Randolph Churchill, Lord Charles Beresford, Lord Rosebery, the Rothchilds and the secretaries of the United States Legation. Mr. Gladstone and Lord Aberdeen sent letters of regret.

Herbert Spencer on the Land Question.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Herbert Spencer, in a letter to The Times which he intends to be explanatory of his attitude on the land question, says that he has no positive opinion as to what may occur, because he cannot see any way of reconciling the ethical requirements of the question with the political economical requirements. The scheme of nationalization of land by compensating the landlords would, as he says, entail, in capital and interest, an outlay of money fully equal to the amount which is now paid in the shape of rents; while he has no reason to think that the substituted form of administration would be an improvement upon the existing form. "It is a very wild belief," writes Prof. Spencer, "that the land would be better managed by public officials than by private owners. What the remote future may bring forth it is impossible to say, but with a humanity anything like that which we now know, the implied reorganization would be disastrous."

They Will Insist.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Conservative committee of Birmingham to-day discussed the attitude of the Conservatives toward the Liberal-Unionists and decided to insist upon larger representation.

Uncle Sam Is Relentless.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 8.—The defalcation of Gen. E. H. Van Hoesen, late cashier of the Toledo National Bank, amounts to about $125,000, instead of $38,000 as reported yesterday. The money was all sunk in the Burlington and Ohio Railroad scheme, which never went through. McKee, formerly teller of the same bank, who was implicated with Gen. Van Hoesen, was not able to procure $70,000 bail and is now in prison. The bank directors are not taking a hand in the prosecution, as the amount taken was made up by Van Hoesen's relatives, when the matter was discovered a year ago, but Bank Examiner Sullivan is pushing the case on the part of the relentless Government.

AT LAST!

A Wonderful Vegetable Discovery That Removes the Terrible Results of Overwork.

A True Invigorator.

Weakness and prostration of the nervous system surely follow that overwork and worry which brings sorrow and suffering to so many Canadian homes. The terrible results of nervous weakness, are seen on every hand. Pains in the back, poor and unrefreshing sleep, lack of appetite dyspepsia, and lost energy and strength, are the first symptoms of more serious and danger. ous trouble. This is the way that Paralysis, Paresis and Insanity begin. Do not delay a moment longer, for some time it will be too late to regain your lost health and vitality. Use Paine's Celery Compound now, and the dull eyes will regain their brilliancy, the cheeks will grow rosy, the brain become clear, the nerves strong and steady, your sleep restful and refreshing, appetite good, and health and happiness will take the place of misery and suffering.

A. Sabiston, the well known lithographer of Montreal, writes: "In the summer of 1888 I had to work very hard, and was troubled considerably with insomnia (sleeplessness). I resolved to try your Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking the contents of two bottles, felt like a new man. A good night's rest gave me strength for the duties of the day, and instead of starting out to business in the morning feeling as if I had completed a day's work instead of being about to commence one I started out in good spirits, feeling fresh and strong. My wife and various friends, to whom I recommended the medicine, have been benefited greatly, and in fact 'Paine's Celery Compound is a household word in our family."

The Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1889.

THE SECOND AND THE LAST CHANCE.

Sermon By Layman.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

People seldom think of the effect of the first failure upon a man's life. As time once past never returns, so an opportunity once lost is often lost forever. A man may by energy and patience and perseverance recover himself a second time, but he will not do so a third time. There may now and then, at long intervals be an exception so this, but it is the exception which proves the rule, that a man may have two chances to succeed in life, but he will not have a third. People don't think of this and they seem to imagine that, no matter how often they fail, they can always begin and succeed again. But when they try they discover their error. If they would but realize this fact they would save themselves a great deal of disappointment and trouble. They have only to look around and they will see abundant evidence of this. But experience seldom teaches wisdom and impulse often governs when serious reflection and sound judgment would teach them to do differently. They imagine they can succeed when others fail. Ambition and hope cannot always bring success. There must be something more, patience and economy and perseverance can alone take a man successfully through this world, and with these he may do almost anything. How many people have begun life under the most favourable circumstances and could have done well had they pursued the right course. But they did not do so and they failed and then began again. But they soon found out that things were then very different, and that numerous difficulties presented themselves which they had never anticipated. And they discovered that they themselves did not possess the same energy and ambition which they had before. And that others had lost confidence in them. They, as fast, accepted a lower position than they did before and that it would take long years of labor, and self denial to enable things to recover their lost ground. Some, after a first failure, lose courage and give up in despair—while some abandon themselves to

A LIFE OF DISSIPATION AND MISERY.

If such is the consequence of a first failure, what must be the effect of a second failure? When it comes, all ambitions and hope may be said to be gone. A man, under such circumstances, will seldom try again, and if he does try his efforts are so uncertain and weak that it would be a miracle if he succeeds; and if he does try he does so with a consciousness that he is under a cloud and that the world has very little sympathy for him, and he feels as if his last chance was gone. He may go to another place and there begin again, but he is discouraged and feels that his further efforts will be a failure. His life will be well past, and with broken hopes and weakened energies and health, the most he can expect to do is to barely support himself and his family. And they soon discover that they are not treated as they were before. Why are there so many failures and why do not people succeed better? This is an important question, and it should be seriously considered and answered. If this were done surely, it might save many persons from trouble and loss. A young man once sought and obtained a good situation, where he was respected and trusted. In a short time he formed questionable acquaintances, which he should have avoided, and his employer was not long in discovering that he was not the same quick, steady person he was before. His confidence in him began to fail and after a time the young man was discharged. Thus was his first chance gone. He found it difficult to obtain another good situation, and difficult to correct his bad habits or to throw off his bad companions. He soon grew worse and finally went to the bad altogether. Of course he blamed everybody but himself. He said the world owed him a living and he would have it, if not in one way, then in another. Needless to say, he lost his second chance of success, and lost it through his own fault. Again—a promising young man began business under the most favourable auspices. He was clever and was respected, and his hopes of success were of the most encouraging kind. He married early and set up an expensive establishment beyond his means of support. His wife was thoughtless and giddy and imagined that there would always be prosperity and happiness. And so their expenses went on increasing; a few years passed away and their household was broken up and the husband and wife became separated. Disappointment and difficulties beset their path, and their future way seemed dark and dreary. In time, however, a second chance presented itself, which his friends enabled him to lay hold of, and he had a fine prospect of success But he found that he was getting old and that he was not making money fast enough, and so he became discontented and instituted another change. He was going to throw away his second and last chance and try for a third. He would not listen to reason or the advice of his friends, but thought he knew best what to do. And his wife discouraged him in his folly. He made the change, and when too late, he discovered that his third chance was gone. He was an old man now, though not a wiser one, and his family became discontented and at last left and went out

TO SEEK HOMES FOR THEMSELVES.

The man was among strangers and was without means, and he knew not what to do. He and his wife looked back to the place they had left, and wished they had been contented there and remained. There haste after riches had been their ruin. They could not let well enough alone. They had asked their and last chance and it was given. They felt then that a slow and sure life was better than a fast but uncertain one. Their future was a dark and dreary one and their lives were full of unhappiness and trouble—and all this through their own discontent and their own shortsightedness and folly. A young man with bright prospects and with every encouragement to success. He did exceedingly well for a time, but he could not stand prosperity. He married and began a course of folly and extravagance. He laid up nothing for a rainy day, but wasted as he went along. By and by things began to change for the worse, but still he took no warning, for he went on as before. All first and last chance was gone. His friends deserted him, his creditors took what he had and his career was ended. Hard times and troubles came and he was left to take care of himself as best he could and to think over his follies. After a time a second chance came and he did well as before. But he had not learned to profit by the past, and he went on as before. While prosperity lasted he continued his career of extravagance and with the same result as before. His years had increased and his active life was over, and now the dark clouds began to gather around him and he looked back upon himself and saw his mistakes and he wished he had done better. No third chance came, but he thought he could again begin and again succeed. But he was mistaken. His active days were over and he found he could not go out into the world again and successfully compete with younger and more hopeful men. Then it was that he fully realized his folly and wished that he had been content with letting well enough alone, and had taken the advice which was given him. There was another man who threw away his first and second chances and never had another. His time to fight the world was over and he had to be content with what he before acquired. He lost courage and hopes and he did what many another had done before him, he took to drink and thus made his situation worse. His years were now full of sorrow and trouble. He lost the respect of his fellowmen, and he soon dropped out of view and was gone. And here are hundreds and thousands of such cases and yet people take no warning, and they go on the same way. They have no one to blame but themselves and perhaps if they had another chance they would throw it away in the same manner. The world is thus full of disappointment, and sorrow, and misery, but the world is not to blame. If people would only learn to live temperately and carefully, and savingly, and learn to be content there would be prosperity, and peace, and happiness where there is trouble and discontentment. To show how people can be deceived and led to go to new places, I will mention shortly two instances. One is that of

STARTED OUT IN BUSINESS

who got discontented and went off south to look about for a place. The inhabitants paid him great attention and induced him to buy and settle there. He shortly discovered his mistake. Those who paid him so much attention went about their own business and left him to take care of himself. He got discontented and soon returned home again, which he said he would not leave again. He had discovered that it was not all gold that glitters. The other was that of a man in similar circumstances who went west and received similar attentions until he had purchased and settled down, was also left to himself. He also found out his mistake and returned to his former home again a wiser and more contented man. He learned the lesson which he ought to have known before, that everybody has enough to do to mind his own business, and that people are always ready to praise up their own place and be polite to strangers, and tell them they will do well to come there. It is verifying the old saying that a new broom sweeps clean but the old one knows the corners best. And the old home is the best also. A legal gentleman many years ago, lived in a small town, and was doing fairly well. The town and country around were comparatively new, and in the nature of things must increase in population and prosperity. He got discontented and threw up his first chance of success and removed to another town where he thought he would do better. He failed in his expectations, and he moved away to another town. His second chance was now gone. His third chance was a miserable failure and he ended by becoming a book agent and his family had to live on the bounty of their friends. He became discouraged and took to drink and died, and his family were thrown upon the world to get along as best they could A medical man, a friend of the former, lived in the same town, and he, too, got the fever for a change, and was only prevented from doing so by others, who strongly advised him to remain where he was. He was doing fairly well there. He took the advice given him and remained. As the town and country increased, his business increased also. He took care of his earnings and put them to good use, and in after years, when his most active years were over, he was a comparatively wealthy man and was able to live in ease and comfort. He held on to his first chance and he succeeded. Had he thrown away that chance, he would assuredly have shared the fate of his friend and become poor also. Prosperity is not gained in a day. It must depend upon and grow up with the growth and

and if the country is good, it surely must prosper and increase. Every thing in nature is of slow growth. There is no forcing the growth of a country or of individuals Every thing must take its course; but when a certain stage in this growth is reached, events then transpire with greater rapidity, and it is wonderful how fast and unexpectedly prosperity follows after. And the man who is slow and sure, and who waits and who saves and provides for the change, will see his good sense and patience and his savings rewarded, and in his old age he can set down under his own vine and fig tree and enjoy the reward of his care and forethought and his honest labours. Youth is the time for action and for savings, and old age is the time for peace and quiet enjoyment and happiness. Work and save then while it is day, for the night cometh when no man can work. Hold on to the first chance if you can; but if you lose the second chance you are lost forever. The clouds may look dark, but in time they will disappear to be succeeded by sunshine and prosperity. The world was not made in in a day, and men cannot get rich in a day. Seed sown by the wayside will, in time, grow and produce fruit. And the wise and the good man who obeys the wise laws of his Creator and who has patience to wait and who follows nature will have plenty and peace. Solomon said, "Once I was young but now am I old, yet have I never seen the righteous forsaken nor his seed begging bread?" There is plenty in this world for all, and those who will may have it. But they must remember that they cannot have their cake and eat it too. They must

and if they but do right, a kind Providence will help them. But Providence only helps them who help themselves. Cromwell told his soldiers in going into battle, to trust in Providence, but to keep their powder dry. And so it is with others. They must trust in Providence, but they must work and reap and save. If the thousands of young men and women would but follow this rule, how much disappointment and sorrow and misery would they avoid, and how much comfort and peace and happiness would they enjoy. They must be content with small things at first, putting one brick upon another until the house is built. And they must avoid pride and extravagance and vain things as they would avoid a pestilence, and they will have the reward of their own conscience, and they will have the praise and respect of others, and their children will grow up and call them blessed.

It was once supposed that scrofula could not be eradicated from the system; but the marvelous results produced by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla disprove this theory. The reason is this medicine is the most powerful blood-purifier ever discovered.

An Awful Sore Limb

Skin Entirely Gone. Flesh a mass of disease. Leg Diminished one third in size. Condition hopeless Cured by Cuticura Remedies in two months.

Cured by Cuticura.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It diminished about one third the size of the other and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars from which I got no relief whatever. I was persuaded to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES and the result was as follows:—After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

A Doctor Charged with Murder—The Military Review.

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—Quite a sensation was caused by the arrest of Dr. George Barret Foster, 133 Church street, upon the serious charge of having committed an abortion upon Mrs. Nellie Bray, who died in Toronto in October 1887. At that time there were some insinuating rumors afloat. The matter never came to anything, and in a measure was forgotten until Private Detective Wasson of the Medical College, heard of the affair, and three weeks ago took the matter in hand with the result that Dr. Foster is now behind the bars. The deceased was the wife of Mr. George Bray, well known in Simcoe and Collingwood, where he was employed for some months as a journeyman jeweller and was much respected. Mr. Bray left Collingwood about ten years ago and came to Toronto, where he met Miss Torrington. They were married a few months later, and when Mrs. Bray died she left one child to comfort his affliction. Friends of Mr. Bray state that at the time of his wife's death he had no suspicion that it had been produced by an abortion, and that even now he believes the charge against Foster to be false. The prisoner appeared before the police magistrate for the preliminary examination, and was defended by Mr. N. C. Bigelow. He was arraigned on a charge of murder, pleaded not guilty and was remanded without bail. Mr. Bigelow says the whole thing is a piece of spite work directed against Foster, who is an American, a licensed practitioner in his own country, and about to take his degree in Canada.

The accident at Hamilton delayed the Dufferin Rifles 24 hours yesterday, so that the sham battle did not begin until after 1 o'clock. Thirty thousand people swarmed in High Park to witness the engagement, which was participated in by the Royal Grenadiers, 263 strong; the 13th Battalion of Hamilton, 303 men; "C" Co., School of Infantry, 68 men, supported by two guns from the Field Battery, for the defence, and the Q. O. R., 590 men, the Dufferin Rifles, 264, with two guns of the Field Battery as the attacking force. Major-Gen. Sir Fred Middleton was the umpire-in-chief, and among the spectators was Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia. Both Sir Adolphe and the General in brief addresses paid the troops high compliments.

HIGH JUMPING BY HORSES.

Roseberry Beats the World's Record a Chicago Yesterday.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—At the American horse show last night in the presence of 12,000 people, the world's record was broken by one and one-eighth inches, making the total jump 6 feet 10¼ inches by Ontario, owned by S. S. Howland of Mount Morris, N. Y., and by Roseberry, owned by Moorhouse & Pepper of Toronto, Ont. Each horse won the special purse of $500 as the contest was declared a tie. Saturday night a purse of $1000 will be given to the final winner.

Racing in England.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—At the Liverpool autumn meeting yesterday the race for the Liverpool Steward's Cup was won by Abington's Juggler, Monorieff's Seesaw 2 and Cleveland's Albertus 3.

The Grand Sefton Steeplechase was won by Fulton's Battle Royal, Abington's Balloon 2 and Fraser's Alexander 3.

The Players Sign Contracts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—At 2.15 p. m. the ball-players' convention took a recess after having been in session four hours. John Morrill announced that the contract form had been agreed upon and players signed for three years satisfactory to both capitalists and players. The contract was the old form with the exception that the reserve claim was struck out and the term of service provided for from one to three years.

Last evening the Brotherhood adjourned without completing the work of formation of a new league. It is learned that at yesterday's meeting the form of contract was adopted and that the term of service contracted for will be three years. No copy of the form could be secured by the reporters, who were informed that the document had been sent to the printers. The "reserve" feature of the old league contract is omitted from the new form. It was also decided that each club should be ran on its own basis and that no club should be responsible for the losses of another. The division of gate receipts is to be upon a basis of fifty per cent. of the gate and grand stand receipts to each club, thus giving the home and visiting club an equal share in the receipts of each game.

A prize fund of $20,000 is to be raised by an assessment of $2500 on each club. Of this fund $7,000 is to go to the club winning the championship, the balance to be divided into prizes for the other clubs according to their relative positions in the championship race. John M. Ward was elected temporary secretary in place of John Morrill, who said that he would be unable to attend to the duties. The new secretary is authorized to receive proposals for base ball supplies. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and arrange all the preliminaries of a permanent organization. One of the things that occurred in the convention and was kept very secret was a dispute over an attempt to elect a permanent secretary. Harry Wright of Philadelphia and Frank Brunell of The Chicago Tribune were the candidates. The result of the vote was 9 to 5 in favor of Mr. Brunell. It was understood, however, that the legal advisers present were of the opinion that the election of officers before the adoption of a constitution was illegal and the vote was then declared off.

The Labrador Fisheries.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—The failure of the Labrador fisheries and the destitution of the fishermen are attributed principally to the inroads of American and French fishermen, who used trap nets and other engines for the wholesale destruction of the fish. It has been stated that during the past season vessels from Gloucester swept these shores, getting full cargoes, and absolutely treating the three-mile limit with contempt. The officials of the Fisheries Department here state that the Government are enquiring into the matter, it having been brought to their knowledge by the Quebec Board of Trade. No information could be given

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

By Taking

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after years of the positive cure of such disease had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the inflamated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the wholesystem. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

Obituary.

The EXAMINER records with great regret the death on Friday evening, of Miss Mary Tierney, daughter of the late William Tierney. The deceased young lady, was possessed of many social graces, and the closing of her young life of so great promise at the early age of twenty-one years is a sad commentary on the uncertainty of human life and human hopes and a deep source of grief and regret to her relatives and friends. Miss Tierney enjoyed, not only the respect and affection of her large circle of personal friends for her many amiable qualities, but the general respect of the community in which she moved. The funeral takes place from the family residence, 195 Charlotte street, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Assuming Mammoth Proportions.

It would appear that one of our prosperous firms never daunted with keen city competition embarks into direct importation of fine ales, wines and brandies. A full list can be given intending purchasers by calling on W. J. MORROW, 340 Geo. street, or a look through his mammoth wine cellar will convince. He has also purchased from one firm alone a car load of their celebrated ale as well as handling numerous other brands. Parties requiring special brands of fine liquors should call and examine his mammoth stock before placing their order.

It is certain sure—the sports say, "y'u may betcher life on it"—that "Jake Kilrain" the bruiser, will be here on the 11th inst. He and his co-teams will draw a big house, but the facts should be made known that Hawley Bros. keep the finest, largest stock of teas and of the best quality in the Midland District. First rate in strength and best rate in price. Their coffees are also superb, and their stock of beautiful glassware cannot be surpassed in style and price. Hawley Bros., 378 George street.

A Move in the Right Direction.

The Secretary of the Peterborough Central Exhibition has issued the following circular invitation:—

PETERBOROUGH, Nov. 8th, 1889.

DEAR SIR.—The Directors of the Agricultural Society would be pleased to meet the members of the Town Council and other citizens in the Council Chamber at 2 o'clock p.m., on Tuesday, November 12, to consider the affairs of the Central Exhibition, and the advisability of forming a joint-stock company, and would be pleased to have you attend.

WILLIAM COLLINS,
Secretary.

This seems to be a move in the right direction. In other places exhibitions conducted by a joint stock company have not only been great successes as exhibitions, but also good financial investments, returning good dividends to stockholders. The great success of the Industrial Exhibition, Toronto, is largely due to the active and general co-operation of business men and the citizens generally. It is certainly of the most important interest to the town that the citizens generally should give their hearty co-operation.

Lindsay's Position.

The Lindsay Post has the following:—"The Uxbridge Times has an exaggerated paragraph about the foundationless rumor that the G.T.R. workshops were to be removed from Lindsay. That was corrected two weeks ago in the Post, our authority being Mr. Wainwright. One machine not required at Lindsay because there were two others of the same kind was removed to Allandale, where the G.T.R. is about to establish repair shops for the northern system, the heavier work to be done at Toronto. Lindsay is the centre of the Midland system, and the works here will grow considerably each year. The present business needs an enlargement to double present size, but that convenience will have to wait another year. The extension of the Victoria to the Mattawa next year would necessitate the employment of three times as many men here. A few men have been temporarily removed from Uxbridge to Peterborough, but they are to come to Lindsay next summer. In fact Lindsay is the headquarters—the hub—of the system, and it does by far the biggest business." Hear, hear. There's egotistical pride for you. It is just the kind, too, which the old saw says "goeth before a fall."

A Mouse Hunt.

Now that the long nights have come, inside amusements demand the attention of everybody; but the youngsters will be delighted to learn of a new form of amusement which is no end of fun. Mrs. Seward, Aylmer street, wishing to celebrate the fourth birthday of her daughter Lulu, originated the mouse hunt. Between thirty and forty cotemporaneous little youngsters were invited. Each was provided with a cap made of canton flannel, with ears, the whole head-piece imitating a cat's head. Breakable articles were removed, and under articles of furniture and in every imaginable place chocolate mice were concealed. At a given signal the pack was let loose, and every cat made a plunge for the mice, each setting up a deafening mewing and caterwauling. Imagination can only depict the uproarious row and furious fun that followed. The children were wild with delight, and for a short time pandemonium was let loose, and the attack did not cease till every mouse was caught and the house cleared of its diminutive rodents. After this the usual childish amusements, tinctured with mouse, including Quaker dances, etc., devouring nuts, cakes and sweets, were indulged in. From four to eight o'clock, there was never a happier score or two of children than those which participated in the mouse hunt. Here is a pointer to those who wish to entertain their juvenile guests.

The Balance Found Wanting.

Thomas Moncrief, an Emily farmer, was charged in the police court this morning with having refused to produce for inspection the scales with which he weighed the butter he sold on the market. The case has been hanging over since last May. The inspectors have the right to demand farmers selling produce by weight on the market square, to produce their scales for inspection. Last May Mr. Moncrief and a dozen others were notified by Inspector Irwin, of Lindsay, and all complied except the defendant in this case. Being pressed, he afterwards brought in a new pair of scales for the official test. An action was entered against him by Mr. Wm. Johnson, of Belleville, District Inspector, and the case came up in court this morning. Mr. Diamond, of Belleville, was counsel for the prosecution. The defendant appeared in court with the scales he had been using all along. It was a home-made instrument of primitive build. There was the upright post, set in a foot rest, and swinging on a pivot at the top a cross-bar from the ends of which were suspended by strings from each corner small platforms, one for the weights and the other for the butter. The balance was not exact, the butter side hanging considerably lower than the other, no doubt caused by the grease from the butter being absorbed into the block. The whole instrument was made of wood, and evidently the worse of wear. The weights need were also light, but the defendant was not prosecuted on that charge, simply for refusing to comply with the demand of the Government officer. He acknowledged the offence and was fined $5 and costs. This money goes to the Government. Mr. Diamond explained that they only wished to make an example to deter other farmers from acting likewise. The wooden scales were confiscated.

Dunkeley Discharged.

The trial of Albert Dunkeley, of Seymour township, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, took place at the court house this morning before His Honor Judge Weller. Mr R. E. Wood, C.C.A., conducted the prosecution, and Mr. John Burnham defended the prisoner. The amount involved was $6, the value of a note made by one Hubbell to J. C. Green. It seems that for a few years past Green has been representing the Patterson Bros., implement manufacturers, in Seymour township, but on the 17th of October last he was arrested at the instance of the Patterson Bros. on a charge of embezzlement. Two days later he escaped from the custody of the police and reached the other side of the lines. Before leaving the country he gave the note in question to Dunkeley in payment of an account. The note was made out in Green's name, but the prosecution claimed that it was Patterson Bros' property. The defence contended that there was nothing to show it had been taken in payment for an agricultural implement, as Green was agent for other organs and wagon firms besides. His Honor held this view also and discharged the prisoner. The case is a complicated one. Mrs. Green, wife of the defaulter, was arrested a few days ago but released upon handing over the notes left in her possession by her husband. Later on a brother in-law of hers was arrested in the same connection. He will be tried here the 19th.

The consciousness of having a remedy at hand for croup, pneumonia, sore throat, and sudden colds, is very consoling to a parent. With a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house one feels, in such cases, a sense of security nothing else can give.

A Complicated Case.

At the Cobourg assizes this week the case of Gordon vs. Proctor et al was tried. The World says of the case:—This is one of the interminable actions arising out of a contract made between Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon, of Cartwright, and the Learys of Peterborough, that the latter should bore a well for her. The Learys originally sued Mrs. Gordon for the price of their work, and won. The verdict was set aside by the Divisional Court. The action again came down for trial and the Learys again recovered a verdict for $50 and costs which was unsuccessfully moved against. When the Learys seized the goods supposed to belong to Mrs. Gordon, it was found that Mr. W. T. Fish had a chattel mortgage on the goods and a second mortgage on the land, both given by Jas. Gordon to whom his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon, had shortly before transferred them. An interpleader issue was directed and came down for trial at the Chancery sitting in Oct., 1888, but was settled between the parties before trial. After the settlement, the Learys seized and sold a large quantity of the goods, and were sued by John Brewster, of Haldimand, because they sold some of his property with the rest, although notified of his claim. Mr. Brewster recovered a verdict last spring for the amount of his claim and costs. The present plaintiff, James Gordon, claimed the other goods and the sheriff applied for an interpleader order, directing an issue to be tried between the Learys and Gordon, but it was refused. The sheriff was then directed by the Learys and their solicitor, Mr. Edmison, to go on and sell. He did so and then Jas. Gordon sued him, his bailiff, the Learys and Mr. Edmison. In addition, the Learys have also brought another action against one of the Gordons. The case was finished Thursday, His Honor Judge McMahon reserving judgment. Mr. R. Clute for Jas. Gordon; Messrs. E. B. Osler, Q. C., and J. W. Kerr for the sheriff and bailiff; Mr. G. H. Watson for two of the Learys, and Mr. W. R. Riddell for Mr. Edmison and Chris. Leary.

Lines on the Dedication of the First St. Andrew's Hall in Peterborough November 7th, 1889.

Why all this mirth and pleasure in this place—
Scots wives and daughters showing smiling face?
No signs of sadness, grief or worldly care,
Both young and old a happy visage wear.
I do not wonder why such joy you show,
This grand event should have been long ago
This scene to-night is obvious to you all—
To dedicate our first St Andrew's Hall—
Thirty one years, if I am right informed,
Since your Society in this town was formed
Through all those years you seemed like wandering Jews
You owned no place—to meet in when you chose.

One friendly Scot to him your thanks are due
His office room was always free for you
But for his kindness, you are all aware,
You might have met upon the market square
In summer's sun or winter's frost and snows
You might have stood, with frost bit ears and nose,
Your business meetings must have been a dread;
Like wanderers cravings—shelter for your head.
Pity aroused some one true large hearted Scots,
Cash, time, and labour they regarded not,
Thanks they deserve—through them you did obtain
This come biggin you can ca' yer ain.

I too, feel proud, my heart swells with delight
While I stand on the Stockholmes's floor to-night
How great the change compared with years that's gone
To night we meet to call this place our own.
Our good Society only had a name.
No place to meet when time for business came.
Now I can muse with independent strain,
And you can sing in this house a' yer ain.

Old griefs are past with brighter times in store;
This room is yours, the key hangs by the door.
Think on that land and race you have sprung from,
Meet here is love, make this a Scottish home;
We cannot place you by the auld fireside
Where some of you oft sat in youthful pride.
Here is a store, papers and dominoes—
Your cuttie draw—read, play or toast your toes.
If women's smiles can make a home so dear
Surely their presence would give pleasure here,
Your week day meetings greasy would extend
If you would coax the ladies to attend.
Don't leave them pouting, simmering wrath to scold.

While in this hall you social gathering hold.
Give them your aim, to swell the female throng,
To lend their smiles or cheer us with their song.

My brither Scots, I hope this new hall will
In each Scot's heart a warmer love instil.
The old excuse—you have no place to meet—
Is past. To-night you have a hall complete;
Gather each week and crowd it every part,
Mingle in friendship join wits hand and heart;
Use all your influence, dinna come yer lane,
Bring a' yer friends to this house o' yer ain.

Canadian Scots, one word to you, likewise,
Break not your parents' old endearing ties,
But as the old stocks wither and decay
Fill up their places as they pass away.
Gather, yes gather, and weekly crowd this hall,
Home and old memories frequently recall
Of heath'r ling, broom and the lady farns,
And scamper round like auld Jock Tamson's bairns.

To the Public.

Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called cheap cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cable," "El Padre" "Mungo," and "Madre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most skeptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. ms

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose them made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND

LORD SALISBURY'S SPEECH AT THE GUILD HALL MEETING

All Difficulties in Europe, the Premier Declares, Tending toward a Peaceful Solution—Lord Mayor's Day.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—At a meeting in the Guildhall Saturday Lord Salisbury delivered an address in which he congratulated the country upon the splendid expansion of its trade. The good peace between labor and capital, he said, was gratifying, and he warned the labor agitators that they undertook a grave responsibility. He was glad to be able to affirm that Ireland was progressing. Prosperity was increasing in that country, disorder was vanishing, and there was every prospect of a permanent settlement of the burning questions between the two countries. No member of the Government indulged in wild theories of Home Rule, but were ready with a practical policy which would satisfy the country. Referring to Egypt, Lord Salisbury said the policy of the Government remained unchanged, and it would enable that country to protect herself against all attacks which at present she was unable to do without British assistance. The difficulties in Europe, he declared, appeared to be tending toward a peaceful solution. All the great powers are desirous of avoiding conflict. In speaking of labor matters, Lord Salisbury said employers and everybody having to do with trade disputes should remember that caution was necessary as any imprudence might jeopardize great interests. Lord Salisbury declared that it was the wildest legend that the Government had the faintest intention to alter its Irish policy. Regarding Africa he said the affairs of the country were more interesting now than European matters. England was not behind other nations in their generous rivalry to promote the civilization of Africa. The Anti Slavery Congress at Brussels would form an epoch marking the great progress of European opinion on that subject. He expressed obligations to the Sultan of Zanzibar for the latter's decree relating to the freedom of his subjects.

The Lord Mayor's show was a complete success, and Sir Henry Isaacs may congratulate himself that the ceremony of his induction into office included the grandest pageant that London has seen on a Lord Mayor's Day in recent years. Beside the magnificence of the parade, another remarkable feature of the occasion was the small number of street rows which occurred as compared with the number ordinarily attending the event, though one of those that did occur promised at one stage to reach dangerous proportions. While the parade was in progress a procession of unemployed workingmen about 500 strong marched through the Strand, flaunting rudely-designed banners, singing and cheering. As the crowd neared Trafalgar Square, hundreds meanwhile having joined their ranks, the police made a determined attempt to disperse them and a hot fight ensued, but the police were victorious, and soon the mob lost its compactness and oozed out of the main highway through the numerous tributary streets, leaving no trace of its having existed except a few broken heads, of which the police had their share. The night decorations were brilliant and handsome, and the streets were filled as usual on Lord Mayor's Night, with drunken men and women, but the disorderly acts were confined to singing and yelling.

In political circles the opinion is general that the Government will occupy the time of the next session of Parliament with Irish legislation. This program will not, however, be allowed uninterrupted progress, for the Liberals are resolved to take advantage of the earliest opportunity arising to agitate the abolition of the duty on tea, and the number of motions to be introduced having that end in view promises to be exceedingly large. It is stated, too, that the Radicals are urging, and with some prospect of success, that Mr. Gladstone include in the list of reforms which the Liberals will suggest a resolution providing for the payment of salaries to members of the House of Commons. A measure of this character will, of course, meet with stubborn opposition, and, like previous efforts in that direction, is doomed to defeat, presumably owing very largely to the conservative objection to the adoption of any idea that may be regarded as American, but it will be the entering wedge to a general harassment of the Government next session.

An immense meeting of the Primrose League was held at Manchester Saturday with the Earl of Dunraven as the orator of the occasion. In the course of his speech His Lordship said it was undoubtedly true that labor questions were the most important of the day. Thousands of workers, not only those unemployed by reason of the scarcity of work and from other causes, but those who were regularly employed, were, to his personal knowledge existing under the most shameful conditions. In these circumstances, he declared, it was impossible for anybody to withhold his entire sympathy from workers of all classes, or fail to engage heartily in any movement calculated to ameliorate their condition.

Le Caron, the informer par excellence, has taken a swell house in Kensington, where he drives and walks with the utmost disregard for any of the thousands of enemies his treachery to the Irish has made for him. If he is under the protection of detectives, the fact is not apparent, but the fact that the Government, or The Times, or both, are under heavy expense to maintain him is as plain as the sun at noonday.

Portuguese Acquisitions in Africa.

LISBON, Nov. 11.—Despatches received from Lieut. Gordon, leader of the Portuguese expedition in the Zambesi countries assert that the chiefs of the Machonaland tribes in the valley of Panhame and the regions drained by the Umfuli, and Sanhatta rivers, and generally in all the territories up to latitude 20, have acknowledged allegiance to Portugal. On the way southward from Zumbo the expedition passed through districts in which were found the ruins of old Portuguese forts and mines.

Mysterious Tragedy in Kansas.

EVERETT, Kas., Nov. 11. Mrs. Henry Brinck, wife of the wealthiest farmer in this county, was shot and killed by Frank Zoludick, who afterwards committed suicide. Zoludick had been employed on Brinck's farm for 18 months. He had been on a spree for a week and was crazed with drink. Mrs. Brinck was the only one at home and the tragedy can not be explained.

The Kaiser's Prosperous Voyage.

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—Emperor William telegraphs from Corfu to Prince Bismarck that he had an excellent passage from Stamboul. The extreme clearness of the atmosphere permitted the voyagers to view the three points and intervening mainland of the Peloponnesus simultaneously. This is said to be unprecedented.

Double Murder in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 11.—An unknown assassin went to the house of Mrs. Cenia Barns, in Johnston County and murdered her and her grandson, aged about 8 years. Both the victims were shot and their bodies were found yesterday lying on the floor. The house had been robbed. Mrs. Barns was over 60 years old.

THE GARDENER'S STORY

WHAT HE SAW ON THE NIGHT OF DR. CRONIN'S MURDER.

The Meeting Between Coughlin and Kunze in Cameron's Saloon—Expert Evidence—Sullivan Released from Bail.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—When the Cronin case was called Saturday morning Judge McConnell's courtroom resembled a dress circle of a theatre. More than half the audience were women, and the closest attention was paid to the proceedings.

Gerhardt Warden, a gardener of 192 North Ashland-avenue, was the first witness. In reply to Mr. Mills' questions Warden testified that on Saturday, May 4, he left his home about 7 o'clock in the evening and went to Matt Jung's place in Lincoln-avenue. He started for home about 10 o'clock and walked on the east side of Ashland-avenue. About 10.30 o'clock he reached the corner of Otto and Ashland-avenues, and noticed two men who were walking about 200 feet ahead of him. They seemed to have come out of a saloon on the corner of School-street and Ashland-avenue. They walked up the avenue and entered the Carlson cottage by the front door. Witness described the men. He saw a light in the cottage. The next day witness and his wife passed the cottage on their way to mass and witness saw blood on the steps and on the plank walk over the ditch in front of the house.

Michael J. Cameron, a saloon keeper at 839 Lincoln-avenue, testified that on April last he had seen Kunze and Coughlin together in his saloon. They talked quietly together for some time, but he could not hear what was said. A man named Dunne, a plumber, came in, and Coughlin introduced Kunze to him with the remark, "This is a friend of mine."

The witness, cross-examined, said this was about a week before the murder.

Dr. Egbert was recalled at this point and said he had cut a lock of hair from the head of Dr. Cronin's dead body at the time he made the autopsy. Part of this he placed in a glass jar, which was sealed, and part of it he gave to Capt. Schuettler. This was the beginning of the expert testimony.

Prof. Haines, the expert in chemistry of the Rush Medical College, which position he had held for 14 years, next went on the stand and said he had examined a small clip of wood with reddish stains on it, some cotton and bluish paper with red stains, and part of the lock of hair. By chemical test he found the stains were those of blood. He described at length the manner in which he made the test, but said such test could not determine whether the blood was that of a human being or an animal. Witness went on to say he took three hairs from the bunch given him and let them remain on a piece of soap. He left them there two weeks. That bleached them somewhat, and he placed other hairs in a strong solution of alkali, which took out the color more rapidly.

Judge Wing objected to the introduction of this testimony as improper and illegal, as being in the nature of an experiment. The court took the objection under consideration, and the articles were withdrawn for the time being.

The significance of the testimony regarding the bleaching of the hairs by the soap will be made apparent when Dr. Delafield will testify regarding the color of the hair sticking to a piece of soap in the Carlson cottage. This hair was discolored in a manner identical with that caused by the soap on the hair from the trunk.

Judge Wing cross-examined the witness and tried to have some fun on the question of chemistry as applied to blood. The witness was too technical for him, however, and the counsel floundered.

Dr. W. T. Belfield, a practising physician for 12 years, a microscopist for 14 years, and a professor of pathology in the Chicago College of Dental Surgery, was examined at the afternoon session. His testimony strongly corroborated that given by Prof. Haines. He said the stained cotton, wood and hair were given to him by the police authorities. He made personal microscopic examination of them, and was convinced that the stains were blood from a human being, and that the hair adhering to the soap found in the cottage was human hair. He also gave parts of the same specimens to Prof. Haines, with instructions to chemically analyze them.

In the cross-examination witness said that only when in liquid form could science distinguish between human and brute blood. It was a half a teaspoonful of liquid blood found inside the specimens of cotton batting on which witness made his examination.

At the conclusion of Dr. Belfield's examination court adjourned. The state's attorney, after adjournment, said he expected to occupy three days of next week in introducing the rest of the evidence; so it is probable that the line of defence will be known by Thursday.

The matter of the application of Alexander Sullivan for release from the bail of $25,000 in which he was held by the coroner June last pending the decision of the Grand Jury for alleged conspiracy in the Cronin case, came up again before Judge Baker Saturday morning. The state did not contest the action, and the obligation was discharged by order of the court.

THE THIEVING MAIL CLERKS.

Catteller and Hayes Sentenced to Five Years Each—Another Arrest.

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—Catteller of Ottawa and E. H. Hayes of Hawkesbury, the two young railway mail clerks who pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing money from registered letters passing through their hands, were sentenced by Magistrate O'Gara Saturday to five years each in the Kingston Penitentiary.

Still another railway mail clerk has been arrested. Friday, Inspector O'Leary of the Dominion Police, acting under instructions from Postoffice Inspector French, went to Montreal, arrested Samuel Hollingsworth of Prescott, a mail clerk on the Canada Atlantic Railway, and Saturday afternoon arrived in the city with the prisoner. Hollingsworth is 20 years of age.

THE TAR-AND-FEATHERS CASE.

Russell and Tripp Plead Guilty to Assault—The Others Convicted.

OWEN SOUND, Nov. 11.—The prisoners Russell and Tripp were tried here on a charge of manslaughter, arising out of the death of the lad Hambly tarred and feathered on the steamer Baltic. It was clear from the evidence that the prisoners had participated in the outrage, but there was a doubt as to whether they were guilty of the graver charge of manslaughter and His Lordship directed the jury on that point to bring in a verdict of not guilty, which was done. The other four prisoners were then acquitted on this charge, and on being arraigned on the charge of aggravated assault, Russell and Tripp pleaded guilty, the others pleaded not guilty.

The trial took place Saturday. The evidence developed nothing new, the crown witnesses having experienced a marvellous loss of memory. The verdict of the jury was that the defendants McFadyen, Dagett, Backhouse and Polak were guilty of assault to do grievous bodily injury.

Russell and Tripp were sentenced to a year in the Central Prison.

CATHOLIC CONGRESS

A GRAND PAGEANT IN THE MONUMENTAL CITY.

Hundred Priests and Prelates March in the Procession—Scenes in the Cathedral—A Triple Celebration.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11—Among the dignitaries arriving here Saturday to participate in the celebration of the hundredth birthday of the Catholic hierarchy in America were Cardinal Taschereau, Honore Mercier, Premier of the Province of Quebec, Mgr. Labelle and the Quebec Minister of Agriculture, Hon. James McShane. Another notable from the British possessions was Mr. M. J. Power, Speaker of the Nova Scotia Assembly. Cardinal Gibbons went in a carriage to the depot to meet Cardinal Taschereau, and after informal greetings the Cardinals drove together to the clergyhouse adjoining the Cathedral.

In the hotels a novel expedient was resorted to for the accommodation of the clergy and on account of the press upon the churches. It is the providing of temporary chapels and the erection of improvised altars where mass can be celebrated. Saturday night in honor of the great throngs of visitors, the bells of all the thirty-four Catholic places of worship in Baltimore were rung in unison for half an hour.

With fitting grandeur the ceremonies began yesterday morning. It was the commencement of a triple celebration: the hundredth anniversary of the appointment of the first American Catholic bishop, the inauguration of the first congress of Catholic laymen held in the United States and the dedication of the new National University for Catholics. Fully 10,000 strangers were in Baltimore to witness the promised spectacles, four times as many people, not counting local Catholics, as could possibly be accommodated in the Cathedral where the initial scenes were to be witnessed. So great was the pressure for seats that persons who traveled from California expressly to be present were among those unable to secure admission.

Promptly at the appointed time the priests, seminarians and theological students were marshalled in Calvert Hall. Curious throngs were already in the neighboring streets taking note of the decorations. The hall in which the priests assembled was elaborately decorated. Above the doors were the papal colors, yellow and white, and stretching upward to the eaves were great streamers of red, white and blue.

When all was ready 600 clergy walking two-and-two emerged clad in white surplices and black cassocks and berettas. Their fine looking, strongly marked faces and unaffected bearing attracted general attention as they marched down the street a few squares to the residence of Cardinal Gibbons, unaccompanied by music. One of the features of the whole Sunday proceeding was the absence of any band playing on the streets.

At the doorway of the Cardinal's house and leading up the broad steps, with sabres and polished helmets glittering in the bright morning twilight, were two lines of guards. Here again the papal colors and the Stars and Stripes were intermingled. In all directions the streets seemed filled with people and the open windows of surrounding dwellings each had their quota. Presently while the white surplieed priests were opening ranks a mass of purple-enveloped figures were seen in the Cardinal's doorway. It was the gathering of nearly all the Catholic bishops and archbishops of the United States with representatives from Mexico, Canada, England and Rome itself. The prelates now came forth from the big portico in pairs and as each two stepped into the street their costly robes were caught up by diminutive altar boys in waiting, who then walked behind taking care that the brilliant fabrics were kept stainless for the ceremonies to come. Here and there among the silken purple vestments of the bishops could be seen the coarse brown or white garb of a bearded abbot.

Through the long lines of priests the prelates threaded their way all around the square to the main entrance of the Cathedral, the rear of the procession being brought up by the tall ascetic figure of Archbishop Feehan of Chicago, who immediately preceded a golden vestered cross bearer, followed by two spare slight looking men almost hidden in dazzling scarlet. The two men were Cardinals Gibbons of Baltimore and Taschereau of Quebec. Eight acolytes upheld their long vestments and surrounding them were their monsignors with the Papal delegates, O'Connell and Satolli of Rome.

Within the Cathedral ten minutes later the scene was simply magnificent. The pews throughout the church were crowded to the utmost with laity. In striking contrast with the dark-clothed aggregation thus formed were the aisles, centre and front and sides, packed with the snowy surplioed priests. Against both laity and priests shone the scarred purple ranks of prelates inside the sanctuary. On either side was the dais for the cardinals. At the high altar stood the mitred celebrant of the mass, Archbishop Williams of Boston, and over all was the great white and gold dome of the Cathedral.

A dreamy large lulled the ear while the eye was delighted with the myriad candles shining out on the altar from among the restful green leaves and white blossoms of lilies. Now was heard a Gregorian "Asperges" sung by perfectly attuned male voices, and the mass proper began with the chanting of the "Kyrie." Subdued reverential feeling was manifest throughout the church as the ceremonial proceeded in majestic beauty. The effect was brightened momentarily by the wavelike genuflections in the pews and at each pronouncement by the choir of the name of Jesus, barettas were doffed in unison from the Cardinals and Archbishops in the sanctuary to the students in the farthest vestibule. At the consecration of the Host the Cardinals advanced from the sides with the monsignors and bowing low knelt at prieudeux facing the altar. Back of them was a row of richly attired acolytes bearing lighted bronze torches.

The effect at this moment was noble. As the Sacred Host was held high aloft by the celebrant, amid the deepest silence all through the Cathedral every head bent low in prayer, the tinkle of a tiny bell at the altar broke the spell. With each movement of the priest for a moment or two the little bell sounded and each time at the instant was heard outside the church the heavy intonation of the Cathedral chimes. As Cardinal Gibbons retired to his dais the reporters in the improvised press gallery noticed for the first time not six feet away from him in the sanctuary among the abbots and other special dignitaries the black face of Father Tolton of Chicago, the first colored Catholic priest ordained in America.

Probably the most imposing part of the mass next to the consecration, was the conferring of the Papal blessing. The venerable archbishop at the altar seemed to feel it a doubly solemn moment, when turning to the congregation he paused for an instant, then raised his hands and slowly made the sign of the cross. The mass ended with a special intercession for the Pope, chanted by all the clergy.

THE LADIES!

A New and Efficient Form of Disease which is Afflicting Canadian Women.

How some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Report Physical Remedy.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the home. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of woman, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 60 St. Hypolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., MONTREAL.

EDUCATIONAL SERMONS.

The Power of Knowledge Made Known.

Two Methodist Divines French on the Subject of Education—The Annual Plea on Behalf of the Educational Interests of the Church.

The well known voice of Rev. Thos. Manning, of Orillia, was heard again in the George street church Sunday morning. Mr. Manning was once a beloved pastor of the George street church, and he is always welcome to the congregation. In conjunction with Rev. Mr. Hodson, of Belleville, Rev. Mr. Manning preached the educational sermons of the Methodist churches, he taking the morning service in the George street church and Rev. Mr. Hodson the Charlotte street church, vice versa, in the evening. The text of Rev. Mr. Manning's discourse was the 12th verse of the 7th chapter of Ecclesiastes.

"For wisdom is a defence, and money is a defence; but the excellence of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it."

The preacher first pointed out the civilising and improving effects of education on mankind, and said it was God's intention that man should improve his mind and attain to knowledge of all things; and the man who did not study to educate himself practically digs in the earth and hides his Lord's money. For there was no way in the world we could attain the distinction God intended us to attain, without attaining knowledge. The effect of education was apparent in society to-day, for the cultured man is everywhere held in more or less respect, and no degrading circumstances nor personal immorality can reduce the man to that obscurity his character deserves. His education crowns him among men. The inventions and growth of the world indicate a slow order of progress and development. Mankind, educated and mentally enlarged as he is to-day irrespective of religion is a higher type of his class than in years gone by. Knowledge is power, and the influence of these evidences of knowledge and genius on man is to loose the fetters of age, saves him from the prejudices, and narrowness, and cruelties he might be subject to at a less advanced period. The power of knowledge was also shown in Jesus Christ, whom men reverence, not only for His goodness, but for His wisdom. Jesus possessed all the characteristics of man in a well-balanced order, and no matter how far man goes into any branch of knowledge, he must admit Jesus is superior in His wisdom. In Him was concentrated all piety and all wisdom. The disciples said:—"Now we know you are come of God, for you know all things." It was difficult to say to which virtue we must bow the most—the holiness or the wisdom of Christ. The safeguard of every nation was to educate its people, and so it behoved us to-day to encourage learning in every form. The old masters filled Constantinople with the finest products of art, until it was almost divine in its beauty, but the invaders came and destroyed them all, and Constantinople was forever bereft. Chicago was burned, but to day the city was greater than ever. What was the difference? The genius and power which made Constantinople were destroyed with it; the fields and forests, the enterprise and inventive minds which belonged to Chicago remained after the fire, and Chicago still lives. Yet, apart from religion, education is not sufficient. A nation without religion as a mainstay, cannot guide itself, will not be able to continue its own knowledge. Greece and Rome decayed as soon as the people forgot the religious teachings of their forefathers. Voltaire and others demanded liberty of thought—but that liberty, divorced from the principles of religion, found expression in the terrible Revolution. Knowledge apart from right-conscience will never save a country. Then again a nation cannot be godly without being learned. This was shown in the great demand of missionaries for education. They cannot do permanent work among the lower classes unless they put religion alongside education. The policy of our country to-day was largely that it was not the duty of the state to teach religion, and particularly in consequence of the different sects of the country, if we are to have a national system of education it will not be possible to teach religion as taught in the Bible. It must be kept out of the schools as a tart book. If this policy was pursued, see where it lands the education of our country. Rev. Mr. Manning considered it the duty of every nation to give itself a firm foundation, and if it is necessary to teach the children the truth, and if it is advisable to exclude religion from the schools, then it is the duty of the church to filled up the gap. But this system of exclusion of religion could not be carried too far. While the children were attending the common and high schools they would have the benefit of home training and Sunday school instruction; but when they go to college away from home, it is then they need religious teaching most. It was not safe for any nation to exclude religion from the highest seats of learning. The Methodists had adopted this principle, and last year $19,000 had been loaned to young men to enable them to complete their education at an institution where religion went hand in hand with culture. In conclusion Rev. Mr. Manning briefly asked for subscriptions for the educational fund of the church.

At the Charlotte Street Church.

There was a large congregation at the Charlotte street Methodist church to listen to an educational sermon by Rev. J. M. Hodson, of Belleville.

After the usual devotional exercises the speaker announced for his text, the 32nd verse of the 8th chapter of the Gospel of St. John:

"And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

The speaker defined truth as something that was almost infinite in regard to anything. An inquiry as to what is truth, should be met by a definition of what truth and what amount of truth was required. All education, whether ordinary or spiritual, was founded on fundamental principles. The fundamental truth, whose ramifications included all moral truth, as declared by our Saviour to Nicodemus, was, "You must be born again." The natural man could not comprehend spiritual matters and on the start on the path of truth must be made by regeneration of the heart. Truth began with a change of heart—truth must begin in the person himself putting him into a state of receptivity—self must be set aside and required conditions complied with. Possession of the truth made us free, and this freedom implied an untrammeled course in the pursuit of those virtues which sprang from the great fundamental truth. Love that came with the acceptance of divine truth was the fulfilment of the law of God. It was necessary to study the nature of God, and then when we could understand Him we could love Him and thus fulfil the law. The truth we could learn about Jesus would make us free to follow Him faithfully. The more we knew and understood Christ the more we would be influenced by the beauty and perfection of his character. If we were in sympathy with Christ the movements of our life would incline to Him and we should realize the fulness of the truth that had made us free from the bondage of sin.

The collection was devoted to the Methodist Educational Fund.

The Browns.

Brown has a house full of girls and boys.
Rosy and healthy and full of noise.
They are sprightly at work and bright at their books,
And are noted for smartness and wit and good looks.
Brown is healthy, his wife is fair,
And their faces are free from wrinkles of care.
They spend no money for powders and pills,
As I never a dollar for doctor's bills.

The reason is that they begin in the right sos. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery y keeping the springs of life pure, the blood free from impurities, wards off all those diseases which spring from bad blood. The use of the "Discovery" prevents liver and kidney troubles, dyspepsia, consumption or lung scrofula, stomach and bowel troubles, and forestalls the beginning of disease. That is why the Browns are so healthy. It is also guaranteed to cure these ailments if taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it will be refunded. s

THE NIAGARA FAKIRS.

The Campbell Air-Ship—The Man Who Will Succeed Webb.

NIAGARA FALLS, Nov. 6.—Great interest is aroused over the wonderful Campbell air-ship, now building, in which an aeronaut intends to sail over the falls. By "over the falls" it must not be understood that the great ship is to sail down with the current and make the great plunge of 158 feet over the cataract, for, on the contrary, it is intended to sail high in the air above the Niagara Falls and river. The exact date for the trip has not been set, but it is expected the present month. It is prophesied that the crowd that will gather to witness the sight will exceed the number at the formal opening of the state reservation in 1885, when there were over 20,000 present. Reservation Superintendent Thomas V. Welch, acting under instructions from the reservation commissioners, will positively refuse to permit the ascent or start to be made from the reservation grounds, which border the river fully a mile above the American falls. The ascent will have to be made beyond the eastern terminus of the state property. In regard to the air ship and its future, John F. Church, the manager says: "The ship is almost complete. It will take a few days to decorate her and she will then be ready for the balloon attachment. According to agreement P. C. Campbell, the inventor and aeronaut, is to make the trip alone. There will be no failure, as I have taken every precaution to make it a success and avoid accidents. Every step taken since the beginning has been a measured one, and the builder, A. D. Mitchell, of Buffalo, has been so exact in the work that every piece has been weighed before being put in position. Altogether so far as the work has progressed everything is very satisfactory, and I feel assured that when the aeronaut enters the car he will feel pleased with it. If any delay occurs it will be on account of the balloon, which is now being made."

E. T. Davis, of Euston, Eng., who is on his way to this country to perform the perilous feat that Capt. Webb, his countryman and a better swimmer, failed to do, is said to be about 35 years old. He is accompanied by his wife, who hopes to dissuade him from undertaking a feat that can result only in death. Davis announces that he will swim the whirlpool rapids wearing nothing but an ordinary pair of swimming trunks. He is confident of success. He will make the start from the Canadian shore, if at all. While his wife accompanies him two children are left at home in England.

NEWFOUNDLAND ELECTIONS.

Defeat of the Thorburn Government at the Polls.

HALIFAX, Nov. 8.—A report from Newfoundland says the Thorburn Government was badly defeated in the elections yesterday by the Opposition led by Sir William Whiteway. The Colonial Secretary and Surveyor General have lost their seats. A strong card of the Whiteway Opposition was the Bait Act which was alleged to be an injury to the people of Newfoundland.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S MINES.

Dr. Dawson's Opinion of the Mineral Resources of the Pacific Providence.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 8.—Dr. Dawson of the Dominion Geological Survey for the past five months has been in the vicinity of Kamloops at work on the geological survey, covering an area of about 80 miles.

He says that he spent the first portion of the summer in West Kootenay, where the indications of the existence of rich mineral wealth are very good. Considerable development is being done, but the miners everywhere are waiting for the good time to come when by railway communication the era of prosperity and mining operations shall dawn upon them. Where actual work is being done in mining and shipping ores, it is only the richest specimens that are sent away for smelting while the other ores are left on the dump waiting until shipping facilities will make it remunerative to smelt them. In instances where the ledges, though extensive, are low grade, nothing is being done. Railway communication and increased shipping facilities generally are what are wanted to develop the whole region of British Columbia.

The successful operation of one or two mines in the Province, Dr. Dawson thinks, would result in a mining boom and give a great stimulus to mining operations. It would result in a rush of capital and the Province would be prospected thoroughly for new strikes. Very many new discoveries would be made as a consequence. At present very little is known of the mineral resources of the Province and there are many kinds to be found only by looking for them, such as tin and other valuable metals. New discoveries are constantly being made, and many had been recorded since Dr. Dawson's recent pamphlet, on the mineral resources of British Columbia had been published. So rapid were the discoveries, he said, that that little book would soon be antiquated. It was well, however, to have a history of the commencement.

Dr. Dawson is quite confident that the hopes of the people of the province will yet be realised. It was only a matter of time. A good deal of attention was being directed now to hydraulic mining, and he felt quite satisfied that many of the bars at the rivers and creeks that had been abandoned by placer miners as unprofitable could be successfully operated by means of machinery

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 11.—Dr. Z. J. Walker, who was wounded in the Brownsburg affair Friday, has died. Dave Miller is mortally wounded, and George, James, and William Miller, implicated in the shooting of Dr. Walker and his wife, are in jail. Lynching is feared.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

By Taking

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Kidd's New Premises.

What Dickens might have justly termed a "Curiosity Shop" the store recently occupied by Batcher, the proprietor of the 10c. store, 372 George street, is now transformed into an emporium of ready made Clothing. The interior has, with the assistance of the painter's brush, been made to appear neat, clean and tidy. Then Kidd has made up his mind to regulate the prices of ready made Clothing, goes without saying. Commencing with the purchase of Wyatt & Turner's bankrupt stock, at 67c. on the dollar, he was enabled to offer to the public clothing at retail, less than it could be purchased wholesale. Already he has secured another bankrupt stock of Clothing, which will arrive this week, and the public may look out for bargains in the clothing line. Kidd means business, and in the way premises, 2 doors south of the shoe store, no doubt will transact a lucrative business. 2d110

THE WORK OF CHARITY.

Expounded by the Rev. Father Teefy.

Lecture in St. Peter's Cathedral—The St. Vincent de Paul Society as a Charitable Organization—The Mystery of Christian Charity Explained.

The congregation of St Peter's Cathedral Sunday night was an unusually large and interested one. The announcement that Rev. J. R. Teefy, M. A., O. S. B., Superior of St. Michael's College, Toronto, was to deliver an address upon "Charity" under the auspices of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, drew a large number of people who willingly paid a quarter for the pleasure of listening to the eloquent and highly practical lecture, among them being a sprinkling of Protestants.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor was present. Rev. Father Cotey officiated at the vesper devotions. The other clergy present were Rev. Fathers Lynch, Kelly and Redkins.

Rev. Mr. TEEFY is a fluent speaker and has an impressive delivery. He said:—

My Lord has set in order charity in me.
—Canticle of Canticles II,4.

Life is a strange problem: not only as to its aims and purposes but also with reference to its sacred rights and ennobling duties. And unless the darkened reason of man has a brighter light, unless his weakened will is strengthened by some higher power; unless his heart is purified by some worthier affection than earth can give, worse than the midnight heath is life's gloomy way—rights and duties are thrown into everlasting confusion. But in the fullness of time the earth was illumined with the Sun of Justice—the wisdom of the Father came down from heaven—"to teach us the way of prudence"—the government of the world was upon his shoulders. And thus with his divine light did he kindle the path—thus with his divine wisdom he taught and with his divine authority he commanded: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with all thy strength. This is the first and greatest precept. The second is like to it: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. In that twofold law is combined all order—spiritual and temporal. This is perfect religion, perfect society. And when a man by the graces of Jesus Christ walks through life with simple intention, fulfilling the law and putting into practice this lesson of charity, all is clear and exalted, all is sanctified and rewarded. That is the most marvellous lesson that has been taught the world since the days of Paradise. Not only has it given life a higher aim and brighter purpose, not only has it restored rights to their proper places and exalted our lowliest duties—but it has given to earth the most generous heroes of all history. At their head, and infinitely above them, stands the man—God, Christ Jesus our Lord, the true and only benefactor of mankind. "He is yesterday, and to-day and the same forever"—and as he taught from the hills of Judea and the river banks and the sea-side—so does he teach now in this rising west: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. As he went about doing good, so also should his church, which is his spouse, display in its life the same devotion to the poor and miserable. As charity shone forth on the divine brow of our Lord and Saviour, and was the mark of his heavenly mission, so must it appears like the wedding ring upon the finger of the church, the sign of her everlasting espousals as the bride of Christ and spouse of charity. The Catholic church is the great teacher of charity for the world. This, my dear brethren, is the proposition which I wish to consider in advocating before you the interests of St. Vincent de Paul Society.

In discussing such a statement I am free from belittling the noble works done by others for the welfare of their fellow man. I look around me and I see the devoted care so many individuals and so many denominations are taking of the poor and the wayward. All honor to them for it, and God's blessing upon their efforts. "A cup of cold water given in the name of our blessed Master goes not without reward," stands out for them as it does for me, a stimulus for generosity and self-sacrifice. Without, therefore, doing the least violence to anyone's feelings, here I am a priest of the Catholic church, and I point with pride to that church as the great teacher of charity and defender of the poor.

The Christian doctrine upon this subject is as simple as it is sublime, and is briefly expounded by our blessed Lord in one of his parables, beginning thus: "There was a certain rich man and he had a steward." That word in fact contains its very pith and essence—we are all stewards. What, is there no such thing as ownership? Thank God there is, it is the very foundation of society, and is consecrated by the very same law of the Gospel which forbids us injuring our neighbor in his person or character. But ownership is bestowed upon us with a burthensome title of being to the poor what God is to us—father and friend, provider and benefactor. Thus while there is a true right there is also a real duty, and the poor man who violates that right by stealing is as guilty as the rich man who closes his heart and hand to the wants of the wretched. And because a steward must render an account, not to his fellow, but to his Lord. Charity therefore, becomes a question between man and God—a question to which conscience is thy accuser and God the judge. The poor man is also a steward. Continuing that same chapter of St. Luke, the 16th, we read of the rich man and Lazarus. "It was God's design," says St. Peter Chrysologus commenting upon this passage, it was God's design that these two men of different conditions should be found in the same place at the same time, in order that they who were both sick, the one in soul and the other in body, might help each other. Dives profiting by the prayers and gratitude of poor Lazarus, the latter profiting by the generosity of his rich neighbor. Thus the rich man is the steward of God the Creator and Provider; the poor man of God the Redeemer. The rich man helps the poor in subsistence and material life; the poor man helps the rich in the order of grace and eternal glory. This is the economy of charity.

Now I speak to you of its necessity. We read the terrible fate that overcame Dives—"He died and was buried in hell." Was he damned on account of his wealth? No, my dear brethren, for he was like many another—he gained it by his own industry. There was no crime in it; he had not gained it by fraud. He did not use it to break his word, or to compromise his own or his neighbor's honor. He was condemned for his heartlessness and his soul of iron. He saw every day at his palace gate poor Lazarus, covered with wounds, dying with hunger, begging the crumbs from the table and these were refused him. This, says St. Chrysostom, was his crime. He was not condemned because he was sick, but because he was not merciful. He was not condemned because he had stolen the goods of others, but because he did not make a good use of his own. He was not condemned because he wished the death of Lazarus, but, because refusing to nourish him in extreme want, he was the cause of his death. This condemnation, says St. Augustine, is God's solemn sanction of the second great precept of charity.

I need not speak to you of the extent of alms, which the command requires. Your very presence here this evening is proof that you show your good will by sympathy towards the poor, and that you commission the St. Vincent de Paul Society to carry out your wishes. Our blessed Lord assures you a tuneful and undisturbed right to all you really possess, which is necessary, not only for your life, but also for the due maintainance of your rank and station. Over and above that is superfluous, and a portion thereof you are required to bestow upon the ordinary poor "Give therefore, and it shall be given to you; good measure and pressed down, and shaken together and running over, shall they give into your bosom. For with the same measure that you shall measure, it shall be measured to you again. And he that minisereth seed to the sower, will both give you bread to eat and will multiply your seed and increase the growth of the fruits of your justice."

It was not enough for Jesus Christ to issue a mandate to his disciples, charging them with the material care of their poorer brethren. He who is the resurrection and the life; he who is the riches of the eternal Father; he who came to make peace between God and man, and restore the wealth of heaven to impoverished humanity; he who came to teach us how to live as well as how to die; he must do something more than merely provide for the bodily wants of the poor. He came to evangelize them, to preach to them the message of heaven, and he began his glorious mission by sanctifying their state. Born in a stable; in life without a spot on which to lay his head; giving up his soul to the eternal Father from the death bed of the Cross. He taught the poor that though poverty was a trial, it is also a school of virtues and holiness; that though they have not the goods of earth they are still blessed. "For theirs is the kingdom of heaven." He transferred to them his own right of our ministration. Faith teaches us that we are bound to serve our blessed Lord. In heaven he commands our adoration. In the holy sacrament of the altar He claims our love and requires purity of heart. Neither as He is in heaven, nor as He is in the Blessed Eucharist, for He is in a state of glory in both, can we serve Him in mercy as we should have wished to serve Him when He walked the earth. In one form alone does he present Himself claiming our pity—it is when He comes to us in the guise of the poor and the needy; for as often as you do it to the least of these, you do it to Him. And on the day of the great reckoning He will say to the just, the heroes of charity: "I was hungry and ye gave Me to eat, thirsty and ye gave Me to drink, naked and ye clothed Me, in prison and ye visited Me." And they will reply: "When, O Lord, did we see thee thus?" To which He will answer: "As often as ye did it to the least of My brethren, ye did it to Me." Thus does the Lord transfer to them His own right and place a sceptre in their hands, claiming our sympathetic charity; thus did He sanctify their state and put a diadem upon their sorrow-stricken brow and place them amongst the princes of His people.

Such, my dear brethren, is what Jesus Christ did for the poor. Now He sent forth His apostles with full power to teach all things whatsoever He had commanded. And nobly and faithfully has the Catholic Church fulfilled its mission. The doctrine I have announced to you, is still the doctrine and practice of the Church. She it is who has ever excommunicated the oppressors of the people; she it is who abolished slavery and condemns usury. She respects all just rights and rejects Socialism as destructive to God's order and civil society. Her anathemas are hurled against the hard hearted, and her highest honours are conferred upon those who have served the needy. Charity on the part of the rich, and patience and resignation on the part of the poor have ever been her sermon. And would to God that in this age, when there is such a race for wealth and such discontent, that both rich and poor would hearken to that word. We have sore need of both; of more charity from the rich and more contentment and resignation from the poor.

But it is in the history of her charitable institutions as strikingly as in her doctrine, that the Catholic church is the protectress of the poor. One day in ancient Rome when a friend was showing her pearls and jewels, the mother of the Gracchi, drawing her two sons to her side, said: "These are my jewels." So, my dear brethren, our holy mother church, gathering her chosen children, her religious communities, her generous workers, gathering these around her and showing them to the world, she proudly says "These are my treasures, my energy, my power for good. These are my jewels, my joy, my crown. Should I not be proud of them? See them, of every rank and generation; every clime and country; young maidens in the blush of their virgin love giving up the attractions of life and home; young men with bright hopes before them consecrating their soul and strength to my service. See them from the sunny plains of Italy, from the vineyards of France, from the bridge crowned hills of England and the green vales of the Isle of Saints. In the days of my persecution Roman ladies bring their wealth to the poor before they lay down their life for my spouse. In the days of my honor and triumph they rejoice in teaching the ignorant, in caring for the sick, and in ministering to the needy. And to day, as of old, they are going forth with the same spirit of faith and love in their soul to evangelize the poor and throw an arm of protection around the weak. These are the heroes of charity. These are my jewels, my joy, my crown. Their name is legion—Sisters of St. Joseph, Sisters of the Good Shepherd, Sisters of Charity, Little Sisters of the Poor, and Brothers of every order. There is no species of human misery which they do not alleviate. The needy who have no home, the orphan who knows not a mother's love, the poor fallen creature who is the leper of society, the strayed soul that has lain bleeding for years in the briery woods and mountains of sin, all find a home and ministering angels amongst my sons and daughters."

The work this vast body has accomplished, and is accomplishing, as well as their vast number, needs great system. Accordingly the church binds them with the triple vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. She says to each of them: If you wish to pledge your life and serve the poor, pledge me your life long word that you will first be poor yourself, so that you may be free from the cares of wealth, so that you may take the word from out the mouth of my enemies, that I am a lover and hoarder of wealth—and in order that you may follow the counsel of your blessed Lord. If you would be perfect, sell all you have and give it to the poor. Secondly, you must vow to me the vow of perpetual chastity, that your heart may be single, and may be devoted to no earthly object; for then will you, in the purity of your soul's affliction, supply a parent's love and zeal. One thing remains to be done. Life is long, trials lie before you, and in difficult circumstances you might hesitate. I have great work for you to do; but it is not easy or flattering to nature. Vow to me, therefore, the vow of obedience, that you may be brave to do and dare. Thus armed with the three vows, they go forth into the byways and highways, to bring the poor and the lost and the fallen into the marriage feast, which the great King made for his Son.

But these are not all. There is another class of ministering angels upon this earth, with the blessing of the church upon them and their work—men and women who, though not called upon to be religious, use their freedom and their position in life—give a portion of their time and service for the benefit of the poor. Amongst the organized societies of such, stands foremost the St. Vincent de Paul Society. Founded some fifty years ago in Paris, it has spread throughout the world. It is too well known to you to need any commendation. It is a perfect school of charity. Kind to and patient with their poor, they seek to raise them up—to lay low the mountains and fill up the dark valleys, which, in the life of the poor, prevent the coming and reign of grace. By word, by sympathetic visits, as well as by prudent alms, they carry out the practice of charity which Jesus Christ laid down—they walk in the footsteps of that legion of honour which has always been the glory of the church; and they appeal to you to help them in the work of God which they are striving to perform. Therefore I beg of you in the name of the poor to be generous, for their life is bitter and hard. I beg of you in the name of Jesus Christ, our Divine Master, whom you will serve by your alms—I beg of you for the sake of your own soul, fill up the hands of this poor conference, that you may get credit before God; for every single act they will have performed through you and in your charity and in your mercy, will be recorded as a crown of glory to rest upon your brows forever.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Mr. Manning while in town was the guest of Mr. H. S. Griffin, and the Rev. Mr. Hodson the guest of Rev. M. L. Pearson.

Yesterday in several of the churches, special sermons were preached to young men by the pastors.

The Boston Quartette, who appear in the Opera House five nights this week, sang in the George street church Sunday evening.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men's meeting Saturday evening was the best in attendance and interest held for some time. Messrs. R. C. Hunter, J. Saunders, J. W. Bennet and General Secretary gave reports of proceedings of Lindsay conference.

The week of prayer for young men was begun with a consecration meeting at 9.30 Sabbath morning.

The men's meeting in the opera house was largely attended. President G. R. Roger occupied the chair. Rev. Messrs. Manning, of Orillia; J. M. Hodson, Belleville; M. L. Pearson, P.C. Parker and the General Secretary had seats on the platform. Mr. Dingle presided very acceptably at the piano and led the singing.

At 3.30 the Gospel and song service was held in the rooms, when President Roger addressed the meeting on the theme, "Met on the way."

The meetings will be continued this week, each afternoon at 3.30, for women, and at 8 p.m. for men.

To the Public.

Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called cheap cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cable," "El Padre" "Mungo," and "Madre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most skeptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. me

MARTIN BURKE'S TIN BOX

THE TINSMITH GIVES EVIDENCE CONCERNING HIS JOB.

Yesterday's Proceedings in the Cronin Murder Trial—Testimony Regarding the "Inner Circle" Objected To.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—In the Cronin trial yesterday, Henry Buckholz testified that John Kunze boarded with him in April last under the name of John Kaiser.

Charles Herkimer testified that he had known Kunze in April under the alias of Kaiser.

John P. Dunn, a plumber, testified that in the early part of April he saw Kunze and Coughlin in Cameron's saloon in Lincoln-avenue. Kunze called the witness and introduced him to Coughlin as a good friend of his, adding that Coughlin would do anything for him (Kunze) that he could.

Frank S. Washburn, a saloon-keeper, testified that Kunze and O'Sullivan were at his saloon between April 12 and 20 and that Kunze said he was going to buy a horse from O'Sullivan and pretend to pay a big price for it so as to get some spending money from his guardian.

Gus Klahre, tinner, testified that on the Monday morning after the murder Burke came to the shop where he worked and had a galvanized iron box soldered. It was about 14 x 26 inches in size. Witness continued: "We got to talking about this case and he said Dr. Cronin was a British spy and ought to be killed."

"You soldered the box; did you do anything to the lid?"

"Yes; I had to scrape it because there was sand and one thing and another on it."

"Before you scraped it did you do anything while Burke was there?"

"No sir,—Well I tried to cut the cord and he wouldn't have that."

"What did he say when you were going to cut the cord?"

"He shoved my arm to one side and said, 'For God's sake don't cut it,' or some remark like that. I told him I had to cut it to make a job and he said, 'Do it any way, it don't make any difference what kind of a job it is.'"

Klahre said when Burke was brought back from Winnipeg he visited the jail with an officer to identify him. He went close to Burke's cell, when the latter muttered ——, as if he meant him (witness).

On cross-examination witness repeated every detail of Burke's visit to his shop and the soldering of the box. He was certain as to his identity. While the witness was giving his testimony Burke leaned forward in his chair and laughed derisively at him.

Michael Walsh, a gasfitter, testified he was at one time a member of Camp 20 of the Clan-na-Gael. In the latter part of April witness was working in Joliet. While there, about May 9, he saw Martin Burke. They roomed together until both returned to Chicago May 18. Burke worked one day while there, for which he was paid $1.60. Witness saw Burke receive a letter. The State's Attorney endeavored, but without success, to elicit the statement from Walsh that the letter contained a money order. The wish of the State's Attorney, he explained, was to show that Burke was without money of his own, but that shortly afterwards he was in Winnipeg with lots of money, with a ticket for Europe and with able counsel to fight his extradition.

Joseph O'Byrne, senior guardian of a Cronin camp of the Clan-na-Gael, was recalled. He said that on the Tuesday following Cronin's disappearance he and Maurice Morris talked with Prisoner John F. Beggs. The witness said: "I asked Beggs what we were going to do with reference to the disappearance of Cronin. I told him I thought it was time he should call a council to see if we could not do something. He said he thought the doctor would turn up all right; there was plenty of time to do the work. Morris said he thought Cronin was dead. Beggs said Morris did not know what he was talking about; that he did not belong to the inner circle and that 'we' knew what we were talking about."

"Whom did he refer to as 'we'?"

"Well, that is a matter that I cannot understand. Dennis Ward then came up at that time and stated that he thought the fellow would come out all right; that he had run away with some woman."

Dr. John F. Williams testified that he had attended Patrick O'Sullivan at various times during two or three years until a year ago. His entire fees for the services amounted to less than $10.

Maurice Morris, a friend of Dr. Cronin, testified that shortly after the disappearance of Cronin, he was talking about the case with Dennis Ward in presence of Beggs, when Ward made use of the remarks about Cronin mentioned by O'Byrne. Witness got mad and said somewhat emphatically: "He was murdered and by people in this city." Beggs said: "Oh, you are not posted. We are in the inner circle and know what we are talking about."

"Did you know anything about an inner circle?"

"I have heard a good deal of it. I have heard John Devoy speak of it."

"What have you heard referred to as to the inner circle?"

"I mean that the I. M. B., before they united with the O. B., belonged to the inner circle."

Here a long wrangle ensued over the admissibility of this evidence. It had been drawn out largely on cross-examination by Mr Foster, counsel for Beggs, who was willing it should remain in the record, but Mr. Forrest representing the other defendants, objected to it as hearsay and inadmissable. Judge McConnell decided that the testimony about the inner circle be stricken out so far as it applied to any of the defendants except Beggs. Counsel for Beggs said that if this evidence was allowed to stand as to his client he would ask the privilege of introducing evidence to show there is no "inner circle."

Michael Gilbert, a sewer cleaner, testified to finding Dr. Cronin's clothes in the sewer Friday.

Mrs. Conklin, at whose house Cronin lived, identified the clothes and other articles as being the doctor's.

A New C. P. R. Line.

DETROIT, Nov. 12.—It is again reported that a Canadian Pacific line of six steel freight and passenger steamers, the finest on the Great Lakes, will be running between Chicago, Milwaukee, Gladstone and Owen Sound before the marine season in 1890 is far advanced. A syndicate has been formed to furnish the boats without other aid from the Canadian Pacific than the erection of elevators and the required terminal facilities at Owen Sound, with an agreement regarding the division of rates, the contract covering a period of years. The boats for the new line will be built by Congressman F. W. Wheeler, of Bay City, and will be given a speed of sixteen miles an hour, with a view of attracting a large passenger traffic between Chicago and Canadian points, particularly during midsummer, as a direct lake route to the St. Lawrence and the Thousand Islands route. By connection with the "Soo" road at Gladstone the steamboat line will give a direct water route to Owen Sound for St. Paul and Minneapolis traffic and save the long rail route from Gladstone eastward by way of Sault Ste. Marie. In fact, the water route is almost in the shape of an air line as compared with the rail route.

THAT LONDON SCANDAL

ABOMINABLE CHARGES AGAINST WEST END CLUBMEN.

Several Peers and an Eminent Politician Involved—The Matter to be Hushed Up—The Offenders Exiled.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Six sittings have been held in camera at the Marlborough-street Court to inquire into abominable charges made against members of a West End club. Several lads, postal messengers, were arrested in connection with the case. The scandal involves an eminent Liberal politician, an officer attached to the royal household, and several peers. Some of the accused are reported to have fled. The magistrate who conducted the investigation, sent a report of the result to the Government asking what course the authorities ought to follow. The Government did not desire to spread the scandal if the offenders would exile themselves and the proceedings have accordingly been abandoned.

Balfour is Still Guarded.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Lord Salisbury has dispensed with the guard of detectives that has watched over his safety for the past three years. Mr. Balfour is still attended by officers.

The Peters Massacre Confirmed.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Despatches received at the Foreign Office from Zanzibar confirm the report of the massacre of Dr. Peters and his party by natives.

Floquet the Favorite.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The Chamber of Deputies will meet to-day. A plenary meeting of the Republican members was held yesterday to select a candidate for President of the Chamber; 300 Republicans were present, M. Floquet received 174 votes and M. Brisson 64. Another vote will be taken to-day.

Toronto Topics.

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—Dr. Geo. B. Foster, charged with murdering Mrs. Nellie Bray in an attempt to procure an abortion, was brought before the Police Magistrate yesterday on remand. Evidence proving a miscarriage was given but nothing tending to incriminate the prisoner. He was however remanded until to-day.

Andrew C. Drumm of Kansas City, arrested at the Arlington Hotel Saturday night charged with forgery, was before the Magistrate yesterday, and without making any plea was remanded until to-morrow. Mr. N. G. Bigelow had been retained by the prisoner. Mr. Badgerow had been instructed by Major Drumm to take proceedings in the Civil Courts against him to recover the money found on him which is now in the hands of the police. It is likely he will fight against being extradited.

For some time Tom Jones and Jim Keeley, well-known local "sports," of the lower strata, have had dogs in training for a great "mill." The police of the city got on to the racket, and the "sports," afraid of being arrested if they tried to have the fight within the limits, went out very early yesterday morning and fought the dogs a little way east of the boundary. The brutal sport lasted nearly an hour.

Mr. James Beck, arrested on a charge of fraud in that he refused to return $82 overpaid on a cheque cashed by Teller Van-Koughnet, of the Dominion Bank, will turn the tables on his accuser by suing him for damages for false arrest.

Rev. Dr. Archibald, late pastor of Knox Church, St. Thomas, died in this city yesterday morning. The deceased was born in Truro, N.S., and studied for the ministry at Dalhousie College and Princeton, where he won high honors in the arts and theological departments. He was called to the pastorate of Knox Church, St. Thomas, in 1885, but failing health compelled him to resign eighteen months ago. He took up his residence in Toronto a short time ago, expecting to pass the winter here. Dr. Archibald was a nephew of Sir Adams G. Archibald, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia.

Crops in the States.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The official returns of November to the Department of Agriculture relate to yield per acre and quality. They make the rate of production of corn a full average, slightly above 26½ bushels per acre, and the quality medium. The returns of potatoes make the average yield 76 bushels per acre. The general average for tobacco of all kinds is 645 pounds per acre.

Projected Niagara River Railway.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Nov. 12.—The presence here of A. S. Kibbe of the State Engineer's office, for the purpose of making a preliminary survey for a proposed railroad from Niagara Falls to below the Whirlpool to be connected there by bridge with a like roadway running along the Canadian bank, arouses hope that the idea may yet prove a reality.

The Atlantic Fisheries.

OTTAWA, Nov. 12.—Commander Gordon, of the fisheries protection service arrived from Halifax last night. He reports the catch this season a fair average. Americans had good luck outside the three-mile limit, and they took out double the number of licenses issued last year.

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS

ANOTHER SESSION BEFORE DISSOLUTION.

Three Candidates Nominated for the Vacancy in the Assembly for West Lambton—A Senatorial Probability.

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—The Globe this morning says: On Monday of last week a local contemporary [The Mail] professed to have received trustworthy information that the Ontario Legislature will be dissolved before another session. As it was quite impossible to believe that the journal referred to could have had any communication from the Ministry, we presumed everybody would sufficiently recognise the report to be false. It appears, however, that a few friends of the Government think there may be something in the report, simply because it has not been contradicted in The Globe. We have, therefore, been requested to state that there is not a particle of foundation for the story. The Government have never intended, and do not now intend, to bring on a general election previous to another session of the Legislature.

WEST LAMBTON NOMINATIONS.

Three Candidates in the Field—A Dispute About the Hall.

SARNIA, Nov. 12.—The nominations of candidates for the vacancy in the Ontario Assembly for the west riding of Lambton, caused by the death of the late Hon. T. B. Pardee, were made here yesterday afternoon in the Town Hall. Charles Mackenzie (Lib.) was placed in nomination by Arch. Gibb of Moore and James Purvis of Sarnia Township, Robert Fleck (Con.) by John D. McDonald of Pt. Lambton, and R. E. Le Sueur of Sarnia, John G. McCrae (Third Party) by Dr. Colter of Petrolia and J. F. Elliott of Sarnia.

When the nomination hour was up the Reformers claimed that they had rented the hall for the balance of the afternoon and Dr. Johnston, President of the Reform Association, took the chair. Immediately there was a commotion. The Conservatives and Third Party men claimed that each candidate should have a fair show, that no party should try to monopolize the hall. There was quite a lively time and then it was agreed that Johnston should be chairman of the meeting and that all the candidates should have an equal show. Mackenzie was still speaking at 4 o'clock, when the Conservatives and Third Party men claimed that they were not being treated fairly. They left the hall, to get another hall and failing they went back to the Town Hall. When Mackenzie had finished Fleck and McCrae both addressed the gathering.

A Probable Senator.

OTTAWA, Nov. 12.—The name of Mr. Matthew Legatt, of the well known firm of Wood & Legatt of Hamilton, is mentioned in connection with the vacant seat in the Senate. It is thought that the chances of his being appointed are very good.

MET HIS DEATH AT TRENTON.

William Kelly, a Grand Trunk Freight Conductor, Killed While on Duty.

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—Late last night the news reached the city that William Kelly, a way freight conductor on the Grand Trunk Railway, had been killed at Trenton. As far as can be ascertained he was walking on top of a train about 7 o'clock, when he tripped and fell between the cars and was crushed to death under the wheels. The body was brought up early this morning on a freight train. The deceased was about 40 years of age and had been on the road several years. He leaves a wife and family, who reside near the Don.

About 100 bushels of peas sold at 54 to 60c.

Receipts of straw small and prices easy. About 6 loads sold at $9 for loose and $11 to $12 for bundled.

BREADSTUFFS.

Utica reports: There is little that can be said concerning the cheese market yesterday. Things were dull and but little spirit was manifested in any direction. The New York advices quoted full cream cheese at 10½c., but the buyers said that this was for September stock, none of which is now offering here. The October make of full cream cheese could not command higher than 9½c and most of it was disposed of at 9½c with ruling prices established as 9c, which is ½c less than a week ago. AT LAST!

A Wonderful Vegetable Discovery That Removes the Terrible Results of Overwork.

A True Invigorator.

Weakness and prostration of the nervous system surely follow that overwork and worry which brings sorrow and suffering to so many Canadian homes. The terrible results of nervous weakness, are seen on every hand. Pains in the back, poor and disturbing sleep, lack of appetite dyspepsia, and lost energy and strength, are the first symptoms of more serious and danger. ous trouble. This is the way that Paralysis, Paresis and Insanity begin. Do not delay a moment longer, for some time it will be too late to regain your lost health and vitality. Use Paine's Celery Compound now, and the dull eyes will regain their brilliancy, the cheeks will grow rosy, the brain become clear, the nerves strong and steady, your sleep restful and refreshing, appetite good, and health and happiness will take the place of misery and suffering.

A. Sabiston, the well known lithographer of Montreal, writes: "In the summer of 1886 I had to work very hard, and was troubled considerably with insomnia (sleeplessness). I resolved to try your Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking the contents of two bottles, felt like a new man. A good night's rest gave me strength for the duties of the day, and instead of starting out to business in the morning feeling as if I had completed a day's work instead of being about to commence one I started out in good spirits, feeling fresh and strong. My wife and various friends, to whom I recommended the medicine, have been benefited greatly, and in fact 'Paine's Celery Compound is a household word in our family."

Fire Protection.

Why the South Ward is Without It—How it May be Obtained.

The following letter was read at the last meeting of the town council:—

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 28, 1889.

James Stevenson, Esq., Mayor:

DEAR SIR,—Enclosed please find a letter from the Peterborough Water Company, in reply to one written them on the 15th inst., respecting the extension of the water mains in Number One Ward. By bringing this matter before the council at this evening's meeting you will greatly oblige.

Yours, &c.,
T. E. BRADBURN.

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 21, 1889.

T. E. Bradburn, Esq., town:

DEAR SIR,—The directors of the Peterborough Water Company have considered your letter of the 11th inst., asking whether there is any probability of their mains being extended to the corner of Aylmer and Lake streets, as you desire to obtain fire protection in that locality, and am instructed to reply thereto. The company's mains do not extend farther south on Aylmer street than Dalhousie, and the main on Stewart street only extends to Nolle street, this street being also the terminus of the George street main. You must be aware that the question of fire protection and placing of hydrants rests with the town council, though the tone of your letter would seem to imply that the fact of there being no hydrants in the South Ward of the town is the fault of the Water Company.

The company have always been ready and willing to extend their system upon any fair terms, but are not willing to enter upon a large expenditure from which they can receive no fair return. As you remark, the company have extended their mains and placed hydrants in the north part of the town, but this was done under an agreement with the town by which the company made a certain circuit upon the town taking a proper number of hydrants. The company are willing to do the same thing with your part of the town on fair terms. For instance, the company would be willing to extend their mains on George street, from Wolfe to Lake street, along Lake street to Park street, on Park street to junction with Reid street, along Reid to King street, to connect with street main, which street is present terminus of same, providing the town will take hydrants along the lines of pipe. This would involve a large expenditure, and unless hydrants were so placed we would obtain no revenue, as the route proposed would afford small returns from service.

You will, therefore, see that your reproach is unjust, as the company are not responsible for the fact that the South Ward has not the same fire protection as the other parts of the town. The matter rests with the town council, to whom you should apply.

Yours respectfully,
W. HENDERSON,
Superintendent.

Milk Tests.

Chief Analyst Thos. Macfarlane, of the Inland Revenue Department, has issued bulletin No. 11, dealing with summer milk. These analyses have been conducted with a view to establishing a standard for milk. From past analyses it has been decided to fix the lowest limit at 3½ per cent. of butter fat and 12 per cent. total solids. At the last annual meeting of the Dominion Dairymen's Association doubt was expressed whether such a high minimum as this could be adopted during May and June. It was to decide this question that a further series of analyses were begun. Milk from the stock of 24 farmers was tested, and that delivered to eighteen cheese factories was also tested. The farmers whose milk was tested were: In Sydney township, near Belleville, James Blanchard, Jas. Knox, Chas. R. Ostrom Dr. Coleman, R. J. Graham, Senator Read, N. B. Gilbert, Culver and Massey, Thos. Stothart; Smith township, Wm. Stothart; Otonabee, Thos. Hooper; York township, Wm. Goulding, Edward Pickering, Wm. Wallace, Philip Mackenzie, David Duncan, Henry Duncan, Major E. H. Foster, Alex. Bryce, Barlington; John Fotbergill; Nelson township, John Ireland; Brantford, J. R. Alexander; Saltfleet township, F. M. Carpenter, M.P., Elizas S. Fenton. The cattle included Ayrshires, Shorthorns, Jerseys, Holstein, mixed and common. The Jerseys of David Duncan gave the milk richest in butter, the average of butter fat being 5.54 per cent. The next best was Wm. Stothart's common cattle, their average being 4.63. The lowest yield of butter fat was given by mixed cattle of a local milk dealer, being an average of 2.90. In conclusion Mr. Macfarlane recommends that steps be taken to extend the provisions of the Ad ulteration Act to milk supplied to cheese, butter and condensed milk factories, and thinks that the data given will enable Commissioner Mimi to recommend under sec. 19 of the act the establishment of minimum limits of 3½ per cent. butter fat and 12 per cent. total solids for milk of good standard quality.

"Grip's" Comic Almanac.

There are few people in Canada who do not see this entertaining annual. It has just made its appearance for the eleventh year; and in many respects the new book is ahead of any predecessor. The illustrations are abundant; all of the contents are of a very amusing character. A new feature is the calendar of "Remarkable Events," which runs through the year, and which, alone, is worth far more than the price. In this department it is certainly entertaining and helpful to be told the day and year when pancakes were invented, when the half-holiday agitation was started, or washing-day instituted, or stolen sermons first used, or Peterborough had a system of sewerage (1909), or mother-in-law joke invented, or Chicago morally reformed (A.D. 2525), or boot-jacks first used as a cat cure, or the streets of Toronto finally fixed, or Friday discovered to be an unlucky day,—information on all of which, as illustrations, may be found in the January calendar. And the other months are quite as communicative. This book contains 32 pages, and sells at all booksellers at the old price, 10 cents; or, send to publishers, Toronto, and receive the book, post-paid, by return mail. May be obtained at the Peterborough Bookstores.

Ashburnham Brevities.

There is a dangerous hole near the old elevator, on Robinson street, that needs fixing.

The plasterers commenced work on the new town hall here Monday.

The Rev. J. W. McCleary preached a sermon on "form in worship," in St. Luke's church, Sunday morning. His sermon was not so much a defence of the form used in his own church, as it was in support of form of some kind in every kind of worship. He proved pretty conclusively that those sects that ignored form altogether, are now about out of existence. His sermon was well received, as was the one in the evening on the subject faith.

Any one who thinks that the old drill shed behind the town hall is of any use to the inhabitants of Ashburnham or of any other part of Canada must be crazy or approaching that point. It is an ornament which no one feels proud of, and certainly when its usefulness for the general welfare of mankind has long ago ceased, it should be removed. The land on which it stands is valuable and belongs to the corporation and the council should ask the government to have it removed. This has been done in other places and why not here. If the corporation cannot do better with the land it could be laid out in a small park which would add something to appearances. The present structure is an eyesore, besides it will add considerably to the rate of insurance on the new hall.

WEATHER NOTES.—October, now come and gone, has, in some particulars, been a peculiar month. The commencement was mild and pleasant, but about the 9th a change took place, the thermometer dropping, and from that to the 24th almost one continued frost, on the morning of the 21st falling as low as 18°, which was severe for October, the hottest being the 1st, standing at 50° at sunrise and 50° at sundown; leaving the mean temperature of the month at 31 25-31°. Rain fell on 11 days, but only to the depth of 1 inch and 53-100 of an inch; snow fell on 4 days. Although no severe storm, still we had as much as we wanted at this time of the year. We had twice thunder, on the 3rd with half an inch of rain, which was our heaviest fall during the month, and on the 17th distant thunder, but no rain. Fog on two mornings, and auroral lights on two nights, and first wild geese going south on the 14th. Following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively, namely, south-west, 3 days; north, 5 days; south, 2 days; north west, 10 days; east, 2 days; north, 7 days, and south east, 2 days.

There is no more fruitful source of disease than vitiated blood. If involves every organ and function of the body, and if not immediately corrected by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sooner or later leads to fatal results. Be warned in time.

A Pleasing Recovery.

I SUFFERED with neuralgia and obtained no relief until advised to try Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Since then I have found it to be an admirable remedy also for burns, sore throat and rheumatism.

A BOODLER BAGGED.

Forger and Embezzler Andrew C. Drumm Arrested at Toronto.

TORONTO, Nov. 11.—On July 27 last, Andrew C. Drumm, the nephew and confidential clerk of Major Andrew Drumm, one of the most prominent, respected and wealthy citizens of Kansas City, Mo., absconded with $58,000 acquired by forgery and embezzlement. Up to the time of his sudden flight he had been the trusted and confidential right hand of his uncle, Major Drumm, and when his departure became known his large circle of friends, for he was quite a society man, were thunderstruck. Pinkerton's detective agency of Chicago was notified.

Photographs and circulars were mailed to every part of the United States and Canada. A minute description was given in the circular and it was also stated that in all probability the boodler would be accompanied by a young lady of fair complexion and about 24 years of age. A reward of $1000 was offered.

Pinkerton men were not long in getting on the trail of the embezzler and forger. It was ascertained that he had gone to New York, accompanied by the lady above referred to and by a man supposed to be his brother. It was also learned that the party had embarked on the Inman line steamship City of New York, had crossed the herring pond, and had visited some of the principal centres of Great Britain, and the continent. The party had a good time of it, much of the money being expended in the gay cities of the old world.

It is understood, however, that the bulk of the boodle was deposited in various banks, both of England and the Continent. The party eventually returned to the States and then crossed into Canada. Montreal was first visited. Considerable time was spent there until towards the latter end of October, when a flying trip was made to the little village of Bracebridge.

In this picturesque and secluded spot Andrew Drumm was married on Nov. 1 to the lady who accompanied him. A minister of the Methodist denomination tied the matrimonial knot, and the lady has now the certificate of marriage safely under lock and key in her apartments at the new Arlington Hotel.

The ceremony of marriage was performed in the modest little Methodist edifice at Bracebridge, the only one in the village of that denomination. They then came to Toronto and registered at the Arlington on Nov. 4, where they remained until last Saturday night.

Among the many circulars sent out by Pinkerton one was received by Sergeant Reburn. He at once detailed Detectives Alf. Cuddy and Davis to work the case up. On Saturday they learned that a woman answering the description furnished of Drumm's wife had been seen shopping in a well known dry goods house in the city. They also learned that she was staying at the Arlington, though of course registered under an assumed name.

At 10 o'clock on Saturday night the detectives went to the hotel and arrested Drumm and took him to Headquarters, where he remained all night. He was taken down to the jail yesterday morning.

Sergeant Reburn at once wired Pinkerton's agency that he had secured their man. He received a reply to detain him until the arrival of an American officer, who will probably be here to-day. He will be extradited on the charge of forgery, as that of embezzlement is not extraditable. Neither his brother Oscar J. Drumm nor his wife were detained, as there is no charge against them.

When arrested the prisoner had in his possession the sum of $305: his wife had $150 and Oscar Drumm had $850. But as before stated the bulk of the boodle is banked.

Drumm is a man of about 35 years of age, 5 ft. 7 in. in height and sports a heavy dark moustache.

Terrible Experience of [illegible]

TRINIDAD, A. T., [illegible] of John Martin and [illegible] boys who were fr[illegible] Grande in last week's [illegible] brought to Fort [illegible] men belonging to the [illegible] ing, and it is feared that the [illegible] is reported by parties who know that at least twenty men are missing from this range, and it is feared many of them will never be found. Jolly and Wise, the men who escaped badly frozen, tell a heartrending story of their sufferings. When the blizzard struck them Wednesday night of last week they were holding a herd of 2500 cattle. The wind became a hurricane before morning and when Martin and Jolly went on the last guard about 3 a. m. the storm was so blinding that they could not hold the herd. Jolly started to the camp for help. In the meantime Miller and Wise had left the camp to assist in holding the cattle. Jolly could not find the camp and Miller and Wise could not find the herd. All three were drawn together by shouting, and wandered around till daylight, when they found Martin. The cold was so bitter that the men entered a ravine, and, after fastening the horses, took the saddle blankets and buried themselves in a snow drift, about 3 in the afternoon, and it was only by the greatest efforts that Jolly and Wise succeeded in keeping awake. They were slightly apart from Martin and Miller and had difficulty in talking to each other. The snow piled upon them to such weight that they were forced to seek another drift. About 4 o'clock Friday morning Miller called Jolly and Wise and told them they had all better go, and when they crawled out they made a search in the drift for Miller and Martin. The latter only could be found, and he was dead. They took the horses and started, leading them. Soon they found Miller on his knees, his horse standing in front of him as though trying to protect him from the cold. He was asked to get up and go with them, but he was unable to rise and was assisted to his feet, but could not walk. Jolly started to get assistance, while Wise remained with their dying companion. Both of Wise's hands are frozen.

The Browns.

Brown has a home full of girls and boys.
Rosy and healthy and full of noise.
They're sprightly at work and bright at their books,
And are noted for smartness and wit and good looks.
Brown is healthy, his wife is fair.
And their faces are free from wrinkles of care.
They spend no money for powders and pills,
And never a dollar for doctor's bills.

The reason is that they begin in the right place. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery by keeping the springs of life pure, the blood free from impurities, wards off all those diseases which spring from bad blood. The use of the "Discovery" prevents liver and kidney troubles, dyspepsia, consumption or lung scrofula, stomach and bowel troubles, and forestalls the beginning of disease. That is why the Browns are so healthy. It is also guaranteed to cure these ailments if taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it will be refunded. a

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

The Best Remedy

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

The Utica Saturday Globe of last week prints a portrait of Master Fred Stoneburg, the Globe's agent in Peterborough. Fred is a "hustler" of the right sort, and though not quite a year at the business he sells 275 copies every week and sometimes 300. The Globe says of him:—"He is the kind of stuff that our and the Dominion's best business men are made of, and his future success in the business world is assured." Fred should feel proud of such a recommendation. He deserves it.

Kidd's New Premises.

What Dickens might have justly termed a "Curiosity Shop" the store recently occupied by Butcher, the proprietor of the 10c. store, 372 George street, is now transformed into an emporium of ready made Clothing. The interior has, with the assistance of the painter's brush, been made to appear neat, clean and tidy. That Kidd has made up his mind to regulate the prices of ready made Clothing, goes without saying. Commencing with the purchase of Wyatt & Turner's bankrupt stock, at 67c. on the dollar, he was enabled to offer to the public clothing at retail, less than it could be purchased wholesale. Already he has secured another bankrupt stock of Clothing, which will arrive this week, and the public may look out for bargains in the clothing line. Kidd means business, and in the new premises, 2 doors south of the shoe store, no doubt will transact a lucrative business. 2d110

The Weather and the Weather Prophet.

A few weeks ago Moses Oats predicted that we should have a month of fine, mild weather and his prediction has come true to the letter. In view of this fact Moses should be treated as a public benefactor. It would be a graceful thing for the public to present him with a testimonial. And while they are about it they should not forget hawley bros., the great tea merchants, george street, who are the greatest of public benefactors. They keep a magnificent stock of superb teas—the best in quality the lowest in prices. Also fragrant coffees and beautiful glassware. If you want a first-class cup of tea or coffee be sure to get you raw material at hawley bros', 378 george street.

A certain Captain of the 57th Batt. has a ten year old son who has thus early developed an hereditary love for fire-arms and the weapons of war. He is the proud possessor of a small gun which his father presented to him with a demand for the utmost caution in using it, and a warning to not for anything shoot outside the yard. The other day the lad caught a chicken on which he proposed to test his marksmanship. He didn't want to risk disobedience of his father's instructions by tossing the fowl in the air and trusting to a shot on the wing, so he impressed his younger brother into service, and got him to hold the chicken in his hands while he stood off at the other side of the yard and blazed away at it. The fowl's head was blown to atoms without, fortunately, a shot touching the lad holding it. It was a reckless experiment, performed with a boy's thoughtlessness, but the youngster feels quite proud of his shot.

The Coming Concert.

The public are not likely to forget the great musical treat in store for them at the concert on Thursday evening, Nov. 21st. In addition to our strongest local talent, the name of Miss Waltz, the brilliant soprano, suggests something rich and rare. Speaking of her, the Brooklyn Eagle says:—"Miss Alice Waltz made her debut in "Angels Ever Bright and Fair." Her voice is full, round, resonant and sweet. Her high notes are clear and strong, and in the extreme upper register were remarkably well sustained. For an encore Miss Waltz sang a ballad, "Beautiful Maiden" which was charmingly rendered. In the second part "The Last Rose of Summer," given for an encore, was sung without the least perceptible effort and with perfect freedom from self consciousness.

Hymeneal.

The wedding of Mr. R. G. Kingan, of the firm of Kingan & Co., town, to Miss Hattie Pusey, of Irondale, daughter of Mr. Chas Pusey, manager of the Irondale and Bancroft RR., took place this morning at the residence of the bride's father. The ceremony was performed at the early hour of five o'clock in order to enable Mr. and Mrs. Kingan to catch the train for Toronto. Mr. A. Mercer, of Peterborough, was groomsman, and Miss Pusey, a sister of the bride, bridesmaid. Rev. Mr. Kenrick, of St. John's church officiated. There was a small party of guests present, but the large array of beautiful presents to the bride attested the popularity of both young people. Mr. and Mrs. Kingan will spend a week or ten days in the West before returning to Peterborough to reside. The many friends of the young people in Peterborough will wish Mr. and Mrs. Kingan all the joys of a happy wedded life. They will be warmly welcomed to town. Mr. Kingan is a rising and shrewd young business man, while his estimable wife is quite well known in Peterborough, where she has a warm circle of friends. The EXAMINER begs to add its congratulations.

IN GEORGE ST. METH. CHURCH

Obituary.

Mrs. F. W. Coon died at Rochester on Tuesday, 5th November, and was buried on the 7th. Mrs. Coon was a daughter of the late John Taylor, of Otonabee, and about five years ago married the husband with whom she was permitted to enjoy but five brief years of wedded happiness. The deceased lady lived until her marriage in Otonabee, and was highly esteemed and beloved by a large circle of friends, who will be deeply pained to learn of her sad death. She leaves behind her a mourning husband and three children, the youngest of whom is but eight months old. The bereaved ones will be consoled with the sincere sympathy of a host of friends. Mr. Coon was an employee in Lindsey, Sibley & Carr's large dry goods house in Rochester, and as an evidence of their deep sympathy with him in his sorrow, his fellow-employees passed a most kindly-worded resolution of condolence to him and his motherless children. The deceased was a young lady of amiable disposition and womanly graces, who made warm friends of all with whom she came in contact. She has three brothers and one sister living—Joseph and John Taylor, of Otonabee, James Taylor, now living in Rochester, and Mrs. John Ray, of Perth. The family is a well known and highly respectable one in Otonabee, and the news of the death of Mrs. Coon will cause universal sorrow in the community. The funeral took place in Rochester on the 7th, and was largely attended. Messrs. James and John Taylor were among the mourners.

The Post Office Clock.

A Complete Chronometer—With the Most Modern Attachments and Works—Well Put in and a Correct and Reliable Recorder of the Flight of Time.

About a month ago the public first heard the pleasant toned chimes of the new clock in the Post Office tower. At that time the EXAMINER applied to Mr. J. McClelland, who, against the competition of the largest clocks constructors of the province had been awarded the contract, of putting it in, for some material for a discription, but owing to there being some uncompleted work about the tower unconnected with his contract, a public reference to the clock and its construction was deferred.

The machinery of the new time-measurer which is an eight day turret clock, was constructed by Chanteloup, of Montreal, who made the works, bell and all, so that it is an entirely home product.

Before any time piece can "go" it must be wound up. The winding apparatus of this clock is of the best made. The barrel carries a steel wire rope, which, passing through a pulley which works on an endless screw, automatically moving with the rope as the weight rises in winding or falls in "going"—and also through other pulleys, is attached to the weight. The "going" weight is about 360 pounds, which, however, can be increased or diminished by portable weights. The winding apparatus is so arranged that the clock can be wound or unwound without diminishing or affecting the impulse to the works, and is the first of the kind applied to a clock in this province.

But the chief peculiarity of the clock is the escapement—Denniston's double three-leg gravity, with dead-beat fly. There is absolutely no recoil nor loss of force with this escapement, which is the same as that in the clock of the British Parliament buildings, London.

The pendulum is a compensating one of 200 pounds weight. The pendulum is prevented from falling, should the spring break, by an ingenious little safety guard, which would permit a fall of only about half an inch.

Attached to the works is a small dial and an arrangement for setting the hands of the main dials from the inside of the tower. A similar convenience—a detatchable locking wheel—permits the striking to be regulated also from the inside without striking the clock around, in case of its stopping from any cause.

From the striking apparatus in the inside of the tower a wire cord passes to the thousand pound bell which is placed on the apex of the roof. The bell has a very sweet musical tone, in a key varying, according to different experts, from B flat to C. The chief beauty of this bell, however, is the fact that it tells forth the correct time. During the past three weeks there has not been a perceptible change from standard time as it is received daily by Mr. McClelland from the Observatory in Toronto. On the uppermost floor in the dial room. The dials are each 7 (6 ft. 11½ in.) feet in diameter. The circle of Roman numerals is of cast iron painted black and placed against the inner plate of opalescent glass, the outer being plate glass. The illumination is provided by eight gas jets which are kept burning low during the day to regulate the temperature and at night they provide the illumination of the dials. The inside of both clock floors in the tower are wainscotted and made weather proof.

Altogether the clock is an excellent one, the cost of which is about $2,000. Mr. McClelland has erected it with the greatest care and skill, and his knowledge of horology is at the service of the public to furnish them with the correct time—time that they can travel by.

The clock is a great convenience, especially at night, when the illuminated dials are of important service.

The Assault-at-Arms.

A Good Athletic Entertainment at the Opera House—The Man who Came Near Licking Sullivan Displays his Science.

It was a field night for the boys and elders at the Opera House last night. The Kilrain-Scholes combination held down the boards, and the audience that gathered was, of course, an entirely male one. The freedom from female restraint was manifest in the free-and-easy manner of the crowd. Men sat with their hats on and smoked and chewed tobacco as if it were necessary to a full and proper appreciation of the performance. There was a good house, the gallery gods fairly swarming over, while in the pit only a few back seats were vacant.

It was a quarter to nine o'clock when the curtain was rung up. This delay was due to the fact that Kilrain and Scholes did not arrive in town till the eight o'clock train. Geo. Cooper, of Toronto, was master of ceremonies.

The first event was a three-round boxing bout between Prof. Lovett, one of the troupe, and Jack McDonough, of the Oriental Hotel. McDonough showed he was a good amateur boxer, but was, of course, over-matched by the professor.

Then Mike Burns, also one of the combination, sparred three rounds with George Graham, a well-known local knight of the manly art. Graham was in no condition, not having boxed for a number of years, but he showed up well in the contest with his trained adversary, and held his own all through it.

Prof. Lovett, announced as the champion club-swinger of Canada, gave a first-class exhibition of fancy club-swinging. It was one of the best of the kind ever seen in Peterborough.

Then followed the liveliest "scrap" of the evening, between Enoch and William Taylor. During the four rounds the contest was fierce and rapid, and in the third round the little fellow drew blood from his larger brother.

Then two local men, Sandy Watson and Billy Lattimore, indulged in three rounds which set the house roaring. It was for the most part a vision of flying gloves and limbs, with once in a while a resounding whack to make it interesting, and it ended in a mutual knock-down in the third round. When time was called Sandy Watson took it for granted that he was accorded the victory and appeared before the audience in answer to their cheers.

Next Prof. Lovett and Mike Burns gave an exhibition of clever and quick work with the gloves.

Prof. Reid, who was announced as the champion swordsman of America and an old favorite in Peterborough, performed feats with his keen edged blades, such as cutting an apple on the back of a man's neck, using the naked edge of the sword as a trapeze bar, etc. Then followed a contest, sword vs. bayonet, between Prof. Reid and Geo. Cooper, who is a Color-Sergeant in the Q.O.R., Toronto.

The grand wind up was a three round set-to between Jake Kilrain, of Baltimore, whose famous fight with John L. Sullivan last summer caused such a stir, and John F. Scholes, of Toronto, a one time well known pugilist. Interest centred chiefly in Kilrain, whose immense physique was admired, but he was evidently in no condition, and Scholes was even worse off. The bout was not as interesting as some of the preceding ones, as Kilrain did not have an opportunity of displaying his powers, but the exhibition gave satisfaction.

On the whole the assault-at-arms pleased the audience. The combination appear in Port Hope to-night.

Conclusion of the Belleville Case.

The following communication has been sent to the EXAMINER:—

Deputy Postmaster Duncan was Monday evening summoned to appear before Police Magistrate Flint on a charge of assault, on his servant girl, Rose Dean, when alone with her in the house, Mrs. Duncan being away on a visit. The defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay $20 00, (the highest possible fine) and to defray the travelling expenses of the plaintiff and the Supt. of Dr. Barnardo's Home.

It will be remembered that on Nov. 1st, the case of Mr. Duncan who was arrested on a charge of rape was heard before Magistrate Flint. George E. Henderson, Q. C., Crown Attorney, conducted the case for the Crown; W. B. Northrup, counsel of the defendant. The Magistrate concluding that the case could not come under the head of rape, he reserved his decision until the following Monday Nov. 4th.

While the case was pending, one of the Belleville papers after eulogizing Mr. Duncan, attributed to Mr. Ketcheson the vilest motives for simply doing his duty as a man by making known to the guardians of the girl, who had previously been in his employ between two and three years and bore an irreproachable character, the report of the vile treatment she had received. This paper added "The facts look suspicious and every detail should have the light of day" This presumably refers to Mr. Ketcheson.

On Nov. 4th Police Magistrate Flint delivered his judgment that the crime with which Mr. Duncan was charged had not been committed. At the preliminary examination he had to dispose of the charge laid, and was not at liberty to commit the defendant for any other offence than the one of which he was charged in the information. In giving his judgment Police Magistrate Flint said:—"It is a most regrettable circumstance that the defendant should have been charged with a capital felony when the evidence apparently shows that the girl had no idea whatever of charging him with the commission." Also, "I am asked by defendant's counsel to say that the defendant had not the opportunity given him to go into the witness stand and deny the charge. Such is the case. Under our law the defendant could not be allowed to give his evidence under oath on his own behalf."

In view of the above, and that Mr. Duncan might be able to answer for himself, the mildest charge was made on Monday, Nov. 11th, with the result as reported above. The most strenuous efforts were made by the defendant's counsel to hush the matter up so that it should not come before the public. However, the fact that Mr. Duncan pleaded guilty to the charge of assault upon the person of his young servant girl when alone with her in the house at a late hour of the night, speaks for itself to an intelligent Christian public.

A Warning to Gossips.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

With your permission, Mr. Editor, I would like to say a few words on a subject which concerns many in this town. It appears to me that Peterborough is blessed, or rather cursed, with a number of long-tonged females, who take a positive delight in slandering young men and women. These gossipers are not at all particular whether there is the least foundation or not for their yarns—as long as the story is rich and highly-flavoured the better they like it and the more industriously they circulate it. What are we to think of women who impute impure motives to young men and women if they are seen walking along the street in company? A verse in a very old book reads something like this: "Unto the pure all things are pure, but to them that are defiled is nothing pure; but even their very conscience and mind is defiled." This same volume speaks also about back-biters, slanderers and gossipers, and I would advise some of these women, who have got so much to say, to read for themselves. How prone people are to believe that which is told with winks and insinuations! These people that I speak of are simply assessins of character—taking a delight in stabbing and wounding those who are immeasurably their superiors in all the cardinal virtues. In olden times an instrument called the ducking stool was in use and generally proved a panacea for the worst cases, and something similar would do a world of good at the present time. This is to give warning that, if they are wise, these slandering females will at once give their wagging tongues a much-needed rest.

MALIGNED,

Accident to the Grand Master.

Dr. R. W. Bell, Grand Master of the Ontario Oddfellows, is confined to the house from the result of injuries sustained last Friday evening. Dr. and Mrs. Bell were driving near the stove works a little after five o'clock, when their horse took fright at the snorting and whistling of the locomotives and began backing upon the road. Suddenly the animal leaped forward, and horse, buggy and occupants were rolled over into the hollow at the side of the road. Dr. Bell was thrown ten or twelve feet and alighted on his head, the buggy on top of him. He was unconscious for a moment, but on regaining his senses found the horse struggling to free itself, its hind feet close to his head. The Doctor hastily managed to escape from under the buggy, and as he crawled out Mrs. Bell emerged from the other side, safe and unhurt. How she escaped is miraculous, but it was probably due to the top being partly up. Some people who had witnessed the accident came to the rescue, and the buggy was righted. It was little damaged and the doctor managed to drive home in it, Mrs. Bell stopping at the house of a friend to recover from her fright. That evening Dr. Bell felt no serious effects from his fall, but next morning he was too ill to rise and Dr. Boucher was called in. The extent of his injuries proved to be a slight concussion of the brain, a severe bruising of the shoulder blade and arm down to the elbow, and it is feared a rib or two may be fractured. The Doctor is able to be around the house, but will not be recovered for a week or ten days. His injuries are rather painful, and the Doctor's many friends will hope to soon see him out again. It was fortunate he escaped so luckily as he did. The result might easily have been more serious.

How to Lace Your Shoes.

Not one person in a thousand laces his shoes correctly. The correct way is to put your foot when you are about to lace your shoe as much as possible in the heel of the shoe. You can do this best by lacing your shoes with the heel of your shoe resting in a chair standing in front of the one you are seated on. Over the instep the lacing should be drawn as tightly as possible. This will hold your foot back in the shoe, giving the toes freedom and preventing their being cramped. Learn about the shape to suit your comfort.—New York Truth.

MUNICIPAL REPRESENTATIVES MEET IN CONVENTION.

The Baptist Conference—Fatal Accident—Druggists Entrapped by Fair Whiskey Informers—Victoria Injunction Case.

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—A conference of considerable importance to municipalities of the province was commenced in the City Council Chamber yesterday afternoon. It was called to discuss principally exemptions, assessments, local improvements and the Municipal Act. The only business transacted yesterday was the appointing of committees to deal with these matters. There was besides an informal discussion in which it was plainly shown that the majority of the municipalities represented were in favor of abolishing all exemptions of church or of any other property. Mayor Evans of Ottawa presided and representatives were present from nearly all the important cities and towns of Ontario.

The eighth annual meeting of the Baptist Congress began at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Jarvis-street Baptist church. The congress will be in session for three days, and will hold afternoon and evening meetings each day. A large number of delegates from various points in the United States are expected, and quite a number have already arrived.

Mr. Alexander Hunter, a well-known builder, who owned a saw mill on Don Mills road, was killed Monday night in a most frightful manner. He was driving along Don Mills road, and in turning out to make room for a passing buggy he turned too short. His buggy was overturned and the unfortunate driver crushed beneath it. When the body was extricated it was discovered that in addition to several severe injuries his neck was broken and life was extinct.

Inspector Dexter has been at his old tricks again, and is just now engaged in preparing some fifty summonses against city druggists for breaches of the liquor law. The inspector had tried a good many methods to entrap those he suspected of breaking the law, but for a time was unsuccessful. Some days ago, however, he engaged a professional informer and two young women, one of them being particularly good-looking, and after giving them certain instructions sent them out on the warpath. Yesterday they completed a batch of fifty informations against city druggists and now they are seeking fresh pastures. This is how it was done: Enter drug store two young, good-looking and respectably dressed women accompanied by a male companion. Clerk approaches them politely and asks what is required. A little whisky for three, if you please." "Do you require it for medicine?" inquires the somewhat surprised clerk, turning naturally to the best looking one of the two." "Now, do I look ill?" pouts the fair deceiver. "No, I do not want it for medicine; I want it to drink and so do my friends. You see (confidentially) I can get better liquor in a drug store than anywhere else, and it is so private you know; and then, besides, I like a little sometimes, it makes me feel so nice and friendly." In nine drug stores out of ten the schemers succeeded by their very boldness and simplicity, and the clerks never suspected that they were serving whisky informers with seven-year-old rye at five cents a glass. At the Police Court yesterday afternoon three druggists named W. E. Galley, Charles H. Conen and W. H. Warden pleaded guilty to infractions of the liquor law, and were each fined $20 and costs which they paid.

Robert Davis, while driving a milk wagon yesterday morning across the Canadian Pacific crossing at Davenport-road, was knocked over. The hind legs of his horse were broken, and Davis himself received internal injuries. He was taken to the hospital.

George Burns, against whom a warrant was out charging him with committing an aggravated assault on Whisky Detective McDonagh, gave himself up at Police Headquarters yesterday morning.

The Cobourg injunction suit against Victoria College was resumed yesterday at Osgoods Hall before Justice MacMahon. Hon. John Macdonald was examined by Mr. Britton. He claimed the endowment fund was not limited to Cobourg. Drs. Potts and Dewart were also examined. The case is still on.

The charge of murder against Dr. G. B. Foster was taken up again yesterday, but was remanded for a week. The chief witness was a Mrs. McGiverin, who happened to be nursing next door at the time of the affair, was called in and deposed that the miscarriage had appeared to her to be an unnatural one.

Salisbury's Significant Phrase—Hungary's Taverns—Cable Notes.

LONDON, Nov. 13—A blue book on the Cretan troubles just published shows that Greece early in August was preparing to send an expedition to Crete, and that the powers restrained her. Lord Salisbury in one despatch said England would consult with her allies. As the Prime Minister has heretofore averred that England had no allies the phrase is likely to cause a sensation.

Hungary Converts Taverns into Schools.

PESTH, Nov. 13.—The Hungarian Government has obtained control of 10,000 taverns throughout the country. This has been done by virtual purchase. A large number of these buildings are to be converted into public school houses.

Russia's New Rifles.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.—The Russian military authorities are testing a new rifle which is said to combine the best features of the repeating and Berdan rifles. If the test proves satisfactory the Government will provide the army with 1,000,000 of the new rifles.

CRONIN'S DYING CRIES

PAULINE HOERTEL HEARD THE VICTIM'S LAST WORDS.

A Blow, a Fall and All Was Still—The Satchel Identified—A Winnipeg Witness Tells About Burke's Capture.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—In the Cronin trial yesterday Hatfield, who sold the furniture to "J. R. Simonds," was called to the stand and given the frame of the satchel found in the sewer last Friday. After examining and measuring it he said it corresponded exactly in size with that of the one which he sold to "Simonds," and the material of the cover and of the handle were the same. The frame was admitted in evidence.

Pauline Hoertel, a washerwoman, testified that she passed the Carlson cottage between 8 and 9 o'clock on the night of the murder. She saw a white horse drawing a buggy in which there were two men, driven up to the cottage. The larger man, who appeared like a gentleman, got out of the buggy and taking a satchel or box out of the buggy, went up the steps and entered the cottage. The driver of the white horse at once turned around and drove back towards Chicago.

"State whether you heard any sound in the house?"

"Yes, sir, I did. It seemed to me as if some one was crying 'Oh God!' and 'Jesus,' and sounded as if a hard blow came and as if somebody fell, and it was all through. I could not say what it was.

"The man who went into the cottage," she continued, "went into the house unhesitatingly and it seemed to me as if the door was opened or as if some one opened it for him as he came up the steps. When I turned from Ashland-avenue and started east I saw a man standing between Carlson's house and the cottage. He was inside the fence. There was a light in the front of the cottage and the night was bright starlight."

Donald F. McKinnon, sergeant at the police station at Winnipeg, told of the arrest of Burke. Tickets to Montreal and from Montreal to Liverpool were found on Burke. The conditions on the back of these were endorsed with the name of "W. J. Cooper." The prisoner admitted his name was Burke, and that he was sometimes called "Delaney." Burke said he came from Hancock, Mich., where he worked for John F. Ryan, whom he admitted he had written to since coming to Winnipeg. The witness identified a hat found in Burke's possession. The inner band had been scratched as if a name or other mark had been erased.

Henry P. Lansile, salesman in a shirt store, testified that on the morning after the murder a man came into the store to buy a shirt. The customer's neck was measured and a shirt was shown him. He asked if the sleeves were wide enough and the salesman offered to measure the man's arm, but the man refused to be measured. He took the shirt, however, paid for it and went across the street, and after talking to a smaller man there brought him over. The little fellow bought a colored shirt and the big fellow took a shirt also. The little fellow had a kind of a woolen shirt and the big fellow had a white shirt on. They both had their coats buttoned up to the top. The witness pointed out Burke as the larger of the two men. The witness was shown a photograph of "Cooney the Fox" and said it was a picture of the little fellow.

T. H. Ryan testified that he had boarded with Kunze in May or June. Kunze said to witness he was afraid he would be arrested in connection with the Cronin case.

Chief of Police Hubbard testified to a talk with Coughlin, during which the latter told his well-known story of asking Liverymen Dinan to keep a rig for a friend of his who wanted to take a ride. Coughlin said the friend's name was Thomas Smith, who he did not know personally, but who told Coughlin he had been asked by Coughlin's brother and John F. Ryan of Hancock, Mich., to call on him.

Daniel Brown, ex-policeman and ex-member of the Clan-na-Gael, was the next witness. A long wrangle ensued over this witness' testimony. State's Attorney Longenecker said he proposed to show that in 1885 this witness had moved the appointment of a committee to try Cronin for treason for having read a circular in his camp, which was issued without the authority of the Executive, that a committee from the different camps was appointed, that Coughlin was a member of that committee and that Cronin was found guilty of treason and expelled. In the course of the talk the lawyers got this matter tangled up with Cronin's alleged trial for reading a report of the committee to try the triangle—Sullivan, Feely and Boland—in Buffalo last year. Finally Mr. Forrest said:

"We are not here to apologize for Alexander Sullivan or to defend him. But we protest that the prejudice which exists against him should not be allowed to have weight against our clients. Alexander Sullivan three days ago was discharged from his $20,000 bail by order of Judge Baker. I protest against anything against Alexander Sullivan being introduced into this case. All we ask is that Dan Coughlin and Martin Burke be tried—[at the top of his voice]—for their sins and not tried for the sins of Alexander Sullivan, and I protest against this whole scheme as nothing but an attempt to connect my clients' names with Alexander Sullivan. These poor men had nothing whatever to do with the trial."

Mr. Foster: "The counsel for the State expects to convict my client Beggs because he was a friend of Alexander Sullivan and for no other purpose. I submit that you are not going to convict these men upon evidence that they are friends of Sullivan. If he is as guilty as they say he is why do not they indict him."

The State's Attorney: "If some of his dupes will tell us the facts and the truth we will get an indictment against him pretty soon."

Mr. Donohue: "I except to that statement."

The State's Attorney: "You are not defending Alex. Sullivan, are you? You are not a dupe of his, are you? Now we propose to show that Sullivan four years ago, when on the Executive Committee and charged with fraudulent appropriation of funds, prosecuted Cronin, and that Coughlin was on that committee trying Cronin for writing a circular that reflected on Sullivan's character."

The argument continued until adjournment and the court held the matter under advisement.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP

THE QUEEN ANNOYED BY THE PUBLICATION OF A LETTER.

The Sultan's Gift to the Kaiser—Political Intelligence—Lord Falmouth's Winning on the Turf.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—All the stories about the betrothal of the Czarewitch are the flimsiest fabrications. The Emperor of Russia intends his eldest son to marry Princess Helene of Montenegro, a very beautiful and clever girl, on Jan. 17 next.

The Queen was greatly annoyed a few months ago, on the publication of the second volume of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha's memoirs, when she found that her brother-in-law had printed, without her permission, a confidential letter which Prince Albert wrote to him when the relations between the Court and Lord Palmerston were seriously strained, in which His Royal Highness very sharply criticised the proceedings of the foreign secretary and referred to him altogether with asperity. The relations between Prince Albert and Lord Palmerston were subsequently so cordial that it was a great pity to publish this letter. But the Duke probably remembers the peremptory manner in which Lord Palmerston was in the habit of dealing with the smaller states of Germany, of which His Royal Highness constituted himself champion, and was glad of the opportunity to recall the fact that the Prince did not always express the confidence in Lord Palmerston which he professed during the last seven years or eight years of his life. The Queen is said to have protested vigorously against the publication of any more of Prince Albert's correspondence with his brother.

The Sultan presented Emperor William with the famous sabre of Sultan Murad IV., which originally belonged to Emperor Frederick, of Hapsburg, who reigned during the early part of the fourteenth century. It is a cross-handled sword of great length with the handle and sheath of solid silver, superbly chased. The Damascus blade is engraved with German inscriptions, and the imperial eagle is engraved upon the handle. In the sixteenth century the sabre, which was an heirloom in the Hapsburg family, was given by Emperor Mathias to Count Hunyadi, of that day, who was killed in battle fighting against the Turks, who captured the weapon. For more than 300 years it has been a prominent object in the imperial armory of Constantinople.

The preparation of the Irish land purchase bill is to be left mainly in the hands of Goschen and Lord Ashbourne, who know more about the subject in its practical details than any other members of the government. The chief secretary and the first lord of the treasury will also be associated with them in the formation of this great scheme.

Lord Salisbury and Lord Hartington are both annoyed about the differences which have arisen between the two divisions of the Unionist party in Birmingham. They hold to the position that the status quo should be maintained in Birmingham as everywhere else, and will resolutely discourage every attempt to disturb it. Every general rule, however, has exceptions, and I believe that both Lord Hartington and Lord Salisbury would not object to see a more equal distribution of representation in Birmingham between the two parties. The essential question is that there should be no division between Liberal-Unionists and Conservatives.

Conservatives who think that the Government ought to take up and pass the woman's suffrage franchise bill found a strong argument in the Edinburgh municipal election. In that city four of the members of the council who voted for giving the freedom of the city to Parnell have been unseated, and it is tolerably well-known that this result is largely due to the exercise of the franchise by women. In some constituencies the bestowal of the franchis upon women would add thousands of votes to the Tory party.

At a regular meeting of the fellows and members of the Royal College of Surgeons, held at Lincoln's inn last Thursday, Surgeon Major Ince endeavored to bring forward a resolution approving the action of the council of the college in condemning Sir Morell Mackenzie's book, Frederick the Noble. He, however, did not find a seconder, and his proposition was received with absolute silence. This result shows that the authorities of the college of surgeons are by no means in touch with the general body of members. It appears that Surgeon Major Ince, whose functions would seem to be those of a busybody, attempted to pass a similar resolution at the meeting of the British Medical association in Leeds last August. But there again he met with the same discomfiture.

Figures do not always lie, and as Lord Falmouth never was a bettor it is not difficult to compute how large his profits must have been from 1870 to the sale of his stud in 1884, seeing that during that period he won nearly a quarter of a million pounds in stakes, and that his horses, training and breeding stud fetched considerably over £100,000. This was independent of the large sums he had received for other horses sold privately. After making the most liberal allowance for expenses it will be safe to assert that Lord Falmouth made more money out of the turf than any of his contemporaries. EDMUND YATES.

John L. Willing to Fight for $10,000.

BOSTON, Nov. 13. It is reported the California Athletic Club is willing to offer $7500 for a match between John L. Sullivan and Dominick McCaffrey, Sullivan says he will meet McCaffrey for a $10,000 purse and an outside bet of $10,000 beside but not a cent less.

The smelting works near the Coal Oil Inc., which were burnt down recently, are being rebuilt.

Pablo Sarasate, the famous Spanish violinist, arrived in New York Tuesday from Bremen.

HAMILTON, Nov. 13.—The jury empanelled to enquire into the death of John Kain, the enquire driver killed at the Junction Cut last week, brought in this verdict: "The jury is of the opinion that John Kain came to his death Nov. 6 at the Junction Cut by being crushed between the engine and tender through the misplacement of a switch improperly turned by the telegraph operator, Ernest Stephenson. The jury find that the said operator, Ernest Stephenson, fancied he heard an order given him to turn the switch which caused the accident, and there is no evidence to show that the deceased engine driver either reversed his engine or whistled brakes which he should have done, had he watched carefully the switch light."

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 12.—Thomas Duncan, deputy postmaster, has been fined $20 and costs for assault upon Rosa Dean, a servant in his employ.

During Sunday night burglars entered the store of R. C. Hubbell, Madoc, and stole $250 worth of goods. They also entered the Royal Hotel bar and stole some whisky, and a blacksmith's shop, where they obtained a sledge and a brace and bit.

AT LAST!

[A Wonderful Vegetable Discovery That Removes the Terrible Results of Overwork.

A True Invigorator.

Weakness and prostration of the nervous system surely follow that overwork and worry which brings sorrow and suffering to so many Canadian homes. The terrible results of nervous weakness, are seen on every hand. Pains in the back, poor and unrefreshing sleep, lack of appetite dyspepsia, and lost energy and strength, are the first symptoms of more serious and danger. ous trouble. This is the way that Paralysis, Paresis and Insanity begin. Do not delay a moment longer, for some time it will be too late to regain your lost health and vitality. Use Paine's Celery Compound now, and the dull eyes will regain their brilliancy, the cheeks will grow rosy, the brain become clear, the nerves strong and steady, your sleep restful and refreshing, appetite good, and health and happiness will take the place of misery and suffering.

A. Sabiston, the well known lithographer of Montreal, writes: "In the summer of 1888 I had to work very hard, and was troubled considerably with insomnia (sleeplessness). I resolved to try your Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking the contents of two bottles, felt like a new man. A good night's rest gave me strength for the duties of the day, and instead of starting out to business in the morning feeling as if I had completed a day's work instead of being about to commence one I started out in good spirits, feeling fresh and strong. My wife and various friends, to whom I recommended the medicine, have been benefited greatly, and in fact 'Paine's Celery Compound is a household word in our family."

The Central Exhibition.

Meeting of the Directors and Citizens—A Way out of the Difficulty.

The joint meeting of the citizens and directors of the Central exhibition called for Tuesday afternoon was not largely attended. Mr. Wm. Fair, Vice President, occupied the chair, and there were present Directors Fitzgerald, Tully, Baptie, Elliott, Berry, Morgan and Stevenson, and Secretary Collins. Others present were Messrs. Jno. Scarlett and Jas. Davidson, Smith; Councillors Kelly and Dawson, A. Elliott and E. Brown.

The Chairman and Secretary made statements concerning the financial position of the Society. They had about $300 in the bank but many were still in arrear to the $1 650 prize. Private subscriptions amounting to $220 had been taken up, as follows: J. Stevenson $50, John Garbutt $25, J. Baptie $25, J. Tully $10, A. P. Morgan $20, W. Rutherford $10, Wm. Fair $20, G. W. Fitzgerald $10, Geo. Elliott $10, R. Ware $10, Geo. Berry $5.50, S. Masters $10. The subscriptions raised last year amounted to $1240 but the list was not called. They were behind now the $1600 due for prizes.

The proposition of forming a joint stock company to carry on the business was discussed. Mr. Elliott suggested that 500 shares be made at $10 each, and a call of thirty per cent. would be sufficient to start them.

Mr. Tully considered it useless to think of a joint stock company while the prizes were unpaid.

Mr. Elliott said in any case this indebtedness would have to be assumed, and the Society could give up the buildings to the company in consideration of their assuming the debt.

Mayor Stevenson proposed that the directors float a note for $1 000 to carry the Society over this year, and himself offered $50 for the purpose. It would be dishonourable in the Society to repudiate its debts. If a proper appeal was made he had no doubt the note could be raised. He believed the town council would be willing to give some help. If the directors wished he would call a special meeting of the council for next Monday night, so they could lay the matter before the council.

In answer to a question Secretary Collins said the Society had a lease of the grounds for four years yet, and it would not be necessary to take over the property until then.

Mr. Elliott remarked that with fair weather and economical management the directors would be able to wipe out this note for $1,800 at the end of the four years.

Mr. Kelly expressed his opinion that it would be better to form a joint stock company on a paid-up basis so as to give it a good start, and take over the property and the indebtedness of the Society. He proposed the shares number 500 at $25 or 500 at $30—a capital of $15,000. He did not, however think the council could be expected to give much assistance. He advised the farmers to do away with the small shows and centralize here.

Secretary Collins explained the position of the Society with regard to other township shows. The Riding Society draws $700 from the government on a membership of 80, but there being three other branch societies of 50 members each the grant was divided, Lakefield and Monaghan each getting $140 and the Horticultural Society a smaller sum, leaving only $280 for the Central.

The question as to whether a joint stock company could draw the government grant was discussed. The Chairman said the Minister of Agriculture had told him they could. Mr. Collins said he thought that was a mistake, and said if they wished to keep the Central Exhibition in Peterborough the Society should be maintained, or it would go to Lakefield. He said the Central had fallen behind this year in only one department, the gate receipts, but so had every other show but one in the province.

Mr. Kelly said as long as things were run in this way they would always be in trouble, where they depended on gate receipts. The society pays rent, and at the end of four years they would have to take over the property, but they would not be in any better position to do it then than they were now. The time to form the joint stock company was now, when people were interested, and not wait until everything was run down.

Mr. Stevenson stated that the society would not be continually running in debt, for in every year but the present they had been able to pay off some of the $4 000 contracted for the new buildings, until last year it was only $1,250. This was the first year they had fallen behind. He favoured forming the joint stock company, but their best course at present was to float the note for $1,000.

Mr. Tully wanted to know how many of the directors were willing to join in the note. If the debt on the prize list was reduced it would be easy to form a company.

Five held up their hands, and on canvassing a little more it was found that nine of the directors were willing to assist Mr. Stevenson in floating the note.

Mr. Stevenson said there would be no use talking of organizing a company until they found out if the company could legally handle the property of the society.

Mr. Dawson being asked for his opinion, expressed himself in favor of the council rendering the society some reasonable assistance. He also believed in the policy of centralizing the exhibitions and doing away with township shows.

Before adjourning Mr. Stevenson's suggestion of appearing before the council was adopted, and a motion made by Mr. Tully, seconded by Mr. Morgan, calling the directors to meet next Monday night for that purpose, was passed.

GAMBLING DENS AT NIAGARA.

An Englishman and a Cuban Drop $3000 at One of Them.

Lockport, Nov. 13.—An Englishman and a wealthy Cuban, stopping at Niagara Falls this week, have made complaint that they had been robbed of large sums of money by gambling in some of the numerous dives at the falls and along the avenue between that village and Suspension Bridge. An investigation followed, but the gang in Tom Ward's place, one of the finest and flyest, had flown, presumably to New York. There are a large number of gambling dens at the falls, furnished in a princely manner. They keep spotters in New York, who make it a point to catch on to any party of distinguished foreigners who are traveling privately, and make their acquaintance. Cards follow, and on the way to the falls the party is given to understand that they can be admitted to a quiet little game if they will not give it away. The spotter's work is done when he lands the strangers in these palaces of gambling. They have been in operation for two years past and have swindled right and left. The most questionable practices are indulged in. The victims, however, have been disinclined to give the games away, not wishing to publicly disgrace themselves. The Cuban lost £750 and the Englishman over £250 before they had enough. They were in Tom Ward's place, which is furnished with reading and lounging rooms, bath apartments, and everything conducive to luxury. When the police raided them last night there was not a vestige of the splendor left. It is thought that the police were in collusion with the gamblers, as they have been cognizant of the work that has been going on for some time past. The hotel men said they had nothing to do with the den.

THE CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

Bishop Ireland Closes the Proceedings—To Meet Again in '92.

Baltimore, Nov. 13.—The Catholic Congress closed yesterday with a fiery speech by Bishop Ireland. The platform unanimously adopted concludes as follows: "We cannot conclude without recording our solemn conviction that the absolute freedom of the Holy See is equally indispensable to the peace of the church and the welfare of mankind. We demand in the name of humanity and justice that this freedom be scrupulously respected by all secular governments. We protest against the assumption by any such government of a right to affect the interests or control the action of our Holy Father by any form of legislation or other public act to which his full approbation has not been previously given."

It was decided to hold an International Catholic Congress in 1892 wherever the World's Fair is located.

Forty thousand torches were carried through the streets by Catholic marchers last night. Sweeping past the Cardinal's house they formed a magnificent spectacle for the solid masses of humanity packing streets and sidewalks and windows as far as the eye could reach.

Skin Entirely Gone. Flesh a mass of disease. Leg Diminished one third in size. Condition hopeless. Cured by Cuticura Remedies in two months.

Cured by Cuticura.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It diminished about one third the size of the other and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars from which I got no relief whatever. I was persuaded to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES and the result was as follows:—After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to day, and for nearly two years past my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

THE CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

A Brilliant Reception—The Resolutions to Be Submitted To-Day.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12.—Last night a great reception was tendered to the visiting prelates and other distinguished persons at the hall occupied by the Catholic congress. The city was beautifully illuminated during the reception. The address of welcome to the priests was delivered by ex-Congressman Roberts of Maryland. While he was speaking two Indian chiefs in full panoply of gayest feathers and embroidered many-colored blankets made their way through the crimson vestmented prelates to where stood Cardinal Gibbons. With solemn m en the Indians reached for the hand of the noted ecclesiastic and bending low silently kissed his Archiepiscopal ring, while the spectators stood in wonder, finally breaking into cheers. The Indians were both Catholics, Chief Joseph of the Flatheads of Montana and Chief Whitebird of the Sioux of Dakota. They were given seats of honor close beside the Cardinal with their traveling companion, Father Van Gorp, S.J., of the Rocky Mountain mission. Following the address of welcome came the reply on behalf of the prelates by Archbishop Elder.

The resolutions which the committee of the Congress of Laymen approved late last night to be submitted to the convention to-day are understood to be strictly confined to topics pertinent to the announced objects of the Congress as follows: Devotion of Catholics to the constitution and laws of the land; necessity of the independence of the Holy See; Catholic education for Catholics; Christian schools for Christian people; duty of supporting Catholic journals and encouraging in every way the wider diffusion of Catholic literature; rights of Catholics to liberty of conscience and freedom of religious worship in the army and navy and in all public institutions; the wisdom of encouraging emigration to the land and the settlement by Catholics in proximity to church and school or to settle in sufficient numbers together so as to provide the one and the other; importance of the Catholic societies being organized on a religious and not on a race or national basis; sympathy with the cause of temperance and decent observance of Sunday, and finally the rights of labor and duties of capital.

ANOTHER ARREST

Miss Mulcahey Thinks She Was the Driver of the Mysterious Wedding Sleigh.

MONTREAL, Nov. 12.—Last winter a sensation was created here by a mysterious marriage which took place in a sleigh, the contracting parties being Miss Mulcahey and a young Englishman, Mr. Husson, who expired immediately after the ceremony. Miss Mulcahey then alleged that a young lady was impersonating her and endeavoring to derive the advantages that were supposed to accrue from being the daughter-in-law of Mr. Husson, sr., who was reputed to be very wealthy. Upon this charge a cultivated and respectable New Brunswick young lady, Miss Tibbitts, a visitor to this city, was arrested and of course discharged. Miss Mulcahey and the detectives have since been looking for a man who was supposed to figure in the case. For some time past Miss Mulcahey has claimed that she has met the man who drove the sleigh in which she was married to Husson and whose name was supposed to be Simon Heaner. He used to meet her as he went to market coming from the western part of the city and used to give her information in regard to Husson's former friends who he said were still living here. All of a sudden, however, he disappeared, and though Mrs. Husson was in the habit of purposely going through the same streets and in the same direction where she used to meet him she did not see him again. Yesterday, however, she claims to have caught sight of him in Notre Dame-street. She immediately reported to High Constable Bissonnette who, at her request, took him in charge. The man acted like a lunatic and claimed to have left England on account of the murders he had committed in Whitechapel. His name appears to be Thomas Halin, alias Tommy Flip, and the police say he is the same individual who was arrested some months ago on suspicion of being Jack the Ripper in London, Ont. He has been remanded to jail for medical examination.

A CLEVER SWINDLER.

Captured by New York Detectives—How he Worked His Victims.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Samuel Labley, a noted swindler, has been captured by Inspector Byrnes' detectives and is now waiting trial on an old indictment for larceny. Labley's method was to assume the garb of a priest and buy diamonds, sealskin coats and other valuable articles offering in payment a check purporting to be drawn by his father, the names of various prominent men having been used by him in this connection. The dealer would generally decline to accept the check without certification and the supposed priest would offer to go with a clerk to get the check certified. On arriving at the bank he would manage to certify the check himself while the clerk's attention was diverted. The check would then be accepted in payment. Sometimes Labley would vary the program by asking that a clerk be sent with him to his father's office where a check was to be procured. The clerk would remain in the cab while Labley went into the offices of some leading merchant whose son he had represented himself to be. Presently Labley would come out with a check which was accepted and which afterwards would prove to be bogus. Labley had operated in this city, Providence, Washington, Troy and elsewhere, and lately has been in criminal partnership with a former Jesuit student named Clark whom he met in jail at Kingston, Ont., in 1881, where Labley was doing time for some crime. Labley married a Montreal girl in 1883 and his wife lately came here to live with her father who is a janitor. It was by watching her that the detectives were able to catch Labley who was incautious enough to visit her. Labley's father was a horsethief known to the New York police years ago.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

Obituary.

Recently is a record of the death of Mr. John Ferrier, one of the pioneer residents of Dummer. Mr. Ferrier's father was a native of Scotland, coming to this country in 1815, landing at Brockville and settling at Perth, where the subject of this sketch was born in 1818. The family removed to Dummer in 1831, when the settlers had to dispute possession with bears and wolves; so that James Ferrier was not only one of the earliest, but one of the longest residents of this county, having been in it half a century. Mr. Ferrier was one of the volunteers from this vicinity who made the memorable march to Toronto in the troublous times of 1837. During the latter part of his life, Mr. Ferrier, who was unmarried, lived with his sister, Mrs. John Balmer, a short distance east of town. Mr. Ferrier was a good citizen and lived a life that won for him the general respect of the community. The funeral takes place on Thursday, the remains being buried at South Dummer.

Kidd's Proverbs.

"Follow your nose" to Kidd's Bankrupt Stock of Ready Made Clothing.

"He cannot see beyond his nose," but is bound to acknowledge that Kidd's prices are right.

"An inch is a good deal on a man's nose," but 50 per cent. can be saved by buying one of Kidd's $6 90 Tweed Suits.

"He would bite his own nose off to spite his face," simply by not buying from Kidd, because it is Bankrupt Stock.

"As plain as the nose on your face"—that Kidd's Cape Overcoats were never manufactured at the prices he is selling them at.

"To hold one's nose to the grindstone"—by paying long, old fashioned prices, when Kidd is around with bargains.

"To lead one by the nose". Nothing of the kind. Kidd's prices sell the Goods every time.

"To put one's nose out of joint." Kidd proposes to make this apply to blowhard dealers, who never do as they advertise. Not so with Kidd

"To thrust one's nose into other people's business." Kidd is content to mind his own, and make the meddlers wonder how he can sell an All Wool Cardigan Jacket for 75 cents.

"A nose that can smell a rat"—When Kidd bought Wyatt & Turner's Bankrupt Stock, Gent' Furnishings, etc., at 67 cents on the dollar, thereby enabling him to sell clothing retail at less than wholesale cost, he knew perfectly well that, "every man's nose will not make a shoeing horn."

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The meetings in connection with the week of prayer are growing in numbers and interest daily. There are abundant signs of revival, and thank God for it. Mr. O. C. Rowse gave an earnest address Monday evening. Mr. Arthur Tebb spoke Tuesday evening on "How to get rich." All present were more than pleased to see the interest shown. At the women's meeting Tuesday Rev. Mr. Torrance gave a very pointed and practical address on "Raised from the Dead" to a large number of ladies. It was much enjoyed. Rev. Mr. Pearson addresses the women's meeting this afternoon, Rev. Mr. Shorey on Thursday, and Rev. F. C. Parker on Friday. The meetings are at 3.30 each day.

Every evening this week the meetings for men will be continued at 8 p.m., to be addressed by Messrs. Carlisle, Turnbull and Hunter. It is hoped many more young men will attend and enjoy "the showers of blessings."

On Monday afternoon the Ladies' Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting, well attended. The ladies are going to furnish our rooms and make them so bright and cheerful that the young men will be delighted to come and spend their leisure time.

Last night the Finance Committee met. We are very anxious to be able to say at our anniversary, to be held on the 21st November, that we have met our obligations. This can be done if our friends who have helped us with their means will remit to Mr. J. W. Bennet at once. We do want to be able to say "we owe no man anything." We are sure the kind friends will help us to do so.

Yesterday afternoon a friend of the Association sent us as nucleus of a reference library, a full set (17 volumes) of the American Encyclopedia for the use of our members. It was a genuine surprise. We thank our friend very much. We are not allowed to mention the name, but the Lord knows and will reward. We trust this noble example will be followed by others of our friends, so that we shall soon have a library worthy of our town for our young men. We thank the Lord for these tokens of appreciation of the work.

We are crippled in our work for want of a suitable building where we can have all the necessary appliances of a complete house for young men, such as baths, etc. Won't someone give us a suitable site? It would be the very best investment anyone could make, and give the best dividend for money invested for the Lord's work among young men. If we had the site we would have a home before next year, for we have received many tangible promises of help. We pray the Lord will lay this matter on the hearts of those to whom he has made the keepers of His silver and gold.

Chancellor Sims

Lectures in the George Street Church on "Neglected Life Lessons"—A Short Musical Programme.

A few of the neglected lessons of life were pointed out in an impressive and attractive way by Chancellor Sims, of Syracuse University, to a small audience in the George street church last night. The home truths fell from his lips in plain, forcible language, illustrated and emphasized by well-told stories and pointed propositions. The commanding figure and happy style of the lecturer helped in the general moral effect, and if the remaining numbers of the course of entertainments provided by the management are as successful and pleasing as the first, the officers of the Sunday school will have accomplished their object in placing a cheap but first-class literary and musical series before the public. The proceeds of this and the succeeding events are in aid of the Sunday school, and the forthcoming entertainments should be more liberally patronized than was the lecture Tuesday evening.

Rev. M. L. Pearson occupied the chair. Mr. W. H. Dingle gave an opening overture on the organ, "William Tell," which he appeared to have thoroughly mastered. His brilliant execution of the most difficult passages and his skilful handling of the organ during the various changes, as well as his clever interpretation of the music, made the performance at once enjoyable to a cultured audience and creditable to the performer. Mr. Dingle excelled himself. Next Mr. A. L. Davis sang a beautiful song in good voice, Mr. Schneider accompanying him. Rev. Mr. Pearson then introduced the lecturer of the evening, who was greeted with applause. Appended is a condensed report of

CHANCELLOR SIMS' ADDRESS.

He began by saying that it is a fact observed in life, most inconsistent and contradictory, too, that most people will spend years of sacrifice and labor for the sake of having something to live with, while they hardly spend days even of considering the far greater question of how to live. It is no wonder those who look for wealth and luxury and position instead of for health and peace, and high purpose, and noble accomplishment—it is no wonder if they mistake life. They believe life vacant without these material adjuncts, but Chancellor Sims said he thought differently, and believed there was that in every man which will enable him to live profitably. A right conception of life was necessary to a right living. This led him to consider several neglected life lessons. The first truth he sought to impress was that for any desirable thing you may pursue in life, its value to you depends more on the manner in which you seek it than the possession of the thing itself. For instance a young man seeks prominence in the world, and attaining it acquires also intelligence, morality, industry, business acumen and a philanthropic spirit. The rule worked the other way, as exemplified in the case of the young man who seeks to get rich in order that he may enjoy himself afterwards. By the time he secures his wealth he is unable to enjoy those pleasures which had in the first place been his ultimate object. A second lesson was, that in order to attain the largest happiness and usefulness in this world we must harmonize with our surroundings. On our adaptability to our environments depended our

ENJOYMENT OF LIFE.

A man can't be a farmer in a city, nor a great merchant in the country. Some people are always finding troubles—like the old woman who said "she always felt bad when she felt well because she knew she would be worse afterwards." If one went about looking for evil, he could see enough to make himself miserable all his days; but if he sought out the good his life became one of harmony and pleasure. A third maxim was that the value of anything is proportionate to a person's power to appropriate or enjoy it. The poor old dyspeptic millionaire who dared only eat dry bread and drink water, was only able to purchase that bread and water in spite of his millions. Then again, possession is measured in degree by mastery. He who cannot master a thing cannot own it. Mastery of a calling makes a man a king in it. Still another lesson was that the great object of securing anything in life is to give it out again. The great mission of life was ministration to others. All things that ministered are valuable; those that simply absorb are weeds. If a man can sing a song well he will always have listeners; if he tells a good story there will always be some one to laugh; or if he can do neither, he may buy the oysters and he will always find someone to eat them. Ministration brings its own reward. Good society consists in getting good from others. The "man of means" is often heard of. "Means" meant simply an instrumentality for doing something else. Some so-called men of means were, however, simply men of ends. But there were some grand instances of genuine men of means, who used their gifts to benefit others—blind John Milton, the tinker John Bunyan, who wrote in gaol, and Wm. Cowper who once antly fought insanity and a tendency to suicide, all the while laboring at his exquisite productions. These men live in men's memories to day. They

to benefit others. A sixth truth was that opportunity and success are not synonymous. Having a place and being a success are not similar. Wealth and social position are not success, simply a means to it. Success must be achieved by labor and adaptation; nothing that was worth anything was ever inherited. Lastly, play was better than work. Work is something done for pay; play is something done for pleasure. There is a way to perform the tasks of life by which they become a joy and satisfaction in themselves. There has never yet been a great thing done for pay; pay might have been received afterwards, but in the doing of it the pay has been forgotten. Labor when not entered into with a proper spirit becomes drudgery, work. In conclusion Chancellor Sims said that in remembering these things, their way would be full of blessing, and bright things should lead them onward and upward until they reached at last the gates of the celestial city.

At the close of the lecture Mr. D. W. Dumble moved a vote of thanks to Chancellor Sims, seconded by Rev. A. Wilson.

The concluding number was a vocal quartette by Messrs. Crane, Dundas, McCallum and Annesley. After the National Anthem had been sung the audience dispersed.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Young Teacher Remembered by His Pupils.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. E. G. McConochie, of Markham, who about a month ago was appointed Science Master at the Collegiate Institute, was remembered in a pleasant manner by the pupils of the second form. For reasons which will be made known at the next meeting of the School Board, Mr. McConochie has resigned his position, and yesterday he addressed the pupils telling them it was his last day with them. Though taken by surprise, the pupils of the second form at once took steps to present Mr. McConochie with some tangible token of their esteem and regret at his departure. The gift was a beautiful gold pen and case. After school the presentation was made accompanied by the following address:—

PETERBOROUGH, Nov. 12th, 1889.

To Mr. McConochie:—

DEAR FRIEND AND TEACHER—It is with great regret that we have learned that you are about to sever you connection with our Institute. Though you have been but a short time amongst us, yet we have learned not only to respect but esteem you. You have been earnest in your endeavors to help us in our work, yet kind and considerate to us.

It is our earnest hope that you may be successful in your university career, and that prosperity may attend you, in whatever position you may be placed in after years. We ask you to accept this small token of our regard for you.

Signed on behalf of the pupils of the second form of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

(MISS) A. E. CROMIE, P. G. GOLDSMITH,
(MISS) B. BEST, B. H. BROOKS.

Mr. McConochie was completely taken unawares, but expressed his thanks in feeling terms. He leaves in a few days to resume his studies at Toronto University. Mr. McConochie bears away with him the best wishes of his fellow-teachers and pupils for his future prosperity. The presentation evidences the fact that in his brief connection with the Institute he has already won the confidence and esteem of his pupils, a great essential to success in a teacher.

Capt. Annesley Closes the Duncan Assault Case.

Capt. Annesley of the Barnardo home, acting in the interests of Rose Dean, came to the city yesterday, says the Belleville Ontario, and made complaint before County Attorney Geo. E. Henderson, Q. C., charging deputy post master Duncan with committing common assault upon Rose Dean. The captain was anxious to have the case disposed of to enable him to return to Peterborough, but the defendant was giving evidence at the chancery court and could not respond to the summons in the afternoon and court was held at 7:20 p.m. before Mr. Flint. Mr. Northrup on behalf of the accused said that while he denied the charge he would plead guilty to save the court the trouble of summoning witnesses and having a trial. He asked that a nominal fine be imposed. Mr. Flint accepted the plea of guilty but said he could not grant the request for a nominal fine. He would make the penalty $20 and costs. It is understood that the case will end here.

News Nuggets.

—John Fry was drunk and disorderly yesterday. And being arrested by the police, was this morning sent to gaol for ten days for non-payment of fine of $2 and costs.

—James Stewart and Edward McGuire, two vagrants who have been wandering about town the last few days, were discharged with a warning by the magistrate this morning.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It loosens expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

VOL. IX. NO. 113 PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS.

ALTON'S CATASTROPHE

A TERRIBLE FLOOD DISASTER IN PEEL COUNTY.

Two Persons Drowned—Mills, Houses and Bridges Wrecked—Six Mill Dams Swept Away—Estimate of the Losses.

ALTON, Nov. 14.—A terrible calamity occurred here yesterday morning about 3.30 by the breaking of a mill dam at McClellan's flouring mill, a mile east of the village. Two lives were lost. Six mill dams and four bridges were carried away, houses and buildings wrecked and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed.

One old couple named Harris were carried away, house and all swept down the torrent. Many others narrowly escaped with their lives, the citizens being roused out of their sleep by water rushing through their houses. At daylight the village presented a terrible appearance, streets washed into holes, sidewalks torn up, logs and rubbish piled in the streets.

Dick's foundry, a stone building, is completely wrecked, the back wall being washed out and the machinery totally wrecked. His moulding shop, which was a stone building, is so completely swept away that no vestige remains. At William Algie's woolen mills the dam is swept away and the lower story is a complete wreck, covered with timbers and rubbish. At B. Ward's woolen mills the dam and bleach house are totally gone, but no damage occurred to the machinery. The dam at Meek's and McKinnon's mills are swept away.

One man in rescuing his wife and two children, had a child swept out of his arms, but it was found in a mud heap still alive. The railway bridge of the Canadian Pacific Railway is a wreck, but prompt warning was given in time to save trains. Two dwellings were completely carried away and parts of two others.

About 6 o'clock parties with lanterns commenced to search for the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Harris. The body of Mr. Harris was found in a heap of rubbish, about a hundred yards below where the house stood. The body of Mrs. Harris has not been found.

The estimated damages are as follows: R. Ward, loss of dam, $2000; W. Algie, loss of dam and damage to machinery, $4000; Alex. Dick, loss of dam and moulding shop, wreck of foundry and damage to machinery, about $3000; R. Meek, loss of dam and damage to stock, about $500; Thos. Harris, wreck of stave factory with machinery, about $2000; McKinnon's mills, loss of dam about $1500. Many other minor losses have been sustained, and the bed of the stream and some of the streets are strewn with logs and rubbish. The total loss will reach $25,000.

Alton has a population of about 700, and is on the line of both the Credit Valley and Toronto, Grey and Bruce branches of the C.P.R. It is supported chiefly by the woolen and grist mills and foundry, which find splendid water power in the Credit River, running through the village.

Mr. Harris was a retired woodturner and had reached the venerable age of over 80 years. He has been living in the district nearly all his life and was one of the pioneers of Alton. Mrs. Harris was 70 years of age They were well known to everybody within ten miles and were highly respected. They have two sons residing here—Thomas, whose stave factory was badly injured by the washout, and Samuel, who is also connected with the stave factory. A third son, named Edward, resides in Cheltenham and a daughter, Mrs. Galloway, is now living in Guelph.

The general impression here is that there should be a Government inspector of mill dams in order that such calamities as these may be prevented.

IN THE RUINS.

Searching For Mrs. Harris' Body—Repairing the Railway Bridge.

ALTON, Ont., Nov. 14.—Although the search for the body of Mrs. Harris was continued all yesterday afternoon and evening it has not yet been recovered, and it is feared that it is buried in one of the big piles of debris that lie in the valley. A committee consisting of Messrs. George Atkinson, Alex. Dick, P. V. Lemon, James Meek, Hugh Russell and James Barber was appointed by the residents to take all necessary steps for the continuance of the search. A gang of men worked all night on the Canadian Pacific Railway bridge and regular traffic will be resumed within 24 hours.

An inquest will be held and the fact ascertained whether or not the McClellan Bros. were at fault for not having the dam in better condition. Many of the people here have not yet got over their sense of bewilderment at the calamity that has desolated the village, and it will be a long time before things resume their former appearance.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY K. OF L.

A Postal Savings Bank System Urged—A Gift to Powderly.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 14.—The morning session of the Knights of Labor was devoted to the submission of new matter to be considered later. The General Assembly's work is in better condition than ever before owing to the law committee having prepared its report before the assembly opened. Yesterday morning a few unimportant laws were acted upon. One feature of the report which will be strongly pushed is the postal savings bank system. Mr. Powderly was yesterday presented with a gavel by a Colorado delegation.

Alleged Rate Cutting.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Board of Trade and Transportation yesterday adopted resolutions asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate the charges that some of the trunk lines and their connections are transporting imports to western points upon through bills of lading for from 25 to 50 per cent. less than the regular tariff rates.

MUST SERVE THEIR TERMS.

Final Decision in the Case of Two Carolina Boodlers Not Unknown in Canada.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The well-known case of Charles E. Cross and Samuel C. White, the defaulting president and cashier respectively of the State National Bank of Raleigh, N.C., has been finally disposed of by an opinion rendered by Justice Harlan in the United States Supreme Court. The effect of the decision will be to compel Cross and White to serve out the term for which they were sentenced. The two men named, while officers of the Raleigh bank, forged a note for $6250 and falsely entered it on the books of the bank as a part of the assets of the institution, the intent being to deceive the National Bank Examiner as to the financial condition of the bank. They fled to Canada, were arrested in Toronto, sent back, tried for forgery in the courts of Wake County, N.C., and convicted. The case came before the United States Supreme Court principally on the ground that the offense was cognizable in the Federal and not in the State courts. The fallacy of this argument, the court says, is in assuming that the making of the false entries necessarily involves the crime of forgery. Either crime would have been complete without the other. The crime against the State could not be condoned by committing another and distinct crime against the United States.

A CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY.

DEDICATED AT THE CAPITAL OF THE REPUBLIC.

President Harrison, Vice-President Morton and Other Dignitaries at the Banquet—Secretary Blaine's Speech.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—At the banquet in connection with the dedication of the new Catholic University at Washington yesterday, covers were laid for about 250 guests and the dining table and banquet hall were handsomely decorated with flags and flowers. Cardinal Gibbons occupied the seat at the head of the table and on his right were Cardinal Taschereau and Archbishops Satolli and Fabre. Cardinal Gibbons' vis-a-vis was Secretary, Blaine who was flanked by Archbishops Ryan, Williams and Duhamel on the left and Secretaries Tracy, Noble and Rusk on the right. Bishop Keane acted as toastmaster. His first toast, "His Holiness Pope Leo XIII," was responded to in Latin by Most Rev. Mgr. Satolli, the representative of the Pope.

Secretary Blaine, responding to the toast "Our Country and Her President," said: "I come to represent the United States not in any political sense, much less in any partisan sense nor in connection with any church or sect, but to speak for all and the great freedom which we enjoy. I have made the statement in Protestant assemblies and I am glad to make it in Catholic ones." He referred to the administration as one which had produced good results and continuing, said: "I am glad of every college that is endowed, no matter who endows it. Every institution of learning increases the culture which I believe will build up the Government of this great country of ours, under which all are free and equal."

Cardinal Taschereau of Canada was responding to the toast "Our Sister Universities" when the Marine Band struck up "Hail to the Chief" and President Harrison entered the hall. The entire assemblage rose to their feet and applauded until the President took the seat reserved for him on the left of Cardinal Gibbons. As soon as the President was seated Bishop Keane proposed his health, which was drank standing. The President returned thanks for the friendly greeting and just as he concluded Vice-President Morton and his wife entered the hall.

The next toast, "The Hierarchy of the United States," was responded to by Cardinal Gibbons. The speech making concluded with a humorous address by Archbishop Ryan and a response by John Boyle O'Reilly to the toast "The Press."

The next ceremony was the presentation of the bust of St. Thomas Aquinas, the gift of Catholics of Great Britain and Ireland resident in Rome. Archbishop Satolli, in the name of the Governors, turned the bust over to the directors of the university and read an address expressing the deep interest felt by the givers in the success of the university.

The day's celebration closed with the inaugural exercises in the lecture room. Cardinal Gibbons opened the meeting with prayers. Bishop O'Farrell of Trenton delivered an oration and Very Rev. Mgr. Schroeder, professor of dogmatic theology in the university, read a Latin oration. The choir sang "Oremus pro Pontifice Nostro Bono" and the audience was dismissed with a benediction.

THE STATE'S CASE.

Longsnecker Has Only One More Witness Against the Cronin Suspects.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—At the opening of the Cronin trial yesterday afternoon the State's Attorney said that in view of the court's ruling out the evidence tendered as to past doings of the Clan-na-Gael the State would only put one more witness on the stand, a man named Clancy from New York who was not now in the city. Clancy is a newspaper man. In the course of his statement the State's Attorney said all he expected to prove by Clancy was a conversation he had with O'Sullivan.

In order to give the defence time to prepare its case the court adjourned until Saturday.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Sir George Stephen, President Van Horne and Assistant President T. G. Shaughnessy of the Canadian Pacific Railway arrived in town yesterday morning by arrangement to confer with the Government on matters at issue. A long interview was held between the directors and Hon. R. W. Scott and members of the Government including Sir John Macdonald, Sir Hector Langevin and Hon. Edgar Dewdney.

COLOMBIA NOT COLUMBIA.

A Nova Scotian Schooner Seized and Taken to Carthagena—An Old Law Revived.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—The captain of the Steamer Stroma, from Carthagena, reports that the British schooner Pearl of Nova Scotia, Captain Murray, was seized by the Colombian steamer La Popa for trading on the San Blas coast and taken to Carthagena. This is the first seizure ever made on the coast under an old act of fifty years' standing making the coast of Colombia dutiable to all foreign vessels. This will affect a large number of schooners belonging to New York, Baltimore, etc., trading along the coast.

Quebec's Dangerous Cliff.

QUEBEC, Nov. 14.—A large piece of rock became detached from the cliff east of the recent disastrous slide yesterday and went crashing into the street. Nobody was hurt.

SLAVE TRADE HORRORS

ARABS SHOOT DOWN MEN AND CAPTURE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

The Missionaries up in Arms—The Conservatives and Liberal-Unionists—The Prince-Ring.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—News received from the African great lakes shows that the missionaries are now members of the church militant, and are in a state of open war with the Arab slave catchers. A letter from Rev. Mr. Wright, who is at Fwambo, on Lake Tanganyika, says the missionaries there were daily expecting an attack from the Arabs. The Tanganyika missionaries have endeavored to avoid any quarrel with the Arabs, who, however, seem determined to avenge themselves upon the white men there because the missionaries at Lake Nyassa are trying to put a stop to slave raids. So the whites at Fwambo have been compelled to build a fort, have surrounded it with a strong abattis of thorny trees and wire entanglement, and scattered broken bottles over the ground to interfere with any attempt by these barefooted enemies to take the place by storm. This is hardly what the missionaries were sent to Africa to do, but they are compelled, in self defence to prepare themselves for the worst.

Meanwhile the missionaries at the north end of Lake Nyassa are kept pretty busy fighting slave-raiding parties. The Arabs are constantly making detours around the mission stations to attack native villages for no other purpose than to make slaves of the women and children. Rev. Mr. Cross writes that the Arabs, well supplied with bark ropes to tie their captives, surround the villages at early dawn and fire into the huts. The terrified natives, who have no weapons except spears, rush for their lives. Many of the men are shot down, and the women and children are captured. The missionaries are taking the part of all these natives, and when they hear of a slave raid they send out parties from the fortified stations to attack the murderers and release the captives. On one occasion in July last, they killed all the Arabs in a raiding party and released a long string of women and children who were tied together by ropes around their necks. These rescues, however, cannot restore the ruined homes and murdered friends of the victims and terrible misery prevails. The missionaries are very indignant to find that the guns they capture from the Arabs are of English make, and they long for the day when governments will refuse to put instruments of destruction in the hands of murderous Arabs.

The conference at Birmingham has confirmed the resolution which had previously been adopted, to ask Lord Salisbury and Lord Hartington to arbitrate between the Conservatives and the Liberal-Unionists, and to use their utmost efforts to reconcile the conflicting interests of the two factions and to prevent an open and disastrous split. It is doubtful if they can do anything more than put off the disaster, and the only safety for either side lies in doing this to as great a degree as possible.

Testing Smokeless Powder.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Following the lead of the continental powers, the English government is displaying great anxiety to substitute smokeless powder for the ordinary explosive at present in use, but the trials of the specimens thus far furnished to the military authorities have been far from encouraging. The tests of the best of the samples available have resulted in the discovery that the bullets were broken into pieces by the explosion of the powder, and the rifling of the guns was in most cases destroyed. Discouraging as the results have been, the efforts of the war department to place the British army on a footing with the armies of Germany and Austria in the adoption of a superior explosive have by no means been abandoned. Negotiations are now in progress with a view to the purchase of the secret of manufacturing the smokeless powder adopted by the Austrian army, and it is said that the prospects that they will be successful are excellent.

SAVED BY AN INDIAN GIRL.

He Married Her and His Descendants Say the Wedding Is Void.

QUEBEC, Nov. 14.—A will contest here unfolds a romance in real life which would serve well for the plot of a novel. The property at stake is valued at more than $1,000,000, and includes the seigniories of Temiscouata and Madawaska.

A man named Beaulieu, of Riviere du Loup, claiming to be the great-grandson of Col. Alexander Fraser, who settled in the Northwest in 1788, claims possession of a share of the enormous estate left by that gentleman and now enjoyed by the defendant, Alexander Fraser. Beaulieu's claims were rested upon the legitimacy of the marriage of the late Col. Alexander Fraser with an Indian girl named Angelique Meadows, through one of whose children the claimant contended that he was heir to the disputed estates.

After living with Angelique Meadows for several years in the Northwest, Col. Fraser in 1801 returned to Canada and acquired the seigniories of Temiscouata and Madawaska. Angelique followed him to Quebec in 1803, and with her children lived with him for some time at Riviere du Loup, first in the manor house which he himself occupied, and later in a small lodge at some distance therefrom, built especially for her accommodation. Aged men who have testified for the claimant heard the late Col. Fraser describe the ceremonial which attended his marriage in the Northwest with his Indian wife, the first Protestant missionaries to the Northwest having only reached these Indians in 1818. Fraser told how he saved his life by his marriage with Angelique, which he claimed was celebrated in accordance with the formalities practiced by the Northwest Indians.

The defendants contest the legality of this marriage, urging that even if it had been celebrated in the customary manner it was only a forced alliance. They produce a petition presented to the Canadian parliament in 1862 by the present claimant, in which it was alleged that Col. Fraser was forced to contract an alliance in the North west with Angelique, who had saved his life in a circumstance in which he would most certainly have perished without her protection.

Two of the three judges composing the court gave judgment for the defendant, and an appeal has been taken to the highest tribunal.

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restoration to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Borromee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 76 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1889.

CANADIAN CLIMATE.

Our Yankee neighbours, in the feverish impulsiveness of their touch-and-go character, take many a good natured fling at the slowness of Canadians and at the tortoise pace at which our natural development is said to progress. In keeping, we suppose, we shall next be taunted with the even and steady nature of our climate. We certainly shall have to plead guilty to possessing a climate not subject to the frisky vicissitudes that characterize the climate to the south and west of us. For the past month, thanks to Moses Oates and the weather clerk, we have been enjoying magnificently beautiful weather for the time of year. In "little frozen Canada"—even in the northernmost quarters, even late in October the thermometer had not got over its summer habit of recording degrees in the eighties. There has been no ice strong enough to bear the weight of a seven-year-old boy. The people who put up their coal stoves according to the calendar, find them too much of a good thing, and, altogether, we find it hard to believe that blizzards are blowing and snow drifts blocking trains in the country to the south of us. Before Ontario felt the first timid touch of frost, the tobacco crop in Virginia felt its cold grip; a month ago we had blinding blizzards reported from Montana in the west; the Canadian invalid who fled from the rigours of his native clime, had his letters, describing the furious snowstorms and bitter cold of Colorado, read by friends in Ontario sitting outside on their piazzas in the mellow mildness of the bland October air. Twelve degrees or over seven hundred miles to the south of Peterborough, where cacti and oranges grow to thrive, we had men frozen to death, the cattle perishing on the plains, and snow blockades paralysing railway traffic, on the same date in November, when our citizens were sitting at their open windows, unconsciously mocking the misery of idle coal and wood merchants. Of course this season was an unusual one in Texas, but it is not many years since it had a parallel. The record states that on Sept. 7th, 1881, over three hundred cattle were frozen to death on a single Texan ranch, while, on the same date in Ontario, the thermometer ranged from 90° to 102° in the shade. These differences are doubtless due to the peculiar disposition of the isothermal lines. From the eastern portion of the Dominion, the isothermal lines take a grand sweep northwesterly, giving many parts of our Canadian Northwest a climate as mild as that half a dozen degrees directly south.

The configuration of the country, the relative position of mountain ranges and other similar reasons account largely for these climatic disparities in favour of Canada. At the same time it is remarkable that the international boundary line should mark also the northern boundary of the blizzard region. Dakota is buried in snow and desolated with blizzards while Manitoba a few miles north enjoys almost entire immunity from the latter. Canada has abundant reason to feel proud of her steady-going climate. At the proper time of course we have storm and frost and snow and fine clear bracing winter, but our weather clerk seldom gets on a spree as it never indulges in such riotous excesses as he is guilty of in a more southern latitude on this continent. We can look upon ourselves as a favoured country, we not only enjoy freedom from sudden and calamitous changes of weather but, so far, we have been singularly free from the great disasters such as floods cyclones etc., with which Providence sees fit to visit other portions of this continent.

The Duties on Wheat and Flour.

Our Inland ministers profess to be the patrons, friends and protectors of every class of Canadian industry, but, according to some of their own newspaper organs, it takes an tremendous amount of pressure to induce them to do anything for the milling business. The Montreal Gazette urges the millers of Ontario to secure the co-operation of the farmers with the view of securing an increase in the duty upon flour. What an obstinate, stupid and incorrigible lot Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues must be, when nothing but fear of certain expulsion from office will induce them to grant what their own organs declare to be simple justice! Or can it be that the ministers are opposed to the interest of the millers? And while the millers are urging the farmers to unite with them in demanding an increase in the duty upon flour, they are actually organizing a combination for the avowed purpose of keeping down the price of the farmers' wheat. The millers want to increase the price of flour to the consumer, but they are not willing that the farmer shall sell his wheat for the highest price he is able to obtain for it. Under the circumstances the proposed union the millers and the farmers looks like "a combination between the shark and its prey." There is no doubt that the present flour and wheat duties place the Canadian millers at disadvantage. The duty upon a barrel of flour is fifty cents, while the duty upon sufficient wheat to make a barrel of flour is over seventy-one cents. But the remedy is not to increase the duty upon flour, but to reduce duty upon wheat, thus placing Canadian millers on an equality with their American rival without increasing the cost of flour to the Canadian consumers. Or, better still, adopt the Liberal policy and abolish all duties upon wheat and flour on condition that the Americans do the same, and thus afford our millers and farmers access to an immense free market for their products.

But if the millers insist upon having the flour duty increased they must look to the Dominion executive for compliance with their demands. Last session Sir John Macdonald declared that the present rates of duty upon wheat and flour had been fixed with the approval of the millers themselves, and that the government had no intention of interfering with them. The eminent ministers from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are known to be opposed to the increase in the flour duty. They know that if they assent to such an increase it would take an enormous amount of money to save them from defeat when they come to face their constituents. But it is pretended if that if the farmers of Ontario put the pistol to Sir John Macdonald's head and gave him to understand that unless the flour duty was increased they would turn him out of power, "the old man" would speedily come to time. This amounts to a confession, by the premier's own followers, that he would sacrifice his New Brunswick and Nova Scotia colleagues, and constituencies which he now has a right to believe would be wrong, for the sake of holding on to office! How complimentary to the Conservative leader. Yet that is precisely the "plan of campaign" which the millers and the Montreal Gazette have adopted. Probably they are aware that Sir John is an opportunist, whose ideas of right and wrong are governed altogether by considerations of political expediency.

But the position of these Conservative organs that are urging the farmers to unite with the millers in demanding an increase in the flour duty is utterly illogical and inconsistent, from another point of view. The Montreal Gazette claims to be in favour of "reciprocity in natural products." It professes to be willing to permit the importation of American wheat free of duty whenever the United States Congress agrees to admit Canadian wheat on the same terms. That is an admission that reciprocity in wheat would be better for our farmers than the exclusion of United States wheat from Canada by means of a duty of fifteen cents per bushel. Yet the Gazette says that farmers are as much interested in keeping out American flour as the millers are. The Gazette asserts that "nowhere else can the Canadian farmer find as profitable and as convenient a customer as the Canadian miller, who, if adequately protected, can always afford to pay a higher price for wheat than it is possible to realize in Liverpool, where world-wide competition is encountered." What ridiculous nonsense. The Canadian miller is not a philanthropist. He will not pay any more than the market value for wheat under any circumstances. Even now he is organizing a combine to keep down the price of wheat. And the value of grain, not only in Canada, but in the United States and other producing countries, is now and must continue to be governed by the price in Liverpool. If Canadian millers undertook to pay more than that figure for their wheat, they could only do so at the expense of the consumers of their flour. Why don't the millers demand a government bounty upon the flour they manufacture? Are they not as much entitled to a bounty as the manufacturers of pig iron? If the duty upon wheat is an advantage to our farmers, why do the Tories propose to abolish it the moment the Americans express a willingness for reciprocity in natural products? We are told that the existing duties upon flour and wheat "were designed to shut out foreign produce which in immense quantities annually found a sale in Canada to the displacement of our own cereals." And we are also informed that the duties in question have been so effective that in the nine years, 1880-89, the total quantity of the cereal brought into the Dominion for home consumption aggregated over 1,249,261 bushels, or an average of 143,240 bushels as compared with an average of 2,000,000 before the duty was imposed. And yet the Tories profess to be in favor of reciprocity in natural products! After securing to the Canadian farmer a monopoly of the home market, they propose to take it away from him again and allow him to face unlimited competition with the farmers of the United States. Either the Tories do not believe that the existing duties upon cereals are of any benefit to the farmers, or else the statement that they are in favor of reciprocity in natural products is a sham and a fraud.—Ottawa Free Press.

The Hop Crop.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The hop crop on the continent of Europe this year is reported by J. C. Monaghan, consul to Mannheim, at three-quarter of a full crop and one-third larger than last year. England will need 18,760,000 pounds besides her home crop which European producers hope to cover but express fears of meeting America's surplus on the English markets. The crop of the United States is put at from 36,000,000 to 37,000,000 pounds.

A Business Change.

Mr. W. J. Young, of Young's Point, has sold out his general grocery and dry goods business to Mr. James Stewart, of Peterborough. Mr. Young's reason for selling is failing health. Mr. Stewart was a former merchant at the Point, and no doubt his previous reputation and well known business acumen will secure him a large patronage.

Bean, of the Business College, who will devote three hours a day to the science classes in the Institute. The Board will in the meantime endeavor to procure a permanent teacher.

Scotchmen.

Scotchmen are requested to bear in mind the annual meeting of the St. Andrew's Society, which takes place this evening in St. Andrew's Hall, Simcoe street. The principal business this evening is the election of officers for 1890, receiving the financial statement for the past year, and the celebration of St. Andrew's Day. Scotchmen and descendants of Scotchmen, who are not now members, are welcome to attend and enroll their names. The meeting begins at 8 o'clock to night.

This ice house will be filled during the winter with first class ice, and the public may expect an unfailing supply of excellent ice next summer. This is an enterprise that means a great convenience to the public and, no doubt, a paying investment. 2d

Wanted.

The gravel road extension of Charlotte street demands the attention of the Street and Bridge Committee. Several houses have been erected and occupied, and the occupants have no means of access to their homes except the muddy highway, common to horse and man. Other parts of the town have been covered with walks and here is a place neglected and, from present appearances, likely to be without a walk all winter. People that pay taxes expect some sort of return in the way of improvements. They expect to be treated as well as the rest of the town and no better.

Methodist Matters.

The regular meeting of the Quarterly Board of the George Street Church was held last night for the reception of the report of the treasurer. Rev. M. L. Pearson was in the chair. The report showed the envelope fund, which goes to the support of the minister, to be in good condition. The following stewards were elected:—Messrs. W. J. Mason, Dr. Fife, T. Morrow, T. W. Robinson, T. Lockhart, E. Peplow and D. W. Dumble, recording steward. The election of representatives of the society on the Quarterly Board was deferred till next Wednesday evening. The meeting adjourned at the call of the chair.

Peterborough's Modesty.

The modesty of Peterborough's prominent citizens is remarkable. We read the reports of the meetings of prominent bodies in the cities, with representatives from all over the province, yet in nine cases out of ten Peterborough sends no representatives. Yesterday attention was called to the absence of local representatives at the meeting of the Provincial School Teachers' Association. This is only a sample of the modesty that prevents Peterborough's public men from conferring with prominent men from other places. This town has a name for progressiveness, and the absence of her representative citizens at such gatherings gives ground for uncomplimentary remark.

The Weather and the Weather Prophet.

A few weeks ago Moses Oats predicted that we should have a month of fine, mild weather and his prediction has come true to the letter. In view of this fact Moses should be treated as a public benefactor. It would be a greatful thing for the public to present him with a testimonial. And while they are about it they should not forget hawley bros., the great tea merchants, george street, who are the greatest of public benefactors. They keep a magnificent stock of superb teas—the best in quality the lowest in prices. Also fragrant coffees and beautiful glassware. If you want a first-class cup of tea or coffee be sure to get you raw material at hawley bros, 378 george street.

SEE here! The loveliest toilet soap in town is kept at M. R. KIDD'S.

Ashburnham School Board.

A meeting of the public school board was held Tuesday evening in the council chamber. The members present were, Mr. H. Calcutt, chairman, and Messrs. A. Ingram, P. Glover, F. Adams and J. J. Rooney. The chief business under consideration was the re-engagement of teachers for next year. Mr. H. Clarke applied for an increase of salary and Misses Jeanie Smith and L. Stevenson applied for re-appointment at their present salaries. Two applications were read for the position of teachers for junior department for next year. These were Miss Hattie Bennett and Miss Emily Coombs. Misses Stevenson and Smith were re-engaged and all the other applications were deferred to the next meeting of the board which will take place on Tuesday next. An account of $13.80 was ordered to be paid Mr. J. Doupe for work on new room being fitted up. This ended the proceedings. The school will be closed Friday as the teachers will attend the convention at Norwood.

What's in a Name?

At the Belleville Chancery Sittings the case of Robinson vs. Bogle was tried. It has excited some interest. It is an action brought by Messrs. Robinson and Johnston, proprietors of the Ontario Business College, Belleville, against Mr. Robert Bogle, proprietor of the new Business College, which has been established in Belleville within the last few months, and which Mr. Bogle has named the Belleville Business College. The action is brought to restrain Mr. Bogle from using the name, on the ground that is infringes the plaintiffs' right and is injurious to their business, and enables the defendant to get correspondence and students which are intended for the plaintiffs. The Ontario Business College, Belleville, is an old-established institution, and being the only one in town, it has become familiarly known as the Belleville Business College. The public use this name as applied to the plaintiffs and address correspondence to them under that title. Considerable difficulty arose at the post office when the new institution started, and part of the mail matter had to be opened in the presence of plaintiffs and defendant in order to decide to whom it belonged. Judgment was reserved by Justice Boyd.

Real Estate Sales.

Mr. B. M. Wylie, real estate and general agent, held his first annual sale of properties at the Morgan House yesterday, and he feels satisfied with the result. Mr. Wylie intends making this sale of annual occurrence for the purpose of clearing off the property placed in his hands for selling. Mr. Wylie has worked up a large business by his energy and square dealing, and has come to be recognized as one of the most reliable and pushing real estate dealers in town. His business includes selling and renting properties and a collecting agency. Patrons will find Mr. Wylie reliable and able to give as good a bargain as can be had anywhere. The list of property put up for sale Wednesday comprised 22 vacant lots and six houses. Mr. Charles Stapleton was the auctioneer. Two houses and two lots were sold on the spot, and negotiations are being closed up for the transfer of three houses and one lot additional. One of the houses sold is in Smith, just outside the town limits, and the other on Wescott street. One lot in Ashburnham and one in the north end of the town were sold.

The Boston Vocal Harmony Quartette.

The Boston Vocal Harmony Quartette and Imperial Instrumental Quintette Club have succeeded in giving the citizens of this town a pleasant surprise. As an evidence of appreciation of the company's performance, there was a good house last night, and the majority of the audience who attended on the opening night were also to be seen at last night's entertainment. This would not have been the case had the performance not deserved their patronage. It is seldom that Peterborough is favored with a visit by such a first-class company as the Boston Harmony Quartettes. Many who have not yet attended any of the concerts, no doubt think that, because the prices of admission have been placed so low, the performance is a poor and trashy one, but, on the contrary, the entertainment is from start to finish a refined and an extremely amusing one, and is as good, if not superior to many high priced entertainments. A detailed report of the programme is unnecessary; every number is a good one, and to hear and see the rendition of any one of them is alone worth the small price of admission. The company appear every evening for the balance of the week, not only promising but actually giving an entire change of programme each night.

The combination of ingredients found in Ayer's Pills renders them tonic and curative as well as cathartic. For this reason they are the best medicines for people of sedentary habit, as they restore the natural action of the

The Baptist Congress.

The Baptist Congress, which met Tuesday in the Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto, is made up of representative men, both lay and clerical, not only from Canada but from all parts of the States. In some respects is is unique in its character and in the way in which its business is to be conducted. It is a sort of club for the free and friendly but fearless public discussion of important general questions. There are to be no resolutions proposed on any of the points at issue and no votes taken. A time limit will be set upon papers and speeches, so as to prevent the possibility of two or three persons monopolizing most of the talk, and the Chairman will, no doubt, have a discretionary power of interference in extreme cases to prevent any wandering into irrelevant matters. But within these very wide and most reasonable limits the greatest possible freedom of speech, it is to be presumed, will be the order of the day. If such an ideal is carried out, as we believe it will be, with a good measure of success the meeting cannot fail to be most interesting and useful. The burning moral and religious questions of the day will be discussed by very able men from all parts of the Continent. It will in no sense be a merely clerical meeting. Quite the contrary. The "lay element," to use a common and much abused phrase, will be fully represented and will take a very prominent and influential share in the discussions. This is always very desirable, for it is notorious—and we mention it as a mere matter of fact and from no feeling of disrespect, far less of hostility, to the clergy—that preachers and pastors are frequently about the last to know what are really the views and feelings current among their own flocks as well as among the people generally on the important topics of the hour, inasmuch as a studied reserve is very generally maintained with the minister especially if there is any divergence of opinion from the most orthodox and generally recognized way of reviewing matters.

When, then, there is to be a free and full interchange of thought and feeling on such topics as "Organizations for Christian work other than the Church"; "Natural and artificial Monopolies"; "The authority of Christian Consciousness"; "The Relation of Church and State"; "The Sabbath Question," etc., the public may well expect much that is interesting and most instructive. To render the meetings still more, if possible, the very ideal of what such gatherings ought to be, we have to add that the discussions will not be limited to the gentlemen appointed to introduce each topic, but will be open to all the members of the Congress, nay, even, we believe, on certain very reasonable conditions, to all who may have come merely as listeners.

We are not aware that any gathering exactly of this kind has ever before been held in Toronto, and it will be in the last degree creditable to the good sense and Christian courtesy of the delegates and of the audiences as well, if such frank, free, full conferences be carried, as we are sure they will be, to a successful and satisfactory close. Our most thoughtful and open minded citizens may be expected to be the readiest to assist at such conferences.—Globe.

Obituary.

In the death of Mr. Thomas O'Connor, which occurred on Thursday evening last, Asphodel loses an old settler and Hastings a respected citizen. Mr. O'Connor was born in the County Limerick, Ireland, in June, 1824. In 1837 the father (the late Redmond O'Connor) of the subject of this sketch, with four children, arrived in Canada, and settled in Asphodel on lot 11, concession 8, and where the deceased grew to manhood, and where he subsequently carried on the business of the farm after the death of the parents. In 1875 he retired from farming and took up his abode in this village, where he carried on a profitable grocery and bakery trade until the disastrous fire in May, 1882, destroyed the premises he then occupied, and he retired from active business pursuits to enjoy the well-earned competence which, by frugality and industry, he amassed. Though not of a robust constitution, the deceased gentleman enjoyed fairly good health until some two years ago, when he became afflicted with asthma, which, although not dangerous, was at times most annoying from its persistency. Mr. O'Connor was of a studious disposition and enjoyed poring over newspapers, and was therefore particularly well-versed on the leading topics, both home and foreign. In politics he gave his support to the Reform party, and took a warm, though undemonstrative interest in the political conflicts of East Peterborough and East Northumberland, being a voter in both ridings. In July of the present year, in company with Mrs. O'Connor, he undertook a prolonged visit to friends and relatives in Chicago and parts of Michigan, and while in the latter state, he contracted malarial fever, which so aggravated the constitutional trouble (asthma) that he was confined to bed in the house of the relative he was visiting. Recovering somewhat, Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor returned to their home here in the early part of September. Both of the diseases had, however, made disastrous inroads on the not-over-strong constitution, and he imperceptibly continued to grow daily weaker until exhausted nature gave up the struggle on Thursday last. The remains were interred in Asphodel on Monday, and were escorted to their last resting place by a large number of old friends and neighbors.—Hastings Star.

Reception at the "Y."

Last evening the members of the "Y," chaperoned by Mrs. A. Maguire, gave a reception for honorary members. At 9 o'clock, the hour fixed for the reception, the parlors of the Association were looking their most attractive. Tastefully decorated and well lighted they presented the appearance of spacious drawing rooms. One piece of decorative art just put in is a large mantel shelf with handsome drapery of blue felt, bearing spray of autumn leaves skilfully painted by the hands of one of the members. At one side stood a table with snowy napery upon which were placed the bright "Y" china and delicate viands, suggestive of good cheer, while upon the various tables throughout the rooms rosy apples and luscious purple grapes artistically arranged on silver and glass stands gave an added air of festivity.

At the hour appointed the guests began to arrive, each one finding a subtle air of genial hospitality pervading the place which suggested that a good time was expected.

Music, (instrumental and vocal) was rendered by a number of the company, the following being those who contributed to the pleasure of the evening: Misses Lamedon and Glass, Messrs. Tebb, Bowman, Mann and Dix and Holland. At a certain stage in the proceedings the gentleman filed to the Secretary's table and fulfilled the conditions of honorary membership, about seventeen assuming the white ribbon.

After a couple of hours which every one present pronounced to be most enjoyable, the party dispersed.

The "Y" are indebted to Mr. T. W. Robinson for generous donation of fruit for the occasion.

We may just mention here that you get such a fine at the "Y" rooms as you get no where else in town. If any one wishes to prove its excellency, let him call there between 9 and 10 o'clock any Saturday evening.

Kidd's Proverbs.

"Follow your nose" to Kidd's Bankrupt Stock of Ready Made Clothing.

"He cannot see beyond his nose," but is bound to acknowledge that Kidd's prices are right.

"An inch is a good deal on a man's nose," but 50 per cent. can be saved by buying one of Kidd's $6.00 Tweed Suits.

"He would bite his own nose off to spite his face," simply by not buying from Kidd, because it is Bankrupt Stock.

"As plain as the nose on your face"—that Kidd's Cape Overcoats were never manufactured at the prices he is selling them at.

"To hold one's nose to the grindstone"—by paying long, old fashioned prices, when Kidd is around with bargains.

"To lead one by the nose". Nothing of the kind. Kidd's prices sell the Goods every time.

"To put one's nose out of joint." Kidd proposes to make this apply to blowhard dealers, who never do as they advertise. Not so with Kidd

"To thrust one's nose into other people's business." Kidd is content to mind his own, and make the meddlers wonder how he can sell an All Wool Cardigan Jacket for 75 cents.

"A nose that can smell a rat"—When Kidd bought Wyatt & Turner's Bankrupt Stock, Gent' Furnishings, etc., at 67 cents on the dollar, thereby enabling him to sell clothing retail at less than wholesale cost, he knew perfectly well that, "every man's nose will not make a shoeing horse."

DOMINION NEWS NOTES.

ALTON APPEALS TO OTHER TOWNS FOR AID.

The Body of Mrs. Harris Recovered—Brampton Will Make Concessions to the Gurneys—Senator Ross' Will.

ALTON, Nov. 15.—The body of Mrs. Harris the other victim of the Alton horror, was found yesterday at 2 o'clock in a pit of driftwood seventy-five yards below the Canadian Pacific Railway bridge. The body was considerably bruised and much swollen, and by a weird coincidence was found just as the funeral of her husband was leaving the residence of his son.

The village yesterday presented a dismal appearance. Men are at work at the Beaver woolen mills and the Dominion foundry clearing away the ruins, preparatory to rebuilding dams and repairing machinery.

No inquest has yet been called and the sufferers feel somewhat indignant at the neglect of the coroner in this matter. At a mass meeting of the citizens held last night this committee was appointed to ask aid from neighboring towns and cities: Samuel Barber (chairman), G. M. Scott (treasurer), D. McDonald (secretary), William White and H. C. Russell. Any contributions for the relief of sufferers will be gratefully received and acknowledged by the secretary or treasurer.

A CIRCULAR TO THE CREDITORS

A. W. Morris & Co. of Binder Twine Fame, in Serious Trouble.

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.—Circulars have been received by the creditors of A. W. Morris & Co., cordage and binder twine manufacturer's calling them together to discuss the firm's situation. The embarrassment is brought about, it is said, by the refusal of one large creditor to agree to an extension of time on bills falling due.

A. W. Morris & Co. are one of Montreal's most extensive business firms and until lately no apprehension of financial weakness was felt. They have carried on a large business and during the last two years have been widening their trade rapidly, chiefly in the northwest. The present embarrassment is attributed to the business having been spread over a wider extent than the financial strength admitted.

The liabilities are heavy, going up to several hundred thousand dollars, but the assets are also valuable, consisting mainly of their large factory and stock in Montreal and their factory in Port Hope.

Mr. Alexander Morris could not be found last night. A rumor is about the streets that he has been sent to the Longue Point asylum, but no credence is given to the report.

BRAMPTON'S BOOM.

The Citizens Favor the K. & C. Gurney Project—An Enthusiastic Meeting.

BRAMPTON, Nov. 15.—A public meeting of the ratepayers of the town was held in the Concert Hall here last night to consider certain proposals to induce the Gurney Company to locate a branch of their industries in the town. Mayor Holtby occupied the chair and many prominent citizens were on the platform. The greatest unanimity prevailed throughout. Speeches were made by several prominent gentlemen, and every speaker expressed himself in full accord with the project.

The people are alive to the importance of securing a branch of the works of such a wealthy manufacturing company, and not a dissenting voice was heard in the hall to a resolution requesting the council to take the necessary steps toward completing the arrangements with the Gurney Company.

The greatest enthusiasm prevails in the town and there is not a doubt that the proposals will be carried into effect as rapidly as possible on the part of the town. An excellent site has been secured for the new shops in a most convenient situation as regards shipping facilities with the two railways, the C. P. and G. T., which run through the town.

SENATOR ROSS' WILL.

The Text of the Document Which Turned Up in an Old Portmanteau.

QUEBEC, Nov. 15.—The following is the text of the will of the late Senator James Gibb Ross, recently found in an old portmanteau, and which was yesterday filed in the Prothonotary's office for probate:

"NEW YORK, FEB. 8, 1885.

"I give and bequeath all my estate and property of whatever nature or kind soever to my brother Frank, to be divided into two shares, one-half to go to public charitable Protestant institutions at Quebec and Carluke, say the Protestant Hospital Home, French Canadian mission and poor relations, according to his best judgment, and the other half to himself and for his own sole use and benefit except £2000 which is to be given to Miss Mary Frances Overton Farm (Signed) James G. Ross."

It is stated that Mr. Frank Ross, the legatee, in carrying out the testator's intentions has given $500,000 to his nephew, John Theodore Ross, and $100,000 to each of his nieces, sisters of the latter.

A Serious Charge.

QUEBEC, Nov. 15.—Joseph Letellier of St. Roch North was brought before Judge Chauveau at the Police Court yesterday on a charge of assault on a girl of 13 years, residing on the Charlesbourg-road, a few miles from this city. He was sent to jail on a verbal remand waiting investigation. The prisoner is a married man. The little girl is named Brown, of a highly respectable family, whose father has an extensive farm a short distance from where the assault took place.

An Elopet Arrested at Windsor

WINDSOR, Nov. 13.—John Abbott came to Windsor from Trenton, Mich., yesterday and had Jags Cronk, a barber, arrested for eloping with Abbott's wife and 10-year old boy. Cronk boarded with Abbott and about ten days ago Cronk, Abbott's wife and boy disappeared with a large quantity of the household goods. The woman could not be found but the goods were recovered.

Again the Telegraph Operator.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 15.—A special train on the Central Illinois branch carrying a theatrical troupe collided three miles north of Canton with a switch engine yesterday. Engineer Redmond of the switch engine, Tom Loftus, switchman, and an unknown negro were killed. Jim Smith, D. Halsey, V. Thomas and several other persons were injured. The accident is said to be due to wrong information given to the engineer of the switch engine by a telegraph operator.

The Bridge Gave Way.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Nov. 15.—While a house was being moved across Kendall-street bridge yesterday morning a section of the bridge gave way, letting the house through and carrying with it James Potter and his son who were injured.

The Unspeakable Turk.

PANAMA, Nov. 13.—The French steamship Boarn recently arrived at Argentine and Brazilian ports with 270 Turks on board. Neither the republic nor the empire would allow these immigrants to land and the vessel carried them back to Europe.

MR. MERCIER TALKS.

WHAT HE SAID TO THE BALTIMORE INTERVIEWER.

His Personal Views on Annexation With Reid—The Quebec Premier's Club National Speech—No Elections this Year.

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.—Premier Mercier returned from the Baltimore Congress quite unexpectedly at midnight Wednesday and was busily engaged at official business all yesterday morning. As soon as he was at leisure he spoke quite freely with reference to the remarks attributed to him by American newspapers concerning the annexationist feeling in Quebec. He was asked: "Is the reported interview with you telegraphed from Baltimore to the papers here where you are made to say that French-Canadians are in favor of annexation, authentic or not?"

"That report is incorrect. What I did say was this: There is no doubt that a very respectable portion of the French-Canadians and even of the English-speaking Canadians are in favor of annexation. To what extent I cannot say, but there is also a very respectable portion of both French and English speaking Canadians against annexation, and I believe the latter are the majority. I also said that there was a very respectable and numerous portion of our population, French and English, who favored independence and I added that there was a very respectable portion of French and English speaking people who were in favor of the status quo. I positively refused, being asked to do so, to express an opinion and I stated that under the circumstances, with the official position I held, it was my duty to keep for myself on such an important subject my personal views."

In connection with provincial matters the Premier was asked: "When you said in your address before the Club National last week, 'Let us hope that these principles may never be misunderstood, and that we may not be called upon in any of our provinces to have recourse to reprisals and to remind the majorities who may be unjust that there is a minority which stands in need of protection,' did you mean that as a threat to the Protestant majorities of other provinces and to the Protestant minority here?"

"Not as a threat," replied Mr. Mercier "but surely as a warning to the majorities in the other Provinces. To be frank, I must say that I intended and I do intend to-day, to state that equal rights must apply to the minorities in every Province, and if the Federal Act is to be applied in some other province against the rights of the minorities and to the abolition of their separate schools where they exist by law, I do not see why the same rule should not apply to the minority of the Province of Quebec.

"My intention was to say that if the Catholics or the French of other provinces are not treated as they ought to be, I do not see why the Protestants and English in the Province of Quebec should be treated otherwise.

"I understand perfectly well the responsibility that I take, and I do take it with intention. It is not a threat as I said, but a warning which I hope will be sufficient to prevent the majorities of other provinces from being unjust."

Mr. Mercier stated that the Quebec general elections would not be held till after the next session of the Legislature.

An Old Woman Suicides

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.—Madame Solomon Martel, 70 years of age, living at St Esprit, county of Montcalm, committed suicide on Tuesday by drowning. She had been in low spirits for some time owing to the death of her husband in the spring and other family troubles. The body was recovered a few hours later.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 15.—Another public meeting for the discussion of the rolling mills by-law is to be held on Monday night. The company propose to increase their capital to $100,000.

The attendance at Albert College is one-fifth greater than that of last year.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Baptist Congress—Charged with Arson—The Drumm Case.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—The Baptist Congress discussed the question of Sabbath observance for three hours yesterday morning. There were a variety of views expressed, some of the divines from American cities approving of mental and physical relaxation on Sunday, even to the extent of moral reading, trips on the street-cars, etc. "The Disarmament of Nations" was the theme of the afternoon session. Rev. G. D. Beardman of Philadelphia, read a brilliant essay on the subject in which he said that war was a crime against the human race, it is national murder. The time had come, he thought, when nations should disarm. Prof. Schurman of Cornell University thought that without recasting human nature war would be inevitable. Still the professor had faith, if not in arbitration, in the success of Christianity.

The municipal delegates yesterday decided that universities, colleges and high schools should continue to be exempted. The recommendation to strike out clauses 21 and 25 of the municipal act was adopted. Mayor Jacob Erratt, Ald. Henderson, D. R. McTavish of Ottawa; Mayor Taylor of the Forest City, Ald. Mason of Hamilton and Ald. McDougall of Toronto were appointed a committee to lay before the Legislature the conclusions of the convention.

The trial of the Smart case was continued yesterday behind closed doors.

Robert Brines, the young man arrested at the fire at W. & J. G. Greey's establishment early yesterday morning, was in the Police Court charged with arson. He was timekeeper for the firm and his duties were over at 6 o'clock. How he happened to be around seven hours afterwards, when the fire was discovered, is a mystery. The charge against Brines was remanded till Monday next.

Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario; William Saunders, Director of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa; J. H. Panton, M.A., Professor of Botany and Horticulture in the Horticultural College, Guelph; T. T. Lyon, President of the Michigan Horticultural Society, and G. W. County Crown Attorney Badgerow, accompanied by Major Andrew C. Drumm of Kansas City, appeared before Mr. Justice McMahon yesterday at Osgoode Hall on the return of the warrant issued on the information of Major Drumm, accusing Andrew Drumm, his nephew, of forgery of two notes for $20,000 and $30,000 respectively, in the name of Drumm & Snyder, live stock commission merchants of Kansas City. The prisoner Drumm appeared in close custody, accompanied by his counsel, Mr. N. Gordon Bigelow, and he seemed to feel his position keenly. The prisoner pleaded not guilty. Mr. Badgerow applied for a remand before the County Judge, before whom the extradition proceedings will be taken, and the same was granted to Nov. 21.

NEWS OF THE OLD WORLD

GENERAL SIMMONS' PROPOSITION TO THE VATICAN.

Students Arrested at Odessa for Rioting at a Funeral—Railway Collision in Russia—Mrs. Besant's Libel Case.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—It is stated that Gen. Simmons, the British special envoy to the Vatican, offers to revive the ecclesiastical court of Malta existing at the time of the grand masters of the Maltese Order if the Pope raises the Bishop of Malta to the rank of Metropolitan and Primate of the Apostolic missions in the English colonies in Africa.

Eight students have been arrested at Odessa for rioting at a funeral service. They had just returned from exile. Riots of students are frequent in Odessa but the particulars are suppressed.

Two trains ran into each other between Raisan and Odessa yesterday. Eight carriages were smashed and many persons were injured.

Mrs. Besant's Libel Case.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The evidence in the case of Mrs. Besant, who is suing Rev. Dr. Hoskins for libel in having inveighed against her and her writings from the pulpit, is extremely racy. The action involves the fundamental principles of morality, and the result hinges upon the jury's interpretation of the publications which the preacher criticised and the degrees of their limitation of literary license in the direction of obscenity. Mrs. Besant was the wife of an English clergyman and left her husband because of their disagreement upon questions as to the relations of the sexes. She was friendly to a questionable extent with Mr. Charles Bradlaugh, and the two collaborated on a book called "The Fruits of Philosophy," the publication of which was suppressed. Subsequently Mr. Besant procured a divorce from his wife, in the application for which Mr. Bradlaugh's name appeared.

Barnum Captures the Cockneys.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The public and the press of this city are loud in their praise of the Barnum show, and seem to regard it really and enthusiastically as the greatest show on earth. The popular laudation of the affair is notably bestowed upon the exhibition of Nero or the fall of Rome, the scenes of which are praised with almost all the flattering adjectives in the language. It is quite evident already that the show will be an enormous success, and even now it is seriously affecting the concerts and the theatres. All London seems to be flocking to Barnum's and the usual public amusements are sadly neglected.

William and Francis Joseph.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany arrived at Innspruck at noon yesterday. Emperor Francis Joseph received them on the platform of the railway station, and embraced and kissed Emperor William. He then kissed the hand of the Empress. The Emperors retired to the salon of the station where they conversed privately for some time. After partaking of luncheon, the Imperial party resumed their journey to Berlin. Emperor Francis Joseph accompanied them as far as Rosenheim, Bavaria.

Corvilain's Trial.

ANTWERP, Nov. 15.—The trial of M. Corvilain, the proprietor of the cartridge factory in which a disastrous explosion occurred in September, was begun here yesterday. Delainey, the engineer of the factory, was also placed on trial.

An Emigration Swindle.

VIENNA, Nov. 15.—At Wadowice yesterday the trial opened of 65 persons charged with swindling a large number of Galician peasants by inducing them to emigrate to America by false statements and then obtaining a commission on their passage money. Among the persons implicated are a commissary of police, the comptroller of the customs, a Hungarian judge and a number of customs guards. Several Austrian and Prussian gendarmes were bribed to assist the organizers of the swindle.

The German Members Ousted.

VIENNA, Nov. 15.—The Bohemian Diet has unanimously passed a resolution declaring all members who have been absent from the sittings without leave since the opening of the session shall be held to have resigned their seats. This ousts the German members.

The French Chamber.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—In the Chamber of Deputies M. Foquelt, President of the Chamber, announced that 360 elections had been found valid and that the Chamber could proceed to appoint bureaux. Saturday was fixed for the selection of the bureaux.

Tricoupis has Their Confidence.

ATHENS, Nov. 15.—The Chamber of Deputies discussed the trouble in Crete. A resolution expressing confidence in the Cabinet was adopted, 72 to 54.

A PENNILESS EXILE.

Estate Wrecker Crowley of Boston Said to Be in Toronto.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The Herald is informed that John J. Crowley, who some months ago fled from Boston to Europe because he had damaged irretrievably a large number of private estates entrusted to his care, is now in Toronto, and has been in communication with friends here with a view to such an adjustment of matters as would permit him to return to Boston unmolested. The Herald says that there is little prospect of a gratification of his wish. It understands that Crowley is almost penniless.

A Combine But not a Trust.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 15.—The American Manufacturer states that ninety per cent. of the forge companies of the country have formed a combination for mutual protection. The combination is claimed has none of the features of a trust.

IMPORTANT!

Remarkable Restoration to Health of Well Known Canadians whose Cases were Given up as Incurable.

From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thousands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts.

D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Borromee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and strong.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P. Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

A customer of Harrison Bros., druggist, Hamilton, Ont., told them that he was entirely cured of nervous weakness by the use of two bottles of the Compound, after everything else has failed.

The little child of Mrs. G. E. Meredith, 76 D'Arcy St., Toronto, was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Paine's Celery Compound.

The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1889.

In Toronto on Wednesday both the Baptist Congress and the convention of municipal delegates attacked the tax exemption question.

The second annual Conference of the Evangelical Alliance for the Dominion of Canada, will be held in St. James Square Presbyterian church, Toronto, on Dec. 3rd, 4th and 5th, next. The leading divines and prominent men of the different Protestant denominations will address the Conference on "The Work of the Alliance," "The Sabbath," "Christian Union," and "Christian Unity."

The gross income last year of the farmers of Iowa from the land under corn is $8.50 per acre 50 bushels at 17 cents per bushel. They seem to think this is profitable farming, but when they reflect that a protective tariff collects 43 per cent of this, they find their gross profit, is reduced 43 per cent or to $4.84 per acre. This is a beauty of "protection," as it protects the farmers, which has only to be pointed out to be appreciated and admired.

The Conservatives complain that the Provincial by-election in West Lambton is being decided on the voters' lists of 1888, they contending that the lists of 1889 should in fairness be employed. This little piece of hypocritical grumbling only serves to emphasize the iniquity of the Dominion Franchise Act. All the recent Dominion by-elections have been decided on the musty and incomplete lists of 1886. It is a great outrage to use lists a few months old in a provincial by-election, but there is nothing wrong in using lists several years old in a Dominion by-election. Go to!

The Brockville Times complains that Hon C. F. Fraser has done nothing for the constituency he represents—Brockville. That he has represented this place, honourably, creditably and honestly, to the average Tory journal means doing nothing. "Doing something" is to build a post office, public building or to furnish some other form of the spoils." To show that he is a live representative the Times would like to have Hon. Mr. Fraser, build a lunatic asylum in Brockville. One would have though that the editor of the Times in making a demand for a substantial evidence of Hon. Mr. Fraser's fitness for a representative, would have been influenced solely by motives of public policy.

The Glasgow Herald asserts that a great deal of nonsense is talked every week by rabid Radicals, who are either very ignorant or grossly dishonest, about the expenses of monarchy. The fact that the cost to the American people of the periodical contests for the Presidency exceeds twenty millions sterling is rather startling when one remembers the rubbish which was talked and written last July of the cheapness of American institutions. New York rejoices in a band of 4572 elected officers, whose salary and expenses always exceed $225,000; and every other year, when the State officers are chosen, they draw $300,000. The Presidental election every four years costs this city $300,000 extra, and there are enormous indirect payments, which bring up the electioneering expenditure of New York (which is paid by the public) to $700,000 a year. The cost of electing the State Governor is something alarming, and the nomination of President Cleveland cost New York $100,000. Six hundred and fifty delegates were despatched from the city to Chicago, who were paid $50,000 for board, $50,000 for travelling expenses, and $10,000 for wines and spirits. We are not surprised that General Grant once asked—"What honest American citizen is there who would not give his care for a Government half as cheap as that of England?"

Servant Girls.

The EXAMINER is requested to reprint the following:—

SIR.—Having read several communications in the Mail on the servant girl question, and having had some experience as such, I will endeavour to explain why the supposed scarcity exists. In starting out from the parental roof to fill a situation as servant, a girl has considerable to learn in household work, that is in the manner in which some ladies require their whims to be satisfied. In case she gets into the employment of some good family, who will treat her as a human being not as an intelligent animal, the probability is she will turn out to be a first class servant and stay with them for years. Ill-treatment and unnecessary oaths by my lady and family invariably send the servant to learn a trade or find employment in shops, where, as a rule, she succeeds in making an honest and more independent livelihood. There are hundreds of girls filling positions in the business centres of life to-day, who had they been treated as becomes Christians would still be occupying positions as servants. Let the servants be treated with more civility and kindness, and I think in a very short time the supply will be equal to the demand.

Yours, etc.,

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

The Wiles of a Strange Woman—The Hospital Investigation.

HAMILTON, Nov. 15.—Last Friday a middle-aged woman, rather stout and very flashily dressed, arrived at the St. Nicholas Hotel and registered as Mrs. McBraney, Grand Forks. She engaged a room and nothing more was thought of her, until the attention of the proprietor was drawn towards her by the dining-room girls, who informed him that the strange woman was endeavoring to get them to go out west with her. The inducements which she held out were good situations, where they could make plenty of money and be able to wear good clothes. The proprietor warned the girls, but as the woman behaved herself and was absent from the hotel the greater part of each day he said nothing to her. On Wednesday she departed, and it was not till then that her mission to this city was clearly understood. It has since come to light that many young girls were approached on the street by a woman answering the description of Mrs. McBraney, who endeavored to lure them away to wealth and pleasure. Just whether this fiend succeeded in enticing any girls to go with her or not is unknown.

At the City Hall Wednesday night the doctors met the Hospital Committee and ventilated certain grievances which are disturbing them. The investigation took an informal turn. It is likely that as the result of the investigation a permanent house physician at a better salary will be appointed, that liberty will be granted to patients in private wards to call in whatever medical attendant they may wish whether such attendant is a member of the Hospital Board or not, and that a head nurse will be appointed.

In spite of adulterated imitations which ruin the theory, and practical results of the Original, in spite of the grossest misrepresentations by envious would-be competitors, and in spite of "base attempts to rob" him of the fruit of his labors, (all of which demonstrate the undoubted superiority and popularity of his teaching), Prof. Loisette's Art of Never Forgetting is recognized to-day in both Hemispheres as marking an Epoch in Memory Culture. TORONTO TOPICS.

The Municipal Convention—A Sensational Suit—Were Druggists Fined

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—At the morning session of the Municipal Convention the reports of the various committees were presented. The committee regarding the Municipal Act recommended, among other matters the giving of power to construct, equip and operate street railways similar to the power now possessed in regard to the construction of gas and waterworks, and if the municipality sees fit, to acquire by purchase, lease or otherwise any other existing street railway, on terms to be settled by arbitration, if necessary. The report of the Assessments Committee, recommending the taxation of certain classes of personalty, such as gas and water mains, telegraph poles, etc., brought an amendment from Ald. Mason recommending that real estate, as defined by the Assessment Act be fixed as the basis of taxation and as the only basis. The discussion took up the better part of the morning, and at the close the amendment was voted down, the convention considering that the business of exemptions was really the most fitting subject of discussion. In the afternoon the members of the convention were taken for a drive around the city by the corporation.

A sensational case was commenced yesterday morning at Osgoode Hall before Mr. Justice Ferguson in the Chancery Court. David Smart, a Port Hope lawyer, petitions for the possession of two of his children, now in the custody of his wife, from whom he has been separated since 1884. Mrs. Smart is a daughter of the late J. G. Worts, of Gooderham & Worts. She resides in Toronto, and is worth about $700,000. The two disputed children are girls, the oldest being 14 years. Mrs. Smart seeks to retain them under her care, and is willing to allow her husband to keep a third child, a boy, whom he is keeping at present. The wife charges that her husband is an unfit custodian for the girls, and the husband makes charges vice versa. Some of the charges made by the latter are of a most unpleasant nature, revealing a terrible state of domestic unhappiness. Justice Ferguson, on a motion by Mr. Blake, excluded everybody from the court-room, including the reporters.

The five charges of burglary against Samuel Jarvis were disposed of yesterday morning, when Jarvis was sent to the penitentiary for six years. Pattoe, who was tried with him, was discharged.

Five more druggists appeared in the Police Court yesterday and pleaded guilty to illicit liquor selling. Against three of them were two charges. They were fined $20 in each case.

Henry W. Darling has retired from the wholesale dry goods firm of McMaster, Darling & Co.

Mary Sands, a rather prepossessing looking young woman, was arrested by Detective Watson yesterday afternoon on a charge of bringing stolen goods into Canada. It is alleged that the prisoner, who is a married woman, ran away from her husband in Detroit and came to Toronto with a man named T. J. McCarthy, bringing with her a quantity of her husband's property. The two have been living for some time at No. 57 Water street. Later in the day McCarthy was also arrested.

Has Had a Hard Time of It.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Conductor Cole of the Canada Atlantic Railway reports that Patrick O'Brien a young Englishman of 19 years, was brought to Cotean Station yesterday morning with his left foot cut off and his right eye badly cut. He was found at 2o'clock yesterday morning on the Grand Trunk Railway track near Cotean. He said he got between two freight cars to steal a ride to Montreal and shortly after the train started he lost his hold and fell on the track, the wheels passing over his left foot. He crawled off the track and bandaged the limb with his handkerchief. He was found shortly afterwards. O'Brien came out from England in May and has had a hard time of it.

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

How to Lace Your Shoes.

Not one person in a thousand laces his shoes correctly. The correct way is to put your foot when you are about to lace your shoe as much as possible in the heel of the shoe. You can do this best by lacing your shoes with the heel of your shoe resting in a chair standing in front of the one you are seated on. Over the instep the lacing should be drawn as tightly as possible. This will hold your foot back in the shoe, giving the toes freedom and preventing their being cramped. Lace about the ankle to suit your comfort.—New York Truth.

A Frontier for Collegiate Institute Pupils

Recently, in the city of Rome, in making excavations for a large building, there was unearthed a bronze tablet of great age, containing a code of Roman notation. For 2000 years the world has been taught the present incorrect system—we have been taught that a number, say 370, is expressed by CCCLXX; but, according to the newly found code, this number is expressed by the letter t. This is correct, for 370 is the number of hawley bros.' t store, george street, where is found the finest stock of fine teas at fine prices, ever offered to the public in Peterborough. Also superb coffees at equally low prices, as well as beautiful glassware.

Dissatisfied with the Weed Meat.

W. J. Morrow has placed in one of his cellars one of Messrs. Clare Bros.' Furnaces for the use of coal, which will be a great accomodation to farmers and persons attending the market, as they will be always sure of a good warm shop. The furnace has been put in by Mr. Adam Hall, and does much credit to him. It being placed in his north cellar, heating both grocery and liquor cellars as well as his extensive upstair premises, and it so arranged to keep all wines an liquors at a certain temperature, an advantage possessed by no other liquor house and which must certainly increase his trade one half, by having them in such fine condition. Those steady improvements and enlarging of premises, show the steady strides Mr. Morrow is making towards building up one of the most extensive trades in our Midland counties. 1dtw

The Hackman's Trouble.

The hack and 'bus drivers will in future have to "toe the mark" at the Grand Trunk station. For some time past there has been a keen rivalry among the "cabbies," and, though the railway authorities ordered them not to infringe upon passengers' rights by crossing certain imaginary lines on the platform, it was found impossible, owing to their eager competition, to keep them within bounds, and passengers immediately on stepping off the train were besieged with importunate cries of "hack to the city, sir," and "free 'bus to the Black House," etc. But in future a distinct line of demarcation will have to be recognised by the "cabbies," beyond which they must not venture. A white "chalk line" has been painted on the platform from the north front corner of the building to the fence. The cabbies must stay behind it.

House Warming.

Mr. Jos. Mills has occupied his handsome new residence on Park street for a week or so, and last night thirty or more of the young friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mills swooped down upon them with luncheon baskets and musicians, and speedily the house was filled with the sights and sounds of merry-making. The carpets were not all down, and the spacious rooms afforded an excellent opportunity for dancing, which the young people were not at all slow to grasp. Though taken by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Mills were equal to the occasion and tendered their guests a hearty welcome, host and hostess doing their utmost to assist in the general enjoyment. Before the party broke up formal expression was given to the unanimous sentiment that Mr. and Mrs. Mills were "the people" for hospitality and generous entertainment.

Watchman Gordon, What of the Night?

Night-watchman Gordon's last report contains the following information:—Number of doors found open after the close of business—seven front doors and twelve back doors. The following articles were found hanging outside shop doors after closing:—Lady's skirt; two lacrosse sticks; one pair trimming shears; five clothes lines and two brushes; two horse collars; one brush; one boggy wrap; one lady's mantle; one fishing net; one horse cover; one lady's waterproof; one overcoat; one fur skin (at door of non-subscriber); one rubber coat; nine cooking pots and one iron pump (non-subscriber); two unspecified articles. Here in this one short report, we have the possibilities (presented by open doors) of nineteen burglaries made easy—prevented by the vigilance of night-watchman Gordon, and an invoice of miscellaneous articles saved from theft, of sufficient value to pay his salary for a month.

A Cameronian Complimented.

Mr. Charles Cameron has just reason to feel proud of the honor of his unanimous re-election as President of St Andrew's Society last night. The manner of his election—the vote being recorded by the members rising to their feet en masse—shows Mr. Cameron that he stands high in the hearts of his compatriots. In the face of such a demonstration of confidence, he must expect a decline of popularity if he declines the position, which he felt anxious to do. He had much better become resigned than resign. Mr. Cameron has been a faithful presiding officer, and during his incumbency, the Society has accomplished what it has failed to do before in thirty years—secured a fine hall, and enjoys an unprecedented degree of thrift. The EXAMINER congratulates Mr. Cameron, and wishes him many long years of health to continue to act as a pillar of St. Andrew's Society.

One Minute's Excitement.

This morning Mrs. Cruikshank went out shopping, and not wishing to leave the Irish Setter dog in the house took him with her. While making a purchase of some underclothing at Kidd's bankrupt sale the "Setter" made himself comfortable in front of the stove. All went well until the door opened admitting another lady accompanied by a Scotch Terrier. The door was closed, and hostilities commenced. The Celtic blood boiled with indignation at the Irish brother's monopoly of the comforter. Two growls, a mutual rear and a snap, were the preliminaries of the scrap. The dogs yelped, one lady cried frantically, "For bee van's sake part my Charlie." By this time the Irish dog had "Charlie" pinned to the ground. The owner of Charlie could stand it no longer and with a heavy sigh fell in a swoon on the floor. She was subsequently restored and sent home in a hack. Mr. W. Chambers parted the dogs, not, however, before he had received a painful scratch on the left hand. The Setter wagged his tail and went on his road the "Victor."

Opera House Harmony.

Another large attendance greeted the Boston Harmony Quartette Concert last night. The programme was as good if not better than those previously rendered. To particularize would take too much space, but special mention should be given to Mr. J. D. Laurens', experience with a shave for 5c and a chromo thrown in, also Prof. Phillip's vocal march for male voices, Mr. Wmen's rendition of "Will O' the Wisp," and Mr. Oakley's excellent tenor in "Tell her I love her so." Master Archie McCaw's cornet playing still remains one of the most prominent features of the entertainment. The company will give one of the concerts to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2.30 p.m., for the special benefit of ladies and children—adults 10 cents, children 5 cents. As this company only give two more performances besides the matinee, do not neglect such an opportunity of hearing good music rendered in an artistic manner, and also enjoy hearty laughs. A very funny musical burlesque will be rendered this evening.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The week of prayer meetings are still growing in numbers and interest. The Holy Spirit is owning and blessing the word spoken by the pastors and workers. Rev. Mr. Shorey gave an instructive and earnest address yesterday. The meetings for men will be continued every evening this week. A cordial welcome is extended to all young men to come.

St. Andrew's Society.

Annual Meeting—Financial Report for The Year—Election of Officers—Celebration of St. Andrew's Day.

The annual meeting of the St. Andrew's Society was held in St. Andrew's Hall on Thursday evening, 14th inst. This was the first occasion since the formation of the Society in 1858, on which the annual gathering had assembled in a hall of their own, and the large attendance at this meeting was an encouraging sign of the benefits which the Society will derive from their new hall.

Mr. CHAS. CAMERON, President, occupied the chair, and after the usual routine of business, drew attention to the special nature of the business of the evening. He called for proposals of membership, with the result that eleven new members were elected.

The President took occasion to draw the attention of the meeting to a new picture in the hall which had been kindly presented to the Society by Mr. James Stewart, recently returned from a visit to his friends in Scotland, and who had brought the picture out with him. It represented a private of the "Black Watch" Royal Highlanders in full marching costume.

On motion of Mr. W. Cumming, seconded by Mr. J. Patterson, a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Stewart for his very appropriate present.

Mr. NOBLE, chairman of the Dedication Committee, reported a credit balance of $2.25 after paying all expenses.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Mr. R. MAX. DENNISTOUN, treasurer, then read his annual financial statements, which showed a balance to the credit of the charitable fund of the Society of $32.71. He also submitted a detailed statement of the Furnishing Fund account in connection with the new hall, which showed a debit balance of $2.85. In addition to this there were a number of outstanding accounts, which will make the total liability against the furnishing account amount to the small sum of $57.50. The treasurer then submitted the following motion:—

Moved by R. M. Dennistoun, second by W. Menzies,—That whereas the committee has with commendable energy procured and furnished these very suitable quarters as a St. Andrew's Hall; and whereas in the opinion of this meeting the powers of the Society for good and the opportunities for making its influence felt have been thereby very much extended, it is therefore resolved that the action of the committee in this respect is heartily endorsed by this meeting, and that the expense connected with the renting, furnishing, lighting and heating of the hall be in future considered a portion of the ordinary expenses of the Society.

After some explanations, the motion was carried unanimously.

This completed the business of 1888.

The PRESIDENT then announced that the next business was the election of officers for 1890. He took the opportunity to express his thanks to the officers and members for their kind support during his term of office, which had just expired. He hoped much for the future success of the Society. Much had been accomplished during the past year, and he trusted they would now elect men who would take an active interest in the welfare of the Society. He had been identified with it since its organization in 1858, and he hoped to continue to be a member as long as he had a dollar to pay his subscription. (cheers.)

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers for 1890 was then proceeded with, resulting as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Chas. Cameron, re-elected.

1ST VICE-PRESIDENT.—James Hendry, re-elected.

2ND VICE PRESIDENT—George H. Noble.

3RD VICE PRESIDENT—John Patterson.

TREASURER—R. MAX. Dennistoun, re-elected.

E. Rosebrug and Joseph Renwick, Douro; Geo. Smith, Harvey.

CELEBRATION OF ST. ANDREW'S DAY.

Moved by Mr. Jas. Hendry, seconded by Mr. Wm. Learmouth,—That St. Andrew's Day be celebrated by a supper to be held in St. Andrew's Hall, and that the ladies be invited to take part with the members and guests.—Carried amid great enthusiasm.

Moved by Mr. Geo. H. Noble, seconded by Mr. Wm. Learmouth,—That in consequence of St. Andrew's Day falling on Saturday this year, the celebration be held on Monday evening, Dec. 2nd, instead.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Jas. Hendry, seconded by Mr. W. Battersby,—That the celebration take place on St. Andrew's eve, Friday, November 29th.

The amendment was carried.

The following were appointed a committee for making arrangements for the celebration:—President Chas. Cameron, 1st Vice Jas. Hendry, 2nd Vice Geo. H. Noble, Treasurer R. M. Dennistoun, and Messrs. Thos. Gillespie, Jas. Munro, W. Mercer, W. VanEvery and the Secretary.

The President and Secretary were instructed to confer with the Chaplain, Rev. Mr. Torrance, for the purpose of ascertaining if arrangements could be made by which the desire of the meeting might be attained by inviting the Rev. Mr. McEwan, of Lakefield, to preach the annual sermon to the members of the Society in St. Paul's Church on Sunday evening, November 24th.

The members of the Celebration Committee were instructed to meet in the hall on Saturday evening next, to proceed at once with their duties, after which the meeting adjourned.

Before the meeting broke up, Mr. James Hendry sang, by request, "Scots wha hae," and Mr. W. Mercer gave "There was a lad 'twas born in Kyle."

Police Court.

FRIDAY, Nov. 15.

John Armstrong was arrested last evening for drunkenness, and not being sobered up yet at ten o'clock this morning was remanded to gaol for a week.

A rather sturdy, respectable looking man named Thomas Doyle, was charged with vagrancy. When the magistrate asked questions concerning his career, Doyle said he came here from Enniscorthy, and was in destitute circumstances. He said he could not get work. The magistrate asked him if he wanted to go to gaol. Doyle replied that it appeared to be the only alternative. The magistrate remarked that he thought Doyle could get work if he tried, and it was a shame to send such an able-bodied man to gaol to live on charity. He didn't give Doyle a pass into the county boarding-house, but told him to leave town at once or he would get a term of six months in the Central Prison. He didn't believe in encouraging idleness in such a man. Doyle responded nonchalantly, "All right, I'll get away at once, sir," and ambled down stairs.

THROWING STONES.

Half a dozen urchins, ranging from ten to fourteen years of age, occupied the largest part of the prisoner's bench. Two of them, R. Burleigh and T. Thornton, were charged with throwing stones and breaking a window in a private house. The other lads were witnesses. Burleigh and Thornton both denied the charge, and another boy named A. Johnston stood up and confessed he had done the deed. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence on promising to make the window good again. Henry Starr was also implicated in throwing the stones, and was also discharged, pending judgment. The magistrate lectured the boys and warned them that he would send the next boy who was proven to have broken windows in a house to gaol for a while. It was a bad habit some boys had got into of throwing stones through windows of vacant houses, and he was bound to put a stop to it.

Following is the reading of the by-law with reference to the matter:—

No person shall cast, project or throw any stones, or balls of snow or ice, or other missiles dangerous to the public, or use any bow or arrow, or catapult, or the like, on any of the streets, parks or public places of the town of Peterborough.

The fine for each an offence is from $1 to Teachers' Convention at Norwood.

A Pedagogic Invasion—Raid of Educational Sharpshooters—Semi-Annual Meeting of the County Teachers' Institute—A Good Beginning.

(Special Correspondence of the Examiner.)

This is a gala day in town. It occurs only once a year and, naturally enough, the quiet tenor of the village life is very much disturbed. Just imagine the whole place taken by nearly a hundred of the trainers of the young idea from every part of the county, making an avalanche upon a modest little town like Norwood. This is what has happened. The teachers of the county are holding their semi-annual convention here and thus all the stir. The impour started early Thursday morning, teachers coming in by foot, by wheel, by stange, by train; in one's, two's, three's and groups of ten's and dosen's. The train from Peterborough brought the largest crowd in one gathering, there being nearly a coach full from that point. The hotels are crowded, the Commercial House, owned and conducted by Mr. H. Drain, receiving the greater number of guests. Hugh runs a good house and is a jolly good fellow, making every guest feel perfectly at home.

THE BEGINNING.

The convention proper commenced at two o'clock, and, in the absence of the President, Mr. W. S. Ellis, M.A., Mr. J. Coyle Brown, I.P.S., occupied the chair, and in a very neat speech opened the meeting. The room was crowded to the door, many extra seats having to be provided. A very notable event in the convention is the fact that two Inspectors, Mr. J. H. Knight, Inspector of Public Schools, East Victoria, and Mr. Wm. Mackintosh, Inspector of Public Schools, North Hastings, occupied seats upon the platform, and are to take active part through the whole proceedings. After the Chairman's address the popular Secretary, Mr. J. J. Rooney, C.A., read a lengthy report of the last meeting, which was adopted.

The first part of the programme proper was taken up by Mr. W. Mackintosh, his subject being "Weaknesses in our School Work." Mr. Mackintosh is an old teacher and full of animation, and his address on this subject was very interesting and practical. He said he thought it highly important that every teacher should have opinions of his own on the different points in teaching and not be too easily led aside by new methods, but at the same time be ready to accept anything new which, after thorough investigation, proved to be an improvement on old ways. One great weakness which, he said, existed was on subjects, not bearing directly on the teacher's work. This could be remedied only by extensive reading, systematically carried out and put into use in every day work. Another point was lack of matured judgment. Teachers commenced to teach so young that this difficulty could not be well overcome. Another very great defect was the shortness of the teacher's life in the profession. The speaker said he did not see how this could be obviated in the case of lady teachers, as they would marry in spite of any laws that might be enacted. But in the case of male teachers a great improvement might be effected in this line. If provincial authorities would give larger grants to schools, and adopt some other method of distributing the grants, a good deal could be accomplished. A great deal was taught in schools that was relatively useless, while a great deal was not taught, which would be of inestimable value to the teacher. His address was very pointed and cannot fail to have good effects on teachers. Any news paper report is too short to do Mr. Mackintosh justice.

The next subject was "Elementary Arithmetic." Miss Stevenson said that addition was the foundation of arithmetic, and if this subject was properly taught, the rest of this subject would be comparatively easy. Miss Stevenson gave her method of teaching this subject to beginners, illustrating her work on the blackboard. Miss Stevenson is a teacher very difficult to excel in teaching small children; her winning at once the confidence of her pupils. A discussion followed on the subject in which Messrs. Knight, Brown, Mackintosh and Mark took a leading part.

At this point programmes of studies for the forthcoming examination in the schools of the county, were distributed by Mr. J. C. Brown.

This ended the first session.

An excellent programme for the entertainment to-night in the town hall is provided, Miss Agnes Knox, Canada's leading elocutionist being engaged for the occasion.

NOTES.

It rained a little this afternoon but this evening it is stiffening up a little and the clouds are breaking up.

Business in Norwood is very dull. One old resident said to-day, that it had not been as dull for twenty years.

First-class timothy hay sold here to-day for $6 a ton.

The ladies of the Convention are a handsome lot of young women and have captivated all the young men at Norwood. One young man, Norwood's biggest dude, says he would keep, at least one, for the remainder of his days, were it not for the fact that he is already engaged to four or five other young ladies in Norwood.

News Nuggets.

—The first load of wood of the season came on the market square this morning. It sold at the rate of $4 a cord.

—There was a slight flurry of snow this forenoon, which with the lowered temperature was a convincing argument that winter is approaching.

Another Testimonial.

Mr. R. J. McConochie, Retiring Science Master, Presented with an Address.

At the close of Thursday's lessons in the first form of the Collegiate Institute the pupils, in view of Mr. McConochie's retirement from the position of Science Master, presented him with the following address accompanied with the gift of six volumes of Macaulay's History of England:—

Mr. R. G. McConochie:

DEAR TEACHER.—Having heard of your sudden decision to leave us, thus dissolving the relations of teacher and pupils which have existed so pleasantly for the past month, we desire to formally express both our regret at losing your services and our high appreciation of the efforts you have made in promoting our advancement in our studies. While, in this respect you have shown a commendable earnestness, you have at the same time shown a kindly interest the difficulties that beset the way of the learner, and have, it seems to us, judiciously combined encouragement and sympathy. That you have in so short a time won, as you have done, our respect and good will, is a good proof of your fitness for the calling of a teacher. We shall always remember our brief association with you with pleasure.

In earnest of the good will we bear you and of the esteem and respect we feel for you, we ask your acceptance of these volumes of Macaulay's History of England.

We wish you the fullest measure of success in your University career and hope that the future will yield you the success which, from our brief acquaintance with you, you seem so well qualified to attain.

Signed on behalf of the First Form of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute,

(MISS) LU NYNS,
(MISS) MAY MCFARLANE,
D. C. KING,
MARK BURNHAM.

NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

TORONTO DRUGGISTS AND THE CROOKS ACT.

The Queen City's "Merchants' Day" scheme Falls Through—An Orillia Man Shoots His Wife.

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—"Merchants' Day" project is in the tureen, both the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways having declined to grant half-fare rates.

A number of prominent retail druggists held a meeting in the Rossin House yesterday afternoon, at which it was resolved to petition the Ontario Legislature to so "amend the Crooks Act that druggists be not allowed to sell ardent spirits at all or that they be protected from the prosecutions of professional informers."

William Davy, a laborer, employed and residing at 22 Francis-street, where the York Soap Factory is situated, on Wednesday while working round a tallow vat fell into the boiling liquid. His injuries were serious, but it did not appear that they were fatal. He was therefore taken to his lodgings, where he remained until yesterday, when it was deemed advisable to remove him to the Hospital. He was doing well at a late hour last night.

A few days ago William Byran, 60 Richmond-street west, had a silver watch stolen from the above address. He reported the case to the police and yesterday Detective John Caddy arrested a man named Fred G. Clayton of the same address. Clayton says he went to Hamilton and when returning from that city was robbed at Oakville of all his money and was compelled to foot it to Toronto.

The Ontario Government have made the following appointments:—Alexander Nichol Hobson, of the Village of Innerkip, to be an associate Coroner within and for the County of Oxford, instead of James Palmer Rankin, M. D., removed from the county; Archibald Weir, Toronto, barrister-at-law, to be a notary public; John McRitchie, of the Village of Ripley, to be bailiff of the Ninth Division Court of the County of Bruce, instead of Donald McDonald, resigned; Alex. McBride, St. Thomas, to be Clerk of the Second and Third Division Courts of the County of Elgin, the appointment to take effect January 1, 1890.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

An Orillia Man Puts a Bullet in His Wife's Breast.

ORILLIA, Nov. 15.—Some time ago Mr. Sanders and his wife disagreed and separated. To-night about 8.15 at a mutual friend's house Sanders fired four times at his wife wounding her twice, once in the left wrist and the second time about an inch above the nipple of the right breast. Whether the wounds will prove fatal or not is yet uncertain.

Sanders made the remark sometime since that he did not care for his own life as long as he could kill his wife. The would-be murderer hails from near Kilworthy, a small station six miles south of Gravenhurst Sanders has been arrested.

There is great dissatisfaction here over Inspector Seath's report on the Collegiate Institute. This report is said to be so derogatory that the newspapers have been refused permission to publish it.

Rev. Mr. Boville, a Baptist minister here, has refused to accept exemption from taxation on the ground that he does not believe in ecclesiastical exemption.

An Errand of Mercy.

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—Rev. Thos. Geoghegan, Messrs. John Hoodless, A. T. Freed and A. McKay, M.P., of Hamilton arrived in the city yesterday with a big petition, praying the Governor-General for the release of Agnes Day, now serving a sentence in the Mercer Reformatory of one year for alleged infanticide. They visited the Department of Justice and had an interview with Sir John Thompson who will take their representations into consideration.

A BUSHEL OF SOLID GOLD.

Rich Discoveries of the Pure Metal Reported in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 15.—The Carolina Watchman published at Salisbury has sent a mining expert to Montgomery county to investigate rumors of an important gold find there, and he reports that all the statements about fabulous wealth having been discovered there are true." The find is said to be the richest ever discovered in the state. Three parallel veins were found about half an inch in thickness and only a few feet apart. The ore runs out a large percentage of pure gold. The Watchman's representative ascertained that a bushel of solid gold had already been taken out of the deposit. The place is owned by three Sanders brothers. Great excitement is reported in the neighborhood and people are leaving their work to search for gold. It is stated that one man in two hours got out 2000 pennyweights of pure gold and was then compelled by the owners to leave off.

The Northwest Assembly has had a lively discussion on the question of Responsible Government.

REVOLUTION IN BRAZIL

ONE OF THE CABINET MINISTERS SHOT.

Agitation for a Republican Form of Government Terminates in Open Revolt—The Army in Control.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Messrs. C. R. Flint & Co. received the following cablegram late this afternoon dated at Rio Janeiro:

"Revolution has broken out here. The Brazilian army is in control. Ministry has resigned. The revolution is for the purpose of forming a republic."

A despatch has been sent here stating that one of the ministers was shot.

The despatches regarding the revolution have made coffee dealers here very uneasy.

This is the first intimation they have had of any trouble in Brazil for a year.

THE NEWS CONFIRMED.

An Agitation for a Republican Form of Government.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Despatches from Rio Janeiro concerning the revolutionary outbreak assert that a movement in favor of a republican form of government has recently been strongly fomented and is the sole cause of the rising. Up to the present hour however there is little information of a tangible character. The announcement is made in the cipher cables already at hand that the Brazilian ministers have tendered their resignation and that the situation is controlled by the army.

SENOR ROMERO TALKS.

What the Brazilian Minister at Washington Doesn't Know About It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Brazilian minister said this evening that he had received no information from his Government with regard to the reported revolution in Brazil, but that he had received from a third party intelligence of the same purport as that contained in the cablegram to Flint & Co. of New York. The minister said that since he left Brazil in July last he had heard considerable about the great strength of the republican party in Brazil, but in his opinion its strength was greatly overrated in this country. In the last election, which was perfectly free and open, only a few republicans were returned. While it was possible that great changes had taken place in affairs at Brazil in the last three or four months he did not think it at all probable that the situation had taken the turn indicated by the cablegram. There might, he thought, have been some ministerial trouble which had given rise to the reports of the revolution.

A VAST DOMAIN.

The New World's Only Empire—Its Population and Government.

Brazil is the only Empire in the new world. It borders upon all the South American Republics except Chili, occupies more than two-fifths of the continent and has, after Russia the most extensive contiguous territory of any government on the globe, covering an area of about 3,200,000 square miles. Its greatest breadth is 2470 miles and its greatest length 2600. Its population is about 11,000,000 and its national debt $368,351,000. Rio de Janeiro the capital, has a population of about 450,000. Brazil is inhabited by an agglomeration of many races, the whites numbering probably one-third and the remaining two-thirds being made up of mestigos, mulattos, cafuzos (from Indian and negro), civilized and savage Indians, and Africans, which last form the most numerous unmixed race in the empire.

The mineral productions of Brazil are immense, comprising diamonds, sapphires, emeralds rubies, topazes, siroon, gold, silver, copper, tin, lead and iron. Valuable woods, cotton, coffee, sugar, hides, horns, tobacco, India rubber, cacao and diamonds are the chief exports.

Brazil is governed by a constitutional and hereditary monarch, Pedro II (de Alcantara). On the invasion of Portugal by the French in 1807 the royal family fled to Brazil which was raised to the rank of a kingdom in 1815. The grandfather of the present Emperor became King of Portugal under the title of John VI and returned to that country in 1821 leaving his son as regent of Brazil. When the Portuguese cortes adopted measures reducing Brazil again to the rank of a colony a revolution took place and Dom Pedro, father of the present monarch, placing himself at the head of the movement was proclaimed protector and perpetual defender of Brazil, and the country being declared independent in October, 1822, he was proclaimed constitutional emperor and on Dec. 1 was crowned.

Dom Pedro II was born in Rio de Janeiro Dec. 2, 1825. Five years later his father abdicated in his favor. The country was governed by a regency until 1841 when the Emperor was declared to have attained his majority and was crowned July 18. In 1871-2 Dom Pedro made an extended tour on the continent and in England. Under his rule Brazil has steadily increased in power, the government has been consolidated, the finances placed in a good condition, railways built, immigration encouraged, slavery abolished and internal improvements actively carried on. Dom Pedro possesses remarkable literary and scientific attainments and a liberal turn of mind and was supposed to enjoy the enthusiastic affection of his subjects. On Sept. 4, 1843, he married the Princess Theresa Christina Maria, daughter of Francis I, King of the Two Sicilies. He has one surviving child, Princess Imbella, born July 29, 1846, and married Oct. 15, 1864, to Louis, Count d'Eu, son of the Duke of Nemours.

The constitution of Brazil establishes four powers in the state: legislative, executive, judicial, and the "moderating" power or royal prerogative. There are provincial and national assemblies, the latter consisting of two houses, Senate and Congress. The senators, 58 in number, are elected for life, and the representatives, 122 in number are chosen by the people for four years. The executive power resides in the Emperor as stated by his ministers and a council of state. By virtue of the "moderating" power the sovereign can choose ministers and senators, withhold temporarily his sanction from legislative measures, dissolve and convoke the assemblies and grant pardons and amnesties. The ministry is composed of seven departments and there are twenty-four councillors of state appointed for life by the sovereign. The ministers are responsible for treason, corruption, abuse of power and all acts contrary to the constitution, which responsibility cannot be evaded on the plea of orders from the sovereign.

Since the long and disastrous war with Paraguay, which began in 1865 and ended March 1, 1870, with the death of the dictator Lopez, Brazil has been at peace, the arts and commerce have been fostered, governmental reforms have been advanced and the emancipation of all slaves has been successfully accomplished.

A New Departure Announced—London's Sock Trouble—The French Government's Program.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—There was a large and influential attendance at the annual meeting of the Imperial Federation League yesterday. The proceedings were notable because a new departure was announced, the League having resolved to constantly urge on the Government the necessity of holding at regular intervals Imperial Conferences to consider matters of common concern that are ripe for discussion. This is an outcome of Sir Charles Tupper's recent suggestion. Sir Charles Tupper was present, but did not speak. Mr. Perkins of New Brunswick produced a favorable impression.

The Dockmen's Strike.

The directors in a letter to the papers complain of the men's tyranny in refusing to work with non-unionists. The Tilbury dock-men have struck because the foremen and clerks refused to join the union.

Depon, Minister of the Colonies, has prepared a bill reducing the tariffs in Cuba and Porto Rico with a view to the development of Commerce between the American-Spanish republics and Europe. LEAGUE AND BROTHERHOOD.

The National Organization Will Try to Crush the New Scheme.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—At the meeting of the National League managers the constitution was so amended that each club will play 14 games with every other club, instead of 20 as formerly. A committee was appointed to use all legal means to combat the Brotherhood, with leave to draw on the League's fund for expenses. This finished the League manager's business, and they adjourned till Jan. 28, 1890.

After the adjournement Spalding said the League, by the abolishment of the sales system and classification rule and by the payment of $250 to Sutcliffe has given the players more than they asked for. If the players are now determined to make an effort to break the League and join a new institution, they must prepare themselves for the consequences." Spalding thought that if the players persist in their conspiracy the League clubs would make every possible effort to enjoin the players from playing in any other organization. In case the injunctions are not obtainable he said there will be nothing for the league to do, but to expel all the players who enter into conspiracy which will practically mean their retirement from professional baseball should their rebellious scheme prove a failure. "I have," he said, "too high a regard for the general intelligence of the rank and file of the league players to believe they will be led into such a dangerous experiment." Spalding declared that he did not fear the Brotherhood movement and he predicted its collapse. The League would continue to furnish first-class honest baseball.

THE LADIES!

A New and Distinct Form of Disease which is Affecting Canadian Women.

How some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Superb Physical Beauty.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the home. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of woman, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 60 St. Hyppolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now feels as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from Wells, Richardson & Co., Montreal.

Faith Cures.

Sermon By Layman.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

We hear a good deal of the present day of faith cures. It is to be feared that the most of those who practice faith cure know very little of what it really is or now it is to be obtained. The principle of faith cure is right but the means used to obtain it is wrong. No one can ever secure a spiritual blessing except through his own merits, by faith in the life and death of the Lord Jesus Christ, who gave up His life that men might live and through his atonement and intercession come to God and be saved. It is through faith in the Saviour alone that the sick can be cured. People must themselves go to the throne of grace and by and through themselves alone ask for that help which He alone can give. It cannot be done through the efforts or pretended efforts of another man, who himself also wants pardon and mercy. It can only be secured through the personal application to Christ of the person who is in trouble, who asks in faith and to whom only help will be given. There must be no third person standing between the sufferer and his Creator—Man must go direct to God through the merits and intercession of his Saviour, and he must go in sincerity and truth, and if his heart is right he will obtain help and comfort. Faith cure then means cure by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and in Him alone and it can only be obtained by and through Him on the personal application of the person needing His help, and who goes to Him with a pure heart. God has said that "he who cometh unto me," that is in humbleness and faith, "he will in no wise cast out." Man cannot hide his thoughts from God—and He knows whether his prayers are sincere and whether he merits help, and if he does, then, help will come in God's own good time. For He has said "come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest." Cure by faith then means the going to God of the sufferer and the prayer to Him in faith, for help, and when God sees fit, for he knows the best time to answer the prayer, and gives the desired relief—for He has said, "ask and ye shall receive." Ask in secret and the Lord shall reward thee openly. And as God has said that avail much, so the meeting together of God-fearing men for the purpose of united prayer is commendable, and may do good. Mind, they must be righteous men, holy men of God—few though they be. And when they pray, they must pray to God, and ask him for Christ's sake to hear them and answer their prayers.

"All things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

Ye ask and receive not because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

If ye abide in me and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will and it shall be done unto you.

And whatsoever we ask we receive of him, because we keep his commandments and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

Therefore I say what things soever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them and ye shall have them.

Ask, and it shall be given you, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you."

Men who want divine assistance must remember that they cannot cheat God—must remember that he knows the inmost secrets of their hearts and that if they go to Him for help and their hearts are not right, they will be refused. And this is why so many so termed prayers are not answered. People deceive themselves, and because others do not know of their unworthiness and their shortcomings, they imagine that the all-wise Creator does not know of them either. But they are awfully mistaken, and the very attempt in wish to deceive him, is of itself a grevious sin and will be punished accordingly, for God is just as well as merciful. Cure by faith is altogether between man and his God. No human being can take his place or stand between them. And if his heart is right and he asks in sincerity and in faith, he will not be turned away. For God has said, "Ask and ye shall receive." So thought the man who was lying on his sick bed. He was tired waiting for his physician to cure him. His time hung heavily upon him, and his nights were dark and dreary. He was a man of the world and knew nothing of prayer, and he never thought of asking for God's help in his suffering and troubles. But a good man visited him and he told him of God's goodness and mercy, showed him the use of prayer and

HOW PRAYER WAS ANSWERED.

A new revelation came into the sick man's mind, and he decided to make a change and to profit by what he had heard. So in his solitary room, in the darkness and the still hours of night he turned to the only sure physician and he prayed to Him fervently and asked Him to help him. He looked back upon his past life and saw the mistakes he had made and asked to have his sins forgiven and to be made a sound man in Christ. He was surprised to find that he felt easier and better. His faith in the healing powers of the Most High was unbounded. He felt that he could only be saved through his own personal efforts and he was resolved to go direct to God Himself through the merits of his Saviour, and he did so then and there, all alone in the sick room, and God heard his prayers and he was saved. And ever after he lived a life of obedience and gratitude to Him who brought him back to a healthy life again. A little girl was one day brought home mortally injured. She heard the doctor say she could not live. She had been religiously trained by her pious mother and she knew what life was beyond the grave. She lay very quiet in her sick bed and was calling to mind the various lessons which her mother had taught her. Her parents and brothers and sisters often came into her room and spoke kindly to her, and the latter told her of their plays and amusements when she got well. One night, shortly before she died, her mother came quietly into her room and stood by her bedside looking down upon her little pale face, moisture falling fast and she sobbing out the words which only a mother's heart could utter. She said, "Oh, my little darling, how can I lose you; oh, God, will thou not spare me my child a little longer?" But the child looked up soon bright and said, "Mother, do not grieve for me. Your loss will be my gain. I shall go and be in the arms of my loving Saviour, who loves me so that He gave His life for me, and there I will be sick no more, and I will, with the holy angels, be singing day and night: the praises of my Lord. And when you die, mother, we will all be standing, robed in white, upon the other shore waiting for your crossing, and then we

WILL PART NO MORE FOREVER.

And tell father and poor little brothers and sisters to be sure to come also. They will know me and I will remember them, and we and the angels and Jesus, our Saviour, will all be together, and we will all appear before our Heavenly Father who will say enter them in and be eternally happy. So don't grieve for me mother, for I am happier than words can express. Just before you came in I was sleeping and I dreamt that I saw afar off a bright, beautiful light such as I had never seen before. It seemed to come nearer and nearer, and I thought I saw a hand beckoning to me as if to come. And the light went out and I awoke feeling, oh, so happy, and I knew that that light was from Heaven, and that Jesus was waiting for me and beckoning for me to come. And mother dear, I feel as if before another sun rises I shall be in Heaven, in that beautiful city where all is joy, and peace, and happiness, and where no sorrow ever comes. Kiss me now, mother, for the last time on earth, and when let me lie and think of the great change which is now so near. When I awake again it will be in the other world." Such is faith and such is trust in the blessed Redeemer. Some persons think that faith is a mere motion of the mind, to be put on and off at pleasure. Some think mere patience is faith. And some think that they possess faith when they have none at all. If they are asked to define faith they could not do it. Yet they imagine they can go to the Lord when it suits their pleasure to do so, and ask for and obtain all they want. I will show them their mistake, and I will show them by example what faith really is. A little boy was once lost in the wood. The night came on dark and dreary, and, tired of his wanderings, he lay down under a tree for rest. Before he did so he knelt down and said in his simple, childish way, "O God take care of little Johnny," and he then laid down and went to sleep. After a long search he was found, and when asked if he was not afraid, he said, no, for he said he asked God to take care of him and he knew he would do so. And when asked if he saw any wild beast during the night he said that a great big black thing came up to him and smelt him all over and then went away. This was trusting in the Lord and the Lord took care of little Johnny. And this was faith. A family residing on the coast of Africa lost their little girl. She had wandered away, and at night, exhausted and tired, she laid herself down upon the ground and went to sleep. Before she did so she

ASKED THE LORD TO TAKE CARE OF HER,

and she said she then was not afraid. During her sleep a lion came and laid down by her side and in the morning got up and went away. When found early the next morning the place where the lion had laid was plainly seen. And the child told how he had kept her warm with his long shaggy hair. When she put out her hand he licked it and she, too, was not afraid. This was another instance of faith and God heard her prayer and knew that it was childlike and true and He watched over and protected her. One more instance and I have done. Away off on the western prairie lived a man and wife and one little girl. One night, just at dusk, the child could not be found. It was lost on the boundless prairie and might never be found again. The search by the parents and neighbours was long, but of no avail. The child was surely gone. At last the father told how the child had a little favorite dog, and he said perhaps he might find her. The little dog was brought and put upon the ground and was told to go and find Mary, that she was lost. He looked up inquiringly and intelligently into the father's face and then bounded away, making long circuits as he did so. The searchers followed him, and after some time they saw the dog put his nose to the ground and wag his tail and he started off as fast as he could run, whining and barking as he went along. The people followed after on a run and after a little while they saw the little dog stop and heard him give one loud bark of joy. The people were not long reaching the spot, the mother getting there first, and the little child was saved. It had wandered on until it reached the bank of a river, and there, tired and hungry, it had laid itself down and went to sleep. It heard the bark of her little dog and knew that help was near. She told her mother how she had not forgotten to say her little prayer and that she was not afraid, for she knew God would take care of her. Now, if the faith cure disciples would each follow the examples of these little children and would go to God with the same faith and without the help of any one else, how different would be the result. For their hearts would be at peace and when death came they would be ready, for they would feel that the Lord was at their side, and then death would only be but a happy change from this life to the heavenly home above.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites

Is sold all over the world. It is far superior to plain Cod Liver Oil, palatable and easily digested. Dr. Martin Miles Stanton, Bary Bucks, England, says: "I have prescribed Scott's Emulsion, and taken it myself. It is palatable, efficent, and can be tolerated by almost anyone, especially where cod liver oil itself cannot be borne. Sold by all Druggists, 20c. and $1.00. w45eod

An Awful Sore Limb

Skin Entirely Gone. Flesh a mass of disease. Leg Diminished one third in size. Condition hopeless. Cured by Cuticura Remedies in two months.

Cured by Cuticura.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It diminished about one third the size of the other and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your Cuticura Remedies, and the result was as follows:—After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to day, and for nearly two years past my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen. S. G. AHERN, Dubois, Dodge Co., Ga.

Skin Disease 17 years.

I have been troubled with a skin and scalp disease for seventeen years. My head at times was one running sore, and my body was covered with them as large as a half dollar. I tried a great many remedies without effect until I used the Cuticura Remedies, and am thankful to state that after two months of their use I am entirely cured. I feel it my duty to you and the public to make the above case.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It subdues inflammation and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; cleanses the system and purifies the bloody humors. Used persistently it gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not the first day. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and Diseases of the Lungs, Allen's Lung Balsam is the Great Western Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25 cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a cheap and low-priced Cough Cure. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25 cent bottle to test it.

A BANDIT'S TRIAL.

The Evidence Against Michigan's Black Bart—A Peculiar Defence.

BAY CITY, Mich., Nov. 15.—In the trial of Reimund Holzhay, the Gogebic bandit, accused of the murder of A. G. Fleischbeint Aug. 26 last, the prosecution has rested. The prosecution has proved its allegations of Holzhay having stopped the Gogebic stage, presented his pistols and compelled the driver and passengers to throw up their hands as he wished to "make a little collection." The hands went up but one of the passengers named McKercher opened fire on the bandit, the horses started up and as Holzhay returned it Fleischbein fell mortally wounded, while McKercher was also wounded in two places. As Fleischbein was struck the evidence shows he fell from the stage and before the driver could get the frightened team back to the scene the robber had "gone through" the dying man's pockets. The booty he obtained was found on Holzhay when he was arrested subsequently at Republic. His partial admissions of the facts of the case made after his arrest were also brought into evidence.

Holzhay maintains an air of unconcern. He comes into court heavily ironed. The irons are then taken off and Sheriff Foley sits facing him eyeing every movement within an instant's reach of him. One of the spectators in court is the handsome widow of Mr. Fleischbein. She appears dressed in deep mourning and was strongly affected as the details of her husband's death were told in the evidence.

Holzhay's testimony in his own behalf was put in yesterday. It was brief and of a nature to bring a smile to the face of every man in the courtroom. The defendant testified that in consequence of injuries received by a fall from a horse he had been for over two years subject to periodical fits of uncontrollable mania which impelled him to do desperate deeds. He professed to have only a confused dreamlike recollection of the deed for which he is on trial. When these "spells" came upon him it was his custom to take to the woods lest he might injure somebody in his insane desperation.

TEN LEAGUE CLUBS.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati Join—The American Association Presidency.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Brooklyn and Cincinnati clubs of the American Association have joined the National League. That makes ten clubs in the league for 1890. The league is still in secret session. Considerable excitement prevails over this action of the above clubs.

Tom Burns has signed with the Brooklyn Baseball Club for 1890.

The American Association of Baseball Clubs yesterday took three more ballots for president but without result.

The National League delegates resumed consideration of the constitution. The important subjects under consideration are the classification system and the matter of percentages between cities. It was finally decided to give the visiting club 40 per cent.

McCaffrey's Challenge.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—John L. Sullivan has decided not to pay any attention to the challenge and letters issued by Dominick McCaffrey. "He is only looking for notoriety," said John "and trying to give people the impression that he is one of the greatest pugilists in the world, when he is only a second-rate fighter. Let him put up some stuff and then I'll talk business. If Jackson fights Kilrain first then the club will not get me to meet him. I want the first chance and a good purse." Sullivan intends to go to New York within ten days to see how his case in Mississippi stands.

Farrell Wants to Fight LaBlanche.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A prominent sporting man of Pittsburg has posted a forfeit of $250 here for Pat J. Farrell, the Pittsburg pugilist, to fight LaBlanche for $1000 a side and any reasonable purse that may be offered by some responsible club. Pittsburgers are prepared to back Farrell for any amount.

THEIR LIVES THE PENALTY.

Carelessness in the Use of Powder Results in a Terrible Explosion.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 15.—News has been received here of an accident on the construction branch of the Northern Pacific, 15 miles east of here in Jefferson County, Tuesday night. The men employed at Tewey's contract were in the cut blasting rock. A blast of giant powder was fired but failed to have the desired effect. It being close to quitting time and the men anxious to complete the blast before they quit they poured in black powder. Some sparks from the giant powder blast must have remained in the hole for instantly an explosion followed. Con Sullivan the foreman, John Dell, A. Finn, A. W. Larson, T. O'Leary and Ham Ross were killed and two others had their eyes blown out. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental death, the men [illegible]

Again at Washington—Beneficial Effects of the Excursion.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Just forty-two days after the morning of Oct. 3, when the special train bearing the international American excursion party pulled out of the Pennsylvania railroad station here, the same train, headed by the locomotive which had drawn it nearly 6000 miles rolled into Washington having successfully completed the most extensive trip undertaken by one train. One of the United States delegates says the effect of the excursion upon the people of the country has been most beneficial and as a consequence of their association and exchange of ideas with the delegates many merchants and business men in different towns and cities have had their attention seriously directed to the vast commercial possibilities of the nations lying south of the United States, while the people generally were awakened to the fact that we should feel the deepest interest in the welfare and prosperity of the sister republics. The excursionists came here from Philadelphia yesterday via Harrisburg.

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

Teachers' Convention at Norwood.

The Second Day's Successful Proceedings.

(Special Correspondence of the Examiner.)

FRIDAY, NOV. 15.—An entertainment was given Thursday evening by the teachers in the town hall. Miss Agnes Knox, who has gained considerable fame through Canada as an elocutionist, had been engaged by the committee in charge of this part of the programme. The attendance was very good the hall being comfortably filled, a large proportion being teachers. Miss Knox pleased the audience immensely, encores being frequent and each one being responded to. Two selections of music were given to make variety in the entertainment. Mr. W. H. Rorborough, chairman of the school board occupied the chair. The committee, Messrs. J. R. Peak and W. Rutherford, and Misses L. Scott and L. Lewis, deserve the highest commendation in providing such an intellectual treat for the teachers and residents of Norwood. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Miss Knox at the close of the programme.

FRIDAY FORENOON.

The Convention began this morning at 9.30 and the room was even more crowded, there being fully a hundred present, some attending from the adjoining county of Hastings. After roll-call by the chairman, Mr. W. Mackintosh commenced the subject "Mistakes of Young Teachers." This change of programme was made as Mr. Mackintosh wished to take the noon train east, Mr. Knight holding over his subject for a later hour.

MR. MACKINTOSH, in commencing, gave a short description of the method of holding uniform promotion examinations in his inspectorate. This was particularly interesting, as a similar examination has just been introduced into the schools of this county. The speaker said he could bear the highest testimony in favour of these examinations when properly conducted. He would not tolerate the idea of making them competitive, as the pupils of many of the very best schools might do very poorly compared with others, while the teacher was doing really good work. If it could be carried out, he would prefer to have teachers exchange schools during the time of examination, but in his county he found this could not be successfully carried out. The examination of the papers by committees was the more preferable way, he thought, but it was difficult to get committees together to do this work. The only other way was to allow the teachers to examine their own papers and report the result to the inspector, sending the examined papers along with the report. Mr. Mackintosh then addressed himself to the subject proper and gave from his own experience many of the mistakes which are made by young teachers. His address was very interesting and practical, and when he sat down he received deserved applause.

The next subject taken up was "Local Geography," by Mr. J. C. BROWN. This is one of the subjects which Mr. Brown lays great stress upon, and it certainly deserves a large amount of attention if teachers would teach it along the lines laid down by Mr. Brown. It is an important subject for two reasons, first, because of the fund of knowledge it gave to the pupils, and, secondly, because it the whole subject. He would commence as near the school as possible—in the school yard and then extend to adjoining fields and township. Under this head the names of the different natural products should be taught to children. He thought it a disgrace that boys and girls could not give the names of the most common varities of fruit and in many other matters they displayed the same want of practical education. There is no doubt but Mr. Brown's address will have the effect of stimulating teachers to greater effort in the teaching of this subject.

Mr. Brown was followed by Mr. J. H. Knight, Inspector of East Victoria, on the subject of "music with regard to its relation to reading." Mr. Knight is a man of wide educational experience and a man thoroughly abreast of the times in everything relating to his profession. He is a great lover of music and has given it a large amount of careful study. His essay to the teachers was practical and contained a great many suggestions as to the teaching of this important art. This was the last subject before dinner.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The only subject in the afternoon was "Entrance Grammar" by Mr. Knight. Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle, Principal of the Separate School, Peterborough, and Mr. J. Stirling, Principal of one of the ward schools, were on the programme for subjects, but from some cause or other, did not put in an appearance. Mr. Knight being an examiner for a number of years in his own county, of the subject of Entrance Grammar, he outlined a great many of the mistakes which pupils make in answering questions on the subject. These mistakes were caused chiefly by defective teaching. Teachers present got a good many points on the proper method to be adopted in the presentation of grammar to an entrance class. When this subject was ended a discussion took place on uniform promotion examinations, and on a diversity of other subjects in which a great many teachers joined.

VOTES OF THANKS.

At the close votes of thanks were tendered the visiting inspectors from Victoria and Hastings, for their presence, and for the active part they took in the whole proceedings; to Mr. A. Hutchinson, Principal of the Norwood Model School, who has been confined to his room for the past six weeks and who will not be able to resume his duties this year a resolution of condolence sympathizing with him in his affliction. And a vote of thanks to the Secretary Mr. J. J. Rooney for his untiring efforts on behalf of the interests of the Convention.

This brought to an end a very successful gathering, and one that will surely bear good fruit, for no teacher could have attended without being very, materially benefitted.

NOTES.

The mercury took a very sudden drop last night here, and many were the complaints this morning that the blankets were too light.

The Rev. John Clarke and wife were the only representatives of the clerical profession in attendance.

Messrs. A. E. Scott and J. Smith, of Peterborough, came down on the evening train to attend the entertainment, so they say, although a great many of their more intimate acquaintances say they had other and very much stronger attractions.

Mr. H. Hough, M.A., manager of the Educational Journal, Toronto, was in attendance through the whole convention in the interests of his paper.

Along with the teachers came the insurance agents. Mr. A. E. Scott, representing the "Light of the World" Insurance Company, and Mr. T. H. Gibbs, representing the "Whole of this Continent" Insurance Company.

The high school teachers dismissed their pupils at noon and attended the Convention in a body in the afternoon.

There were a couple hundred people at the station to see friends off this evening, and many were the sorrowful partings. If many school corporations find themselves without teachers next year they may look to the young men of Norwood for redress of their grievances.

"Doc." Storey and his concert company gave a very entertaining concert in the station previous to the departure of the train.

To the Public.

Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called cheap cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cabia," "El Padre" "Mango," and "Madre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most skeptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. m

Onslaught on Slaughter Houses.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—By your kind permission I will draw attention through your valuable columns, to an existing and prospectively increasing nuisance in the south end of our town.

The effect, of this wholesale erection of slaughter houses, upon the citizens in their vicinity is apparent. For instance, when the warm weather of next summer arrives and the atmosphere within the house is stifling, how pleasant it will be to sit outside enjoying the fresh air of a summer's evening, intermingled with the foul-smelling odors that inevitably must emerge from five slaughter houses in full operation! How beneficial their influence will prove to humanity! How eagerly untenanted houses will be sought after, available property purchased, and how the value of land will increase in the vicinity of Romaine street!

For a number of years the residents of the south easterly portion of Romaine street, have been annoyed by the presence of two slaughter houses in their immediate neighborhood, the nauseous odors from which, at times, are far from pleasant and conducive to illhealth. No complaint has been made of this nuisance up to the present, in consequence of which a third slaughter house has recently been erected, and, encouraged by the success of their predecessors' unmolested enterprise, two other butchers contemplate the erection of two additional houses of a similar nature in close proximity to the other three, which will number five of such buildings within a radius of 300 to 400 yards, the nuisance from which my neighbors and I will receive the full benefit of.

Now it would not be policy for me to complain of the two first slaughter houses, as they were in their present position at the time I purchased my property; but I think two are ample in one section of the municipality, and when another is added and the erection of two others in contemplation, it is high time the health authorities took some steps in the matter. Last summer the foul smells in my neighbourhood were bad enough and we were occasionally driven indoors on a pleasant summer's evening, and forced to close down all the windows, in order to avoid the baneful influence of two slaughter houses. But how will it be next summer, should this wholesale erection of slaughter houses be permitted? We shall never be free from their contaminating influence, and, as a consequence, sickness will increase; and should one wish to dispose of his lot and remove to a healthier portion of town, he will probably be forced to do so at a loss, for these slaughter houses will certainly not tend to increase the value of property in their vicinity.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I would like to add, that should this wholesale erection of slaughter houses be permitted, enterprising butchers will find a few more available lots in the vicinity of Romaine street. Therefore, let them come along and follow the example of their predecessors, and shortly we may be able to conscientiously honour the south-eastern portion of our municipality with the noble appellation of "Slaughter House Town."

Hoping this will meet the eye of the health authorities, and that they may take action in this matter, and thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your space, I remain,

Very Respectfully Yours,
J. MITCHELL.

The Idlers and Loafers.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

There is a public nuisance in this town, which the town council has power to remove and which I have no doubt, they will remove as soon as their attention is called to it. Every night in the week and especially on Saturday and Sunday nights, a gang of idle loafers congregate in every hallway on George street and in front of every store door. This a most intolerable annoyance to storekeepers and to all who have offices on the second floor or who have their homes there. No lady would attempt to make her way through a crowd of noisy, jeering, tobacco-chewing ruffians such as congregate in these places. Such an outrage would not be tolerated in any well regulated town or city. Our councillors will simply do their duty if they will pass a by-law to fine or imprison every idler who is found obstructing hallways or store doors.

REVOLTING TRAGEDY IN THE WEST END OF THE QUEEN CITY.

A Woman Slain by Her Husband - Her Head and Hands Smashed to a Jelly—The Murderer Arrested.

TORONTO, Nov. 18.—A murder of unparalleled atrocity took place in a little one-story roughcast house in Defoe-street in the West End Saturday night. The victim was Mrs. Mary Kane, and the murderer was her husband, Edward Kane, a plasterer.

They had been drinking together and the end of it was that the husband committed a crime most revolting and bloody. In brief, the facts are these:—Kane kicked and beat his wife to death on Saturday night, and then laid down on a lounge beside the dead body and slept away his debauch, waking up on Sunday to discover the terrible import of his deed. Then he spent the day in a drinking bout, and chancing in his cups to say that his wife was dead, investigation was made with the result of discovering the fiend. Kane, meanwhile, had taken the alarm and fled.

The crime was not discovered by the police of the Parkdale division until 6.30 last evening and at 11.05, or nearly five hours afterwards, the murderer was arrested in an advanced state of intoxication in Chestnut-street, near Louisa.

About 6.30 p.m. Kane reported to two of his neighbors that his wife was dead. One of them was Mrs. Samuel Gray, who lives in a lane in rear of No. 37 Stafford street, not far from the scene of the murder, and the other Robert Sterling. The last named went into Kane's house at once and beheld a terrible sight. The house is made up of four small rooms, all scantily furnished and all about the same size, two in front and two behind. The rear two are used as a kitchen and a bedroom. Inside the kitchen and immediately behind the door leading from the front room lay stretched the body of the murdered woman. The features presented a horrible spectacle and blood was spattered all over the doors and walls. The woman was lying flat on her back, with all her clothes on, and her head rested in an ordinary house bread-pan. On the back of the head was a terrible wound five inches long, penetrating to the skull but not fracturing it. The face, arms and hands were black and blue, the fingers being crushed to a jelly.

A hammer and a smoothing iron were found in the kitchen, and there was blood on both of them. The cut in the back of the head was evidently inflicted with the small end of the smoothing iron. The bed in the room adjoining the kitchen was all disordered and the floor was covered with blood, which had evidently been mopped over.

The first thing that Sterling said, was: "This is a nice thing you have done!"

Kane replied: "Shows what whisky will do!"

Even beneath the deeply contused features of the victim there were evidences if not of beauty then of feminine fairness. Her ample growth of long black hair was clotted with blood from a gaping wound on the back of the head. The breadpan under the bed was full of blood, and everything seemed to be spattered with it. It was on the floor under the bed, on the walls, on the doors, on the stove, on the kitchen utensils. There had evidently been an effort made to clean the place up, and the body was no doubt placed where it was found in the kitchen by the murderer with the pan under the head.

THE ALTON FLOOD.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury—Subscriptions to the Relief Fund.

ALTON, Nov. 18.—An inquest was held here by Coroner McFayden of Caledon and this verdict was returned:

"We find that on the morning of Nov. 13 one of the centre posts in the water weir of McClellan's dam gave way, resulting in the destruction of three dams, causing a flood wherein John Harris and his wife Ellen Harris came to their death by drowning, and we recommend that an inspector be appointed by the proper authorities to guard against the loss of life and destruction of property in future."

These subscriptions have been received: R. S. White, M. P. $25; Wm. H. Hunter, reeve of Garafraxa, $50, to be refunded to him if the municipality be held responsible for the disaster; R. Shepherd, Orangeville, $5; W. R. Willoughby, Toronto $5.

Wm. Algie has a large force of men at work cleaning away the wreck and rebuilding his dam. It is stated that he has taken action against the municipality to recover damages to his property to the amount of $4000 on the grounds that the structure which gave way is on the public highway.

R. Ward will commence to rebuild his dam this morning. A. Dick and R. Meek are also going on with the work of repair.

A NOVA SCOTIA FIRE.

Oxford in Cumberland County Has a $50 000 Sunday Blaze.

HALIFAX, Nov. 18.—A fire at Oxford yesterday morning destroyed the Oxford Furniture Factory and warerooms, with all the lumber and furniture, together with J. H. Treen's house and barn. The fire originated in the factory paint shop. The loss will be $60,000, with little if any insurance. Fifty men and boys are thrown out of work and it is the greatest calamity that ever befel Oxford.

Were Any Crown Papers Burnt.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—A $75,000 fire occurred Saturday night in A. S. Trude's four-story brick building here. The losses other than Trude's are: Henry Schneier, paper box manufacturer, $20,000, R. W. Sweet & Co. and George F Tuckett & Co., tobacco dealers, each $10,000.

The Generous Australians.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The dock strikers' accounts have just been audited. The receipts amounted to £48,000 of which £31,000 came from Australia. The unions of Great Britain contributed only £4000. The balance, £5000, will be disposed of in accordance with the opinions of the donors.

Alleged Timber Depredations.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 18.—A Pembina despatch says: A customs station has been established on the south shore of Lake of the Woods near the mouth of Rainy Lake River. The deputy collector will have his hands full. It is stated that Canadian saw mills at Keewatin have been for several years past engaged in manufacturing lumber from logs cut in Minnesota and rafted across the lake to Canadian territory.

The Governor-General and party reached Winnipeg Friday afternoon, and thence proceeded toward Ottawa.

The newly-received Dominion voters' list for Ottawa city will contain 9100 names, against 8200 upon the list prepared in 1888.

It is understood that the Marine Department intend making a careful investigation into the cause of the recent accident to H.M.S. Amphion, while the Governor-General and party were on board.

Two children of Charles Britton, of Newcastle, a boy of five and a girl of three, on Thursday, the 7th inst., ate rat poison, from the effects of which the little girl died last Saturday. The boy lingered until Friday, when he, too, died.

REPUBLICAN BRAZIL.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT ISSUES A MANIFESTO.

The Monarchy Abolished—A Cabinet Organized With De Fonseca at the Head—The Populace Dazed.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A Brazilian Cabinet has been organized as follows:

President, without portfolio—Dodoro Da Fonseca.

Minister of the Interior—Aristide Lobo.

Minister of Foreign Affairs—Equintino Bocayura.

Minister of Finance—Doctor Barboza.

Minister of Justice—Campos Salles.

Minister of War—Benjamin Constant.

Minister of Marine—Admiral Vandenholtz.

Minister of Agriculture—Demitris Ribero.

Senhor Bocayura is a journalist. Senhor Barboza was a member of the Chamber of Deputies. Senhor Constant is a journalist and a professor in the Polytechnic School. General Da Fonseca held command of the province of Minas Geraes. He was recently punished for insubordination.

The Chamber of Deputies has dissolved and the Council of State has been abolished. Public opinion appears to be in favor of a peaceful trial of the new form of government. Everything is quiet.

Dom Pedro to be Well Treated.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The new Brazilian Government has issued a manifesto announcing that the monarchy has been abolished. Various provinces have sent assurances of support to the new regime. The former Prime Minister has been arrested. The Emperor will be treated with the greatest consideration.

Everybody here is anxiously waiting the arrival of a reliable and comprehensive account of the revolution and eagerly discussing the meagre reports received meanwhile. General sympathy with Dom Pedro is expressed, but nobody believes his restoration to the throne possible. Although not a wealthy man, as compared with many of the rulers and ex-sovereigns of Europe, he has a fortune sufficient to enable him to pass the remainder of his days in comfort on the Continent, and his early departure from Rio de Janeiro is looked for. Financial confidence in Brazilian securities seems not to have been much shaken by the turn taken by affairs in the South American Empire and the falling off of prices was much less than might have been expected.

By Way of Para.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 18.—The latest advices from Rio Janeiro, dated Nov. 16, 9.35 p.m., are that the Province of Bahia is opposed to the revolution. Viscount Ouro Preto ex-Minister of the Interior, and Senhor Mayunck, a banker, have been arrested. The Emperor is looked on with suspicion. The provisional government have abolished the monarchy. The revolutionary commission addressed a message to the Emperor telling him to leave the country in 24 hours. The Emperor acknowledged this and leaves by the packet Alagoas accompanied by the ironclad Riachvel. The Brazilian Republic will give the Emperor a certain amount of money to live in Europe. The revolutionary commission has been sworn in before the chamber of the municipality. The Republic is a certainty and great enthusiasm prevails.

Don Pedro Quits.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A despatch from Rio Janeiro says: Don Pedro has departed from Brazil. He sailed direct to Libon. Before his departure he was formally notified of his deposition. At the same time he was informed that the civil list would be continued. The Province of Bahia opposes the republic, but most of the other provinces have signified their adherence to the new regime.

Dr. Barboza, the new Minister of Finance, announces that all contracts entered into by the Imperial Government will be maintained.

News by Way of Lisbon.

LISBON, Nov. 18.—The newspaper Commercio Portuguese has received the following:

"RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 16. 4.50 P.M.—Senhor Constant, Senhor Bocayura, and General Da Fonseca virtually constitute the Governments. General Da Fonseca is the actual leader. Troops have started to capture the Emperor and his family. The populace is dazed. Hopes are entertained that enough troops will remain loyal to overcome the rebels."

Causes a Jump in Coffee.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. -The coffee market here will be particularly affected by the outbreak, as there is at present only a two months' supply of that article on hand. To-day coffee advanced from 15 to 40 points.

Portugal May Follow.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 18.—The Independence Belge has a despatch from Lisbon saying: "The overthrow of the Brazilian monarchy is regarded as definitive. The Portuguese people sympathize with the Brazilians. Similar events are possible in Portugal."

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

Windup of the Congress at Montgomery—The Search for a National Flower.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 15.—The National Farmers' Congress adjourned to-day and the delegates left this evening for New Orleans. The new officers are: President, R. F. Kolb, Alabama; Vice-President, A. W. Smith, Kansas; Secretary, B. F. Clayton, Iowa; Treasurer, Wm. Lawrence, Ohio. Vice Presidents were elected from each state. The congress decided to hold its next meeting in Iowa, the place to be hereafter designated.

A petition to the National Florall Congress at Athens, Ala., relative to the selection of a national flower was presented. A resolution that the chair appoint a committee of one from each state to suggest a means of selecting a national flower, the committee to report at the next meeting, was adopted.

The resolution to remove the tax on tobacco came up and the adverse report of the committee was concurred in. The resolution declaring that the Government does not need the money raised by internal revenue taxation and that this congress favors the repeal of the internal revenue laws and that taxes raised from whiskey and tobacco be relegated to the different states to relieve them of local taxation, was also taken up and the adverse report was concurred in. The resolution that the Grange Alliance and all agricultural organizations should combine to secure legislation deemed necessary for the benefit of those organizations was adopted.

Resolutions asking Congress to establish deep water harbors on the gulf coast for the purpose of facilitating the growth of trade between this country and South and Central America was adopted. A resolution from Colorado asking Congress to select Chicago as the location for the world's fair was adopted, 261 to 63. A resolution requesting the dept of agriculture to ascertain the cause of swine plague and to recommend remedies was adopted.

THE NEWS IN LONDON.

SOCIAL QUESTIONS ABSORBING PUBLIC INTEREST.

The Great Army of Socialists Marching on—The Tradesmen of the Metropolis Joining the Movement.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The number of socialistic questions which are coming to the front increases weekly, and quickly these new movements are making a deeper impression on politicians. Undoubtedly they threaten to override mere politics, perhaps even to take precedence over Home Rule itself. Tories seem to believe that Home Rule is half-shelved already, or, as their organ says, that Home Rule, although it still figures as an article of faith with Gladstonians, has been quietly removed from the top of the list, while for electioneering purposes social question are to be pushed. Mr. Schnadhorst is ill and depressed. He is declared to be convinced that Home Rule is not a winning cry. Mr. Gladstone remains nominally the leader of his party, but his influence is diminishing as that of Socialistic Radicals increases. He still believes that Home Rule holds the field; they do not. Mr. Labouchere, Mr. Jacoby, Professor Stewart, Mr. John Burns, these are men who have got hold of the reins, and Sir William Harcourt and other so-called leaders are climbing on the box. The Socialists who heckled Mr. Morley at Newcastle are but one division of this great army, which is marching on.

Hitherto it has been thought to consist of the working classes, of the masses; in fact that it was a new form of the old contest between the haves and the have-nots. Today the middle classes are joining in. The tradesmen in London, whose conservatism was supposed to be above proof, are combining against the landlords; or some of them are. Their noisiest leader, Mr. Hayssman, is a Gladstonian Parliamentary candidate for one of the divisions of London. They met on Thursday and crowded St. James' Hall. Their speeches are full of rank Socialism. The Irish lesson has been but too well learnt. Landlords are fair game. They are no longer to be allowed in London any more than in Ireland to fix rents or to manage their own property, or to choose whom they will for tenants, or to profit by the increase in value of their houses. Tradesmen are to pay only what they consider fair rent, and never to give up their shops unless they like. Economic laws are to disappear. Supply and demand are no longer to govern the market. Combination is to be the means of coercion, and the gospel of selfishness is to supersede both Sir Adam Smith and the Sermon on the Mount. There has been, on the whole, no spectacle more comic than that of a body of rapacious pushing, thriving tradesmen of London posing as victims of landlords. Nor do the real Socialists welcome their new allies. Mr. Hayssman is told that he is not wanted, that his grievances are not genuine, and that his movement is one that tends to bring Socialism into contempt.

The Liberal program, said Lord Rosebery at Bristol on Wednesday, is not yet complete for the next election. But he gave a list of subjects from which it would be made up. The list includes land reform, which may or may not mean land nationalization in some shape; the liquor traffic; disestablishment of the Church in both Scotland and Wales; and drastic reform of the House of Lords. Besides these is a group of questions which Lord Rosebery calls workmen's questions. He does not define them otherwise than as the questions to which Mr. Graham eloquently alluded. "I entirely agree," added Lord Rosebery, "with what Mr. Graham said about them." This makes Mr. Graham interesting; but the London papers give not a line of him. I discover, though with difficulty, that Mr. Graham is not Mr. Cunninghame Graham, but the Rev. J. R. Graham, an estimable person, no doubt, but unknown.

While Lord Rosebery was developing this program at Bristol, a meeting of London Liberal members of Parliament and candidates was held at the National Liberal Club, under the presidency of Professor Stuart. Resolutions were passed unanimously in favor of municipal control of the police, water, light, tramways, markets and all other powers possessed by any municipality whatever; demanding the abolition of all exceptional privileges of the Corporation of London, and proclaiming that the conditions of the people should be improved, that the taxation of one class should be relieved and the taxation of another class—notably the owners of ground rents—increased, and that the working-classes ought to have their tea and coffee free of duty. All this and something more was sanctioned by the Council of the London Liberal and radical Union the next night. They ran up the eight-hours flag for Government employes, inscribed also with the standard rate of wages, and unrestricted right of combination, heretofore denied to postoffice and other public servants. "It was," cries one of the Socialist sheets, "an earthquake-night."

The London Club Scandal.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A London special to The Mail and Express says: Lord Salisbury has advised Mr. Matthews, the Home Secretary, to proceed to the fullest investigation of the abominable accusations which have been made against titled members of a private club in Cavendish-street. An English clergyman who holds a high position, has been arrested on the evidence of postal boys.

The Brethren Were There.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The wife of Major Sanderson, North Armagh, on Saturday unveiled a statue of William III. at Belfast. The ceremonies were attended by 30,000 Orangemen.

Only 17 Votes Against Floquet.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Floquet was elected president of the Chamber of Deputies. He received 383 votes out of 400 recorded.

A Colored Fiend.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 18.—While a party of whites were passing along the road near Smithville they heard screams issuing from the adjacent woods. Approaching they saw a negro man in the act of hanging a naked negro woman. He had a rope around her neck and was drawing her up to the limb. The negro fled and the woman said Richard Henderson, her husband, had a lock of his paramour's hair which she had found and burned. This enraged him. He first beat her, then took her to the woods, stripped her and whipped her with switches till she was a mass of raw flesh and was then about to hang her. Richard was caught and jailed.

A Pretty Toy for the Count.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 18.—The Sultan has conferred the first class decoration of the Order of the Medjidie on Count von Radowitz, the German ambassador to Turkey. The star is set with brilliants.

A Life Sentence.

BESSEMER, Mich., Nov. 18.—The Holzhay case was completed at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The jury went out at 9.30 and returned at 10.15 with a verdict of guilty. Holzhay was then sentenced for life at hard labor. The prisoner broke down and seemed dazed when the foreman of the jury announced the verdict.

CANADIANS Work Too Hard!

The Result is Sleeplessness, Nervousness and a Broken-Down System, often

Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, wearied brainworkers industrious mechanics, and tried women, in all parts of the Dominion are to-day in a terrible position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep, work or live in comfort. This is what fills our Insane Asylums. This is the cause of that terrible Pessmis Before it is too late, use Dr. Phelps' wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound. It removes the results of overwork, restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the whole system, and tones up the overworked brain and body. Do not despair, but use this wonderful remedy, and be restored to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. John L. Brodie, of Montreal, who writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound. My system was run down and I was not fit for business, could not sleep well at night and was nervous. I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound and improved immediately. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of excitement without bad effect."

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. John S. Borland.

Ann Richmond, wife of Jno. S. Borland of the township of Otonabee, Peterborough Co. Ont., was born Jan. 20th, 1824, in the parish of Sorn Ayrshire, Scotland, and exchanged mortality for life Oct. 27th, 1889. The subject of this sketch was a woman of pure Christian character; her life was one of high moral perceptions, as well as of keen sensitiveness in the way of heavenly truth. Her deep religious convictions, her earnest search after the truth as it is in Jesus, began when she was in her 'teens. She was brought up in the Kirk of Scotland, her father being an elder in that communion. She was greatly helped in her early religious career, by one of the followers of Dr. Morrison, which led her to become associated with the "Morrisonians" in church fellowship. Before she was twenty years of age, she enjoyed the delightful experience of God's forgiving love. From that time till her departure she had a clear and well defined religious experience. On the 6th day of May 1851 she was united in marriage to her now lonely husband. Three days later they sailed for Canada, and came to the township of Otonabee in which she died. For over twenty years in this country her church fellowship was with the Presbyterians. But in 1873 she, with her husband, became a member of the Methodist church, remaining so until transferred to the church above. Our sister was daily a student of the Bible, a lover of the Sabbath, and guarded its privileges sacredly. Her grip of practical truth was strong, clearly defined and firmly held. She sought, found and enjoyed heart purity. Her Christian character was unique, being intelligent, loving and pure, a light to her home, a blessing to all hearts. Her family are all walking in wisdom's ways, for this she was grateful to God. God's word was precious to her, and many were the selections she had underlined. One, which was exceedingly precious during the latter part of her six years' confinement to her home was Isa. 43, 2-3—"When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers they shall not overflow thee; when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee, for I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour. Our sister was fond of religious poetry. Several selections were pasted on the fly leaves of her Testament, one of which I quote as expressive of the thoughts and desires of her heart, hoping also that it may cheer some one else in life's weary way. It is entitled:

THE END OF THE WAY.

"My life is a wearisome journey,
I'm sick with its dust and the heat,
The rays of the sun beat upon me,
The briers are wounding my feet;
But the city to which I am journeying,
Will more than my trials repay,
All the toils of the road will be nothing,
When I get to the end of the way.

There are so many hills to climb upward,
I often am longing for rest;
But He who appoints me my path way,
Knows just what is needful and best,
I know in His word He has promised
That my strength shall be as my day,
And the toils of the road will seem nothing
When we get to the end of the way.

When the last feeble step has been taken
And the gates of the city appear,
And the beautiful songs of the angels
Float out on my listening ear;
When all that now seems so mysterious
Will be plain and clear as the day;
Yes, the toils of the road will seem nothing
When I get to the end of the way.

Though now I am footsore and weary,
I shall rest when I'm safely at home—
I know I'll receive a glad welcome,
For the Saviour himself has said, "Come";
So when I am weary in body
And sinking in spirit, I say,
"All the toils of the road will seem nothing
When I get to the end of the way."

Cooling fountains are there for the thirsty—
There are cordials for those who are faint—
There are robes that are whiter and purer
Than any that fancy can paint;
Then I'll try to press hopefully onward,
Thinking often through each weary day,
The toils of the road will be nothing
When I get to the end of the way.—[COM.

Springville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Merchants throughout the village report trade to have returned back to its former high standard.

Our popular horsemen, Messrs. Dundas & Grandy, have recently imported direct from Scotland another fine lot of Clydesdales, most of them fillies. This firm is noted for its superior skill in the selection of this important class of horses.

Farmers are almost through preparing for winter; nearly all are about through ploughing. A great area of old meadows have been ploughed up. Farmers are relying on the new seeding which is a fine catch.

Winter wheat owing to the dry autumn, is entering the winter having had a very poor growth, which makes the outlook for this cereal rather unpromising.

The potato crop has been excellent on dry land, some farmers having over two hundred bushels per acre. Mr. Fred Stenson, of North Monaghan, has from eight acres the enormous yield of sixty-one waggon loads of potatoes which will average twenty-five bushels per load; at market price this will give in return $62 50 per acre. Mr Stenson is one of the most practical and successful farmers in the county, having sold from his fifty acre farm one thousand dollars worth of produce in one year.

Springville Presbyterian church is contemplating having a tea and entertainment some about Christmas. No doubt it will be ahead of any held in the district as the material for arranging is par excellence.

The pest season made very great promise of a fine return to the farmer, owing to the abundant rain and early growth. All classes were sure of an excellent return, but to many it will be a much poorer season than any farmer has had for two seasons. Grain on low-laying land was drowned out, and what did come near maturing is poor in yield and quality, owing to the rust; and, to make bad worse, the price has not been so low for many years, for all kinds of produce. Farmers occupying low land have very poor prospects for a successful financial year, while, on the other hand, the farmer occupying dry, well drained land sloping to the south and east, has an excellent crop of all kinds of grain. We hear of twenty and thirty bushels of wheat per acre, and thirty and forty bushels of barley, while oats are away up in the sixties. Stock is in fine condition. Those ahead of neighbors to up extra full crop. Farmers having this class of farms, after having given good management, will have a fairly prosperous season, notwithstanding the low prices now ruling.

Mr. James Walters, of North Monaghan, has the enormous yield of eighty-seven bushels of American Wonder peas from two acres. After returning six bushels of seed, Mr. Walters has eighty-one bushels left, for which he receives two dollars per bushel. Who can say that farming does not pay?

Mr James Baptie is the most successful bee raiser; being engaged in the business but five years and, commencing with a few hives, has now seventy-five hives, extracting over two thousand pounds of honey this season.

Retail Furs.

The following is republished from the Canadian Journal of Commerce:—It is, of course, unnecessary to say that furs are dearer than last winter. In fact they are higher than ever before; the advance ranging from 10 per cent. up to as much as 40 per cent. in certain lines. In fact some of what were formerly our cheapest skins, such as the buffalo, can hardly be procured at all for love or money, and it becomes more evident, day by day, that fur will shortly be purely a rich man's luxury, and that the ordinary citizen will come to look upon it in time in the same light that he now does on jewellery. In furs, of course the fashion is set by London and Paris. Seal will, of course, be worn as much as ever; but the favorites will be mink and sable, and fur-lined coats these two are with musk-rat and genet, will rule exclusively.

Boas are in great demand, and will be worn with muffs to match. The latest expensive novelty in this line is the Mercedes; which may be described as a standing fur collar with two flat boa ends reaching almost to the ground. It is made in Alaska sable or seal, and lined with quilted silk; but its cost will confine its wear to the well to do classes. Seal jackets will run short this season, although a fair number of Newmarkets have already been ordered. But the fashionable styles are all very short; the Hussar, a tight-fitting jacket, and the Reefer, which is double-breasted and loose in front, being the two shapes most called for by the votaries of the fickle goddess.

For those ladies who require a large wrap, superbly handsome Russian Cloaks made in plush, satin, silk or cashmere and lined and bordered with fur, will prove most attractive. They are lined with Hudson Bay sable, squirrel and other furs, and at retail cost from $60 to $400; one particularly handsome crimson silk plush lined and trimmed with sable costing $380, while with sea otter at $310 per skin and silver fox at $150, one can easily imagine what a cloak lined with either of these furs would come to.

In sleigh robes, musk-ox at from $50 to $110, and bear at from $90 to $140, are the favorites; and wolf and other skins seem to be no longer in style. For driving coats coon and Australian bear are the principle staple, and both these furs are away up in value. For years past a steady appreciation in fur values has been taking place; but this year it is more marked than ever and fur is really becoming an absolute luxury.

In fur caps no settled fashion is reported; but mink and seal wedges bid fair to be as popular as ever. Most of the caps sold as yet have been mink wedges; but possibly styles may alter a little when once the season is fairly opened. Shoulder capes are as much asked for as ever, and in seal and astrakhan have sold well; but the feature of the season is certainly the great popularity of the boa, and this very becoming adjunct to the costume will evidently be worn more this winter than ever before.

The only guaranteed cure for all blood taints and humors, eruptions, pimples, blotches, scalp diseases and scorfolous sores and swellings, is Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. You get a cure or money paid for it promptly returned. s

To the Public.

Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called cheap cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cabie," "El Padre" "Mungo," and "Maitre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most skeptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. ms

THE STATE OF TRADE.

Bradstreet's Weekly Review of the Business of the Continent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's points to only a moderate degree of activity in general trade throughout the country. This is in part a seasonable condition, though unfavorable weather has had some influence. Holiday goods are selling freely. While iron maintains all previous features of strength special buoyant is noted at Cincinnati and St. Louis. Hogs and cattle are weak and lower. Arrivals of the former at interior points are heavy. The mild weather checks sales of coal and those of drygoods, boots and shoes at western centres have fallen off as well.

While the bears maintain their assaults on the trusts, easier money and the favorable railroad outlook tend to create improvement in the speculative position and action of the regular share list. Bonds are strong and activity is noted in many classes of railroad mortgages. Money at New York is steady at around 6 per cent. on call with considerable demand for time loans at the same figure.

Gross earnings of 140 railroads for October and for 10 months specially reported to Bradstreet's show for the month a gain of 12.2 per cent. over October, 1888, and for the 10 months an increase of 10.4 per cent. with an increase of 1.8 per cent. in aggregate mileage.

Prices of breadstuffs are all higher—wheat 1 3-8 to 1 3-4c, corn 1-4 to 5-8c and oats 1 to 1 1-4c. Freer speculative purchases of wheat and increased clearances last week served to stimulate wheat in the face of freer receipts at all points, large stocks on passage and weaker cables. Unfavorable weather affected receipts of corn and oats. Rye advanced in part on the export movement and word that German and Russian rye crop advices are unfavorable. The exports of wheat (and flour as wheat), both coasts, for six days ending yesterday, aggregate 2,591,530 bushels, against 2,131,334 in the previous week and 2,082,618 bushels in the like week last year. The total shipped abroad July 1 to date is 38,957,300 against 43,566,000 in a like portion of 1888 and 61,293,000 in 1887.

Refined sugar has been in better demand, with granulated 1-16c higher. Raws were also in better demand, and left off firm at last week's figures. The domestic consumption of sugar for the year ended Oct. 31 is 35,000 tons less than last year, 2 1-2 per cent. The country is said to be "bare of stocks of refined." Stronger cables, with buoyant European coffee markets, stimulated trading here, and prices advanced 3-4 to 1c.

Drygoods prices continue strong at New York and Boston, with an upward tendency in brown sheetings and woolen dress goods. The general demand compares well with previous seasons except in mans-wear woolens. Bad weather has checked distribution by jobbers. Raw wool is unchanged. The report of the Agricultural Department, foreshadowing a probable gain in the cotton yield of 3 per cent. over last year, depressed prices of options.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 217 in the United States this week, against 248 last week and 178 this week last year. Canada had 30 this week, against 45 last week. The total of failures in the United States Jan. 1 to date is 9643 against 9649 in 1888.

FARMERS AND MECHANICS.

The General Assembly K. of L. Visited by Alliance Representatives.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 15.—The General Assembly of the Knights of Labor this morning received the representatives of the Farmers' Alliance, Col. T. F. Livingston, president; Judge Henderson, Commissioner of Agriculture; R. F. Gray, editor of the National Economist, and Harry Brown, editor of The Georgia Farmer. Col. Livingston was greeted with immense applause. He said that other work had prevented his studying the objects of the Knights of Labor but he felt sure that when the convention met at St. Louis Dec. 3 the confederation would be formed, and he also felt sure that it would be equally beneficent to both orders.

Mr. Powderly said he thanked God for the day and said the time when the farmer and mechanic should stand side by side and work for the same object had always been a dream of his. The meeting was most enthusiastic and every mention of the confederation of the two orders was met with thundering applause.

A PECULIAR PEOPLE.

Conference of the Churches of God in Christ Jesus—The Sect's Tenets.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Washington Hall was thronged to-day with delegates to the second annual conference of the churches of God in Christ Jesus. H. V. Reed delivered an address of welcome. He alluded to the spread of the faith and the interest the delegates coming from every state from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Canada, had manifested. J. H. Willey, president of the Conference, followed. The principal points of difference between the belief of these people and that of othodox Protestant denominations are: The church of God in Christ Jesus holds to the restoration of Israel, that there is life only through Jesus Christ, and that man's present state is mortal, dependent upon Christ for future life. They also hold that Christ when on earth was a personal ruler not controlled directly by the Supreme Being.

A Fatal Fall.

BUFFALO, Nov. 16.—Yesterday morning a young man named Burton Mann, employed as a lookout on the propeller Rochester, fell off the dock at the Erie freight house and was drowned. The body was recovered. He was 18 years of age and lived in St. Catharines, Ontario.

An Absconding Debtor Arrested.

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

NEW currants and raisins, as cheap as the old, at M. R. KIDD'S.

The Market Building Condemned.
Various theories are advanced as to the cause, the most reasonable being that the foundation gave way. Kidd claims to have knocked the foundation out of high priced clothing, so that everything must fall when the foundation gives way. The cost of manufacture is not considered by Kidd, as his prices test by. When you take a walk to see the wrecked building give Kidd a call and he will show you a bigger wreck, in old prices of clothing and men's furnishings. 372 George street.

An Equal Rights Oration.
At Belleville on Friday evening Mr. John Carnegie, ex-M.P.P., delivered an address on "Equal Rights." According to actual count there were sixty-nine persons present, of whom twelve were ladies. The Intelligencer the Conservative organ, gives four or five inches of space, while the Ontario spares three lines in its local columns for a report. Mr. Carnegie's boom seems to materialize very deliberately. The poor success of the Belleville meeting suggests the advisability of Mr. Carnegie staying at home—he can get a better audience in town than he got in Belleville—that is if he canvasses with sufficient energy.

Recently, in the city of Rome, in making excavations for a large building, there was unearthed a bronze tablet of great age, containing a code of Roman notation. For 2000 years the world has been taught the present incorrect system—we have been taught that a number, say 370, is expressed by CCCLXX; but, according to the newly found code, this number is expressed by the letter t. This is correct, for 370 is the number of hawley bros.' t store, george street, where is found the finest stock of fine teas at fine prices, ever offered to the public in Peterborough. Man and Maid at Cross-ns.
A case of assault was disposed of at the police court this morning, in which a young woman engaged in a down-town restaurant accused the bar-tender of assault and using abusive language. She said she went behind the bar for sugar, and the drink-mixer put her out by force, using disgraceful language and afterwards throwing a dish at her head and breaking a large carving-knife over her arm. The defendant denied the charges in toto, and retaliated with the accusation that the woman had unprovokedly slapped him in the face and otherwise aggravated him. Between two such contradictory stories the magistrate said he could not but dismiss the suit, as no doubt both were considerably to blame.

Fifty Years in the Fur Trade.

Fifty years have passed since the senior of the firm entered and, without interruption, followed that trade, which has been carried on successfully in Peterborough for the last twenty-nine years. Perseverance, economy, and experience have, in spite of reckless opposition ending in failure, made our business a success. The great drawback experienced is, that most of the public have not the knowledge of the different grades in fur goods sold; hence it is that imitations of costly furs, as well as dyed furs used to represent the best goods, serve to bring good profits to unprincipled traders.

It is surprising to know that some people go to Toronto with the mistaken belief of being able to buy cheaper there than here, whereas former residents of Peterborough come here from Toronto, well knowing their ability to get a good article much cheaper in our establishment, and numerous are the letters which we receive from customers, we have never seen, from distances, acknowledging our efforts to serve the public well.

The Market Building

In a Dangerous Condition—The South-East Corner Support Giving Way Under the Weight of the Tower.

General alarm was felt this morning when the cry went abroad that the foundations of the new market building were giving way and the structure was toppling over. Large numbers of interested and excited citizens subjected the building to a minute inspection, and numerous and varied were the opinions expressed regarding the cause and danger of the condition in which it was seen to be. The chronic kicker will now be able to get in his work, and all concerned in the building, from the town council down to the hod-carrier, will be held more or less responsible for the mishap.

The trouble was first discovered this morning, and work was at once stopped upon the towers, which are directly over the affected portion. Work on the other parts of the structure are, however, being continued. The damage is under the south east tower, where the immense weight has caused the corner support to partly give way. This support is a strong iron pillar enclosed in a solid brick pier about three feet square. The outside brick is badly checked, the mass above appearing to settle in an outward slanting direction and bulging the brickwork until the surface split and fell off in pieces. Jagged cracks also run through the brickwork in different directions. The second wall on the east side was also checked a little in the same way. A glance at the stone foundation showed that the trouble lay there. On the east side, from the first window to the south corner, a crack ran down the middle of the foundation wall from top to bottom; and on the south side also the foundation wall at the corner was badly cracked. The generally accepted theory is that the soil underneath the stone-work was too soft to bear the weight, or that the foundation walls were not made thick enough. Anyway it is apparent that the sinking of the foundation wall has caused the damage to the brickwork above. It is generally conceded that the supports were strong enough had the base remained firm.

On the front wall also, the outer surface of the second pier is checked. This is considered a small matter, however. The chief trouble is on the south-east corner. How the damage will be repaired and the building made safe again has not yet been decided. Mr. J. E. Belcher, the architect, left town this morning early for the north, but a telephone message was sent to intercept him at Young's Point. Until he returns nothing will be done. It is not considered probable any of the building will have to be torn down. It will likely be braced up and the foundation walls renewed or strengthened and the corner support rebuilt. Meanwhile the contractor, Mr. T. Rutherford, will continue work on the roof of the main portion of the structure.

This unfortunate affair will cause considerable delay in the completion of the building, and the town will have to bear the expense. "Who is to blame," is the question that each ratepayer is asking himself, and of course the onus is laid upon different shoulders. The matter will, however, probably be well ventilated in the course of time and the blame placed where it belongs.

A temporary fence has been constructed along the middle of the street to keep out curious people. The building is not considered safe enough to allow a close inspection.

THE ARCHITECT'S OPINION.

Mr. Belcher arrived in town about noon and makes light of the matter. He says the damage can be easily repaired, and it is understood operations are to be begun at once. The building will be jacked up with needle-beams and the foundations and supports renewed or strengthened. Mr. Belcher thinks there is a deposit of quicksand under the foundation walls which has caused the mischief.

A Runaway Husband.

The Story of a Church Organist, now in Buffalo.

The Buffalo Sunday Times publishes a report of the elopement of Organist Alfred E. Carter and Miss Annie Graham, from Peterborough, last spring. The Times says: "There is living in Buffalo, under an assumed name, and with a woman who is not his wife, a Canadian music teacher, who, when he left the Queen's domains, left a sorrowing wife behind him. It is probable that this man is doing a fairly remunerative business, as he possesses much musical talent. But his new name hides a past that must be obnoxious to him, and one can imagine the look of surprise that he wears when spoken of in this tale as Ray Carter." Then follows an account of the elopement and circumstances leading up to it, which are already too well known in Peterborough to need repitition. The Times continues:—

For several months the poor woman waited in daily expectancy of seeing the missing ones. In the meantime she had sent pictures and descriptions of Ray all over the country.

Forced to earn a living and hoping to get some trace of the fugitive husband and kidnapped child, Mrs. Carter went to Toronto.

A letter postmarked "Buffalo, N.Y.," reached her hands after a time and the lady was no doubt surprised to read a note from Ray, who seemed to have been living in this city, and he very much surprised her by asking forgiveness and begging her to come and live with him.

Mrs. Carter came to Buffalo and made certain unpleasant discoveries that caused her to decide she didn't want to have anything more to do with Ray. He had been living with Annie for a time and also with another woman. But she did want her child back. Ray, however, refused to part with the little one, and Mrs. Carter sought a lawyer. She returned to Toronto without her daughter, but it is believed will institute a divorce suit. The Buffalo lawyer is daily looking for a letter from her to that effect.

Mrs. Carter is described as a pleasant little woman, well educated, and said to have excellent connections in Canada. She is about 27 years old.

Ray is about 32 years old. He lives, or did at last accounts, on the east side not far from Music Hall. He is said to have been organist in Trinity church, Toronto not long ago.

KNOWN IN TORONTO.

The Toronto World adds:—"Carter was well known in Toronto. He was organist of the Church of the Redeemer here for about two years, when he accepted a similar position in St. James' Cathedral, in which church he was married to a Miss Playter, whose father kept a restaurant on Church street. Carter held the position as organist at St James' for two years."

SAILSBURY BROS.

A Money Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—Are the people of our town asleep, that they do not realize there is a very great prospect of the Dickson Lumber Co.'s, buisness being removed from Peterborough on account of the fines imposed on them for allowing a little sawdust to drop into the river from their mills. At the present time the Dickson Co. have in their employ 300 men and 45 teams, the average wages of these men are at least $1.00 per day, most of them are residents of Peterborough or its vicinity, and the money is spent here. Besides men's wages the company purchase large quantities of groceries, provisions, flour, feed, pork, blankets, hardware, harness and other goods which will average at least $50 per day. Now here is $350 per day which is circulated in our town and I have no hesitation in saying that there is not a man, woman or child in the town, who is not benefited directly or indirectly by this expenditure. If the mills are removed of course the money will be removed also. Now, suppose they stay and the sawdust is allowed to go into the water, even suppose it filled the river (of which there is no danger) what loss or damage would it be to the town? It might prevent the Golden-Eye from running to Jubilee or Loyl Wild. It might also prevent some local sportsmen from catching a few fish; "but let them buy their fish with the money received from the mills and then go home and tell a fish story." The loss to the town would not be $5 00 per day.

Now we have a balance of $345 per day in favor of keeping the mills here. If the merchants, for they are most interested, are not asleep, then let them get a move on and request the mayor to call a public meeting so that the matter may be discussed pro and con and some arrangement made whereby we may retain the mills. Do not let us drive them away, as Belleville drove the Rathbun Company, and then regret it ever after. We all know what Belleville is to day; we also know what she might have been had they kept the mills instead of letting them go to Deseronto. Now, sir, if these fines are collected I am almost certain that not one stick from the new limit will be cut in Peterborough.

Then let a meeting be called at once, as there is no time to lose, and if it is attended by all who are interested, we will have a full house.

Yours truly,
ONE WHO IS BENEFITTED.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The meeting for young men, Saturday, was addressed by Mr. R. C. Hunter. We had a large attendance present, and great interest manifested. We held our first praise and promise meeting on Sabbath afternoon, which was well attended. The Gen'l Sec. gave a straight pointed talk an "Social Purity. We are satisfied much good can be done on this line of work among young men.

The gospel and song service was acceptably addressed by Rev. Mr. Leitch. We are delighted to see so many attending and taking such an active interest in our meetings. There are abundant signs of revival, for which we thank God.

Rev. Mr. Parker will address the Women's Meeting, for prayer, on Tuesday afternoon, at 3.30. All ladies are invited to come, looking for and expecting a revival in our midst.

The Anniversary Services promise to be a very profitable meeting. N. W. Hoyles, Esq., Q.C., of Toronto, and Rev. Mr. Shorey, will deliver addresses. Special musical attractions.

Emerald Beneficial Association.
Last Saturday, Nov. 16th, Mr. G. H. Giroux, of this town, Grand Organizer of Eastern Ontario of E.B.A., instituted a new branch of the Order at Almonte—St. Mary's Branch, No. 24. There was a large public meeting of the Catholic citizens, which was addressed by Mr. Giroux, who explained the objects and aims of the organization and the benefits it conferred. A branch was organized with a charter membership of thirty five, no doubt the nucleus of a very large and flourishing organization, as an immediate increase is expected of some twenty more members. After the installation of the officers, the newly elected officers and members entertained Mr. Giroux at a complimentary banquet at the Windsor hotel. A very pleasant evening was spent. Mr. Giroux returns home highly pleased with his visit and with the hearty hospitality with which he was favoured.

The Bethel Methodist Church has felt the touch of improvement. Inside the altar has been remodeled and beautifully carpeted, and space has been made for the choir and a fine new organ. And an excellent choir it is. Their singing is hearty and in good taste and tune. The pulpit has been removed and just inside the rail a table has been placed for the Bible and hymn book. The church has been generally improved and brightened. The church is under the past rate of Rev. A. C. Wilson, and the spiritual condition of the congregation shows a degree of thrift corresponding to the material advancement. The people are united and earnest, and co-operating so harmoniously, the good work goes on apace. On Sunday afternoon at 2.30 Mr. Jas. Sutherland, of the Laymen's Association, Peterborough, conducted the services and a blessed season was enjoyed by all present.—[COM.

VOL. IX. NO. 117 PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS.

BRAZIL IS TRANQUIL.

BUT THE PEOPLE ARE ABSORBED IN POLITICS.

Business at a Standstill—Dom Pedro Allowed to Leave Without Annoyance—The Cable Censorship.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Despatches received yesterday afternoon from Rio Janeiro reiterate the statement that the proclamation of the Republic met with no opposition. The latest intelligence received at Rio Janeiro indicated that Bahia and Pernambuco were in a state of tranquility. People everywhere are so much absorbed in the new order of things politically that business is at a standstill. There is said to be considerable mystery at Rio Janeiro in regard to the departure of the Emperor and his family. It is asserted in some quarters that he has not yet left the country. The British mail steamer Atrata from Monte-Video for Southampton is due at Rio to-morrow and it is believed the Imperial party will take passage upon that steamer for Europe.

Commercial despatches are forwarded from Brazil to foreign countries without scrutiny or delay. All despatches however relating to the political situation or giving any information in regard to the new Government have to be submitted to the censor. The result of this is that the only intelligence about the revolution which has reached the outside world except the very meagre facts that have got through in the commercial telegrams in cipher is that which has met the approval of the Government censorship.

A despatch has been received at the Brazilian Legation in London from Dr. Brabosa, Minister of Finance of the new Government, directing the Brazilian minister to notify the London Stock Exchange that all financial engagements entered into by the Imperial Government will be faithfully observed by the Republic. This despatch it is thought will have a reassuring effect in commercial and financial circles.

The Emperor Was Not Molested.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Duke of Nemours, father of Count d'Eu, son-in-law of Dom Pedro, the exiled Emperor of Brazil, has telegraphed to the Queen at Balmoral that the Emperor and his family embarked at Rio Janeiro without being subjected to any disagreeable experience.

He Had Their Sympathy.

LISBON, Nov. 19.—A number of private telegrams received from Rio Janeiro differ as to the name of the steamer which is conveying Dom Pedro to this port. They state, however, that the Emperor was the object of sympathetic demonstrations both on the part of the people and the provisional government.

Bismarck's Opinion.

COLOGNE, Nov. 19.—The Cologne Gazette, alluding to German interests in Brazil, says: A great part of the population of southern Brazil is faithfully attached to the Fatherland and cherishes German traditions. It is hardly likely that the Republic will succeed in saving this enormous state from chaos. The political destiny of southern Brazil has special claims upon German interests and sympathies. It may therefore seriously affect German relations with Brazil.

In View of the Present, etc.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—At the meeting of the International Marine Conference yesterday Admiral Viel of Chili announced that he had been requested by the delegates from Brazil to say that in view of the present condition of affairs in their country they would not longer sit in the conference.

The International American Conference met at 11 o'clock, Secretary Blaine presiding, and there was a full attendance, the Brazilian delegates being the only notable absentees. The session was devoted to organization.

A Panic Prevented.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Banks and private financiers holding Brazilian bonds have largely refused to sell. This action has prevented a panic.

WELLAND TRAINWRECKERS.

A Michigan Central Freight Ditched by a Designedly Misplaced Switch.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 19.—An east bound freight train on the Michigan Central Railway, Conductor Kitto, was ditched at Stevensville Sunday owing to the switch having been designedly misplaced by unknown scoundrels. The train was running 30 miles an hour. The engine was turned upside down, burying Engineer Reardon, his fireman and Brakeman Murray in the wreck. They managed to crawl out of the small hole in the cab. Reardon was badly cut on the head, Murray internally injured and may die.

Of the 25 cars composing the train 18 were wrecked, and live stock, glue, etc., piled heavenward. Over 190 head of sheep were killed and the track so badly torn up that 9 hours were required to clear the wreck. A reward of $500 will be offered for the discovery of the train wreckers. The switch was so arranged that it was foul of both the main line and side line.

The K. of L. Convention.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 19.—The convention of Knights of Labor yesterday went into committee of the whole on the land question. The following resolution was adopted as the fourth plank of the declaration of principles of the Knights:

"That land, including all the natural sources of wealth, is the heritage of all the people and should not be subject to speculative traffic. Occupancy and use shall be the only title to the possession of land. Taxes upon land should be levied upon its full value for use, exclusive of improvements, and should be sufficient to make for the community all the unearned increment."

After the committee had risen and the Assembly had adopted the resolution, Mr. Powderly and A. W. Wright of the Executive Board were appointed a committee to attend the National Farmers' Alliance Convention at St. Louis.

WEST LAMBTON ELECTION.

The Liberal Candidate Returned by 330 Plurality over the Conservative.

SARNIA, Nov. 19.—The triangular contest in West Lambton for the seat in the Ontario Assembly made vacant by the death of the late Hon. T. B. Pardee closed yesterday with the election of Mr. Charles Mackenzie (Lib.) by a plurality of 330 over Mr. Robert Fleck (Con.). Mr. J. G. McCrae (Third Party) polled 652 votes. At the general elections on Dec. 28, 1886, Mr. Pardee's majority over Wright (Lib.) was 452. The details of the vote (with three divisions in Enniskillen not reporting) follow:

SUSPECTS FIELD DAY.

AN INGENIOUS ALIBI FOR DETECTIVE DAN COUGHLIN.

Two of His Friends Swear that He Was With Them on the Night of May 4—A State Witness Contradicted.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—In the Cronin trial yesterday Police Captain Schaack was called and questioned by Mr. Forrest as to Livery Stable Keeper Dinan's description of the man who got the white horse on the night of the murder. The attorney requested the witness to let him see the notes of the conversation with Dinan but Schaack refused, saying his note book contained other and private matters. Finally however he tore out the leaf containing the notes and handed it to Mr. Forrest. The attorney then claimed the right to cross-examine the witness as he showed a hostile disposition. The court held that though the witness might be unwilling he did not appear to be hostile and overruled the motion.

Captain Schaack in his direct examination said Dinan's description was given in the presence of Coughlin and Chief Hubbard by way of coinciding with suggestions from Coughlin. One suggestion was that the man wore a stiff hat. In cross-examination the State sought to show that subsequently Dinan said the man wore a soft hat pulled down over his eyes and that Schaack failed to call Dinan's attention to the discrepancy, but the court ruled it out. Then there was a struggle over an attempt by the State to show that Schaack was not a hostile witness by showing that at the time of the interview in which Dinan described the driver of the white horse, he relied more upon the statements of Coughlin than he did upon Dinan's. Finally the court admitted it and the witness testified that he had a good deal of reliance in Coughlin at that time.

Then the driving of the white horse to Mrs. Conklin's house and her failure to identify the animal were gone over. The Captain said Mrs. Conklin assured as unfriendly attitude during the proceedings.

James Hyland, a freight handler in the Lake Shore Railway, testified that he and his cousin Jerry Hyland, called on O'Sullivan about 7 o'clock on the evening of May 5. They took supper with O'Sullivan and on leaving between 9 and 10 he and his cousin and O'Sullivan went to a saloon near by and had two glasses of sherry and cigars.

At the request of Mr. Wing, Dan Coughlin the prisoner stepped forward and the witness stood beside him. The witness was a half a head taller than Coughlin. At the request of counsel for the defence the witnesses then stepped down in front of the jurors, and his cousin Jeremiah being ranged alongside of him the jury were afforded an opportunity of noticing the likeness between the two.

Jeremiah Hyland was then sworn. He corroborated the testimony of his cousin. The witness took a position beside Kunze that the jury might judge as to the similarity between them. The witness' testimony was clearer and more definite than that of his cousin. He identified the saloon and gave its street and number.

This is the saloon owned by Niemann and the evident object of the testimony of the cousins, who have just been discovered by the defence, is to break the force of Niemann's testimony. His evidence was very damaging. He swore that on the night of the murder between 10 and 11 o'clock O'Sullivan, Coughlin and Kunze came into his saloon, that they talked mysteriously and in low tones, drank two glasses of sherry and took a cigar each. The testimony of the Hylands was introduced for the purpose of discrediting and showing it was O'Sullivan and the two Hylands who were in the saloon on the night of May 5, instead of O'Sullivan, Coughlin and Kunze on the night of May 4.

Ex-detective Michael Whalen, who was Coughlin's partner when they were both on the police force, testified that he arrived at the East Chicago avenue police station at about 7.30 o'clock on the night that Dr. Cronin was murdered. Coughlin was there at that time. The witness was asked to tell the story of the evening and proceeded as follows:

"Next thing I remember I went into the station and looked to see if there were any reports. I did not go outside the station until 10 o'clock. Well, I did not leave there until 12 o'clock."

"You say you saw Coughlin when you arrived at the station?"

"Yes, sir, and I may say that I saw him all that evening. I saw him after I went in and stayed in a while and then went outside."

"I saw him up to 10 o'clock—when I parted with him between 9 and 10. I don't think he was outside of my sight at all because I was not outside of the station myself.

"And about how long an interval was it since you had seen him previously?"

"Oh! It may be half an hour."

On the cross-examination an effort was made to show that the witness testified before the coroner's jury and told Captain Schuettler and others that he did not see Coughlin after about 7 o'clock that night, but witness denied it. The fact was brought out that the witness and O'Sullivan are first cousins and that his brother Tom Whalen and his wife keep house for O'Sullivan.

Desk Sergeant John Stift of the East Chicago-avenue police station was the next witness. He was asked:

"Do you know Michael Brennan?"

"I do. He was lieutenant at the East Chicago-avenue station."

"Was any change made in his rank at that time?"

"He was promoted to the position of secretary, I believe, or clerk at headquarters. That was on the night of May 4."

"Where were you on that night?"

"I was in the police station there. I came to report about 8.30, to be in time for the roll call. After the roll call I went out with a section of the men and saw them on their beat. I then came back to the station, changed my uniform and was leaving to go on my duty for the night when I met Officer Michael Whalen and Dan Coughlin outside the door of the station."

"What time was it when you saw Coughlin?"

"It was probably 9.35 o'clock."

"What did you do?"

"I invited them to take a drink with me at the next saloon to the station. We went into the saloon and they drank each a beer and I took a cigar. I paid for it and stayed for five or ten minutes and talked about Brennan's advancement, and then I went away."

"Did you see Dan Coughlin again that night?"

"I did not."

The cross-examination was very searching. It brought out that Stift had traveled a beat with Whalen many years and that he (Stift) had not mentioned his meeting with Coughlin and Whalen to any one except Capt. Schaack, to whom he reported it some days after Coughlin's arrest.

The headless bodies of a man and his wife, and their three sons were found in a well near Foggia. All the members of a family residing near by have been arrested on suspicion of murder. A vendetta had existed between the two families.

AUSTRALIAN FEDERATION

THE CABLE FIEND REVIEWS SIR HENRY PARKES' SCHEME.

The Project is Said to Portend the Severance of Colonial Ties and the Formation of an Independent Nation.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—One of the most important issues of the day is the proposal for the federation of the Australian colonies, set forth in the despatch which Sir Henry Parkes, Premier of New South Wales, has addressed to the premiers of the other colonies in Australia. It is, in reality, an invitation to meet and consider the formation of an independent combination of the colonies—a sort of United States in Australia—though most of the colonists probably will not exactly so regard it, and England has not the faintest suspicion of its meaning. The proposal has come about through the advice of the military commissioner, whom England sent to assist the Australians to a common scheme of national defense. He reported in favor of a federal Australian army, and Sir Henry Parkes, who is a federalist at heart, has seized the opportunity and boldly tells the colonies that the time has come for a grand federation, not only for military protection, but for all the uses that are implied by the term. Of course, the premier does not openly suggest a separation from the Mother Country, but to those who have made Australian affairs a study and are acquainted with the opinions of Sir Henry, as set forth in his numerous utterances on the subject of Australian autonomy, the meaning of his proposal is plain. On the reception which Australia gives to the invitation will depend in a great measure the future of that country. The time seems ripe for some such movement, but it is more probable that the change will not come by violent or sudden means, but by rather gradual steps. The English speaking colonies of Australia will surely never consent to grow up into a number of disunited and jealous states, but with each year of development will find the necessity greater for combining under one government. One great impediment to the immediate acceptance of a plan of federation is the jealousy and rivalry between Victoria and New South Wales. Their policies also differ, Victoria is a protective tariff country, while New South Wales practices free trade. It is therefore improbable that Sir Henry Parkes' invitation to consider federation will be cordially accepted by Victoria, however it may be received by the other colonies.

In order to understand the rivalry between the two most important colonies it is necessary to understand the position of each in regard to what is known as the federal council, which was formed in 1885, and which was a step towards federation. This is a council granted by the imperial parliament for deliberative purposes, but it is entirely inoperative, and, as in the present case, when common defense demands, federation cannot act, but must appeal to Westminster for power. New South Wales, under the leadership of Sir Henry Parkes, would never enter the federal council, and Victoria thus became the ruling power of the council. Possessing this power—such as it is—it will be loth to follow the lead of its sister colony and rival in promoting a federation of which the suggesting colony would undoubtedly become the head.

The comments of the English papers on the matter are somewhat amusing. English editors and English politicians as a rule, know less, if it is possible, about Australia than about the United States. It is one of the principal grievances of Australians that England ignores them. If a piece of news is received here from Australia it is invariably put in some corner of the paper or left over till the next issue. It is of no importance, and while column after column is given up to continental news and to the solving of the eastern question, Australia is ignored, and consequently is almost unknown. English editors do not appreciate the significance of the new utterances from the antipodean colonies, and in a good-natured way think that federation would be a good thing for Australia, and advise, it never dreaming that Sir Henry Parkes, whom they call an "imperial federalist," means to separate Australia from England, and follow the lead of the United States. In fact, it is the same old story over again: England utterly oblivious and utterly careless of the wants of her colonies, feeling quite safe in possession of them, not thinking that any would dare or care to rebel, nor will she realise the true condition of affairs in Australia until the note of independence has been irrevocably sounded, and the quondam colonies united in a combination over which Great Britain shall have no control.

The Poison Co into Liquidation—A Verdict of Murder Against Kane.

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—The Poison Iron Works Company (L't'd) have decided to go into voluntary liquidation, and passed a resolution to this effect at a meeting held yesterday. It is understood that this is preliminary to the remodelling of the Company. There are several large contracts now under way, and it is found that the present subscribed capital is insufficient to carry them on satisfactorily. The shareholders have therefore decided to liquidate and, after finishing existing contracts, wind up the business. The liquidator will be Mr. E. R. C. Clarkson, assisted by the following Board of Inspectors, representing different interests concerned:—A. B. Lee, of Rice, Lewis & Son; Chas. Holland, General Manager Ontario Bank; F. B. Poison, Secretary-Treasurer Poison Iron Works Co.; J. B. Miller, of Parry Sound. A statement will be issued in a few days. The works will be carried on as usual under the liquidators.

Thomas Kane, who killed his wife in a debauch on Saturday night, appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning charged with murder. He did not speak a word and was remanded to await the result of the inquest. After hearing the evidence the coroner's jury considered the case only a few minutes before they brought in the following verdict—"That Thomas Kane did feloniously, wilfully and with malice aforethought kill and slay one Mary Kane."

In consequence of the recent prosecutions the druggists of the city decided yesterday not to sell any liquor in future except upon the written prescription of a physician.

Toronto's new Archbishop will arrive in the city Nov. 27, and receive addresses of welcome in St. Michael's Cathedral.

THE LADIES!

A New and Distinct Form of Disease which is afflicting Canadian Women.

How some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Superb Physical Beauty.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the home. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is especially adapted to the needs of women, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 69 St. Hypolite St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now looks as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., MONTREAL.

Notes of a Trip From Springville to Port Hope.

Many of the farmers of this locality have been engaged in growing fancy peas for the firm of Messrs. H. Sculthorp and J. Hume of Port Hope. This year has been a very successful season for those who fortunately had the seed, as the yield has been excellent. Many farmers, after returning their seed, have from twenty to thirty dollars per acre in return, a few having as high as forty dollars per acre. As your correspondent was one of the fortunate ones, having three peas, and as it necessitates, a long tedious and slow journey from our village to Port Hope, I undertook to take a few notes about the country as we passed through. After leaving our part of the country, which is excellent for its fertility and improvements, we passed into a low flat country of sandy land which is well named Egypt, which is noted for its large potatoes and numerous babies. The village of Fraserville is situated in this land, and is a fairly prosperous business burg. After leaving this flat valley we next enter into a fine tract of farming land near the village of Centreville. The farms of Mr. Thos. Donoldson and Wm. Fair near this village present a very handsome appearance; the dwellings and outer buildings are of the first quality. The village is about extinct only one small store and post office connected. A short distance from this we pass into the growing village of Baillieboro, everything appearing new and thriving. This is about as fine a farming country as the passer by would wish to see; most of the farms are extra well improved. After leaving this village we enter into a very poor tract of country, very hilly and drift sand; the dwellings are poor and most of the dwellers appear to be in possession of the poor man's kit—a poor cow, an old horse and a howling dog.

In desert land is Rawedly, better known as the "head of Rice Lake;" quite a summer resort for pleasure seekers. A large hotel is the chief place of interest, which is ably conducted by Mr. J. Arnott. The country is poor until about four miles this side of Port Hope. Being weary and somewhat sleepy, we always look for something to break the monotony of the journey. Overtaking a stranger and a resident of the country going to town with a basket, who asked us to give her a lift as her burden was heavy; we unhesitatingly consented. Being a stranger to the country, and wishing to learn who occupied this and that farm, and as the passenger appeared to know every person in the locality, we were able to learn a great deal about the people and their circumstances. Pointing to one place presenting a fine appearance, I asked who lived there? "He has a nice place." Yes, replied the lady, if it was his own." "Doesn't he own the farm?" "Yes, but it is all mortgaged." Near Port Hope crops were much damaged by the rainy season.

The toll company has given up control of the gravel road, which is quite a convenience to the travelling public. The country is far behind in improvements, owing to the farms being chiefly rented through that section. Land rents high, ranging from four to seven dollars per acre, according to quality. It was very worthy of remark that among a certain class of farmers, apparently worthless tenants, they always spoke disparagingly of their neighbors' circumstances.

Port Hope is a dull business town, everything much out of repair, and not much more stir than an ordinary country village, but it is the best market for peas in Ontario. The pea trade is conducted exclusively by Messrs. Hume and Sculthrop. These two firms do a very large trade in growing fancy peas for the American and Old Country markets. Your correspondent after several trips, came to the conclusion that farmers living in the vicinity of Peterborough, are much more prosperous looking than those who once boasted of being in the "front" in every way.

Ex-Servant.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—The public has been treated with an able letter, appearing in the Daily EXAMINER, although one sided, on the hardships of servant girls. I do not desire controversy, as there is lots to say pro and con. But what of a servant girl hailing from Kinmount, having served in Lindsay before engaging with us, drawing money more than she was entitled for the time being, on pretence of wanting it for an ulster, and stealing away unawares when the whole family was at tea? As a warning to her, —in such cases the law will, if complaint is made, protect the employers against such swindling servants, who draw more money than is due them and leave before their time is up. We never would keep a girl against her will even if her time is not up. We have instances that some have come back, after leaving, to engage again, which goes to show that a good girl is appreciated and will not only receive good wages but kind treatment also.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, etc.,

ANOTHER EX SERVANT.

THE DEADLY CAR STOVE.

Fatal Accident on the Pennsylvania Road —A Sickening Scene.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 19.—By an accident to the eastern express on the Pennsylvania road last evening a large number of persons were injured, one fatally and six others quite seriously. The express which left here for New York at 7.15 p.m. was proceeding through the city yards at about eight miles an hour. At 17th-street the third car or smoker left the rails and after being pulled 100 feet turned completely over. Fire broke out at both ends and in the centre of the car. Between forty and fifty second-class passengers including a number of women were in the car and a wild scene followed. Men trampled over women and fought their unfortunate brothers in their eagerness to escape. The shrieks of these imprisoned in the burning car could be heard a long distance. Fortunately the trainmen and the crews from other trains were close at hand and the flames were soon extinguished. The passengers who had not already escaped through the windows were then removed. While nearly every one in the car was cut or bruised only Joseph Brucker of Chicago was fatally injured. When the car was upset he was seated near the stove and it was thrown on top of him. He was so tightly pinned down that it was some time before he could be extricated. Meanwhile he was slowly being burned to death and when taken out one side was burned to a crisp. The physicians say he will die. He was on his way to Germany. The accident is supposed to have been caused by the spreading of the rails. All of the passengers but Brucker and the six others were able to proceed on their journey a few hours later.

The only guaranteed cure for all blood taints and humors, eruptions, pimples, blotches, scalp diseases and scrofulous sores and swellings, is Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. You get a cure or money paid for it promptly returned.

To the Public.

Our aim has been and will continue to be to give the consumer the highest grade of goods consistent with prices charged. We do not manufacture so-called cheap cigars; fine goods are our specialty. Purchasing only the best of tobaccos, irrespective of price, we are in a position to manufacture as fine a class of goods as can be obtained anywhere; Havana not excepted. Insist upon having our well known brands, "Cable," "El Padre" "Mungo," and "Madre E Hijo," and thereby obtain full value for your money. The immense sums expended in introducing our goods, the exceptionally fine quality of tobacco used in their manufacture, and the labor of nearly half a century should convince the most skeptical that the quality of same will not be allowed to deteriorate. m

THE SUSPECTS' TACTICS.

Picking Flaws in the State's Evidence in the Cronin Case.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—After the dramatic scenes in the Cronin trial Saturday, while Clancy told of O'Sullivan's pale face and trembling limbs when witness informed the iceman of the finding of Cronin's body, the refusal of O'Sullivan to accompany Clancy to the morgue to identify the body, and the cross-examination in which the witness admitted that he was a ticket-of-leave man, that he had served ten years for implication in the Fenian conspiracy, and had been indicted for murdering a policeman, the State having closed its case, the defence moved to exclud certain portions of Spellman's testimony and the correspondence between him and Beggs, and then taking up the testimony of Mrs. Conklin, Mr. Conklin and nearly all the witnesses asked that certain portions of their testimony be excluded. All the motions were over-ruled. Mr. Forrest then turned his attention towards the hair, blood stains and other physical evidences of the crime and moved for their exclusion but the motions were overruled.

The first witness for the defence was Frederick J. Squibb, stenographer, who took the testimony before the coroner. He testified as to certain differences between the testimony as given before the coroner's jury by old man Carlson and Frank Scanlan as compared with their evidence during the trial proper.

Mr. Forrest then moved for the exclusion of the proceedings of Camp 20 on Feb. 8, which the court took under consideration, and the evidence of Captain O'Connor concerning the same proceeding, which the court overruled.

"The State's Attorney: "We have not offered that record of the proceedings of Camp 20 in evidence so far as I am aware of."

Mr. Foster (attorney for Beggs): "Well, if you don't I shall."

Stenographer Squibb then testified to a number of contradictions in the testimony of "Major" Sampson before the coroner's jury and before the court.

The next witness was Police Captain Schaack. He testified to the taking of the white horse from Dinan's stables to Mrs. Conklin's house May 10 and to the fact that Mrs. Conklin failed to identify the animal as the one which took Dr. Cronin on his death journey.

Police Lieutenant Coch testified as to the same matter. He said it was raining at the time, and when the horse's hair became wet it changed from a white to a dun color.

The court then adjourned till to-day.

SYRACUSE DESERTS.

One of the International Clubs Enters the American Association.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The American Baseball Association met at the Fifth Avenue Hotel Saturday morning to consider applications for membership and amendments to the constitution. The application of Syracuse was approved, and a rumor prevailed that Rochester, Buffalo, and possibly Detroit, would be admitted to the Association. The Association adjourned without admitting any other club but Syracuse. The next meeting will be held Dec. 9, at Columbus. The Finance Committee were instructed to proceed to Rochester and Toledo on their way home and consult with the clubs of those cities as to their joining the Association. The members of the Association seemed to think they had made the best of a bad bargain. They agreed that if Toledo and Buffalo joined the Association, and there does not seem to be much doubt about either, with Louisville, St. Louis, Toledo and Columbus in the West and the Athletics, Baltimore, Buffalo and Syracuse in the East, they have a very strong 25-cent circuit.

Palo Alto's Trial.

NAPA CITY, Cal., Nov. 18.—Palo Alto started Saturday afternoon to beat the stallion record of 2.12, but made a break on the home stretch and failed. His time was 2.12½. The quarters were made in 33½, 1.05, 1.39, and 2.12½. Sunol trotted an exhibition mile in 2.13. Stamboul again lowered hisrecord and trotted a mile in 2.12¼. A private wager of $10,000 that Stamboul would make 2.12 before the year is out is still undecided. His time at the quarters was 33, 1.06½, 1,39½, 2.12¼.

Football News.

European Map Makers.

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—The developments of Prince Bismarck's diplomacy promise to result in permanent accord between Austria and Russia. The Czar's visit to Berlin, Count Kalnoky's visit to Friedrichsruhe, Emperor William's visit to Mosna and Constantinople and finally the conference between Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph at Innspruck have been successive stages of a continuous policy leading toward a settlement. The Bismarck scheme restores Russia's dominance in Bulgaria, Russia in return recognizing as definitive Austria's possession of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Since this proposal was communicated to Premier Crispi the latter has intimated to Prince Bismarck that the sanction of Italy might depend upon the cession of Trentino by Austria. When Count Kalnoky left Friedrichsruhe nothing was settled. The Austrian Minister held that the sacrifice of Trentino was impossible. He considered the possession of Bosnia as already definitive, as it could only be abandoned after a crushing defeat. The Innspruck interview brought the negotiations to a climax. Emperor Francis Joseph consented to leave Prince Ferdinand to his fate and said he would not oppose a Russian candidate provided he was elected under the conditions of the Berlin treaty. He practically accorded the Czar a free hand in Bulgaria.

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 863 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1889.

THE RESULT IN WEST LAMBTON.

On Monday the electors decided the question of a representative of the riding in place of the late Hon. T. B. Pardee. And their decision was expressively emphatic, the people by a majority of nearly 600, reiterating their confidence in the Ontario Administration, by electing an avowed supporter. The result gives an encouraging idea of the intelligence of the electorate. The latter refused to be led aside from the main issue, and refused to be blinded by the fanatical sophisms of the side issues introduced by designing intriguants, they consumed that the Mowat government was practically on trial and they would not be deterred or cajoled from expressing an opinion on this point by the most cunningly devised and ingeniously manipulated appeals to race bigotry or religious fanaticism. The result is both a triumphant vindication of the Mowat Administration in general and of the Department of Education in particular, the latter having been the great butt of attack by the orthodox Tory party as well as by its hermaphrodite ally, the Third party. All the strength of the clamorous and calumniating cries that have been pressed into service against the Ontario Government were centred in this contest and it is not too much to regard the verdict of Monday as an indication of the manner in which the general electorate will pronounce when they shall be required, in the general elections, to record their estimate of the Mowat Government. If Lambton, under the fierce blaze of bigotry that beat upon it, gave the government candidate an increased majority, will not the province follow its example?

The Fire Record.

Destructive Fire at the Cavanagh House —Fires Elsewhere.

Shortly after five o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the sheds attached to Mr. T. Cavanagh's hotel. Despite the prompt and efficient service of the fire brigade, the flames spread rapidly through the frame building and soon they were a total loss. The fire next branched out on one side to Mr. E. Phelan's barn and stable, only separated by a few feet, and on the other to Mr. Cavanagh's brick stable. Both were almost totally destroyed. Fortunately the flames were prevented from reaching the hotel, and the damage by fire was confined to the outhouses. Five hundred bushels of buckwheat and a quantity of pressed hay in Mr. Harry Deane's flour and feed store were damaged by water. The loss is covered by insurance. Mr. Cavanagh estimates his loss at $2,000. The sheds were sheeted with iron, one portion being the laundry and the other a drivehouse for sleighs, buggies, harness, etc. All these were lost, including a large fancy pleasure sleigh valued at $300. The brick stables were gutted, and a large quantity of hay and oats, harness, blankets, etc., were burned. There were no horses in the building. Mr. Cavanagh had an insurance of $8,000 on his entire hotel property in one of Mr. Wm. Clarion's companies. It is thought his loss will be about covered. On the other side Mr. E. Phelan also sustained loss. His barn was done irreparable damage, for which he has a $900 insurance policy. His stable was rented only a few days ago to Mr. Appleby, who housed his trotting horse, "Tariff," (2 20¼), and another colt in it. Both were rescued by the groom unharmed, though in trying to recover some blankets and harness the man was overcome by smoke and would have perished had he not been noticed to fall by Mr. Clancy, who ran in just as he sank to the floor overpowered. Mr. Phelan lost two cutters and Mr. Harry Phelan a hobby buggy. Altogether it was quite a destructive fire. Mr. Cavanagh purposes rebuilding at once.

After the firemen had subdued the flames they were given breakfast by Mrs. A. Comstock, which, in their tired and hungry condition after three or four hours hard work, was doubly welcome. They desire to return thanks to Mrs. Comstock.

AT COBOURG AND GORE'S LANDING.

At four o'clock Monday morning fire was discovered in the kitchen of the Horton house, King street, Cobourg, owned by P. J Leghthorne and occupied by Sidney Smith. The firemen soon had the fire under control. The damage done to the building and contents is about $800, fully covered by insurance in the Commercial Union and the North British and Mercantile. Cause of fire unknown.

The Harris house, a summer hotel at Gore's Landing, Rice Lake, was completely destroyed by fire Monday morning. The hotel was owned by Thos. Harris and occupied by R. C. Floyd. The building was insured in the Hartford for $700, contents for $1,000 in the Commercial Union. Loss, total.

Assaulting an Old Woman

Two brothers, James and Patrick Healey, of Douro, were summoned to appear before P. M. Edmison this afternoon to answer to a charge of maltreating an old woman named Catherine Welsh. James was accused of throwing stones at her and Patrick of breaking in her door. The defendants did not appear and as it was understood an effort was being made to settle the matter, the magistrate adjourned the case till Thursday.

At the Opera House.

The Lyric Concert company preformed to a very small audience at the opera house last night. The entertainment was a good one, the programme comprising many artists of merit, but the surfeit of good things that is being showered upon Peterborough concert-goers just now, had its effect in a slim attendance last night. The members of the company were all Toronto people. Their venture here was not a success.

An Advertising Mirror.

Mr. S. S. Stukey, Manager of the Mirror Advertising Agency, Lindsay, has erected in the Post office here, a beautiful British plate mirror, elegantly framed, and bearing on its face a series of advertisements which are, by virtue of the background, given attractive prominence. Trent Valley Canal Commission.

By advertisement in another colums, it will be seen that the Trent Valley Canal commission will meet in Peterborough, in the council chamber on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 5th, 6th and 7th of December to take evidence respecting the feasibility of constructing the Trent Vally Canal. All parties interested are invited to be present and give their opinion. It there is the remotest prospect of securing the construction of this important work, every citizen should show himself, as he is, interested in it.

Entertainment Night.

There was an unusually large turn-out of the brethren of Otonabee lodge last night —"entertainment night." After the regular business Bro. R. M. Roy, N.G., entertained the lodge for about an hour with his at-rospticon views. Some were colored, and all highly appreciated. The most "fetching" ones were those representing camp scenes in the north, taken by Mr. Roy during his recent deer hunting expedition. A realistic scene of the burning of the steamer "Quinte" was particularly good. Next Monday there will be some "going-on" in the lodge. Every member should be present.

A LARGE consignment of new tea just arrived at M. R. KIDD'S.

A Frontier for Collegiate Institute Pupils.

Recently, in the city of Rome, in making excavations for a large building, there was unearthed a bronze tablet of great age, containing a code of Roman notation. For 2000 years the world has been taught the present incorrect system—we have been taught that a number, say 370, is expressed by CCCLXX; but, according to the newly found code, this number is expressed by the letter t. This is correct, for 370 is the number of hawley bros.' t store, george street, where is found the finest stock of fine teas at fine prices, ever offered to the public in Peterborough. Also superb coffees at equally low prices, as well as beautiful glassware.

The Market Building.

The market committee met last night after the council meeting to consider a course of action in connection with the market building. Architect Belcher appeared before the committee and stated that the damage was slight and could be easily repaired. The committee authorized Mr. Belcher to proceed with the work at once. This morning the corner of the building affected was braced up with needle beams, and preparations made to begin the repairs. Mr. Belcher's idea is to buttress the foundation walls in order to strengthen them, to rebuild the brick pier and reduce the size of some of the openings for doorways and windows. The whole thing it is expected will cost only a few hundred dollars. The foundation walls will not have to be rebuilt.

A Light unto Their Path.

The Oriental Grocery Store is now adorned with a handsome street lamp which, being the only one of the kind on Hunter street, is very conspicuous and attractive. The lamp consists of a large octagonal stained glass globe, with alternate panes of colored glass, erected on a high pole and illuminated from within by a powerful electric light. On the glass globe is painted, "Oriental Grocery Store, M. J. Tierney, 163 Hunter street," in prominent letters. Altogether the light is an effective advertisement and should draw patronage to the excellent grocery store in front of which it stands, a credit to the enterprise of the proprietor and a symbol of the open, reliable and square dealing which all his customers receive from Mr. Tierney. His stock of groceries, wines and liquors is thoroughly good, being almost entirely new, and cheap as the cheapest.

Green Discharged.

The trial of Joseph Green, charged with obtaining money under false pretences, was held before His Honor Judge Weller this morning. Green was accused of the same offence for which Albert Dunkeley was tried and discharged a week ago, viz., the attempt to dispose of notes made out in the name of one Jerome C. Green, as agent for Paterson Bros. agricultural implements and other articles of manufacture. The particulars of this affair are already pretty well known. Very little evidence was taken, counsel for the defendant, Mr. John Burnham, contending that as the alleged offence had been committed in Sydney township, Hastings County, this court had no jurisdiction. The Judge supported the argument and dismissed the case. Mr. E. E. Wood, C.C.A., conducted the prosecution.

A Lunatic in Lambton.

A dangerous lunatic was arrested yesterday and placed in gaol. Richard Fobear, an imbecile young man who lives with his parents in Smith, has lately developed symptoms of insanity. Not long ago he was in the police court charged with vagrancy, but was allowed to go. Since that time he has been beating his father and mother, and was altogether a dangerous nuisance. P. C. Stewart went out and arrested him yesterday. Fobear was rather troublesome and the constable had to use considerable force. He has not spoken a word since placed in gaol, and absolutely refuses to eat any food. He will be discussed at on Thursday.

TWO THREADBARE TOPICS

The Central Exhibition and Powder Magazine.

Subjects Thoroughly Ventilated by the Town Council—A Lively Discussion Between Some of the Members—Both Matters Left in an Unfinished Condition.

There was a large crowd of spectators in the council chamber last night at the special meeting of the town council. They were rewarded for their trouble, for the proceedings were of a decidedly breezy nature. Most of the spectators, however, suffered a disappointment. It was generally expected the market building matter would come up, but the thing was arranged among the councillors beforehand and an understanding arrived at that the subject should be shelved for the present.

The councillors present besides Mayor Stevenson were Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, Winch, Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A. Hall, A. Dawson, Baptis, Rutherford, Langford and Hartley.

THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The MAYOR explained that the object of the meeting was primarily to receive a deputation of the Central Exhibition directors, who were present to lay certain matters before the council, but other affairs had since cropped up which the council would be asked to deal with.

Mr. WM. RUTHERFORD, President of the Agricultural Society, spoke first, soliciting a grant of about $300 to aid them in paying off the prize list. They were in low water and had paid off a note of $1,250 this year, which left them behind in their prize list.

Mr. STEVENSON said the general opinion was the exhibition was an advantage to the town, and the directors hoped the council would assist them. Had it not been for this note which they had to pay off, they would have been clear. If the town gave them $300 they felt confident of being able to pay off their indebtedness of $1,600. They had already about $300 subscribed and were prepared to enter into a note for $1,000.

In reply to Councillor Rutherford's enquiry why they paid off the note instead of the prize list, Mr. FAIR said the directors had entered into that note for the purpose of erecting the buildings, and he thought the town should help them now when the show was such an advantage to the town. Every other town in the province assisted their agricultural exhibitions, and the directors could not be expected to carry on this note without any assistance, running all the risk to benefit others.

Mr. STEVENSON said he understood the directors were willing to hand over all their property to the town if the council would take it over. He believed the exhibition had been successful and done good work.

Mr. WM. VANCE pointed out that in all the important towns and cities in the province the show grounds were owned by the corporation. He urged the town to consider the advantage of such an exhibition in its midst.

Mr. BARRY simply stated that the directors needed $1,600 to tide them over this year, and it was this which brought them before the council.

Mr. JOS. TULLY said if Peterborough did not want the show or deem it worthy of assistance, there was a village farther north making a strong bid for it.

Mr. ELLIOTT stated that the scheme which appeared the best to liquidate the debt was for the directors to enter into a note for $1,000 and raise the balance of the remaining $600 they had $300 subscribed, and they asked the council for the balance.

In reply to a question, Mr. ELLIOTT stated that the county council last year gave a grant of $300 to the Society.

Messrs. Baptie and Forster were called upon, but made no remarks.

Mr. COLLINS, secretary, stated that the directors started five years ago with nothing and put up buildings worth $4,000. Last year they were only $1,250 behind. This was the first year the exhibition had fallen behind. It was now a question of whether they should drop the Society or not.

GETTING INTERESTING.

Mr. CAMILL moved, seconded by Mr. DAVIDSON,—That the matter be referred to the Finance Committee to report, and that the directors meet the committee to discuss the affairs of the Society.

Mr. CAHILL said it had always been his opinion that the farmers had enterprise enough to manage a Society, and it was in the interest of both town and county that the Society should be maintained. He thought the county should assist more generously than it did now, and proposed that the county and town councils each appoint a number of directors on the board, always, of course, allowing the Agricultural Society directors a majority.

Coun. RUTHERFORD said it appeared most extraordinary that the directors should pay off a personal indebtedness of $1,250 instead of the prize list. It was a debatable question whether the town should grant them any assistance at all. It was the county should give them assistance.

Mr. J. McCLELLAND said this was not a private matter but a public trust the directors had in charge. They were simply paying off an indebtedness shouldered by themselves in order to establish the Society. He endorsed Mr. Cahill's suggestion regarding town and county representatives.

There was discussion on Mr. Cahill's motion, principally on the question of the hour of meeting. Mr. Cahill moved it be four o'clock in the afternoon next Friday, as it would be unfair to the farmers to ask them to come to town at night; but Mr. Rutherford objected, as he would not be able to lose the afternoon in order to attend. Mr. Cahill and Mr. Rutherford engaged in a little passage-at-arms, which greatly amused the spectators, and finally the motion carried, Mr. Cahill's amendment included.

THE POWDER MAGAZINE.

A couple of communications were read regarding a powder magazine.

Mr. D. W. Dumble offered to sell the council a half acre of ground on lot 12, Monaghan, south of the wind-mill lot, west of Mr. Sheffield's.

Mr. G. M. Roger sent in a protest against the erection of the powder magazine on park lot 20, near the quarry, on the ground that it would depreciate the value of property in the neighborhood. This is the lot belonging to Mr. Thos Bradburn.

The Mayor said everybody appeared to be scared about the location of the powder magazine, but he considered if it was properly built there would be no risk. He could not see what Mr. Roger had to complain of. Mr. Bradburn's lot appeared to him to be the best site.

Mr. DAWSON protested against the Mayor's suggestion on the ground that a quarry was the worst place in the world they could put it; then it was in the west end of the town, which was growing so rapidly; thirdly they were paying too much for the lot and the magazine. He wanted it put out of the corporation.

Mr. DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Mr. CAMILL, that the council advertise for a suitable site for a powder magazine.

The MAYOR said he had already made a bargain with Mr. Bradburn, for his lot, but if the council didn't choose they need not stick to it.

Mr. RUTHERFORD argued with Mr. Dawson against the lot in the quarry.

Mr. CAHILL urged that the Mayor stick to his bargain, as the corporation could not afford to go back on the word of its chief officer.

Mr. DAWSON wanted to know when the Mayor was authorized to buy the property.

Mr. KELLY replied that a by-law authorizing the Mayor to purchase a site for the magazine had been passed at a previous meeting. They made no objection to it then, but now they come and pretend to know nothing of it because in the meantime they have been spoken to by some one against it.

Mr. RUTHERFORD and Mr. DAWSON made vigorous rejoinders, Mr. KELLY was pugnacious, and further amusement was caused by the three councillors indulging in a lively three-cornered debate.

The MAYOR said he had not taken much responsibility, they could get no one to sell them any of the lots they examined, except Mr. Bradburn. In any case he had never heard in his life of a powder magazine being blown up. He did not think there was any cause for the fright about powder magazines. There are hundreds of pounds of powder now stored within a few hundred yards of the council chamber, and there was no trouble raised.

Mr. HARTLEY did not give much weight to the objections against the quarry. The magazine needed to be in an accessible position.

Mr. LANGFORD thought if the Mayor could honorably get out of his agreement it would be better, for there was no doubt the magazine would depreciate the value of property in that vicinity.

Mr. Davidson's motion was put and declared carried.

The council then adjourned.

SAILSBURY BROS.

The Market Building Mishap.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—With regard to the slight accident that has occurred to the market building, I do not see anything to be alarmed about. It is quite local, and capable of easy and speedy repair. The cause, I am persuaded, lay in the position of the two iron columns near the corner pier. They are laid on ends of walls with openings on one side in the cellar walls. Had there been no openings in these walls, the columns would have held all right and there would have been no mishap. The trouble is at this one point of the building.

It can easily be remedied, without the least fear of danger now or at any future time. As to the foundation, I do not believe there is any quicksand; if there were a yielding at the bottom, the pier would go down bodily and the structure would be fractured upwards—it would not crunch. It is the stiffness and soundness of the foundation, in resisting the drop of the bressummers supporting the great weight above, on the top of the corner pier, caused by the kicking out at the bottom of the metal columns beneath, towards the unsupported open spaces—the weak spots—in the cellar walls, that caused the crushing of the pier. Columns designed to support heavy superstructures should not be placed on stilts, nor at the ends or edges of walls not specially prepared to receive them.

The whole building is of a most substantial permanent character, and capable of sustaining a load of ten times the factor of safety or any burthen it will be called upon to bear up.

Sunday School Institute.

Opening Session in St. Andrew's Church —Two Interesting Subjects Discussed.

There was not a very large attendance at the opening sederunt of the Sunday School Institute in the school room of St. Andrew's church last night. A larger audience is expected to-day. There were between 40 and 50 people, mostly Sunday School workers belonging to the town, at the first session. Rev. A. Bell occupied the chair.

Rev. JAS. MCEWAN, of Lakefield, spoke on the "Qualifications of Sunday School teachers." He divided his subject into four heads, or four prime qualifications, viz., first, a personal communion with a personal Saviour, or learning of Christ from Christ; second, such a grasp of the Scriptures along the line of sin and salvation as would enable the teacher to teach, to take hold of the pupils; third, a knowledge of human nature, an insight into the characters and capabilities of the pupils individually and collectively; fourth, patience in the process and results of the work.

Rev. D. A. THOMSON, of Hastings, then read a paper on the Assembly's plan for higher religious instruction. This plan he explained has been in operation in the old country for a number of years, and in the year, 1886 nearly four thousand Sunday school pupils sent in papers for the examination, out of about 35,000 pupils studying. The pupils are divided into two classes, junior and senior, the first ranging from 12 to 16 years of age, and the latter from 16 to 25. A set of subjects are assigned them for study by the Assembly, and the last year these were the Shorter Catechism, the International Scheme of Lessons, the Life and Times of David, and the Reformation. Both classes study the same subjects, but the questions submitted to the junior pupils are much simpler than those given the older ones. The papers are examined by men appointed by the Assembly and prizes given according to merit. A student is not compelled to take up all four subjects, but may confine himself to one if he chooses.

The plan appeared to meet with the approval of those present, and the number of questions asked manifested an interest in the scheme. The plan has been adopted in Rev. Messrs. Thomson and McEwan's Sunday schools, and judging from the discussion of the subject at Monday night's meeting the plan will probably be introduced in the Presbyterian Sunday schools of Peterborough.

After the closing exercises the meeting adjourned till this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The institute will be concluded to-night by a final meeting beginning at eight o'clock.

Ashburnham Brevities.

The Rev. George Warren, of Lakefield, will conduct the services in St. Luke's church, on Sunday next, and the Rev. J. W. McCleary will do similar duty at Lakefield.

If the authorities of the town wish to take a few lessons on constructing public buildings, they had better cross the river, where this kind of work is done in a systematic, workmanship manner.

The concert in connection with St. Luke's temperance society, held Tuesday evening was as great a success as the previous two held this year. The attendance was good, the room being crowded, and the programme was everything that could be desired—better than many for which 25 and 50 cents are charged. The dialogue "Love of a Bonnet" kept the audience in roars of laughter. Special mention is unnecessary in any of the other pieces as they were all good. Following is the programme in full:—

Fifty Years in the Fur Trade.

Fifty years have passed since the senior of the firm entered and, without interruption, followed that trade, which has been carried on successfully in Peterborough for the last twenty-nine years. Perseverance, economy, and experience have, in spite of reckless opposition ending in failure, made our business a success. The great drawback experienced is, that most of the public have not the knowledge of the different grades in fur goods sold; hence it is that imitations of costly furs, as well as dyed furs used to represent the best goods, serve to bring good profits to unprincipled traders.

It is surprising to know that some people go to Toronto with the mistaken belief of being able to buy cheaper there than here, whereas former residents of Peterborough come here from Toronto, well knowing their ability to get a good article much cheaper in our establishment, and numerous are the letters which we receive from customers, we have never seen, from distances, acknowledging our efforts to serve the public well.

"Government Analysis"

The government sent an Inspector through the Dominion to ascertain the extent of adulteration in coffee. On anylizing samples purchased from grocers, not one out of fifty were found pure, as the government report will show. It also shows that amongst the few houses found selling pure coffee the Palace grocery is one of them, no adulteration whatever being result of analysis. My coffee trade has so increased I am obliged to have it ground by water power and use "Quirk's" water moter, for grinding (the only one used in Peterborough) saving time and labour. If you want good coffee warranted pure, and choice groceries, at lowest prices call at ALEX. ELLIOTT'S, Palace Grocery. dw

How to Lace Your Shoes.

Not one person in a thousand laces his shoes correctly. The correct way is to put your foot when you are about to lace your shoe as much as possible in the heel of the shoe. You can do this best by lacing your shoes with the heel of your shoe resting in a chair standing in front of the one you are seated on. Over the instep the lacing should be drawn as tightly as possible. This will hold your foot back in the shoe, giving the toes freedom and preventing their being cramped. Lace about the ankle to suit your comfort.—New York Truth.

COUGHLIN'S AND O'SULLIVAN'S DESPERATE DEFENCE.

Witnesses Say the Detective was at the Police Station and the Iceman at Home on the Fatal Night.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The first witness in the Cronin trial yesterday was Policeman Redmond McDonald. He testified that he saw Dan Coughlin at the East Chicago-avenue station between 8.45 and 9 o'clock on the night of the murder.

On cross-examination witness fixed the time at 9 to 9.10 o'clock. The fact was developed that witness was a member of Camp 20 Clan-na-Gael. He remembered seeing Coughlin that night. About a week after, when Coughlin's name was first mixed up in the affair witness mentioned the fact to Officer Scott, who was also a member of Camp No. 20, but did not speak of it to others for fear that, as a member of the camp, he would get mixed up in the matter. He acknowledged that this fear had kept him from speaking, notwithstanding the peril which his silence left his friend Coughlin in. Last Saturday witness first told Capt. Schuettler about the matter.

Witness was asked when he first learned that Coughlin's name was connected with the horse that drove Cronin away.

"I think about a week after, when they first got to writing it in the papers."

"In what paper did you read about Coughlin being connected with the horse and buggy?"

"I do not know."

"Was that before the body was found?"

"Yes."

"Do you not know that Coughlin's name was never connected with that in the public press until May 25, three days after the discovery of Cronin's body?" [Sensation].

Witness (hesitatingly): "It was written in the papers about him in connection with the rig from Dinan's."

Wm. Mulcahy testified he had known O'Sullivan since April 4. He was not a member of the Clan-na-Gael. A few days after he met O'Sullivan he was with him on an ice wagon when they met a man who resembled Coughlin. The latter asked O'Sullivan if he was acquainted at Lake View and he said yes, and asked if he knew a young man named Kunze if he saw him to telephone to the Chicago-avenue police station and tell him I want to see him. Witness had heard O'Sullivan speak of his contract with Cronin. The witness, who was an employe of O'Sullivan, complained that one of his feet hurt him, and O'Sullivan told witness to go and see Dr. Cronin about it as he (O'Sullivan) had a contract with Cronin to take care of his men. This was said in the presence of O'Sullivan's other men. O'Sullivan also told the men on another occasion that he contracted with a doctor to attend any one that was hurt on the ice wagon. Witness said that in the latter part of April James Meahan, one of O'Sullivan's men went to the office of The Lake View Record and got a lot of O'Sullivan's newly printed cards. He gave witness about fifty of them and witness distributed them. On the day of the murder witness testified that O'Sullivan and he were on the ice wagon and they had supper together. Both read during the evening, going to bed at the same time and sleeping in the same bed. Later on two of O'Sullivan's men and a carpenter who was working there came to the door. They were let in. After that Mrs. Whalen came into the room to get a coal and spoke to O'Sullivan. Witness further testified that he had heard the conversation between old man Carlson and O'Sullivan about the tenants of the Carlson cottage. The old man testified that O'Sullivan said he knew them and that they were all right. Witness testified that O'Sullivan said he knew none of them.

On cross-examination witness said O'Sullivan was not out of the house after supper and that he went to bed about 9 o'clock. The men who were out came in at 10 or 10.20 o'clock.

The cross-examination of Mulcahy took a sensational turn, the evident intention being to direct suspicion towards the witness as the man who drove the white horse which drew Cronin to his death. The witness, however, denied that he had ever worn a beard similar to that of the man identified as the man having driven the buggy.

Thomas Whalen, a cousin of Patrick O'Sullivan, was the next witness. His wife kept a boarding house at which O'Sullivan and his men lived. He was not a member of any Irish society. He testified that on Sunday, May 5, when he returned from work he found the two Hylands with O'Sullivan at his house. They all had supper together. He remained at home when O'Sullivan and the two men went out and was there when O'Sullivan returned half an hour later. He remembered the night before that O'Sullivan sat next him at supper. About 8.30 his wife and sister went out and O'Sullivan and some of the other men were sitting in the kitchen. Soon after the women went out, about 8.45, O'Sullivan went to bed.

"Was there anything to call your attention to that?" asked the lawyer.

"My little girl ballooed at them. She was in the rocking chair and he started back and came and kissed my little girl. I went to bed about half an hour after O'Sullivan."

The first witness at the afternoon session was William M. Glenn, a reporter for The Inter Ocean. He testified that one week after the murder Mrs. Conklin told him the white horse brought to her door from Dinan's livery stable in no way resembled the horse behind which Cronin rode on that fatal night. The one which Captain Sbaack brought she said was a jaded old nag while that which took Cronin away was a spirited animal.

Robert Boyington, one of the inmates of O'Sullivan's house, corroborated in detail the testimony of the iceman's other witnesses.

Edward Jones, a reporter for The Daily News, testified that with another reporter he went to the Carlson cottage several days after the discovery of Cronin's body. A story had been told that morning in a vague way about the Carlson cottage and as a joke on the way there they got some cotton batting and a piece of liver, the blood from which they smeared upon the cotton. They went into the cellar and put some blood stained batting in the chinks, in the ceiling and in some rat holes in the floor. The witness denied he had put it there to furnish material for a sensation in his paper. On cross-examination the witness said neither he nor the other reporter put any of their blood-stained batting in the cottage upstairs.

James Knight, another of O'Sullivan's employes, corroborated the evidence to establish an alibi for the iceman.

The next witness was James Minnehan, also an employe of O'Sullivan's. His testimony was in line with his fellow-workmen. He testified to distributing the iceman's cards throughout the neighborhood with a view to working up trade.

Jacob Schaar, a trunk maker, testified that the trunk, which is supposed to have contained Cronin's body, was made in his factory. It was, he said, a common kind of trunk which has been on the market for years and is sold to dealers indiscriminately. The lock was of a kind that he was in the habit of buying by the hundred dozen.

A VICTORY FOR THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT

The Chamber of Deputies Rejects Urgency for Constitutional Revision by an Overwhelming Majority—Tirard's Speech.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—M. Floquet, President of the Chamber of Deputies, delivered an address to the Chamber yesterday. He declared he would endeavor to sink all personal predilections, and assured the members the liberty of the Tribune. All France, he said, had manifested a desire that concord should prevail among her representatives. He therefore appealed to all the forces of democracy to rally around the Republicans.

M. Tirard, the Prime Minister, also addressed the chamber. He indicated the policy the Government would follow and emphasized the necessity of fulfilling France's desire for peace. He declared the Government's course in strengthening the armaments of the country had for its only object her defence from exterior attack. The country, he said, desired a business instead of a speculative policy. Questions like the revision of the constitution and the separation of church and state must be abandoned. He announced the Government would introduce land tax and liquor bills.

Continuing, he promised reforms that would render the administration of justice cheaper. The budget for 1891 would show a real and solid equilibrium. Public works, harbors, canals and railways would be expedited and there would be reforms in land and liquor taxation. Referring to the treaties of commerce expiring in 1892 he said the economic regime of France would necessarily occupy an important place in the labors of the House, and the chambers of commerce and arts and agriculture associations would soon be consulted and invited to guide the Government in the difficult task of deciding the tariffs. M. Tirard said: "While laboring to complete our military organization we loudly affirm that our sole desire is an honorable and dignified peace, befitting a great nation that is confident of its strength and rights. Let us then labor to get her to complete the organization of the Democracy. You have a right to demand of us persevering firmness. We need your confidence. In communicating to you our plans we ask your co-operation in the name of the Republic."

In conclusion he said the Government awaited a vote of confidence by the Chamber. If the Chamber refused to pass a vote of confidence the Cabinet would immediately resign.

M. Mangan (Radical) moved that urgency be granted for the consideration of the question of a revision of the constitution.

M. Tirard appealed to the Chamber to set aside all such questions which he said created divisions among the Republicans.

M. Mangan's motion was rejected, 345 to 123. This victory for the Government was received with cheers.

THE HARVEY PETITION.

Presented to the Minister of Justice—Nearly 3200 Signatures.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—Ven. Archdeacon Dixon and Dr. Lett of Guelph arrived here yesterday morning bearing the petition for the commutation of the sentence passed on Wm. H. Harvey by Mr. Justice Street at the late Assizes in that city. They were accompanied by Mr. John Small, M. P., who personally takes a deep interest in the matter, and Dr. Pyne of Toronto.

The petition which they brought with them is bound in book form and is a bulky document containing 3270 signatures from thirty-four cities, towns and villages. The body of the petition is lengthy and sets forth the circumstances of the murder and the sentence; the social position, educational attainments and citizenship of the condemned man, urges in strong terms the testimony of the medical experts and their experience in the treatment of mental disease and cites the prisoner's extraordinary conduct and actions prior to and after the tragedy in support of the contention that he was irresponsible.

The deputation waited on the Minister of Justice yesterday morning. They were courteously received, and Sir John Thompson listened to their arguments attentively. The Archdeacon urged the reprieve on the ground, not of maudlin sentiment, but that as the spiritual adviser of the condemned man, he was morally convinced that he had no inward consciousness of the murders, but only knew of them from external circumstances.

Dr. Lett and Dr. Pyne gave evidence as to the man's state of mind, and urged the number of 3270 signatures to the petition, all obtained within one week. The Minister promised to take the matter into careful consideration.

Dr. Pyne did not give evidence at the trial, but had he anticipated such a sentence he would have volunteered his evidence as to Harvey's undoubted insanity.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—Lord and Lady Stanley and the vice-regal party arrived in the city at 11 o'clock yesterday morning via the Canadian Pacific Railway, after a two months' absence in the Northwest and British Columbia. The engine and tender were decorated with flags and festoons of evergreens. No formal arrangements for a reception had been made, but quite a number of persons were present at the station, where a posse of the Dominion police was drawn up and a deputation from the City Council, consisting of the Mayor, Ald. McLean, Henri and Gordon, were present to tender the city's welcome.

Redecoration of the Famed Windsor Castle Corridor—William the Godabout—Princess Christian's Eyesight Improved.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The redecoration of the corridor of Windsor Castle has just been completed at a cost of several thousand pounds. The work has been constantly in progress all the year except when the Queen has been at the castle. The new design, which was chosen by Princess Beatrice, is of sage green. In the corridors are a large number of splendid cabinets, many of which are filled with china, one set of rose du barri being valued at £30,000. At the upper end of the corridor is a bust of Gordon, close to which is his pocket Bible enclosed in crystal. Guests for the Queen's dinner party invariably assemble in the corridor, as the oak room, where Her Majesty lunches and dines, opens from it, and also to the door hangs Fred Angell's celebrated portrait of Beaconsfield, next to it being a curious portrait of George II. The Queen's private apartments are in the immediate vicinity of the corridor, and three drawing-rooms—the white, the green, and the red—open from it. The decoration of the corridor is the most important work of the kind that has been carried out in the private apartments since the grand dining-room at the northeast corner of the castle was splendidly redecorated in cream and gold just before the jubilee. This room contains a magnificent carved sideboard of rosewood, and also a gold punch bowl and ladle for which George IV. paid 10,000 guineas.

A general hope is expressed in court and official circles in Berlin that the Emperor will now be content to remain at home, for it is quite a novelty to hear of a Kaiser rushing about Europe, and the old Emperor William would have been horrified at his grandson's love of wandering. as he thought that a sovereign ought never to quit his domain unless absolutely obliged to do so.

The sight of Princess Christian is better, and though she is still kept in a darkened room, and the sight of one eye is much impaired, Dr. Pagenstueber is confident that it is only a temporary weakness.

The bed which the German Emperor and Empress occupied during their visit to the Sultan was of solid silver, with oriental curtains of surpassing richness, heavily embroidered with gold.

The great game of gunnery-brag is over and the authorities have thrown up the sponge. The Victoria's guns are so defective that even the British admiralty dare not send out the ship to carry the flag of the commander-in-chief on the Mediterranean station. One of the 119-ton guns is bent between the trunnions and the muzzle more than 2½ inches out of the straight line, and the worst part of the business is that the Victoria and her sister ship, the Sanspareil, will probably be hors de combat for a long time, as there is no prospect of these monster 110-ton guns being of any use, and it will be a big job to alter the turrets to suit smaller and more serviceable weapons. The Camperdown, which has been selected to take the place of the Victoria, was supplied for the manœuvres with three out of four guns which were defective. The inner tubes split during the test, but the authorities declined to admit it. At the conclusion of the manœuvres these three guns were ordered to be returned. Admiral Rodney was requisitioned for three others to make the Camperdown fit for sea. We now have of first-class battleships ready for sea in all other respects the Howe, Rodney, Trafalgar, Victoria and Sanspareil waiting for guns. Is it not a shame and scandal?

Gladstone will have no revelations to make at Manchester. The Liberal council, which was held last month at Hawarden, decided that it would be inexpedient to give any details regarding the proposed plan of Home Rule, and the Liberal leader will confine himself at Manchester, as at other places, to generalities. MECHANICAL ENGINEERS.

The Convention Opened—Cold Water Thrown on the World's Fair Project.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The opening session of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was held yesterday. There was a large attendance. H. W. Towne presided. In his annual address he referred to the tour recently made through Europe by members of the society. Referring to the Paris Exposition the speaker said it took five years to get the building ready and he was unable to understand how the American World's Fair could be got ready by 1892. In fact it was impossible. Mr. Towne thought the idea ought to be abandoned.

Attempted Wholesale Assassination.

IRONWOOD, Mich., Nov. 20.—Three dynamite cartridges were exploded under the Alcazar Theatre at Harley late Monday night. Fortunately the explosive was so placed that the building was but slightly damaged and no one in the audience of 400 was killed. The attempt at wholesale assassination caused great excitement but there is no clue to the perpetrators.

THE LADIES!

A New and Distinct Form of Disease which is Afflicting Canadian Women.

How some of Them Regained Fresh Complexion, Perfect Health and Superb Physical Beauty.

A great London Physician says that he notes a new and distinct form of nervous disease produced in Canadian women by worry about servants and overwork in caring for the home. This is only too true. It is why we see so many ladies pale, weak, languid, and suffering from headaches and innumerable weaknesses. They cannot stand the strain upon their nervous system. Many of them have found the means to sustain their failing strength, to give color to the cheeks, and new life and vigor to the body, in Paine's Celery Compound. This pure and scientific remedy is exquisitely adapted to the needs of women, and is daily making the most remarkable cures. Mrs. W. E. Cooper, 20 St. Hyacinthe St., Montreal, was for a long time troubled with nervous headaches, loss of appetite, low spirits, etc. After using the Compound, her headaches disappeared, appetite was good, and her spirits revived.

Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette, P.Q., found the Compound a certain cure for weakness, and now looks as well as she ever did.

Many a Canadian lady has the same reason to be grateful.

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., MONTREAL.

The Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1889.

Sunday School Institute.

The Second Proceeding.

At 2.30 o'clock the institute resumed in St. Andrew's church, Rev. A. Bell, pastor in the chair. After prayer by Rev. Mr. Torrance.

REV. JOHN MCEWAN of Lakefield introduced the subject of "God's way of Teaching the Bible" after referring to the importance of the subject he stated that Bible study as dealt with in the International series of lessons, had been practised nineteen years. The mechanical structure of the Bible, as contrasted with the books of other systems, was pointed out as exceedingly compact, full of condensed research. There were sixty-six different portions of the Bible, written by about 36 different writers, whose work extended over a course of 1600 years. These were written in six different lands. Such diverse elements of agency, producing a work of such great unity and continuity of the same thought along the same line—ruined by sin, redeemed by Christ,—was wonderful. Manifestation, Application, Experience and Outlook, cover the great development of good will towards man as found in His Word.

The six books devoted to the Manifestation of God were Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers. These books studied with this idea would be studied intelligently. The first five books of the New Testament were of the same character. The next step was the Application of these manifestations to the heart and mind of man. In the Old Testament there were twelve books of Application from Judges to II Chronicles, and in the New Testament the Acts of the Apostles. In the Old Testament there were five books of Experience dealing with the afflictions of man, were devoted by God to the working out of man's good—the book of Job, and Psalms, Proverbs, etc. In the New Testament the same Experience was also unfolded in the epistles—church experience and personal experience in the church. The twelve last books of the Old Testament dealt with the idea of Outlook, and in the New Testament the book of Revelation had the same brand.

The next phase of the subject was that God spake through groups of persons who gave different portions of his mind toward man, and at different time. Adam's period and that of Noah were instanced and illustrated by striking examples and illustrations. In the latter the first allusion was made to the redeeming blood. In Abraham we had the institution of circumcision to show that God marked his people for his own by the shedding of blood, and we had the establishment of the family. In Moses we see family life developing into national life on so on through all the rest of the groups and portions, culminating in the crowning portion of Christ.

HOW TO TEACH THE CATECHISM.

Rev. Mr. TORRANCE began by laying down the principle that the teacher should make himself familiar with the meaning of the answers to the questions. This was not easy, because these answers contained a vast amount of truth condensed into small space. To get the meaning of the answers is to understand every word in every answer. Next a careful analysis of the answer should be made. The relation of the explanatory text to the different parts of the answer should be clearly understood. The teacher must look at each answer and question as they related to the preceding and following.

In comment, Rev. Mr. MCEWAN suggested the importance of knowing the history of the Shorter Catechism. This knowledge would add zest to the teaching.

The attendance at the afternoon session, owing to the continuous rain, was slight.

Evening Meeting.

The rain prevented a large attendance, but the proceedings were most interesting. Rev. Mr. McEwan's address was highly appreciated by all present.

His subject was "Vital Steps in the Teaching Process." The speaker first explained what he meant by teaching, not telling a thing. Teaching was causing another to know what the teacher knew, therefore if a thing was known only vaguely it could not be taught clearly. There must be regular steps in teaching, and these steps must be followed by results. There are different modes of teaching, but not different methods.

The first vital step in the process of teaching was Contact between the teacher and and pupils. They must get into touch with each other, there must be a magnetic influence between them, and this could not be had unless conditions were favorable. The speaker instanced the seating of pupils as an important factor. They should not be strung out on one long bench, but compactly seated in a circle about the teacher. But there must be mental as well as physical contact, and the level of a child's knowledge must be reached before there can be any contact. Teachers became effective only in so far as they got down to where the pupils are in moral, social and spiritual life. Contact once gained, if discrimination is used, is never lost.

A second vital step was taken by the pupil, viz., Impression. Primary classes are more susceptible to impressions than senior classes. The speaker exemplified this point by an actual instance of his own knowledge.

The third step was Mutual Recognition, a sympathetic feeling between teacher and pupil, each recognizing that they have been touched by the other.

The fourth step was Attention, a thing so difficult to get as to keep. It is the duty of the teacher to study the natural disposition. The conditions of attention are perfect quiet and order.

The fifth step was Co-operation. There could be no teaching without it. The process in securing co-operation was—1 Have something to teach; 2 present it to the class by some method; 3 get back from the pupil what the teacher has given, and if in the pupil's own language the better; take that part of a sentence in which there is some truth, and if nothing results begin again in another and better form.

The sixth step was instruction.

The seventh step was assimilation. This was illustrated by the example of a class of young men of bad habits. One of them reverses his course and turns from his evil ways and hears the sneers of his companions. What has caused it? Some truth has lodged in his heart and so assimilated that he must break away from his sin.

The eighth step was conviction.

The ninth step was habit.

The tenth and last step was character.

Rev. Mr. McEwan then classified the ten subjects under three comprehensive heads, as follows:—

Approach—Contact, impression, recognition and attention.

Process—Co-operation, instruction and assimilation.

Product—Conviction, habit and character.

A few questions were asked, and the Institute closed with devotional exercises.

Warsaw.

A New Court of Foresters to be Established.

On Tuesday evening, December 3rd, Mr. H. Nesbitt, D.D.H.C.R., will institute a new Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters at Warsaw. The indications are that the new Court will open with a membership of between thirty and forty. Persons in the vicinity are requested to remember the date fixed for organization—Dec. 3rd next, to which date the examination meeting is postponed from Nov. 26th.

A Business-like Offer.

For many years the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have offered, in good faith, $500 reward for a case of Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure. The remedy is sold by druggists at only 50 cents. This wonderful remedy has obtained a world wid reputation. If you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; if the eyes are watery and inflamed; if there is a ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice being changed and has a nasal twang; the breath offensive; smell and taste impaired; sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility, you are suffering from nasal catarrh. The more complicated your disease, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more successfully treated by physicians. b

Peculiarities of the Hair.

There are times when all persons require to pay some particular attention to the hair. To rekindle the life on energy of the roots is a simple matter if taken in time. Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic will do the word, it works in accordance with nature, supplys fresh nourishment to the glands keeper, the hair luxuriant and natural in shade. Be sure to get, you cannot afford to miss it. Every druggist sells it. It is money well spent. See Dorenwends advertisement in another column.

An Awful Sore Limb

Skin Entirely Gone. Flesh a mass of disease. Leg Diminished one third in size. Condition hopeless. Cured by Cuticura Remedies in two months.

Cured by Cuticura.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It diminished about one third the size of the other and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and the result was as follows:—After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to day, and for nearly two years past my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen. S. G. Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

GOLD IN NEWMARKET.

Thirty Five Thousand Dollars Cached by a Boodler Unearthed.

TORONTO, Nov. 18.—The Kansas City treasure, which Mr. Andrew C. Drumm brought into Canada a few weeks ago, has found its way into the strong box of the Toronto Detective Department. Drumm, who was arrested by Detectives Davis and Alf. Cuddy a week ago last Saturday, at the Arlington Hotel, on a charge of embezzlement, grew weary with the weight of a serious charge hanging over him and it only needed a few insists from the depleted Major Drumm and some persuasive proofs from the detectives to induce him to consent to give his valuable assistance in finding the treasure.

The big sum was "reclaimed" on Saturday night. Detectives Davis and Alf. Cuddy, accompanied by the prisoner, left town on the 5.50 p.m. train on the Northern Railway for Newmarket, reaching that place after nightfall. They hired a rig and drove off into the country. Drumm led the way to a bush, where two weeks ago he had buried thousands of dollars in notes and gold. Two tin cans were found stuffed full of United States bank bills and United States gold. The cans were buried about 18 inches under the ground, about ten yards from each other. The cans had evidently been made for the purpose, being 12 inches long, 6 inches wide and about two inches thick.

After securing the haul the detectives were not slow in getting back to Newmarket. It was then nearly midnight. Here they secured a conveyance and drove to the city with the boodle and boodler, reaching Police Headquarters at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The cans which were well soldered, were broken open and the contents tumbled out on Sergeant Detective Reburn's ample table. They contained in all $31,620, consisting of $10 and $20 gold pieces to the amount of $3770, and the rest of notes of the denominations $5, $10, $100, $500 and $10,000.

The search did not end here. After getting some refreshment the party started out again at 10 o'clock and drove north as far as St. Michael's Cemetery. In the field alongside of it another rich find was made. Mr. Drumm led the way to a well marked spot where, after a few minutes' delving, a little tin box was unearthed. It was little, not more than five inches by four and about three inches deep, but it was full freighted with value. It contained $3590 in gold.

Having got possession of the box the party hurried to their carriage and again drove to headquarters. A balmy message was sent to the old Major at the Queen's telling him of the success of the treasure trove expedition, and another was sent to Col. Denison. At 2 o'clock the prisoner was brought before the magistrate and an order from Mr. Justice Falconbridge for bail being produced, the same was granted at $100,000, Major Andrew Drumm at $50,000 and the prisoner at $50,000. Mr. Justice Falconbridge granted the bail order Saturday evening.

Killed on the Track.

MILTON, Nov. 18.—Patrick Conners, a farm laborer, was making his way homeward Saturday evening on foot and when at the Canadian Pacific Railway crossing near this station was caught by the passenger train due here at 7.14. It is supposed that he intended walking down the track and as the evening was very dark was probably trying to crawl across the cattle guard when the engine struck him on the head, cutting the top off and killing him instantly.

THE ALTON FLOOD.

Danger of an Epidemic—The Relief Committee Resigns.

ALTON, Nov. 19.—At the annual meeting of the Caledon Board of Health yesterday the Medical Health Officer, Dr. James Algie, read a special report regarding the Alton flood in which he pointed out the great danger of an epidemic of typhoid, malaria or diphtheria from the four or five feet of mud in each pond and scattered along the valley.

At a public meeting of the citizens the resignations of the relief committee were tendered and accepted owing to the legal proceedings seeking to establish the liability of the municipality for the losses incurred, the fact that some of the heaviest losers decline to receive aid from public contributions and the smallness of the subscriptions. The amounts received so far will be handed over to the Caledon Board of Health to be applied in clearing away the debris.

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 883 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The government sent an inspector through the Dominion to ascertain the extent of adulteration in coffee. A Painfully Sad Death.
The sad news was received this morning of the death, at Sault Ste Marie, on Tuesday, of the wife of Mr. R. Latimer, both former residents of this town. The marriage (about a year ago) of the young couple will be fresh in the memory of their friends, and the sad termination of a promising future of domestic happiness, will cast a gloom over the social circle in town, in which Mr. and Mrs. Latimer were so highly esteemed. A few days since the EXAMINER published the record of the almost simultaneous birth and death of an infant, and now we get the sad news of the death of the young mother. Mrs. Latimer was a sister of Mr. W. Daly, 87 London street, and a former resident of Nagasee, and her mortal remains will be conveyed to that place for interment. The afflicted young husband will have the hearty sympathy of his wide circle of friends in his peculiarly painful bereavement.

Military Presentation.

Capt. Mason Remembered by His Men—A Highly Complimentary Address.

A pleasant event took place last evening at the drill shed, when Capt. Mason, the efficient and popular commanding officer of "A" company, was presented with a handsome sword and address. The gift was presented by Sergt. J. H. Smith, the address being read by Corp. D. S. Harvie, as follows:

To Capt. E. A. Mason:

DEAR SIR,—The non commissioned officers and men of "A" company desire to congratulate you upon your deserved promotion to the position you now hold. We are pleased you have been promoted to the position, for which you are eminently fitted by natural ability and acquired knowledge. You have been connected with this company for a long time, having first entered its ranks to serve your Queen and country as a private, and none of your friends have watched your advancement through these successive stages, to the honored rank you now hold, with more pleasure than those who were your comrades in the ranks and those who now with pleasure serve under you. Honest ability and devotion to duty are what secures promotion in the Canadian militia, and we gladly see that these merits which you possess in a marked degree, have been recognised in your case and that they have brought the reward that is thus due. We ask you to kindly accept from us this sword, which is given as a token of the esteem in which you are held by the men of "A" company, and while we cherish the hope that the horrors of war will long be unknown in Canada, we know that you will be ever ready to draw it in defence of your country and queen.

Signed on behalf of the company,
SERGT. J. H. SMITH, CORP. W. BELLEGHEM,
" T. TREE. " D. H. Harvie,
" P. Corkery.

Capt. Mason, in his reply, said he was so much taken by surprise that he scarcely knew how to begin to thank the officers and men of the company for the handsome gift with which he had been presented. He asserted he had done nothing more than his duty in being considered deserving of such a token of esteem, and he would ever prize it, not for its intrinsic value, but for the regard the men had shown him. At the conclusion of the presentation he was congratulated in a few neat little speeches by Lieut. Lee, Sergt.-Major Randle, Sergt. Smith and Corps. Belleghem and Harvie, and other officers of the battalion.

NOTES.

The "A" company prizes were also given out to the best drilled and most regular attending recruits, presented by Capt. Mason:—1st H. Bryson, $3; 2nd W. Thompson, $2; 3rd A. Armstrong, $1.

Private Jos. Cranfield, of "A" company, was winner of the special prize given by Major Edwards, for being the cleanest and neatest man in the battalion. He was also complimented by the D.A.G., the inspecting officer, WEDDING.—On Wednesday evening, the 13th inst., the residence of Thomas Telford was the scene of a pleasant party, which assembled to celebrate the marriage of his youngest daughter, Jessie Watson Telford, to Richard Alfred Record, of Ashburnham, salesman and overseer of the large furniture establishment of Mr. Bellegbeam. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. D. S. Hosck, of Bridgenorth. The bridegroom was assisted by Mr. Thomas Telford, brother of the bride, and the bride by Miss Jane Wilson, of the township of Cavan. Although being strictly a family party of both houses, the bride's presents were numerous and well selected, being both useful and ornamental. On Thursday they left for their future home in Ashburnham, with the best wishes and congratulations of their many friends.

Lakefield Cheese Factory

Annual Meeting—Congress of Patrons—Supper and Song—Oysters and Oratory—Bivalves and Business.

The closing of the business year of the Lakefield Cheese factory was celebrated at the factory on Monday evening. The supper and entertainment was held in the spacious curing room of the factory, which had been comfortably seated, and gayly decorated with wreaths and festoons in honour of the occasion. The patrons of the factory, which is owned and operated by Mr. J. W. Moore, take great pride in it and are justly proud of the prominent position it occupies in the front ranks of the great cheese producing industry. Most of the patrons were present and their wives and daughters, as well as many others. A gentleman from Guelph who was present, said that though he was accustomed to such gatherings he had never before seen so many handsome girls assembled—and being a bachelor he prides himself on being a connoisseur. The order of proceedings included a supper, excellent in quality and extensive in quantity, consisting of oysters and substantial complements. Tea supper was of a pic nic variety; the patrons brought well filled baskets, and Mr. J. W. Moore the secretary, provided the oysters, tea etc. Over two hundred persons were provided with abundant refreshments.

Then the business of presenting statements to the patrons and cheques, was proceeded with. The evident satisfaction with which these were received showed how well the patrons were pleased with the management of the factory and the consequent good profits. Among the considers who showed their interest in the factory by their presence, were Mr. J. E. Stratton, M. P. P. and Prof. Robertson of the Dairying Department of the Guelph Agricultural College.

Mr. J. W. Moore, sr., occupied the chair. The first number on the musical programme was a song by Miss Nora Phalen—"Dear Spot in Ireland."

The report of the salesman, Mr. J. G. Galvin, was then presented. The past season had been more satisfactory than any previous one. In the beginning of the season the output of the factory was bargained for sale to the Empire Produce Company of Toronto; but this company having failed to organize, it became necessary to dispose of the cheese by private sale. Mr. Clarkson, of Peterborough, had secured the bulk of the cheese, which had brought the top price. In the matter of price, Lakefield factory led the county, as the county of Peterborough had led the province in the same direction.

Mr. Andrew Fairbairn presented the auditor's report, which was adopted.

A condensation of the report of the operations of this factory for the season of 1889, shows that for the six months, beginning with May and ending with October, the total number of pounds of milk delivered at the factory by the 50 patrons was 1,105,571 lbs from which there were made 105 667 lbs of cheese, of the aggregate value of $10,185 28c. The average amount of milk required for one lb of cheese, was 10.46 lbs. The average price obtained for the cheese sold 9 64 cts The largest amount of milk delivered in any one month was in July—230,105 lbs. The amount of milk delivered was 44 328 in excess of last year and of cheese 6,717 and the excess of profits over last year was $1,088.94.

A vocal duet by the Misses Galvin and White was well sung and deservedly applauded.

The Secretary stated that prizes had been offered for the largest deliveries of milk. Mr. T. W. Mann had won the prize of a silver butter cooler for the largest amount of milk sent to the factory, and the prize of an aerator for the largest amount of milk per cow. A silver butter cooler and aerator was also presented to Mr. G. W. Mann, and an aerator each to Mr. R. Nelson and Mr. D. Gillespie.

The next event was a song sung by Miss Whyte, that stirring patriotic hymn "The Maple Leaf."

The election of officers resulted in the re appointment of Mr. J. G. Galvin as salesman, and Mr. Andrew Fairbairn as Secretary.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P., made a brief congratulatory address, excusing himself from lengthened remarks on account of the lateness of the hour. He could see and he saw it with pleasure, that the Lakefield factory was in a most progressive and flourishing condition, evidence of wise and prudent management. Reference was made to the pleasant and beneficial results of such gatherings, and the tendency they exercised towards bringing about that spirit of unity amongst farmers, the importance of which was insisted on and exemplified by humourous illustrations. Recognizing the importance of united action amongst the farmers, he (Mr. Stratton) had taken an active part in the establishment of a Farmers' Institute in this county, and his presence on this occasion afforded him an opportunity of again urging farmers to unite and bring about that co-operation, which all other industries found to be necessary to the protection of their special interests.

A cordial resolution of thanks to Mr. Stark, of Toronto, for his efforts in trying to organize the Empire Produce Company was passed.

Miss Teenie Nelson sang a song entitled "Row Your Boat," in exceedingly sweet voice and good taste. This young lady shows vocal capabilities well worth careful cultivation.

The event of the evening was the address of Prof. Robertson on "Dairy Farming," indicating the importance and profit of it. To begin with he showed that all forms of food, excepting fish, were derived from the soil—the farm.

THAT MAN FARMED SUCCESSFULLY

who selected the best plants to feed the best animals to provide food and made the soil conditions favorable for plant growth. The best seed should be sowed in the soil supplied with the best plant food. The chain of connection between the wants of man and the various services rendered them by animals through the agency of plants, was clearly explained and demonstrated by colored charts. Plants were shown to be an expression of the sun's strength derived from the soil where it was stored in a form suitable for the use of plants. To enable the sun to store his strength in plants the sun must have provided for him suitable plant food in suitable soil. The best plant food was contained in the most profitable form in farmyard manure, and the importance of farmers taking the best care of this most valuable of available fertilizers was clearly pointed out. If the soil is not fed with proper plant food and put in a proper condition to permit the plant to get at it with the greatest facility, there could no be good growth. This condition demanded careful cultivation of the soil and the provision of conditions that would permit nature to do its great and silent work. The next condition was to have proper plants and the best plant for the farm was the corn plant. To show its importance it was stated that there are grown on the Experimental Farm this year 68 varieties, though the tests as to the best food producing varieties were not yet completed. These varieties had various seasons of ripening Prof. Robertson said that what was required was a plant that would reach a fair state of maturity in 100 days. The silo was the best means of preserving fodder corn. As to seeding, the best results were got from sowing about ten pounds to the acre—and just early enough to escape spring frosts. Frequent cultivation was necessary—a ploughing between the rows was as good as a mulch. The word silo was of French origin and meant a pit for

THE PRESERVATION OF GREEN FOOD.

The best means of constructing a silo was explained and illustrated by coloured drawings. Any man who had a barn could build a silo to hold 100 tons, equal in feeding quality for milk to 30 tons of hay. Five acres of good corn will feed sixteen cows through a winter of seven months. Thus cows could be made to milk longer and be more profitable. A convenient waggon platform was illustrated and clearly explained.

A brief intermission interrupted the professor's remarks and was very agreeably filled by a duet sung by the Misses Phalen, which was loudly encored.

Prof. ROBERTSON, continuing, showed that a cow, being a working animal boarding on its owner, should be made to work as long as possible. A cow could be made to milk ten months and a half. Milk a heifer the first calf for nine months and next year she would milk ten and a half months. Cows should be encouraged to milk during the winter when milk was worth most for butter making. A cow could by proper feeding be made to yield $75 per year. A cow should be got into milk in the fall and, if fed properly, she would milk all winter, and when the grass came in the spring there would be as big a flow of milk throughout the summer as though she had calved in April. The best breed of cow to keep was one that paid the highest price for her board.

THE SUSPECTS' ALIBIS

MARTIN BURKE WAS IN A SALOON ON THE FATAL NIGHT.

He Spent Eight Hours at Matt Danahy's Place—Beggs Calls the State's Attorney as a Witness

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Kate McCormick, a sister of Mrs. Thomas Whalen, was the first witness called by the defence in the Cronin case yesterday. She has known O'Sullivan seven years, and May 5 she was at her sister's, having gone there on the afternoon of the 4th. After supper on the Saturday night she went out with Mrs. Whalen at 8.30 o'clock, leaving O'Sullivan sitting in the kitchen with his coat off. Mrs. Whalen's husband was in the sitting room with his two children; the witness and her sister returned to the house after 10 o'clock and were let in by James Minnehan. She and her sister sat up reading for over an hour and then went up-stairs to O'Sullivan's room for a coat. The light was burning in the room and O'Sullivan and Mulcahy were in bed. Witness spoke to the men and took the coat downstairs. She was positive O'Sullivan was in the house when she left at 8.30 and also that he was in his room when she got back. Witness also testified as to the presence of the Hylands there Sunday evening.

Under cross examination the witness became confused, and said while she was sure she was at O'Sullivan's on Sunday night, May 5, she was not quite sure that she was there the preceding night, which was the night of the murder. She however, repeated the story of her shopping expedition with her sister on Saturday night, the 4th, and their return to the house.

Mrs. Tom Whalen was the next witness. She corroborated the testimony given by her sister as to their doings and O'Sullivan's whereabouts on the night of May 4, and on the 5th. Mrs. Whalen further testified that she heard O'Sullivan previous to May 4, speak of his contract with Dr. Cronin at the supper table to the men.

She also testified as to Conklin's visit to O'Sullivan's on May 5 and as to his conversation concerning Cronin's disappearance. Witness was next asked to give her testimony concerning the visit of Mr. Clancy, the New York correspondent who called on O'Sullivan the day that Cronin's body was discovered. Clancy came into the house and made some remark about the discovery of Cronin's body and said: "I have a cab at the door and I want you to go with me and identify the remains." O'Sullivan said: "Why should I go with you, though? I don't know who you are and never saw you before to-day. If a police officer comes and asks me to go I will go with him."

The State's Attorney examined Mrs. Whalen at great length and after learning as to the location of her kitchen windows, suddenly asked:

"Is that the window you used to watch the Carlson Cottage out of?"

"I object to that," said Mr. Forrest. "That assumes that she watched the Carlson cottage."

Mr. Longenecker then modified his question as follows: "Did you not usually sit at that window and watch the Carlson cottage after the fourth of May?"

"Yes, looking at the curiosities over there," replied the witness.

"Did you not do that the day after the 4th of May?"

"No. I had something else to do."

"Did you not sit there and watch every movement of the Carlsons, and also watch that cottage?"

"No, I had no reason to do it, and I did not."

Martin Burke looked interested as a tall young man with a black moustache, took the witness stand. The witness was Matt Danahy, a saloonkeeper at Clark street and Chicago-avenue. On the night of May 4 he came on duty at 7 o'clock and relieved his barkeeper. Martin Burke, P. H. Nolan, Financial Secretary of Camp 20, and Patrick Cooney were in the saloon at the same time. Martin Burke was in the saloon for about eight hours witness said. Wm. Coughlin and John O'Malley came into the saloon during that time and met Burke.

On cross examination the fact was developed that witness was a member of Camp 20, having joined from a Buffalo camp, and had known Burke for a year. Witness denied that he was out riding that night until 11.30 and admitted that he was supplying Burke's meals to him and that he visited Winnipeg some time ago for the purpose of "looking around." He denied that he had ever sent money to Burke at Winnipeg. He was merely passing through Winnipeg on his way to Chicago from the Canadian Northwest. He declared his belief in the innocence of Burke and when questioned as to why he did not inform the State's Attorney of the fact that Burke was in his saloon at the time the murder was committed he replied that he was afraid it would hurt his business to get the notoriety of being mixed up in the matter and subjected to newspaper interviews. He strenuously denied that he applied an apprehrious and obscure epithet to Dr. Cronin when talking of him or had called the dead man a spy. The witness admitted that he was taking an active interest in the case and that he was treasurer of the defense fund.

Wm. F. Coughlin, an employe of the City Health Department, testified in corroboration of Danahy's testimony that he saw Burke in Danahy's saloon on the evening of May 4 about 7 o'clock.

Judge D. J. Lyon testified that on the night of Feb. 20 he and defendant Beggs went to Indianapolis to pay their respects to President Harrison. Beggs wanted to recommend a friend for federal sub-treasurer at Chicago. The witness and Beggs called on President Harrison about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. They returned to Chicago that night. This evidence was introduced to show the character of Beggs' associations with public men.

John F. O'Malley, a clerk in the North Town Assessor's office, testified that he called at Matt Danahy's saloon on the evening of May 4 with William Coughlin.

O'Malley corroborated Danahy's evidence as to Burke.

James Lyman, city contractor and member of the Clan-na-Gael Camp 20, told the story of the meeting of the camp Feb. 8, when a committee was appointed to investigate the statement that the report of the Buffalo trial committee had prematurely been made public in Dr. Cronin's camp. Witness testified that after the resolution to appoint the committee was adopted it was decided that that was not a proper method of procedure, and the whole matter was referred to District Officer Spellman of Peoria. The calls in Camp 20 for the report of a certain committee referred to the Buffalo committee and not to a committee of Camp 20.

Ex-Congressman John F. Finerty, editor of The Citizen, was the next witness. Mr. Finerty said he had been a member of the Clan-na-Gael since 1872 and belonged to Camp 20. He had never heard of an inner circle in it. The witness was a member of the National Convention here of the Clan-na-Gael in 1886, at which Dr. Cronin was chosen a member of the committee to try the triangle.

Matthew P. Brady, lawyer, and a member of the Clan-na-Gael, testified that he had never heard of an inner circle in the organization.

Francis P. Gleason, constable, testified that Beggs was with him at a Republican club meeting at the Grand Pacific Hotel from about 7 to 9 o'clock on the night of the murder.

John Dwyer, a member of the Clan-na-Gael, declared that he had never heard of an inner circle in the organization. On the cross-examination this passage occurred:

"Now this order had what is called an executive body?"

"Yes, sir."

"Were you ever permitted to know the names of this executive body?"

"No, sir."

"That was secret from you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then you don't know whether they had an inner circle or not."

"No, sir."

The State's Attorney: "That is all."

The witness subsequently said on re-direct examination, that each camp elected a delegate and that these delegates as National Assembly selected the Executive as he understood it.

State's Attorney Longenecker was here called as a witness on behalf of defendant Beggs, and was about to be examined by Mr. Foster, Begg's attorney, when Mr. Longenecker said:

"I object to being called as a witness in this case."

Mr. Foster: "Why?"

The State's Attorney: "Because I am prosecuting in the case."

Mr. Foster: "That does not make any difference. You need not comment on your own testimony."

The State's Attorney: "No I shall not do it."

Mr. Foster: "The gentleman does not argue that his testimony is to be believed by the jury."

The Court: "Proceed."

"Were you present at the coroner's inquest in this case?"

"Yes, sir."

"You heard Beggs' testimony on that occasion?"

"I did."

"Did you subsequently cause to be brought before the grand jury the defendant Beggs as a witness?"

"I did."

"Did you examine him before the grand jury?"

Mr. Mills: "We object."

The Court: "I want to know what you mean by this line you are going on Mr. Foster?"

"Mr. Foster: "I mean to show, if your Honor please, that Mr. Beggs voluntarily told the State's Attorney, when a witness before the grand jury, about the Cronin correspondence and the action of Camp 20 in this matter. I propose to show that the first information came from John F. Beggs to Judge Longenecker of the matter being referred to District Officer Spellman. He informed Judge Longenecker as to what correspondence they had and further through Chief of Police Hubbard presented to Judge Longenecker the correspondence in his own behalf. I further offer to prove that after that examination and in pursuance of what Beggs stated under oath Spellman was subpœnaed as a witness before the Grand Jury, and he was interrogated and and furnished letters which Beggs had written to him, in pursuance of the voluntary statement of Beggs in this matter, which the State's Attorney knew nothing about."

The Court: "I think you are entitled to get that before the jury but I am a little sorry at the method you have pursued in getting it."

Foster to Longenecker: "You are now a simple, plain, every day witness and I don't ask you what Beggs told you in detail, but whether or not he told you with reference to the correspondence between him and Spellman?"

Witness: "I will tell it all."

"The Court: "I will not allow him to answer that question, Mr. Foster. You put him in the position of answering it and now how shall he answer it."

Mr. Foster: "I want him treated just the same as any other witness."

The witness: "In answer to your question I say, Yes."

"Now, in pursuance of this information did you cause Mr. Spellman to be examined and subpœnaed?"

"Yes, sir."

"To produce the letters he had written to Beggs?"

"Yes, I had that down at Peoria."

"In pursuance of that you caused letters to be brought into court which Beggs had written?"

"Yes."

"Up to that time you did not know he had written Mr. Spellman any, did you?"

"I did not."

Chief of Police Hubbard testified that Beggs after his arrest directed where to get the letters in Beggs' office.

CANADIAN COMPANIES OFFERING DEBENTURES.

The Fisheries Negotiations—Stanley and His Party Reach Mpwapwa—A Revolting Scandal in Buda-Pesth.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The prospectus was issued for the first issue of a quarter of a million sterling five per cent. mortgage debenture bonds of the Chignecto Marine Transport Company. The issue price is £108 10s per cent. Possibly the capital will be subscribed, owing to the interest on the debentures being secured by the Dominion subsidy, but the scheme is regarded with some doubt in well-informed quarters in the city.

It is said that an important new Anglo-Canadian Trading Company will issue its prospectus during the next few weeks. Its chief business will be the importation of Canadian live stock. The Lord Mayor is largely interested in the enterprise.

Various rumors have been current lately regarding the fishery question. There is good authority for stating that while no doubt Sir Julian Pauncefote is carrying on parleys at Washington, there is no likelihood that any tangible progress is apparent yet. The statement that Sir Charles Tupper is going to Washington is quite unfounded.

Stanley at Mpwapwa.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Captain Wismann telegraphs that Henry M. Stanley arrived at Mpwapwa on Nov. 10. Captain Wismann's despatch is dated Zanzibar, Nov. 20. Besides Stanley all the European members of the expedition and Schinas and Hoffmann and other missionaries have arrived at Mpwapwa. All are well. Captain Wismann expects the party to arrive at Bagamoyo on Dec. 1.

Buda-Pesth Has a Scandal.

BUDA-PESTH, Nov. 21.—The Governor of Buda-Pesth has ordered an inquiry regarding the alleged systematic demoralization of school girls in this city. Some of the victims are said to be of tender years. The accused belong to all classes of society.

Woodstock Cheese Market.

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 21.—At the cheese market 12,000 boxes were boarded, 10 cents offered, no sales.

SOME SPECIAL CABLES

THE LONDON SCANDAL CREATES A SENSATION.

An Investigation Ordered—A Poet's Proceedings Against an Editor—Strange Developments Expected.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—If half the stories afloat are true, London is to have a trial that will develop details as disgusting as those of the Dublin scandal. The latter was brought into court through a libel suit brought against United Ireland by Secretary Cornwall of the General post-office in Ireland. Then the Government decided to prosecute, and it looks as if that prosecution would not be the last of the kind, distasteful as the job must have been. In the present instance the Earl of Euston takes the place of Secretary Cornwall. Lord Euston is the eldest son of the Duke of Grafton. He has instructed Mr. George Lewis to take criminal proceedings against Parke, editor of the new half-penny paper called the North London Press, for having stated that he was one of the principals in the Cavendish street scandal, and that he had been allowed to leave the country in order to defeat justice. Parke is a sub-editor of Mr O'Connor's Star.

THE EMPIRE'S FALL.

A Brazilian Editor's Account of the Birth of the Republic.

PARA, Brazil, Nov. 21.—The republic has been accepted with enthusiasm throughout the northern provinces. The telegrams announcing the deposition of Dom Pedro and the proclamation of the republic at Rio reached here on Friday night and were at once published, not only in the city here, but throughout the province. Not a dissentient voice was heard, and merchants, land owners, officials and even the colored race, who owe their emancipation to Dom Pedro, rejoice over the downfall of the monarchy. Universal suffrage is looked for by all, and for the first time in the history of Brazil, the people will be enabled to participate in the government of the country. Hitherto this has not been the case owing to the qualifications required in order to be allowed to vote, and the impediments placed in the way of those who, being duly qualified, intended to vote. Indeed, Brazil has been a constitutional and free government only in name, and the people look forward to enjoying the free exercise of their suffrage for the first time.

Owing to this universal feeling of dissatisfaction at the concealed despotism which has hitherto prevailed, the revolution, as far as the northern provinces are concerned, at any rate, has been accomplished without bloodshed. It has been a peaceful change from an apparently beneficent empire to a truly beneficent republic. The emperor was deposed by the people and by the army and navy. He saw that the situation must be accepted. The people had demanded that he should cease to be the head of a monarchy, and that the masses should dictate the form of government. The emperor has departed for Europe, and the quiet, dignified manner in which the new government has acted towards him gives great promise of the future solidity of the new commonwealth. The national contracts are guaranteed. Every obligation on the part of the government will be met. The markets show no excitement, notwithstanding the sudden radical change from a monarchy to an autonomy. Everything is going on regularly. There have been no victims and the contentment is general. While there is no doubt that the revolution has been hastened by the action of the government in permitting Gen. Fonseca and other Republican leaders to centralize at the capital instead of keeping them standing in distant provinces, yet the fall of the monarchy has been anticipated for some time past, especially since the last visit of the Comte d'Eu, the husband of the crown princess to this province about six months ago. On that occasion he was publicly hissed when driving through the city and greeted with cries of "long live the republic"—cries, which it was true turned into screams, when the lancers forming part of his escort rode with lances pointing downward at the persons whom they believed to have uttered them. So significant was the attitude of the people, both in this city and in all the northern provinces which he visited on that occasion that Dom Pedro and his family must have foreseen the overthrow of the dynasty. J. CAMPBELL, editor Gazette Noticias, Para.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—In continuing his address before the Parnell Commission yesterday Sir Henry James briefly touched upon the forged letters published by The Times. He said he could not go into the matter thoroughly as the action for libel brought by Mr. Parnell against The Times was still pending. He could not even deal with the motives of The Times in producing the letters. Sir Charles Russell, Sir Henry said, had not suggested while acting as counsel for Mr. Parnell that The Times knew the letters were forgeries. It was to be presumed Sir Charles had spoken as he had been instructed.

Mr. Davitt (interrupting): "Not by me."

Sir Henry reminded Mr. Davitt that Sir Charles was Mr. Parnell's counsel. Continuing, Sir Henry declared that everyone connected with The Times was interested in proving the genuineness of the letters.

Presiding Justice Hannen recalled the suggestions made by Sir Charles that Mr. Buckle, the editor of The Times, neither approved nor authorized the publication of the letters, in which attitude he differed with the manager of the paper.

Sir Henry replied: "Mr. Buckle does not now and never has desired to stand aloof from his colleagues. Whatever might be alleged against The Times, its bona fides in the production of the letters could not be questioned."

Amnesty Granted.

ATHENS, Nov. 21.—It is stated positively that the Porte has granted amnesty in Crete to all except actual criminals.

PASTOR AND CHOIR ARE OUT.

Discord in a Hamilton Church—Prevalence of a Horse Distemper.

HAMILTON, Nov. 21.—There is a difficulty between the choir of the Gore-street Methodist Church and the pastor, Rev. John Pickering, backed up by the musical board, which will likely lead to the disbandment of the choir. Mr. Pickering was much dissatisfied with the quality of the music furnished. A meeting was held about ten days ago to discuss the matter and it is reported that the pastor when asked by a prominent member of the choir what the objections were, replied that the solo sung by the leading soprano at the previous Sunday services had spoiled his sermon. The climax came last Sunday night, however. A hymn was given out. After a verse had been sung the pastor got up and told them to sing faster. Apparently they did not get the requisite gait on them, for he shortly told the choir to sit down and asked the congregation to sing on without them. The choristers sat facing the congregation looking very foolish and humiliated, and none of them went out. A meeting of the choir will likely be held on Saturday to decide what is to be done.

AT LAST!

A Wonderful Vegetable Discovery That Removes the Terrible Results of Overwork.

A True Invigorator.

Weakness and prostration of the nervous system surely follow that overwork and worry which brings sorrow and suffering to so many Canadian homes. The terrible results of nervous weakness are seen on every hand. Pains in the back, poor and unrefreshing sleep, lack of appetite dyspepsia, and lost energy and strength, are the first symptoms of more serious and dangerous trouble. This is the way that Paralysis, Paresis and Insanity begin. Do not delay a moment longer, for some time it will be too late to regain your lost health and vitality. Use Paine's Celery Compound now, and the dull eyes will regain their brilliancy, the cheeks will grow rosy, the brain become clear, the nerves strong and quiet, your sleep restful and refreshing, appetite good, and health and happiness will take the place of misery and suffering.

A. Sabiston, the well known lithographer of Montreal, writes: "In the summer of 1883 I had to work very hard, and was troubled considerably with insomnia (sleeplessness). I resolved to try your Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking the contents of two bottles, felt like a new man. A good night's rest gave me strength for the duties of the day, and instead of starting out to business in the morning feeling as if I had completed a day's work instead of being about to commence one I started out in good spirits, feeling fresh and strong. My wife and various friends, to whom I recommended the medicine, have been benefited greatly, and in fact 'Paine's Celery Compound is a household word in our family."

Anglican Church Jubilee.

The present and coming weeks promise to be a time of special interest to all the members of the Anglican Church in Ontario, inasmuch as they are about to celebrate a very interesting epoch in the history of their Church—the fiftieth anniversary of the appointment and consecration of their first Bishop, the late Right Reverend Dr. John Strachan. It is a time much to be remembered by them all—a time of jubilee, in which other denominations can very becomingly join with, at least, their neighborly sympathy and heartiest good wishes. With the Anglican, as all other Churches in Ontario, the last fifty years have been full of interest and importance. They have dissipated many fears and more than realized many roseate and sanguine hopes. They have witnessed much good work done, many hardships bravely borne, great success achieved, and many sad blessed ingatherings of spiritual sheaves. They have disposed of the sneer which has sometimes been indulged in, to the effect that the Church of England can only flourish when backed up and upheld by a liberal State endowment, for they have seen that Church flourish far more in its freedom and in the support it has received from the free-will offerings of its members than ever it did in the "good old times" of Clergy Reserves and State patronage. "The little one has become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation."

In 1838 the Bishop of Quebec estimated the strength of the Episcopalians in Upper Canada at 150,000. By 1847, according to Bishop Strachan, this had grown to 200,000. In 1871 the census returns gave the numbers as 331,000, and in 1881 they had risen to 367,000, while, according to the calculations of Dr. Hodgins, who is too carefully accurate a man to overstate matters, the members in connection with the Anglican Church in this Province cannot now be less than 450,000

It is also very interesting to note how the clergy of that body have increased. When the late Bishop Strachan became Rector of York in 1813 the Anglican clergy of the Province only numbered 5. By 1819 they had exactly doubled, and in 1825 were up to 22. At the time of the rebellion in 1837 they numbered 75, and in 1844 they were in all 103.

Since that time notable advances have been made. In 1873 the diocese of Huron was erected; in 1861 that of Ontario; in 1873 that of Niagara, and in 1875 that of Algoma. Thus the one diocese which embraced all Ontario has been divided into five—each prosecuting its great work with great energy, and with the most gratifying success, as may be seen from the following statement of the present numerical strength of the clergy in each of them:—

Toronto	156
Huron	121
Ontario	125
Niagara	67
Algoma	39
Total	508

The jubilee services commenced on Thursday, the 21st instant, and will be continued almost daily up to Thursday, the 28th. In the course of these services eight distinguished clergymen will preach, and others will take a more or less prominent part. The gathering of the children on Sunday, the 24th, at eleven central churches, will be specially interesting and attractive, while at the closing conference on the 28th historical papers on the progress of the different dioceses will be read, and the concluding service will be held in the evening in St. James' Cathedral, the preacher being the well-known and very eloquent Bishop Sullivan, of Algoma.

Altogether it will be a time very much to be remembered, and we have no doubt but that many of other denominations will do themselves the pleasure and profit of being present at some, if not all, the different gatherings.—Globe.

Haldimand.

It is stated by the Empire, we do not know upon what authority, that in consequence of a delay in forwarding the evidence in the Haldimand case the appeal will not be heard by the Supreme Court this fall, and therefore that Mr. Colter will hold his seat during the session, or a part of it. In the Ottawa correspondence of the same journal it is suggested that legislation may be introduced early in the session to prevent him taking his seat until judgment is given. We can scarcely imagine that this outrage will be sanctioned even by the present Parliament. Mr. Colter is in no sense in the wrong. He was perfectly within his right in appealing to the Supreme Court. It is not pretended—such a pretence would be ridiculous—that he is responsible for the delay, which is due, as the Empire itself has admitted, solely to the fact that the official reporter, whose duties require him to attend the various Assizes, has not yet had time to transcribe his notes of the Haldimand trial. Nor is a delay of two months an unusually long one. In the case of Walsh v. Montague, tried in January, 1886, the petitioner's solicitor had to wait much more than two months for the evidence, and, though every effort was made to hurry up the trial, the case was not ready for the Supreme Court Sittings in May, and was therefore deferred to October. The Tories did not complain of the delay which kept their man in a seat that belonged to Mr. Colter.

Mr. Colter's position is now that of a sitting member whose election is contested, and who is at least as likely to retain the seat as to lose it. To legislate him out of his seat would be not only to anticipate the decision of the Supreme Court, but to show that the Tories expect a decision favorable to Mr. Colter, and wish to disfranchise Haldimand until the decision is given. Hundreds of members have sat in Parliament while their seats were disputed, and there is no reason why an exception should be made in Mr. Colter's case.

The Lady Godiva must have had exceptionally long hair since it completely concealed her lovely person. Since Ayer's Hair Vigor came into use such examples are not so rare as formerly. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but gives it a rich, silken texture.

A large consignment of new tea just arrived at M. R. King's.

A Business-like Offer.

For many years the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have offered, in good faith, $500 reward for a case of Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure. The remedy is sold by druggists at only 50 cents. This wonderful remedy has obtained a world wide reputation. If you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; if the eyes are watery and inflamed; if there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with some of these ulcers; the voice being changed and has a nasal twang; the breath offensive, smell and taste impaired; sensation of pressure, with mental depression, a hacking cough, general debility, you are suffering from nasal catarrh. The more complicated your diseases, the greater the number and variety of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians. b

Life was a Burden.

UNTIL lately I suffered from headache, often preceded by constipation, making my life a burden. A friend advised Burdock Blood Bitters. I took three bottles, and now feel myself a new man, and my headaches are things of the past.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites

Is sold all over the world. It is far superior to plain Cod Liver Oil, palatable and easily digested. Dr. Martin Miles Stanton, Bery Banks, England, says: "I have prescribed Scott's Emulsion, and taken it myself. It is palatable, efficient, and can be tolerated by almost anyone, especially where cod liver oil itself cannot be borne. Sold by all Druggists, 50c. and $1.00. w45eod

The Alert Watchman

WARNS us of approaching danger; a hacking cough warns us of coming consumption. Take time by the forelock and use Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, the surest, safest and best cure for coughs, colds, asthma, hoarseness, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles. 2w46d

Take no Chances.

BUT depend on solid facts. Nothing equals Hagyard's Yellow Oil for burns, scalds, frost bites, chilblains, neuralgia, croup, sore throat and aches and pains of every description. No matter where the pain or soreness is, or from what it arises, Hagyard's Yellow Oil will give quick relief. 2w46d Attacked Three Times.

HAVING been attacked for the third time with inflammatory rheumatism, which kept me in bed six weeks under medical care, without relief, I resolved to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and before I had finished the third bottle I was able to work again.

EMPTIED THE BOILERS.

An Unknown Miscreant's Dastardly Act—A Reverent Bridegroom

HAMILTON, Nov. 21. The Hamilton and Milton Road Company has a number of men at work repairing the town line road. Near the Flamboro mountain there are two boilers and engines and a couple of stone crushers. Some time during Monday night a malicious person emptied the boilers, but left water in the glass indicator so as to mislead the engineer. Yesterday morning the engineer lit the fires as usual. He afterwards discovered that the boilers were empty, and immediately put out the fire, but not before one of the boilers was ruined. The road company will offer a reward for the arrest of the culprit.

Arrangements had been completed for the wedding of James Anderson, an athletic young carpenter who lives with his mother in Liberty-street, and Miss Allan, who lives with her mother in Hunter-street east. The event was to have taken place last Thursday evening. "The guests were met, the feast was set," the parson was there, and so were the groomsman and bridesmaid. The only thing that was necessary to the carrying out of the arrangements was the presence of the bridegroom. The hour for the tying of the nuptial knot arrived, but still he came not. An hour, two hours passed, but Mr. Anderson didn't materialize. The company broke up amid some excitement and much curiosity: the parson went home without his fee, and the prospective bride retired in tears and maiden meditation not of the most cheerful character. Anderson has not yet come back home. It is said that his mother was opposed to the match, and that at the last moment he yielded to her persuasions and deserted his bride that was to be.

By a compromise with the heirs of George Bush of Barton, who devised more money than his estate realized, the Girls' Home, Boys' Home, Home of the Friendless, Victoria University and Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will each receive $600 in lieu of the $2000 bequeathed, the heirs dropping about $300 each that this may be done.

Evangelists Crossley and Hunter will go to London when they get through their work in Hamilton. They are booked to begin an engagement in Queen's-avenue Methodist church on the first Sunday of the new year.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Dr. Foster Held for Trial on the Charge of Murder Through Malpractice

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—At the Police Court yesterday Dr. George Barrett Foster was arraigned on remand charged with having murdered Mrs. Nellie Bray, two years ago, through malpractice. Mr. N. G. Bigelow appeared for the prisoner. The Police Magistrate said: "There is now plenty of evidence on which to commit the prisoner for trial, and I think this course had better be taken so as to give him the benefit of an application for bail before a superior court judge. At one stage of the proceedings I was in doubt as to whether I would commit for trial, but the evidence at the last hearing I considered sufficient to make out a case for trial."

The association of societies of Christian endeavor yesterday elected these officers: President, Rev. Mungo Fraser, D.D., Hamilton; Vice-Presidents, Rev. W. W. Andrews, Toronto; R. J. Colville, Peterboro; Secretary-Treasurer, Edwin Lee, London; Assistant-Secretaries, J. A. Allan, Perth, and R. S. Wallace, Hamilton. The association will meet at Hamilton next year.

The annual dinner of Trinity Medical College was held at the Queen's Hotel last night. About 200 guests were present.

Hon. C. H. Tupper's Jersey Herd.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—The celebrated herd of Jersey cows belonging to Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, have arrived from Amherst, N.S., and have been consigned to the Holland farm, Richmond road. The herd is headed by a suberb bull "Armdale Pride," a beautiful animal, solid fawn color and black points. His pedigree traces to the most noted ancestry in the American Jersey Cattle Club register. The two oldest cows in the herd, "Lady Belle Rolic" and "Lady Mignonne," were selected on the Island of Jersey by an expert for Sir Charles Tupper and they form the basis of the present herd of as handsome dairy stock as can be found in Canada.

Montreal's Proposed Elevated Road.

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—Ald. Prefontaine left for New York last night on behalf of the promoters of the proposed elevated railway who laid their scheme before the road committee last year. He is going to inspect an automatic cable car which will entail but one line of posts on the streets and will ensure absence of smoke and noise. He will also see about raising the necessary funds to float the company which should start with a capital of $3,000,000. The first line from St. Henri along Craig-street to Maisonneuve will cost about $1,000,000.

A Noted Counterfeiter Arrested.

ST. JOSEPH, Nov. 20.—Robert Crockett was arrested a week ago but the fact was kept quiet until yesterday. Crockett is one of the most notorious counterfeiters in the west. He was caught passing a $5 bill so like the genuine as to deceive experts. His accomplice escaped.

Michigan Central Conductors Bounced.

DETROIT, Nov. 20.—Three well-known passenger conductors on the Canada Southern division of the Michigan Central Railroad, S. E. Ferguson, E. Macomber and Joseph Troxell, were served with notice yesterday that their services were no longer required. No reasons were given.

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 393 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Henry George Movement.

However, steps are being taken to organize a Henry George Society in Peterborough, and no doubt the leader of the movement will be brought to Peterborough at some future time.

Mortuary Statistics.

The mortuary statistics for October indicate a far healthier condition of the larger cities than has been the case for some months past. Toronto's proportion is one per thousand, Montreal 2.21, Quebec 2.61, Hamilton 1.55, Ottawa 1.53, Halifax 1.29, London 1.05, Winnipeg 1.71, Kingston 1.44, Brantford 1.42, Belleville .81, St. Thomas 1.22, Guelph 1.42, Woodstock 1.72, Windsor 1.51, Chatham 1.26. The three lowest are: Victoria, B.C., .68, Peterborough .65, Brockville .56.

Burning Questions.

Peterborough has several burning questions on hand now, the slaughter house agitation, the market building matter, the Central Exhibition, are all burning questions wanting solution. But the boiling question refers to the hot water required to make a good cup of tea from the choice stock of choice teas kept by Hawley Bros., whose goods are of the very highest quality at the lowest prices. Their coffees are also superb, and their beautiful glassware gives a fine chance for selection. Don't forget to call.

Take the First Chance.

J. Hackett's great cost clearing sale has been a remarkable success; the wonderful value given, has brought buyers in battalions who have eagerly sought the bargains presented. There is still a $16,000 stock of first class goods to select from. The first comer will get the best choice. The goods must be sold by the first of January, and as this is an absolute clearing sale no more will be purchased to assort the present stock. Everything goes just as it is. First class goods at cost prices. Come early and secure the best choice. dtf

Do Not Miss It.

Do not fail to attend the auction sale of crockery, china, glassware, lamps, &c., in the store on Water street (next Jas. Stevenson's office) on Saturday, Nov. 23rd. The stock will be complete and worth your attention. During the last few days we have gone through our show rooms and taken out all patterns that we are dropping to make room for other makes, and will sell them as above. We have also added to the already splendid assortment a lot of new and beautiful goods to make the variety complete, and will close them all out at your own prices by auction at the above address. The goods are all first-class and you will secure bargains if you attend. JOHN HAGGART, auctioneer. d119

"Government Analysis"

The government sent an Inspector through the Dominion to ascertain the extent of adulteration in coffee. On anylizing samples purchased from grocers, not one out of fifty were found pure, as the government report will show. It also shows that amongst the few houses found selling pure coffee the Palace grocery is one of them, no adulteration whatever being result of analysis. My coffee trade has so increased I am obliged to have it ground by water power and use "Quirk's" water motor, for grinding (the only one used in Peterborough) saving time and labour. If you want good coffee warranted pure, and choice groceries, at lowest prices call at ALEX. ELLIOTT'S, Palace Grocery. dw

The Result of a Dance.

A dance took place in a public hall on George street last night, but the proceedings were rudely disturbed by a fight among some of the gay pleasure-seekers. One of the girls was so badly frightened she relapsed into violent hysterics and had to be taken away in a cab. Her frantic cries as she was driven through the dark streets were enough to waken the dead. The girl worked in an Ashburnham hotel, but the proprietor refused to let her in, saying he didn't want any crazy women about his house. Then the cab drove back to town again to the girl's home, she all the while keeping up a continuous screaming, even after the doors were shut behind her.

Gough Bros.' Christmas Box.

The public are not surprised at any stretch of liberality on the part of Gough Bros—they are public benefactors and they always support that character. The near approach of Christmas has put them in another liberal mood. The great clothing house of Gough Bros. is compelled to realize ready money on their present stock. They want money; they must have money. And their extremity is the public opportunity. A magnificent stock of $40,000 dollars worth of prime freshly made ready made clothing at less than cost. Cheap as these goods have been bought they will be sold so cheap that Gough Bros. will loose money on them, but they want ready money and the goods must go. This is the chance of a life-time. Don't neglect this great chance. Read Gough Bros'. advertisement in this issue. There's money for you in every line of it.

Caught in the Act.

Yesterday afternoon a young man named Cornelius Horn, from Ennismore, was arrested in the act of committing a theft. Michael Fitzpatrick, of Douro, was stopping at the Stewart House, and had in his room a trunk almost empty. Horn represented himself to be Fitzpatrick's brother, and hired a carter to go with him to the hotel and take the trunk away. The trunk was already loaded on the truck when the bartender became aware of the matter, and knowing Horn was not Fitzpatrick, would not let him take the trunk away. Just then P. C. Stewart came along and Horn was taken into custody. Enquiries revealed the fact that Horn had previously negotiated with a second-hand store dealer for the sale of the trunk. When arrested yesterday he would say nothing, but to day told his name and confessed his guilt. He was sentenced to three months in gaol.

Endeavor Society.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather of Tuesday evening, there was a fair attendance at the Endeavor Society of the Charlotte street Methodist church. Considerable business of importance was transacted. The report from the Lecture and Entertainment Committees, stated that arrangements were completed for a lecture by the eloquent Dr. McIntyre, of Chicago, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 17th, on the subject, "Wyandotte Cave, or Thirty Hours in the Sunless World." The price of tickets was placed at 50 and 25c. The regular programme was deferred until next Tuesday evening, when a first-class entertainment will be given. A cordial and hearty invitation is extended to all who wish to spend a pleasant and profitable evening to be present on the evening of Tuesday next. Admission free.

Over Twelve Years Established.

A live and well established grocery and provision business for sale. R. H. Greer, on account of continued ill-health, has decided to sell his entire stock of groceries, provisions, &c., en bloc, at a bargain, to a suitable purchaser. The goods are nearly all new, well assorted and bought at the lowest possible wholesale prices. The stock, furnishings, horse, rigging, &c., will amount to about twelve hundred dollars, but will be reduced considerably within the next few weeks (if I don't meet with a wholesale purchaser in the meantime), as I purpose commencing on Saturday next, the 23rd inst., to retail them at a great sacrifice. Parties wishing good fresh groceries, provisions, &c., for the holiday season will find it to their advantage to call before buying elsewhere, as decided bargains will be given. The goods must be sold. R. H. GREER, corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. w47tfsd

George Street Church.

A Congregational Meeting Last Night—Representatives Elected.

The school-room of the George street Methodist church was filled to overflowing last night. A congregational meeting had been called, and it was generally understood that the position of affairs regarding the pastorate of the church would be brought to a crisis. It would appear from last night's proceedings that there has been a break in the harmony existing in the church, and a sub-current of feeling of more or less force, has been running in opposition to the pastor, Rev. M. L. Pearson. That much at least is public property; the causus belli is another and private matter. It was said Mr. Pearson intended resigning but it was evident by the congregational vote last night that the majority of the church-members are in favor of his remaining. The subjoined resolution of confidence speaks for itself.

The object of last night's meeting was to elect representatives on the Quarterly Board. At a meeting of the Board a week previous the stewards were elected, and it was conceded the opposition party were successful in placing in office a majority of their candidates. Since that time feeling has run higher, and there was a grand rally of the congregation last night, when the remainder of the Board was to be selected. Two distinct tickets were canvassed for, but before the election a lively discussion took place, in which the principals indulged in vigorous recriminatory cross-firing, the congregation manifesting its approval or disapproval of the remarks made by applause or hisses. Personalities were freely launched out on both sides. Finally the matter came to vote, revealing the fact that a majority of the congregation, in the proportion about 4 to 1, were with the pastor. A total of 243 votes were cast, as follows:—

J. J. Hartley 196, Dr. Goldsmith 194, B. Shortly 193, A. Ratherford 192, G. W. Powell 191, J. Meharry 173, J. Carey 169.

F. Hilliard, 70, W. G. Yelland 50, A. E. Scott 45, J. Braden 40, J. Nugent 40, Mrs. Hawkins 35, Geo. Schofield 22, R. Chowen 19, J. Glass 13.

The first seven named were elected.

After the election Rev. G. H. Davis was called to the chair and the following resolution carried by a standing vote, it being explained that by the "conference term" was meant the full three years:—

Moved by A. Ratherford, seconded by Dr. Goldsmith, and resolved, that the congregation of the George Street Methodist Church has full and implicit confidence in their pastor, Rev. M. L. Pearson, and hope that the present relationship between pastor and people shall continue throughout the entire conference term.

The meeting was brought to a close shortly after twelve o'clock by the pronouncing of the benediction.

The Farmers' Exodus.

New Hampshire people are discussing the exodus of the farming population from that state and the best means for filling the places of those who are going west. This outward movement of the people is general throughout New England, and seems to have originated from the same causes which lead so many in the Eastern Provinces of the Dominion to emigrate. Poor soil, increasing families and the hope of greater success in a newer country. Yet one would imagine, with the reports of destitution in Dakota before them, these people should rather endure the ill they have than fly to others they know not of. Various schemes have been proposed to keep up the population, but the railways, it is said, carry the people they want straight from the seaboard to the far west which has an attraction irresistible to the immigrant from Europe as great as for New Englanders themselves. This is not astonishing all things considered, but a time is coming very soon when there will be a reaction and the migratory tide will flow the other way. At present the people who go west must, as a rule, stay there and do the best they can. The trouble with the eastern country is that the least enterprising have fallen heirs to the means for making homes and fortunes, and, instead of cultivating them, they do nothing but hang on, awaiting people to come along and pay them fancy prices for the privilege of being allowed to live and improve the country. There are 1200 abandoned farms in New Hampshire, abandoned because the owners would sooner take up free land in the west than strive to pay off the mortgages on the old homestead, especially as producers from the west could undersell them at their own doors. Thus the eastern states are suffering from the same economical conditions that afflict the farmers of Great Britain. The problem is, therefore, one which will have to be left to the solution of time.

The Trotting Dog.

He is Winning Laurels at the Great Chicago Fair.

Park Ketchum's trotting dog "Doc" is the attraction at the fall stock show at Chicago. The Chicago Herald says:—"Fully three thousand five hundred people were present last night when Doc, the trotting dog, was lead into the ring and given a warming up by his youthful driver. The bleaching boards were monopolized by the hundreds of visitors from all parts of the west who were attracted to Chicago by the show and the reduced railroad rates. There was a fair sprinkling of society people in the grand stand, and they went wild over the remarkable trotting performance of Doc. W. T. Keenan's Shetland pony Jenny entered the ring against the dog. A delegation from the stock yards were present and bet small sums of money on the pony. Doc was greeted with cheers from the crowd as he trotted slowly around the ring before the race. It was plain to be seen that he was a prime favorite. After two false starts the mismated racers got away in good shape, with Jenny slightly in the lead. The fat little Shetland could not hold her advantage, and Doc shot ahead in turning the first corner. Two thousand people cheered and yelled, as foot by foot, the dog forged ahead. The pony gained a little on the stretch, but could not turn the corners with the rapidity of his smaller antagonist. Doc won the half-mile heat by fully 50 feet, no official time being kept. According to several gentlemen who were interested the time was 2.04, which is good considering the condition of the track."

PRESCOTT MYSTERY.

Fred. Brunning and His Wife Found Dead in Their Home.

PRESCOTT, Nov. 21.—The dead bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brunning were found Tuesday night side by side in the house they occupied here. The bodies were found alongside their bed. The woman bears marks of violence about the head, but Brunning has none whatever. It is supposed that Brunning disposed of his wife and then committed suicide. They were both about 40 years of age and of dissipated habits. Fortunately they leave no children. Brunning was a mason. Great excitement exists here.

SEVEN STICK

The International League Will Not be Disrupted Next Year.

DETROIT, Nov. 21.—Detroit, Toronto, Toledo, Hamilton, London, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo were represented at yesterday's meeting of the International League. Except Buffalo the International clubs have agreed to stick together though Syracuse was not positively assertive as to its position yet it was quite evident that the people back of that club were more frightened over the possibilities of being left out in the cold in the event of the disruption of the International than they were anxious for admission to the American Association. The name of the organization was changed to the International League. M. B. Mills, Detroit, was elected president; General Brinker of Rochester, vice-president, and C. D. White of Utica, secretary. By request Deacon White addressed the meeting. He said: "If I can put a club in the Brotherhood I would prefer it, but if we can't I should like to keep on with the International. Mr. Rowe and myself have nearly completed arrangements to dispose of the Buffalo International franchise to Buffalo gentlemen, and I shall notify the Association the minute negotiations are completed." The schedule will consist of 126 games, and the schedule meeting will be held in Toronto.

The K. of L. Convention.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 21.—In the K. of L. Convention yesterday various committees reported. The finance committee recommended that in future only the actual car fare to and from convention be paid. In future all local assemblies attached to the general assembly will pay per capita tax of 10 cents per quarter instead of 6 cents as heretofore. The general executive board was empowered at their discretion to put an assessment tax of not more than 20 cents for the next year. A resolution was passed declaring that the general assembly favored an increase in the pay of printers' in the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington from $125 to $2 per day.

The treasurer stated that even if the order remains in statu quo the receipts will exceed expenses by $15,000 each year.

Mr. Davis reported on the mortgaged indebtedness of the country. The Knights discussed the matter and recommended action which will make it as easy for farmers and workingmen to borrow money from the government as it is for national banks to borrow it. The Legislative Committee endorsed the report of the Canadian, committee on Legislation which makes certain recommendations and declares strongly against convict labor.

A number of cities were candidates for the next general assembly. Those receiving the highest votes were in the order named: Toledo, Albany, Denver and Birmingham, (Eng.) The executive board is to select one of the three highest and it will probably be Toledo.

Mr. Powderly asked to have his salary reduced from $5000 to $2500 but the finance committee and assembly refused to allow it to be done.

THE WHITE HORSE

HE IS NOW DESCRIBED AS A SPECKLED GRAY.

Mr. Badenbender's Story—A Volunteer Witness—Mr. Martin Offers Evidence on Behalf of Coughlin

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Patrick Dinan, livery stable keeper and owner of the famous white horse, was the first witness in the Cronin case yesterday. He testified that his horse was in a dime museum in this city. It was the same horse he had let Coughlin's friend have on the evening of the murder.

Louis Badenbender, of Hoboken, N. J., a real estate agent, testified that between Aug. 9, 1888, and May 21, 1889, he lived at Chicago in a flat in which Dr. Cronin lived with the Conklins. On the evening of the murder witness was in Jeckel's cigar store opposite Dr. Cronin's residence. He was positive he was in the cigar store at 7 o'clock and may have remained there until 8 or 9 o'clock. After he had been there a few minutes he noticed the horse and buggy in front of Dr. Cronin's office. It was an ordinary sidebar buggy and had the top up. Witness continued:

"I saw Dr. Cronin and another man come from the house and start to the buggy. The driver started for the horse while the doctor started toward the buggy. There was some man on the sidewalk near the house line who called to Dr. Cronin and attracted his attention, for the doctor turned around, but still kept going towards the buggy. Then the driver went to the horse's head and unhitched the horse, went to the buggy, got in and sat on the west side. Then Dr. Cronin got in. He was talking to this man all the while, so it seemed to me. Then they shifted seats and this man got in front of the doctor and they sat down and drove off. Dr. Cronin had what appeared to be a small chest or box which might have contained his instruments or medicine. I was standing in the door of the cigar store looking at the horse for about fifteen minutes and saw it before the men came down."

"What was the color of that horse?" asked the lawyer.

"It was gray, a speckled gray, with dark legs. The horse which I saw yesterday at the dime museum was not the horse that drove Dr. Cronin away, and did not resemble it. The horse I saw yesterday was a white one, but the horse I saw take Dr. Cronin away on the night of May 4 was a speckled gray. The legs of the horse that took Dr. Cronin were dark, while the legs of this horse are white."

The remainder of the session was occupied by microscopic experts who gave technical testimony showing that there was no scientific test for distinguishing the hair of human beings from that of lower animals.

As Judge McConnell was entering court yesterday morning he was met by a man who introduced himself as "J. S. Martin." Martin said he had knowledge of value to one of the defendants in the Cronin case—Coughlin. He did not want to be mixed up in the case, and for that reason had not spoken before. His conscience, however, would not let him rest till he had related what he knew. His story was that he had seen Coughlin between 9 and 10 o'clock on the night of the murder at the Chicago-avenue police station.

Judge McConnell informed the State's Attorney and Mr. Forrest of Martin's story, which corroborates the testimony of Officer McDonald. Martin will probably testify to-day

TRANSATLANTIC NEWS

STANLEY'S UNEXPECTED AND VALUABLE DISCOVERY.

An Immense Extension of the Victoria Nyanza Toward the Southwest—A Defeat for the French Government.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The British Consul at Zanzibar telegraphs to the Foreign Office as follows: Stanley arrived at Mpwapwa on the 55th day after his departure from the Victoria Nyanza and the 158th day after leaving the Albert Nyanza. In addition to the names already telegraphed Stanley has with him Hoffman, Emin's daughter and Fathers Grant and Schinz of the Algerian mission. Stanley left Mpwapwa on Nov. 12, traveling toward the coast by way of Kemba and Mwhmi. Stanley made an unexpected discovery of real value, in finding an extension of the Victoria Nyanza toward the southwest. The utmost southerly reach of the extension is south latitude 2, 48. This brings the Victoria Nyanza within 155 miles of Lake Tanganika. The area of the extension is 26,900 square miles.

According to farther advices received by the Foreign Office Stanley has with him 750 persons, of whom 290 are Emin's followers. There are also sixty children in the party. Stanley lost only 18 men during the march from the Victoria Nyanza. He had four day's fighting near Kisukuma. The expedition is expected to arrive at Bagamoyo in a fortnight.

A Continuous Battle.

ZANZIBAR, Nov. 22.—Mr. Stanley in a letter to the British Consul at Zanzibar gives in addition to the news already cabled the following story:

Every previous expedition has seen the lightening of its labors upon nearing the sea. But the long string of hammock bearers with us now tells a different tale. Till we lan place the poor things in our company on shipboard there will be no rest for us. The worst of it is that we have not the privilege of showing you at Zanzibar the full extent of our labors. After carrying some of them a thousand miles and fighting to the right and left of the sick, driving the Warsura from their prey over ranges of mountains with every energy on full strain they slip through our hands and die in their hammocks. One lady 75 years old, mother of Vahiel, died in this manner.

In North Usukuma, south of the Victoria Nyanza, we had as stirring a time for four days as anywhere on our route. There was continuous fighting during the greater part of the daylight hours. The foolish natives took an unaccountable prejudice against Emin's people. They insisted that they were cannibals and had come for no good purpose. Talking was useless as any attempt to disprove their impression only drove them into a white hot rage and in their mad hate flinging in themselves on us they suffered severely.

I am advised that the Semba and Mwana route is best for securing an abundance of food and therefore I propose to adopt it. But as regards danger from attacks by natives one road seems to be as bad as another.

Regarding the Victoria Nyanza Stanley says it is 1900 square miles larger than reported by Speke, whose statements regarding the size of the lake was supposed to be an exaggeration. Uriji also, which Speke so lightly sketched, turns out to be a very respectable lake with populated islands.

Mr. W. H. Smith Talks.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Right Hon. Wm. Henry Smith in a speech at Truro announced that the Pope had granted amnesty to all political offenders in Crete. Referring to Irish affairs he said he hoped soon to see an extension of Local Government in Ireland.

Mousa Bey's Trial

LONDON, Nov. 22.—If the recent visit of Emperor William to Constantinople has been productive of no other result it has certainly been the means of inducing the Sultan to see to it that Mousa Bey, the Kurdish robber, murderer and perpetrator of every vile crime known to the region over which he lately terrorized, receives at least a portion of the punishment he deserves, for he certainly couldn't be adequately punished and yet live. Several times since the clamor of the continental press led the Sultan to call Mousa to Constantinople ostensibly for trial for the offenses with which he is charged, it has been announced from the Turkish capital that the court had decided that the case was properly under the jurisdiction of the Albanian tribunals, that the prisoner had been incarcerated, pending further investigation, that the prisoner had been acquitted, and that this and that action had been taken, apparently for the purpose of courting public and official opinion abroad, and obviously with the intention of letting him go Scot free if such a thing were possible. It now appears that one of the points insisted upon by the Kaiser while conferring with the Sultan was that Mousa should be placed upon trial as soon as possible and if found guilty punished without delay. This the Sultan promised to do, and the first step toward the fulfilment of the promise is the imprisonment of the Kurdish caitiff, who has been until now permitted to go where he pleased pending his trial.

Still it will not do to rely too confidently on Mousa's conviction of the graver crimes with which he is charged, for it will be remembered that the witnesses who went from Albania to Constantinople to testify against him, some twenty in number, mysteriously disappeared en route or immediately after their arrival at their destination. Some of them are believed to have been imprisoned on trumped up charges. Others were intimidated to an extent forcing them to flee to places of refuge beyond the Turkish borders and still others are thought to have been murdered. Whether any of them will be forthcoming at the trial only the authorities at Constantinople can say. With the doubtful fate of these men before them it is not likely that other victims of Mousa's brutality can be induced to journey to the capital for the purpose of testifying against him, but it is plain that the Ottoman Government is now confronted with the necessity of inflicting some punishment upon Mousa and doubtless he will be found guilty of a few minor offences and acquitted of the graver ones because of the lack of evidence to convict.

27 Murderers Admitted to Bail.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 21.—Judge Foster, in the case of the 27 Stevens County murderers, has decided that the District Court for the Eastern District of Texas has jurisdiction over "No Man's Land," where the crimes for which the prisoners were indicted by the grand jury were committed. Awaiting the decision of an appeal Judge Foster held the prisoners each in $5000 bail.

A Fatal Race.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.—B. Hiller and F. Forbes, section men working on the narrow gauge railway a few miles south of here, were riding on a hand-car. A heavy baggage car was standing on a sharp grade. Its brake suddenly gave way and the car ran down toward the men who instead of jumping off tried to outrun the baggage car. They were overtaken however and crushed to death.

BOODLER DRUMM OF KANSAS CITY SET AT LIBERTY.

The Anglican Jubilee—A Detroit Colonel and His Faithless Wife—A Young Man Charged With Incendiarism.

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—Andrew Drumm, the young Kansas City boodler, was discharged on the charge of forgery yesterday morning on appearing before County Judge McDougall. The charge was preferred by Major Drumm, but no evidence was offered.

The jubilee of the Anglican church for the diocese of Toronto commenced yesterday morning with an early celebration of the holy communion at St. James' church, followed by a largely-attended service at 11 o'clock, when an appropriate sermon was preached by the Bishop of Huron. A grand public luncheon, one of the principal events of the jubilee celebration, commenced at 1.30 o'clock, and was attended by leading Anglican dignitaries and prominent laymen from all the dioceses in Upper Canada.

Col. John Sands, a Detroiter, appeared in the Police Court yesterday afternoon to air his grievances. The Colonel is the husband of a buxom, shrewd-faced lady. According to his statement he went "soldiering" last Aug. 12. When he came back he found one McCarthy keeping house with his better-half. The latter immediately "skipped," and McCarthy kindly offered to go and bring her back. The Colonel has been waiting ever since. McCarthy was arrested in Toronto by Detectives Watson and McGrath and in the house was Mrs. Sands and a large quantity of jewelry, which the Colonel claimed as his. The runaway was put in the witness-box and swore that the jewelry belonged to her and not to her husband. She excused herself for leaving her husband by declaring that he had threatened to kill her, and she thought it better to leave than to be "chucked" out. The case was adjourned until Monday. In the meantime McCarthy languishes behind the bars. Bail was asked but the magistrate refused to grant it. McCarthy is charged with bringing stolen property into the Dominion.

Robert Brines, the young man who was arrested on suspicion of being the incendiary who set fire to the buildings of J. & J. G. Greey & Co., mill supply works, on the night of Nov. 13, was brought before the Magistrate yesterday. Mr. N. G. Bigelow put in a plea of not guilty. A half-dozen witnesses were examined; among them Detective Cuddy, who stated that the prisoner on one occasion admitted that he had set fire to The Mail building. The prisoner was remanded on his own bail to Nov. 25.

In the Police Court yesterday Richard Pryor was committed for trial on three separate charges of forgery. Pryor's racket was to sign the name of certain persons for small amounts, send a boy and get the money from a friend of the person whose name was used. The names of William Bell of William Bell & Son., John Lumsden, of The Empire office, E. T. Constable, Robert Harrison and others were used.

The Poles Came Down.

INGERSOLL, Nov. 22.—At a special meeting of the Council on Monday evening of last week the Reliance Electric Light Company were notified to have their poles removed from the public streets by Nov. 20, otherwise the work would be done by the corporation at the expense of the company. Considerable speculation has been rife during the past week as to whether the Council would have the backbone to remove the poles in face of the opposition of the Gas Company which had purchased the Reliance Company's plant. The time extended by the Council expired Wednesday night at midnight and no movement was made by the company to remove the poles. At 1 o'clock yesterday morning a force of men was put on and by daylight the poles were down and the work completed without the slightest trouble or annoyance.

Sir Henry James' Speech.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Continuing his speech before the Parnell commission yesterday Sir Henry James referred to the difficulty The Times had experienced in getting evidence relative to the transactions of the inner councils of the League and for this reason Attorney-General Webster had not been able to prove all the statements he had made in his opening address for the Times. Sir Henry complained that Sir Charles Russell, Mr. Parnell's council, had called only thirty two of the sixty-five members of the Parnellite party implicated in the charges made by The Times whom he had promised to call to testify.

Presiding Justice Hannen interrupted Sir Henry at this point, remarking that Sir Charles had only said they would testify if the court and counsel for The Times wished them to.

Notwithstanding Justice Hannen's statement Sir Henry contended that a direct promise had been made that Wm. Redwood should be called. The most important witnesses on the Parnellite side Sir Henry declared had wilfully absented themselves. The court here adjourned.

Below we enumerate several Job Lines which are worth the close attention of all who purchase Dry Goods. What we mean by Job, are lines of Dry Goods we have purchased from manufacturers or wholesalers at a great reduction under cost to clear the lot, or ends of stock we are anxious to clear at a loss before the season closes, sooner than carry it over. It does not always follow that these goods are undesirable. They are often the best goods the market affords for those who need them. We have

CANADIANS
Work Too Hard!

The Result is Sleeplessness, Nervousness and a Broken-Down System, often

Ending in Insanity.

Thousands of overworked business men, wanted businesswomen industrious mechanics, and tired women, in all parts of the Dominion are to-day in a terrible position. Their nerves are weak, digestion poor, head aching, and they cannot sleep, work or live in comfort. This is what fills our Insane Asylums. This is the cause of that terrible Paresis. Before it is too late, use Dr. Phelps' wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound. It removes the results of overwork, restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the whole system, and tones up the overworked brain and body. Do not despair, but use this wonderful remedy, and be restored to health and happiness, the same as was Mr. John L. Brodie, of Montreal, who writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending your Paine's Celery Compound. My system was run down and I was not fit for business, could not sleep well at night and was nervous. I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound and improved immediately. I am now able to transact my business and endure any amount of excitement without bad effect."

Paine's Celery Compound can be purchased at any druggist's for one dollar a bottle. If he should not have it on hand, order direct from WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Montreal.

A WEAK PARTY WEAKLY LED.

The disaster of the Lambton election has startled the Hamilton Spectator into speaking the bitter truth—at least by implication. In a brief editorial article the Spectator points out what it considers the weakest part of provincial Conservatism. It says it is the duty of the hour to elect a leader that can lead—to depose Mr. Meredith and appoint somebody, not specified by our disgruntled contemporary. We are disposed to defend Mr. Meredith from his friends. He is not the sinner the Spectator would like to make him out to be. He has considerable ability, is a good orator and a clever man, in his profession. His great weakness is not lack of brains, so much as lack of backbone. He subordinates his personality; he is not a leader because he has preferred to be a lieutenant, taking his orders from Ottawa. In his case, leadership has meant a big contract. He has been called upon to marshall a following, weaker than 4-per-cent beer, and try to hold his own against one of the strongest, ablest and most capable administrations that ever controlled the affairs of a free country. But he has shown himself unequal to the task, not because of inherent lack of ability, but from lack of independence of character. He has not sought to attain office by showing that he could head an administration which would serve the interests of the province better than the Mowat administration had done and was doing. He never sailed a straight course. He resorted to trickery when statesmanship of the highest order was demanded. He went to the electors with clap trap cries, he essayed to reach the treasury benches by bribery. He leagued himself with the Ottawa boodlearchy, and has always been playing their game. He might have striven to be a chieftain in the Province; he contented himself with being a cat's-paw. Mr. Meredith has been terribly handicapped. He has been compelled to subordinate provincial interests to party interests, and he has had a following, the weakness of which no word in the English language is fit to express. He had an intelligent electorate to deal with—one that could not be boodwinked—which knew when it was well governed—which would not be led aside by party, sectarian or other crises, from expressing an unbiassed opinion upon the merits of the Mowat Government. Every cry has failed to raise an echo in the popular heart; every trick has refused to work; the blunt logic of bribery acknowledged defeat, and the latest dodge—division of the enemy's forces—has only resulted in the closing in of the phalanx—the strengthening of the line of defence, which still presents a solid front. Mr. Meredith is not all to blame for his failure as a leader. Leadership implies a following, and Mr. Meredith has never had a following. His putative supporters served him with a vicarious loyalty—they were only true to him so far as fidelity to him meant fidelity to Sir John Macdonald. Under these conditions he has naturally failed as a leader, and now the party henchmen are holding the basket for the drop of his head. If Mr. Meredith had served Ontario with as much zeal as he has served Ottawa, he would have left, at least, political self-respect and a consciousness of having done his duty by his province. Mr. Meredith has not failed as a leader, solely because the schemes, of which he was made the instrument miscarried. No other leader could have carried the impregnable position the Mowat Government held; they possessed the confidence of the country, and the country saw no reason to withdraw that confidence. Until it was shown that another cabinet could have better served the province, no other leader could expect to marshall his party to victory.
